THS Band Given 'Average' Rating at Hudson Festival

The Tecumseh High School band, under the direction of Don Johnson, was rated "average" when it played Saturday in the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association's district 8 band orchestra festival at Hudson.

"Your poor showing in 'intonation,' or the ability of an individual player to hear another, points up our very real need for a regulation band room," Mr. Johnson said.

The band was complimented for its stage conduct, and its programming.

Miles Cowdrey, assistant band leader, attended also.

Hurrah for the Irish. According to Judd Arnett's column in the Detroit Free Press March 9, the Irish in Detroit have reserved a whole week, not just one day for St. Patrick.

So from March 14—until the 20, the gay lads of the ol' sod will be marchin' and singin', speechifyin', prayin' and tipplin' and we are just awaitin' for more and more and more of those good old songs of Erin.

St. Patrick's never was long enough to get in a sufficient amount of Paddy's music, so dear to the heart of most music lovers.

MRS. DAVID GROVES

Miss Strand, David Groves Are Married

Madonna Rose Strand approached the altar on the arm of her grandfather, Raymond Pask, when she became the bride of David Kenneth Groves Feb. 27.

The Rev. Fr. Thomas Collins performed the double ring ceremony at 11 a.m. at the St. Elizabeth Catholic Church with Mrs. Donald Johnson, soloist and organist.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Henry Alfred Strand, 1205 Murray Drive and the late Mr. Strand and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Groves of Fort Wayne, Ind.

The bride chose a street length gown of nylon sheer over taffeta fashioned with lace bodice and tapered sleeves.

Her brief veil was secured to a crown of pearls and rhinestones and she carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations with ivy.

★

THREE BROTHERS and six sisters of the bride were among the wedding party.

During the service the bride placed a bouquet at the altar of the Virgin Mary.

Carol Louise Strand was her sister's maid of honor in a full skirted dress of leaf green brocaded faile fashioned with scoop neckline.

She carried a bouquet of large striped red and white carnations.

Sonja Strand, bridesmaid, wore a red and white striped gown and carried matching baby carnations.

Joann and Marcelle Strand as junior bridesmaids wore dresses of white brocaded faile and carried red and white carnations.

Tina Marie and Darlene Strand were the flower girls in dresses to match the bridesmaid's. They carried miniature baskets of red and white striped baby carnations.

Terry and Mark Strand carried the rings on white imitation Bibles with white baby pompons.

★

NORMAN DU ROCHER served as best man and the altar boys were James Greene and Herbert Bagby. Henry Strand and James Ripley seated the guests.

Sixty-three attended the reception held in the school auditorium immediately after the ceremony.

The bride is a 1963 graduate of the Tecumseh High School and is also a graduate of the Jackson College of Beauty Culture.

Her husband attended the South Side High School in Fort Wayne and is employed by the Tecumseh Products Company.

They are making their home on S. Pearl St. and plan to take a trip this summer.

Annual Girl Scout Week Is Observed

"Girl Scout Week Makes Headlines" was the topic of copy submitted to the newspaper this week by Ferne Hardesty for the Girl Scouts.

"You can read them in the mock Tecumseh Herald in the window display in Baldwin's honoring National Girl Scout Week, March 7-13," said Mrs. Hardesty.

"From the Brownie puppet show, through the series of service projects, to the achievement of Senior Girl Scout National Roundup, you will find the account of an active, interested and interesting group of young ladies," stated the publicity chairman.

More than 100 girls attended church as uniformed groups this past girl Scout Sunday.

★

THE REV. BLAIR BASHORE of the First Baptist Church asked Vicki Wright to say the Girl Scout promise and Bonnie Hand and Sherrie Hopkins to lead the pledge to the American flag as part of the morning radio broadcast.

The Rev. Laszlo Gero of Gloria Dei Lutheran Church spoke directly to his Girl Scout audience in his sermon, "God is Love."

The Rev. Donald Porteous of the First Methodist Church changed his original sermon to one more suitable for the level of youngsters, "Have You No Answer?"

The window display was created Monday morning by Mrs. Richard Dustin and Mrs. Maurice Tuckey.

There are crafts shown that have been made in the past year. They were gifts for mother and dad, table decorations for the nurses' dining room in the hospital and tray favors for the patients in the nursing home.

★

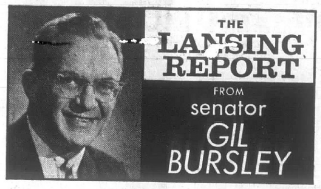
BROWNIE HANDS were busy on shadow chalk sketches, ceramic ash trays, collages of Brownie activities, a Thanksgiving table decoration, a notion box, a Christmas star and a light switch Christmas tree.

Junior Scouts are represented by three groups of charcoal sketches, ceramic candle holders, a gilded macaroni candle holder, a knitted headband, an embroidered toaster cover and an attractive place mat.

Cadets displayed ceramic candle holders, ash tray, candy dish, and families of poodles.

There is also a dog head hammered in copper as a wall plaque and a horsehead enameled on copper as a necklace. A madonna is etched on an aluminum tray, and a bright peacock is stitched in yarn on burlap.

The Seniors are displaying clothes pin recipe holders and crepe paper apple blossoms that decorated the nurses' dining room at the hospital.



People ask me what was meant by the Senate action last week in killing Governor Romney's budget bills.

The explanation by the Democratic majority is that it was for procedural purposes; that under the new Constitution legislators must accept or reject the Governor's proposed appropriation bills before passing any new spending bills of their own.

As some of the majority party are anxious to pass a few pet measures, such as homestead tax exemption for the aged, they had to take action on the Romney budget first or wait until many weeks later for their own private projects.

It always takes time for the Appropriations Committee to give responsible consideration to budget bills hundreds of pages in length and totalling $750 million dollars.

★

AS A MEMBER of the Appropriations Committee, I voted to keep the Governor's budget in committee so we could continue hearings in fiscally responsible action.

On the floor, I voted in support of the Romney bills. They were defeated on a straight party line vote and almost identical bills are being reintroduced. These new bills, however, will no longer have constitutional priority.

I think this Senate action was wrong for three reasons:

► It circumvents and sabotages the new Constitution. As lawmakers we shouldn't be setting the example of seeking out loopholes in the law. Actually the 1968 Legislature operated under the new Constitution and had no problem coming out with a responsible budget.

► It starts a new and bad precedent. We can expect succeeding legislatures to automatically kill the governor's budget bills and then reintroduce them under their own names — regardless of political party. Such action makes a farce of the legislative process.

► It is definitely irresponsible from an overall fiscal standpoint. We may be in the position of gobbled up by these private pet projects and risk the state's fine fiscal reputation which was won by titanic effort after the fiasco of the payless paydays in 1959.

★

ACTION ON several controversial bills upon which I have received heavy mail is still pending. Personally, I am opposed to the Sunday sale of liquor, but the vote may be close with a majority of Detroit legislators supporting the measure.

The only bill so far introduced on greyhound dog racing is not, I understand, the one that has general backing of the proponents of this legislation. Reportedly another dog bill will be introduced later.

A dinner and reception in her honor will be held at 6:30 p.m. March 16 in the Youth House of the First Baptist Church. Mrs. Donald LaBounty will accept reservations until March 12.

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

Problems of the aging in 1965 are not those of 10 years ago or even five years ago. Our Michigan citizens who are 65 years of age and older have become an increasing proportion of our society bringing with these sheer number new and challenging problems.

We have experienced a population explosion at the top of our age scale as well as the bottom. Where only 15 years ago there were 462,000 Michigan citizens 65 years and older, representing 7.2% of our total population, today there are over 700,000, representing about 8.5%.

At the same time these citizens are passing that special year that marks the entrance to their "Golden Years" with the promise of longer lives than ever before as a result of modern scientific, economic and social advances.

Where at the turn of the century life expectancy at birth was 47 years, today it is over 70 years and increasing steadily.

★

WHILE THESE elderly men and women are not an isolated, separate part of our society, they have special problems requiring full attention of our public and private resources.

We have made demonstrable progress in the 1960's in tackling their pressing health needs, living standards and productivity. Michigan ranks among the leading states in these endeavors.

There have been significant improvements in the Medical Assistance to the Aged state program in the past two years.

MAA coverage has been extend to 15% more senior citizens, broader care for MAA patients and a freer choice of hospitals have been made possible, nursing homes have been included under MAA and other major improvements have been made.

Because of these legislative and administrative improvements, many more Michigan older people are eligible and are receiving better medical and hospital care benefits than two years ago.

Of the 32 states having a Kerr-Mills program, Michigan ranks among the top three in benefits paid under this program.

★

OTHER MAJOR improvements for senior citizens have also been secured:

► Higher payments under Old Age Assistance to 5,000 persons while reducing local governmental costs;

► Broader use of lower-cost nursing homes and county hospitals;

► Expanded foster home care programs and rehabilitation of senior citizens transferred out of state institutions;

► More local councils on aging and referral centers;

► Vigilance in state inspection of nursing homes;

► An expanded older worker placement program to attack hard-core unemployment of older workers.

Adding it all up, I believe Michigan has made significant progress in the past two years in solving some of the acute problems of our senior citizens.

But this is an era of rapid change, when needs are growing at an incredible pace. The fields of health care, housing, taxation, welfare, education, research and community level action all present opportunities for continued improvement.

★

I AM convinced tax relief on the homes owned and occupied by our senior citizens is desirable.

Varying proposals have been made, including one for poverty tax defgrred which I submitted as part of a statewide program of tax reform in 1963.

I have recently appointed a blue-ribbon committee, headed by Alfred Pelham of Detroit, to examine this question of tax relief and report its recommendations to me in time for action in this regular legislative session.

Most older people want to leave their children the fruits of their life's work. Often, savings or fixed incomes just aren't enough to cover the necessities during their final years.

Old Age Assistance and MAA are available to maintain health and a minimum standard of living. But by accepting these helps, pride and dignity suffer.

Help to Taxpayers

Thomas Rowden of the Michigan Department of Revenue will be at the United Savings Bank from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Wednesday, March 17, to assist taxpayers in the preparation of their intangibles tax returns. The returns are due not later than April 30.

Intangible personal property subject to the tax includes all mortgages, land contracts, bank accounts, cash, postal savings accounts, accounts and notes receivable, corporate stocks, corporate bonds and other similar types of property.

HOWEVER, all United States bonds are exempt from the tax, and the tax on deposits in Michigan banks and building and loan associations, as well as stocks in Michigan banks, will be paid to the Department of Revenue directly by the banks or building and loan associations.

THE REVENUE Department is constantly engaged in checking stockholders' lists, mortgage records, income tax returns and other data for the purpose of discovering evasions of the Intangibles Tax Act.

Curb, Gutter Construction Is Estimated at $15,000

The curb and gutter program for this summer will cost about $15,000, according to Cal Zorn, city manager.

Areas scheduled for the construction are:

W. Pottawatamie — Evans to Union.

Island Drive — Herrick Park Dr. to Outer Dr.

Van Buren — Chicago to Logan.

N. Evans — Shawnee to Bidwell.

Adrian — Murray Dr. to Russell Rd.

The city has petitions for other curb and gutter construction, but no plans for installation in 1965.

In recent years, several miles of curb and gutter have been built with other construction planned two and three years ahead.

Auto Club Plans Study of Traffic Problems

A full-scale study of Lenawee County traffic problems together with recommended solutions, will be conducted as a public service by Automobile Club of Michigan this summer.

The study, to be conducted in August, will be aimed at reducing traffic congestion and accidents.

It will require several weeks of on-the-spot field work from a traffic engineering research team headed by Charles E. Gordon, Auto Club traffic research supervisor, and an intensive study of traffic and accident records.

The County Board of Supervisors requested the study in February last year because of a growing concern over changing traffic patterns.

Entire cost of the survey will be borne by Auto Club as a civic contribution.

Besides the study of police accidents records, the AAA research team will measure traffic volumes and movements and pinpoint hazardous or potentially hazardous intersections or areas.

A Detroit traffic engineering firm, Gibson and Associates, will be retained by Auto Club to serve as consultants on various phases of the project.

A complete report on the findings will be presented to city officials later this year.

Auto Club has conducted similar surveys in more than 140 Michigan communities, including Tecumseh, since 1926.

Other studies will take place this year in Manistee, South Haven, Plymouth and Alma.

School Bus Backs into Compact Car

William Every, 27, a substitute Tecumseh school bus driver, backed his vehicle into a Volkswagen Thursday afternoon when he overshot a stop in front of the home of one of his four passengers.

Every said he failed to see the compact car, driven by Elizabeth B. Hamilton, 24, of Old Greenwich, Conn. There were no injuries. The accident was investigated by officers of the Clinton State Police post.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Disappointed, Not Ashamed

Disappointed? Yes.

Ashamed? No!

Tecumseh had one of its finest basketball teams ever this year and easily could have gone all the way to East Lansing.

Instead, the Indians, weakened by a senseless foul in the Hillsdale game, bowed Friday night in the District Tournament at Chelsea.

In retrospect, Tecumseh enjoyed a tremendous season. The classy Indians were 15-1 for the season, won their league championship and were highly rated in polls throughout the state.

They had talent galore, plus splendid coaching. Vic Lawson is not only the ablest mentor in this neck of the woods, but is one of the finest gentlemen you'll ever find coaching.

The Indians and their coach were greatly disappointed in the district loss. So were hundreds of Tecumseh fans.

But not ashamed!

J.C.L.

RALPH AND DEBBI MILLER

Coaches Restricted

Although Tecumseh walked off with the league championship and boasted some of its finest tal ent in years, only Jim Lawson was picked by the loop's coaches for the All-Huron League team.

Lawson was a unanimous choice as was Jim Gibbons of Blissfield.

Gregg Allen was picked for the second team and Jeff Osburn was rated honorable mention.

Restrictions in allowing the coaches to make their selections hardly results in an all-league team. Each coach is allowed to pick just three from his squad, then in the balloting, is not allowed to vote for anyone from his team.

Limited selections is the drawback. If a team had five Cazzie Russells, three would make the all-star five, and the other two would be relegated to second team or honorable mention berths.

Willow Run Whips Indians in Tournament, 68 to 62

A 68-62 victory by Willow Run Friday night ended what could have been the finest basketball season ever enjoyed by a Tecumseh Indian team.

The district tourney loss dropped the Indians from any further play and closed the year with an excellent 15-2 record.

The six-point difference in the loss is misleading. With about two minutes to play, the two teams were tied at 60-60. Willow Run went ahead 62-60, then stole the ball and went into a freeze.

The Indians had to foul to get the ball back and the Flyers capitalized on free throws to edge Tecumseh out of contention.

A poor first half by Tecumseh contributed greatly to the loss, particularly the second quarter when the Indians tallied only eight points.

An over-anxious WR team committed numerous fouls in the opening period and gave Tecumseh one-and-one situations before the first eight minutes expired. The Indians, however, were unable to connect on the free throws, netting just eight of 15 attempts.

The Flyers, hot from the floor throughout the game, poured in 18 points in the second quarter as the Indians missed repeatedly.

Down 36-24 at the half, Tecumseh roared back in the third stanza, stripping the nets for 23 markers and completely dominating the boards. Just before the fourth quarter buzzer, the Indians held a three-point lead.

★

THE TWO clubs battled evenly until the final two minutes. Ten times the lead changed hands in the final period and five times it was tied.

The score was tied 11 times throughout the game and the lead changed hands 20 times.

Gregg Allen, with 25 points, turned in the finest offensive game of his prep career. Willow switched players time after time in an effort to stop the 6'4" senior.

Terry Alcock was equally good on defense. In the second half, Alcock "owned" the boards, a big factor in the third quarter surge, which brought the Indians back from a 12-point deficit.

Jim Lawson did not play up to par and a performance normally expected. It was a wonder he played at all.

Tecumseh's top scorer and playmaker was injured the previous Saturday night when a Hillsdale player drove him into a wall here on a deliberate foul.

Loal fans left the Cnelsea gym Friday night confident that a healthy Lawson would have made a difference — a big difference.

Despite a painful Achilles tendon in his right ankle, Lawson switched shoes at the half and showed the packed Chelsea gym why he is one of the finest cagers in the state.

Held to one point in the first half, he collected 13 in the second half, eight in the third period when the Indians rallied for the lead.

Jeff Osburn closed out his Indian career with 11 points, 10 in the second half. His last two baskets came towards the end of the game, one knotted the count at 58-58 and the last pulled Tecumseh to within three points with about 30 seconds left.

★

OTHER SENIORS bound to be missed are Dave Tilton, who will be especially remembered for his outside shooting against Airport a few weeks back, Steve Derby and Don Hughes.

In the first half against WR, Coach Vic Lawson sent in the 6'1" Derby to help on the boards. The high jumping senior did the job.

From the varsity, only Alcock and Ron Rentschler will be back. The 1965-66 squad could be tough, however, with a fine bunch coming up from the Jayvees.

Herald Selects All-League '5'

By JIM LINCOLN

For the first time, The Herald has selected an All-Huron League basketball team, based on personal observance and information gathered through clippings.

The selections vary from those made by the loop's coaches, who are restricted somewhat in their choices.

The Herald writer attended every Indian game and watched each team at least twice during the season.

Jim Lawson from Tecumseh was an easy choice, the league's best player and probably the best Tecumseh has ever had.

Gregg Allen was the best 6'4" player in the circuit and gives the Indians their second player on the first five.

Both Terry Alcock and Jeff Osburn were selected for the second team. Alcock was the best rebounder in the league, although not a prolific scorer.

★

OSBURN RATES with the best in the league for outside shooting and handled the ball better than most.

The other Tecumseh starter, Dave Tilton, gained honorable mention on his aggressiveness and for several sparkling games turned in.

All five Tecumseh players could have made any other team in the league and deserve recognition.

FIRST TEAM

J. Gibbons	6' 4"	Sr.	Blissfield
T. Boisvenue	6' 3"	Sr.	Airport
G. Allen	6' 4"	Sr.	Tecumseh
J. Lawson	5'11"	Sr.	Tecumseh
R. Plasters	6' 2"	Sr.	Milan

SECOND TEAM

T. Alcock	6' 3"	Jr.	Tecumseh
R. Anderson	6'	Sr.	Blissfield
B. McDowell	6' 7"	Sr.	Blissfield
J. Osburn	5'10'	Sr.	Tecumseh
D. Dicks	5'10'	Sr.	Airport

Honorable Mention: Dave Tilton, Tecumseh; Ken Head, Milan; John Laird, Flat Rock; Tom Counter, Flat Rock; Don Schroeder, Flat Rock; Tom Amstutz, Blissfield; Bob Viets, Milan.

Members are asking "Would you, as a Scout parent, be willing to give one more dollar to aid this worthy cause? With Girl Scout troops of 20-30 girls each, a large meeting place is not only nice — it's a necessity." And wouldn't it be great to hold a Blue and Gold Banquet in the local scout cabin, where it should, and could be held, if the cabin were a 1965 instead of a 1947 model?"

HOLLIS BOURNS RAN INTO UNEXPECTED TROUBLE ON HIS PLANNED TOUR

Posting of Bonds Changed Trip Plan

By DELAPHENE SHELTON

"At times I got lonesome and disgusted, but all in all, it was a very interesting trip."

With those words Hollis Bourns of rural Tipton summed up his recent motorcycle jaunt to Panama.

Mr. Bourns, an employee of the Tecumseh Products Co., left home New Year's Day intending to go to Sao Paulo, Brazil, where he planned to visit at the home of a friend.

In San Jose, Costa Rica, he learned belatedly that he must post heavy bonds if he were to take his vehicle into South American countries. Purpose of the bond is to prevent a tourist selling a vehicle on which no duty has been paid.

His reluctance to post a cash bond, with the resultant red tape of collecting a refund when he left the country, led to his decision to cancel the South American part of his journey.

★

MR. BOURNS transported his motorcycle to Loredo, Tex., in a two-wheeled trailer pulled by a 1950 Mercury.

The almost perfect performance of his old car, which he had purchased two years earlier for $86, was one of the most rewarding features of his trip.

Most people would not be content to travel as Mr. Bourns did, for he lived simply, sleeping in clean, but inexpensive rooms — when he didn't bunk along the road — and eating at restaurants far from the Duncan Hines dining out route.

But he enjoyed the opportunity to meet with the natives of the countries through which he travelled — persons who, on the whole, went out of their way to be friendly and helpful.

Mr. Bourns' Spanish left much to be desired, but he soon learned that a smiling "por favor" and "gracias" earned friendly assistance and that a handshake was a taken of friendship as it is in the United States.

★

THE BUREAUCRATIC red tape of the Central American consular offices and the resultant delays were most irritating, Mr. Bourns said.

Friends he made along the way — some of whom spoke both English and Spanish fluently — eased the way considerably, he said. Among them was an adventurous construction engineer, who had left Alaska, bound for British Guiana where he intended to join two friends in a search for diamonds.

Mr. Bourns had been warned against sleeping out along the roads and had given up his intention of doing so until an emergency made it necessary.

He quickly learned that "camping out" in these countries is safe, in fact there is no more danger of robbery or foul play, he said than in the United States.

In fact these people seem more friendly and helpful than most Americans, he added.

On one occasion his sleep was interrupted throughout the night as passing motorists and truckers stopped to check whether he was ill or injured.

★

SLEEPING accommodations were sometimes hard to find and one night a friendly official opened his jail to the American and his companions when all motels and sleeping rooms were filled.

Mr. Bourns found the primitive life of the Mexican and Central American farmers extremely interesting. A visit to the Panama Canal, to a Costa Rican volcano, which had erupted only a few weeks previously, and a stay in Oaxaco were highlights of his vacation.

He was eager to get back to the United States, his family and some "good American food".

"When I got to Loredo I had barbecued spare ribs and all the fixings," he said. "I told the waiter it was the best meal I had had in five weeks."

Rockhounds Hear Livonia Lapidaries

The Quints, a retired couple from Livonia, displayed their fascinating jewelry collection when more than 100 members and friends of the State Line Gem and Mineral Society met Sunday afternoon at the Tecumseh Community Center.

The couple explained their unusual process of combining Brazilian optical quartz with other rock, which has been sliced 1/32 inch thick, and then polishing the quartz, thus giving a three-dimensional effect.

The club has presented Dana's "Textbook" of Mineralogy" to the first two club presidents, Frank Laskey and Richard Matyeh. Clare Handy also was given a text for his help in founding the club and in starting the annual Rock Swap which attracts rockhounds from throughout the 11 Midwest states.

DOLLAR and SENSE FARMING

PLANTING CERTIFIED SEED gives you assurance it has a high germination percent, high purity, and is almost free of weed seed. An Illinois survey reveals that one farmer using home-grown red clov er seed planted 130,585 weed seeds per acre. Twenty percent of the farmers were planting seed that germinated below 80 percent. When using homegrown seed, have it tested for germination and cleaned properly.

FEEDLOT MECHANIZATION COSTS are often too high to retire the principal and pay a fair return in a reasonable period of time. Annual costs of some systems run as high as $175 to $200 per head, which figures out to $2 to $6 per cwt. in overhead cost. An investment in materials handling equipment must be compensated in volume or alternative uses of labor.

SWINE BUILDING PLANS should be designed to permit isolation and disease control. Large producers should strive for fewer large units and more smaller ones. Generally, large units have not worked successfully for extended periods. A suggested size for a farrowing house is 30 sows and no more than four farrowings per year in a house. Nursery unit — 160 to 200 pigs; and the finishing unit — 400 pigs.

FORAGE RUNNING SHORT? If hay prices are high, feed minimum hay and increase concentrates. A cow can be maintained on 1 to 1½ pounds of hay equivalent per 100 pounds of body weight.

THE WORLD

Strange sight? Not really! We're getting used to seeing pictures of our own earth. We're getting used to the concept of a universe instead of a world. We can believe that the moon's soon to become a landing place.

Does this familiarity with space — does our thrust into the physical unknown — make the basic facts of life and death any simpler to us? Certainly not! Man is in a peculiar position, today. The more he explores, the more vast he finds what lies ahead of him. The more he learns, the more he discovers how infinitely much there is to know.

More than ever before, man realizes how great the hand of God has been in fashioning this world, this universe, we live in. That's why people everywhere — including scientists, astronauts, space pioneers — are men of religious conviction. Go to church this Sunday, and see for yourself.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

GERTIE'S DUCKS

It is an undisputed truism that with ducks on the creek something is always going on. It may be funny, interesting or even sad. But always, there will be something.

We call the ducks Gertie's, but actually they are almost neighborhood property. Seldom is there a telephone conversation or a get-together where the talk does not soon work itself around to the latest duck escapade.

And, in the past few months, what escapades there have been. During most of the winter the duck population numbered three — one big white, female; one mallard, male; and one half-and-half, female, we presume.

The trio seemed quite congenial, they got along well together. One day, however, the little mallard drake came up missing. In true mystery book fashion we can even pin-point the time of his disappearance.

At 3:45 we had seen him bathing with the girls in the small open pool in back of Gertrude's. Shortly after 5 o'clock she called to report that only the two females had come up for dinner.

The drake has not been seen since and we are all left with the unpleasant question, did some unprincipled person have a duck dinner?

★

POOR LITTLE Mrs. Mallard, she acts so lonesome, almost lost. Being the clinging vine type and dependent upon the drake, she hardly knows what to do. The Big White is making the adjustment much easier.

She is sort of a strong-minded, free-wheeling individual who, once, has shown a nasty tendency to tease.

Mrs. Mallard has tried to lean on Big White and becomes terribly upset at any separation. Unfortunately the feeling is not mutual.

When the smaller duck cannot find her white friend, she starts searching frantically and calling in a loud quacking which carries unbelievably far.

We have often laughed at the poor little mallard, either flying or paddling up and down the creek, quacking loudly and looking oh so hard for her friend.

All the time this mad search was going on, the white duck would be sitting on top of Doctors' bridge watching the performance and, I strongly suspect, laughing to herself. The silly mallard should learn to "raise her sights."

★

LATE ONE afternoon, in fact the ground was almost in darkness, but much light still remained in the sky, Mom, Dad and I thought the problem of the lonesome duck was solved. We even thought, perhaps, she had solved it herself.

It had been a particularly hard day, Big White had rebelled at so much togetherness and so the mallard had almost worn herself out searching and quacking.

Suddenly there was a large bird circling overhead. From the shape, it was obviously a duck and as we watched him cut large circles clockwise and then counter-clockwise, how we hoped the little half-and-half mallard had quacked up a boy friend.

ONCE HE almost landed — his wings were spread, his tail fanned out and his big webbed feet dangled. Something didn't look right, though. Up went the landing gear and away flew the duck. As far as we know, there has been no return visit.

Several weeks ago two new ducks were introduced to the creek but whether Big White and the little half-and-half mallard will welcome the newcomers or whether the newcomers will find this neighborhood to their liking remains to be seen. As of this writing the outlook is not good.

So it is that much good looking, many laughs and a few sad moments are afforded by Gertie's ducks.

News from the Tecumseh Library

Interesting new books at your public library:

CAT AND MOUSE by the German writer, Gunter Grass. Brief and compact, this novel focuses on the extraordinary fate and person of one Joachim Mahlke, fourteen-year-old when the story starts. With ferocious virtuosity, the author maps the local and mental circumstances of Mahlke's dramatic and pathetic struggle to attain his goals.

THE WHITE VOYAGE by John Christopher. A disastrous storm wrecks the ship Kreya on the northern ice, and the temporary relationships between the survivors become matters of life and death as they struggle to make their way back to civilization. A deeply-moving story of human beings under stress.

A FLAG FULL OF STARS by Don Robertson is a rambunctious, kaleidoscopic, vibrantly-alive novel of the American scene, set against one of the most exciting moments in contemporary history; Election Day, November 2, 1948, when the underdog from Missouri was elected President of the United States.

WHITE LOTUS by John Hersey. Once upon a time a race was enslaved. Once upon a time there were rebellions, spontaneous, unorganized; then mystical, visionary. The author boldly dramatizes the issues of race, not of black against white, or white against black; not indeed of any specific racial struggle, but rather of one that seems to have emerged from a strange time-erasing legend.

THE WEATHER OF FEBRUARY, some variations on the theme of love, by Hollis Summers.

AN HONORABLE ESTATE by Lane Kauffman begins with Vicky's family engagement party and ends with her fashionable wedding three months later. Within those borders is a world, and the question all readers ask — "What will happen next?" is answered by a masterly storyteller.

THE HIGHER THEY FLY, Christopher Hodder - Williams, whom some have likened to the late Nevil Shute, has assembled a Grand Hotel cast of characters and brought them together at a moment of crisis when a jet airliner runs into big trouble.

'63 County Retail Sales Topped $100.2 Million

Lenawee County's 827 retail establishments had $100.2 million in sales in 1963.

This is a 13% increase from 1958, the U.S. Bureau of the Census has reported after tabulating data gathered from all firms in the 1963 Census of Business.

Retail trade in the county meant jobs — exclusive of proprietors — for 3,062 men and women and a yearly payroll of $9.6 million.

In volume of business, the county's food stores had sales of $21.7 million, a decrease of 9% from 1958.

★

IN OTHER retail business

► The county's eating and drinking places had sales of $6.4 million.

► Gasoline service stations had sales of $7.5 million.

PATTERSON SCHOOL PATTER

By SHERRIE HART

Maybe you think this mad early spring weather couldn't possibly have a good effect on anything, but you're wrong! Thanks to having to be inside without much to do, the fifth grade band is really showing a great improvement.

Of course, they don't expect to be as good as the sixth grade band for a long time yet! But they are really on their way!

Also Miles Cowdrey has a much happier expression during band class of late!

Sixth Grade

In Earl Greene's room in Social Studies class the pupils are studying Asia.

In math they are studying fractions; in reading, syllable breaks and in science they are studying "blue babies".

Fifth Grade

Mrs. Russell Raymond's fifth grade boys and girls are working with three dimensional shapes in art. They colored the objects with chalk so they looked like the light was directly on one spot and got darker as it went farther from the light.

In social studies they are learning about the revolution of communication and transportation.

In math they are learning how to multiply fractions.

In reading they are writing summaries on different stories.

In language pupils are supposed to read four books this semester and make a report on each.

Third Grade

In Mrs. James Lincoln's room the boys and girls in Math are studying the multiplication tables and are doing very well with them.

In art, pupils drew winter scene pictures of the snow.

In social studies, they are studying fires in the cities.

Science pupils are studying man-made moons or sitellites.

They are studying how to write letters in language.

'Buck' Gets Two Letters

Two letters recently arrived here from Washington in response to correspondence from Harold "Buck" Smith, who operates a Gulf station in Tecumseh.

Mr. Smith voiced concern over the possibility that eventually the Pledge of Allegiance would be banned from being said in the schools, then the flag itself.

He based his fear on the Supreme Court decision not to allow Bible reading or prayer in the schools.

One response to Mr. Smith came from Brooks Hays, a consultant to the President, and was on engraved White House stationery. He wrote:

"February 23, 1965

"Dear Mr. Smith:

"I am writing on behalf of Mr. George Reedy with reference to the possibility of the Pledge of Allegiance to our Flag being removed from the school ceremonies.

"Regardless of individual feelings about the Supreme Court decision invalidating the New York Board of Regents' requirement that a prescribed prayer be offered, I believe you will find that the legal basis for this decision could not be applied in the case of the Pledge of Allegiance.

"While I have not examined the decision fully, I am of the opinion that the Supreme Court has said enough in the way of distinguishing a required prayer from the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag to give us every assurance that that Court would uphold the Pledge.

"Recently a Federal court ruled that the words 'One Nation under God' are entirely proper and legal. The enclosed clipping contains further details.

"Sincerely yours,

"Brooks Hays,

"Consultant to the President."

The clipping came from the New York Times and read:

"HONOLULU, Feb. 16 (UPI) —A Federal judge has dismissed a suit brought by Mrs. Madalyn Murray in an attempt to remove the words 'One nation under God' from the Pledge of Allegiance.

"Judge Martin Pence granted yesterday a motion for summary judgment sought by Deputy Attorney General Nobuki Kamida, thus denying Mrs. Murray's request to have a special three-judge Federal panel hear the case.

"Mrs. Murray, an avowed atheist, who is a former resident of Baltimore, filed the suit on Sept. 14. It was against the Hawaii state superintendent of instruction and the principal of Lincoln School where her 11-year-old son, Art, is a student. She charged that her son had been forced to recite the pledge at school.

"Mrs. Murray was ordered extradited to Baltimore last year by a circuit court judge, but the case is now under appeal to the Hawaii Supreme Court. Maryland wants Mrs. Murray to face charges of interfering with police officers."

★

THE OTHER letter was from Congressman Weston Vivian of Ann Arbor and stated:

"February 15, 1965

"Dear Mr. Smith:

"Thank you for your letter of January 25th. I, too, am concerned about the issue of prayers in public schools. Let me see if I can state some of the questions which are disturbing me:

"1. If prayers are approved, in public schools, prayers of which religious denomination should be used? You belong to one such denomination, and I possibly belong to another; altogether there are dozens of different denominations in this country. Under an amendment to the Constitution, such as has previously been proposed, a teacher from any one of them might well have the right to lead his (her) class in prayers of that denomination, and there would be no recourse by either parents or the school administration.

"2. I am confused as to the meaning of the phrase 'put God back in our schools'. I would be distressed, indeed, to think that God had been driven from the schools by a decision which holds that prayers and the reading of the Bible ought not to be done in them.

"3. It is my feeling that the problems revolving around the school-prayer issue could best be resolved by asking every child who so desires to repeat a silent prayer during a meditation period set aside every day. This would not violate the rights of any child either to say his own prayer, or to say no prayer at all, if that were the preference of his parents.

"I am sure, Mr. Smith, that you are doing a fine job of raising your children. Their religious instruction, in my opinion, should be in your hands and those of the clergymen whom you select for their instruction.

"This is why I support the concept of separation of church and state and why I am not favorably disposed to hand that instruction over to the public schools.

"I appreciate your taking the time to write to me concerning this most complex and difficult question, and I hope that my thoughts on this matter may contribute to that concern. I look forward to hearing from you again concerning this and other important issues facing the Congress of the United States.

"Sincerely,

Wes Vivian."

★

BUCK'S ORIGINAL effort was to contact Mr. Reedy by telephone. He chatted with an assistant, who suggested that the Tecumseh man put his thoughts on paper, which the 33-year-old Buck did.

He concluded his letter with:

"I know that Church is the real place to worship, but we need God in our schools, too. When we pledge allegiance to our flag in school, are we supposed to leave out the part about God?

"So, please, if you can find it in your heart, let's put prayer and the reading of the Bible back in school.

"I am trying to raise five children and I would like for them to be able to hear some reading from the Bible in school as well as church."

With these responses, it appears that when the average fellow has something on his mind and is willing to take time to state his feelings, the Federal Government is willing to listen.

—o—

Harold (Buck) Smith started with a telephone call to the White House, Washington. He got action, too.

Long and Short

By TOM O'RIORDAN

Being a tax assessor at this time of year doesn't lead to winning any popularity contests.

Lynn Noble knows, he has the job in Tecumseh.

The moment of truth comes Monday when Lynn joins the three-man board of review in Council chambers to see if anyone is unhappy about Lynn's proposed changes in property valuations.

Interested folks can drop in between 9 and noon, 1 and 4.

Based on upward alterations of real anl personal property, there would be about $750,000 more taxable valuation in the city.

★

LYNN EXPLAINS that the increases have been based on three factors:

1. New construction, including homes, garages and other additions.

2. Change of some property from residential to commercial classifications, based on fact that businesses are operated there. In these cases, land values go up 100%, since the plot is earning income.

3. Vacant land, now ready for buildings. Some lots, on the tax rolls at $200, are being offered for sale from $2,000 to $2,500. These have been generally upped to approximately $700.

According to the records, 195 residential, 44 commercial, nine agricultural and six industrial changes have been proposed. All have been notified and can appeal at the Monday meeting.

Local assessed value — now $19,695,780 — has been climbing since 1962. From that point:

1963—Up $614,000

1964—Up $460,000

1965—Up $750,000 (proposed)

Taxation is awfully complicated. Maybe we'll confuse you even more, but here's a try.

For city purposes, property is taxed on approximately 40% of its worth. The current tax rate is 11.12 mills of local assessed valuation.

Now, when the subject gets to school and county taxation, there is a switch to what is called state equalized evaluation. Based on that, the city rate is approximately nine mills.

But any way it's sliced, when valuations are increased, the dollars paid out by property owners are greater.

★

IF THE proposed $750,000 switch is OKed, this would mean about $8,300 more for city operations next time property owners ante up.

This would be spread over 2,405 real and 217 personal property payers in the city. Personal property is mainly the concern of business and manufacturing.

Happy taxing.

29 Trainees Begin Work at Fisher Body

Pinning on Tecumseh Fisher Body plant identification badge No. 1, Mrs. Thurman Stanley, 509 W. Brown St., started a new career Monday morning.

She and 28 other women began a four-week training course to learn operation of upholstery trim sewing machines.

It was just one year ago this week that General Motors officials first announced that a Fisher Body plant would be built in Tecumseh.

Mrs. Stanley was the first woman called by the city's newest industry — from more than 12,000 applicants, male and female, made at the local Fisher Body information center, which was set up in mid-January.

She and her fellow "class" members are being instructed in a 50x100' training area, which is the first portion of the plant to be completed. Construction workers still pour over the remainder of the layout, with completion still almost three months away.

Heading up the instruction team is Bernard Bush, production superintendent, who was transferred here from the firm's Livonia upholstery trim plant.

Assisting him are four brand new foremen, who spent two weeks in Livonia, prior to the Tecumseh opening. The quartet includes Jim Quigley and Tom Walter of Tecumseh, Lorne Archer of Plymouth and Donald Becannen, a resident of Clayton.

The heavy-duty Singers are powered by half-horse motors and run at 1,750 revolutions per minute, much faster than the conventional home models.

Harvey Vogt, director of personnel for the Tecumseh plant, hopes that by the end of April, the first machines in the production area will be in operation, with the current trainees running the sewing machines.

As these women become proficient in their new skills, more will be called until approximately 400 have been trained for the local production team.

SEW MACHINE TRAINEE — Among the first women hired to learn the skills of operating an upholstery trim sewing machine was Mrs. Harold DeClercq, of rural Tecumseh. The learning process will take approximately four weeks, then it's into production work.

Expansion at Tuttle Given OK

Action by Council Regarding Russell Rd. Sewer Paves Way

By JIM LINCOLN

Approval by Council Monday night of a sanitary sewer to the William Mackey building on Russell Rd., paves the way for additional operations of the H. W. Tuttle Co.

Although Cal Zorn, city manager, said construction of the sewer is about a month away, company officials plan to start immediately to ready their building for operations.

Harold Tuttle, president, says the 5,000-square-foot building — until now strictly storage area — will be used primarily for research and development and pilot run production with an employment of about 35.

Operations are expected to start in May.

When the company moved here from Adrian, employment was 65. It is now 125 and will top 150 before the end of the year.

★

MR. TUTTLE credits the City Council with making the company's move possible.

Last fall, when the officials were first approached with constructing utilities to the building, high costs resulted in Council rejecting the request.

Since then, the company has agreed to drill a well, eliminating the need for a city water line. Mr. Mackey has agreed also to purchase the Otto Beaubein property, thereby eliminating opposition to city improvements.

Mr. Beaubein had protested, since his lot along Russell Rd., was long and narrow, and the costs were high. He probably could not have been able to develop the property.

The city agreed to pay a share since property owners along the north side of the road would be footing the entire costs. Raisin Township borders the south side.

Housing Was Also Factor

New housing and Tecumseh's Fisher Body Plant are the reasons for an expansion of the city's wastewater plant — an enlargement ordered by the State Health Department and one which will double the present capacity.

On April 5, a $560,000 general obligation bond issue for the plant will be voted on by the city's taxpayers.

City officials have said housing alone would have necessitated an expansion of the plant. There will be residential construction this spring in at least five different areas in Tecumseh.

All property owners inside the city — and General Motors — will pay a share of the cost.

GM has agreed to assume the entire cost of a sewer to its plant on Occidental Rd. and the cost of a lift station. Payments, including interest of $7,590 will be paid annually for the same time it takes to retire the bonds.

In lieu of taxes, GM has agreed also to pay $52,800 for its share of the plant expansion cost, by remitting a minimum of $3,640 annually, probably for 20 years. The corporation's share was based on 82,000 gallons of waste per day.

Tecumseh will also collect $3,000 per year for maintenance of the lift station and 12c per 1,000 gallons of waste per day. This revenue is allocated for plant operation.

★

IF THE FISHER plant exceeds 82,000 gallons of sewage per day, an additional charge will be levied and this income will be diverted to help retire the bonds. Payments of $7,590 and $3,640 also will be used to apply against the bonds.

City officials are pleased with their agreement with GM and have pointed out that the corporation is paying a big share of the total costs.

City taxpayers will assume a debt of $18,460 per year if the bond issue is approved and a $130,000 Federal grant is obtained. It amounts to 9/10ths of a mill local assessed valuation.

If voters turn the issue down, the total city taxpayers' load will jump to $27,460, or about 1.4 mills. Rejection of the bond issue will drop Tecumseh below the government's requirements for a Federal grant.

Boys Start Fire in Scout Trailer, Little Damage

The Tecumseh Fire Department answered two calls to extinguish minor fires.

Youths, who had disappeared by the time firemen arrived, were blamed for a fire at 10:15 a.m. Saturday in the Boy Scout trailer parked at the rear of the Tecumseh Community House.

A defective blower motor on a furnace in the Clare Case home at 503 N. Evans St. caused about $50 damage at 7:10 p.m. Monday.

Vandals Fire B-B Shots, Toss Stones at Windows

Three downtown businesses and Perry Satterthwaite's power plant on Globe Pond have been targets the past week of B-B guns and stones.

Hite Hardware and Osterhout's Flowers have reported their plate glass windows damaged from B-B shots. Hooton's Cities Service Station was struck twice.

Youngsters are suspected of breaking nearly every pane of glass from the power plant, either by tossing stones or using a B-B gun.

Bonner Named To Fill Appeals

Councilman Robert Bonner was appointed to succeed Arthur Schwartz on the Board of Appeals.

Mr. Schwartz resigned after moving to Cleveland.

The appointment is effective April 10. Mr. Bonner is not seeking re-election to Council.

'Take a Second Look'

By MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — Dr. Howard Y. McClusky told an audience of Clinton residents they should "take a second look" at their town.

Dr. McClusky addressed a dinner meeting arranged by the Chamber of Commerce Monday night at the Methodist Church. Fifty persons attended, including Chamber members and other Clinton residents.

The professor of educational psychology at the University of Michigan, with a staff of assistant professors, conducted a survey of Clinton in 1960, assessing its problems and advantages.

Updating that survey Monday, he said that the rapid changes which have come to the Clinton area were not even dreamed of five years ago.

At that time, the primary problem of the village was lack of industry and need for more employment.

Now, hundreds of jobs are being provided by several new industries in the village.

With this industrial growth, the village now faces the problems of providing adequate housing and schools as well as zoning. Eventually, it may have to consider more police protection, water and sewer facilities, he said.

It was noted earlier that the primary power for action in the community was centered in four civic organizations — the Village Council, Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. McClusky remarked that Clinton is "favored by providence" in not being faced with major problems before the village can prepare to cope with them.

He urged immediate establishment of a new study group to ascertain the problems facing the village. Experts' advice in each field should then be sought if needed, he said.

"This study group needs to be unified," he said, "and made up of the established civic organizations. Its findings should be made known to the community for action."

★

HE CONCLUDED by reminding Clinton citizens of the resources of the area, its beautiful landscape, fine local architecture and rich historical heritage.

'Take action now to make Clinton the way you want it to be."

Mrs. Frank Fitzpatrick, acting as program chairman in the absence of the president, Lester Proctor, presented Mr. McClusky with an engraved key to Clinton in appreciation of his continued interest.

Terry Hunt, Bill Driscoll, and Doug Brown, Clinton High School students, played on electric guitars before dinner.

Set Life Goals Teens Are Told

By DOROTHY GRIGG

The Rev. David Wilkerson, author of "The Cross and the Switchblade", pulled no punches when he spoke to 1,030 persons in Tecumseh High School gym Sunday. His visit here was sponsored by the Tecumseh Ministerial Association.

The Rev. Harold Speer, president of the Association, introduced the speaker, who directed his message at the several hundred teenagers in the audience.

Mr. Wilkerson challenged the young people with the idea that rather than blaming the world for their problems, they, themselves, must assume the responsibility.

He said that when they assume adult privileges they must be willing to assume responsibilities that go with them.

The emphatic young man urged the teens to set a goal for their individual lives.

The New York minister spoke with feeling as he told of

Speakers To Talk About Bond Issue

Any organization want a program? City officials would be happy to provide one.

Councilmen Monday night discussed ways of informing people of the $560,000 general obligation bond issue and expressed hopes that city officials would be invited to speak before community groups.

The bond issue is on the April 5 ballot.

Farmers To Hear Representative of Chemical Firm

Jim Templeton of the Eli Lilly Co. will be the speaker at the Britton Adult Farmers' meeting Monday.

The meeting to be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Agricultural room of the Britton High School will be the last for the season.

Mr. Templeton will present material on the use of new types of chemicals used in weed control for soybeans.

Council Approves Machine Purchase

Council approved purchase of a Burroughs accounting machine Monday night at a cost of $6,785.

A similar machine from NCR, costing $7,010, was rejected.

TEACHER OF YEAR GERALD NELSON LISTENS TO QUESTION BY BIOLOGY STUDENT RICK SKINNER. STORY ON PAGE 2.

BEHIND PAGE ONE

As of last week, 12,000 persons had applied for jobs with the new Tecumseh Fisher Body plant, coming from all over southern Michigan and northern Ohio.

Mrs. Ransom Squires, Route 3, Milan, has sent the Herald an interesting poem written by her great-grandfather, James Getty, and published in The Herald Sept. 18, 1871.

The poem tells the story of Mr. Getty's drive to Tecumseh and the persons he met on the street.

This verse we found especially interesting:

"Our Editor, we often meet,
Compelled to saunter on the street,
In hopes to find delinquent men,
And gets a dollar, now and then.
Can this be right? Ah, no, I say,
Poor Editors should have their pay."

From the Michigan State News, student daily at MSU, comes a cute item. Two notes were posted on a campus bulletin board, one above the other. The top advertised, at $3, the Poly-Sci 200 spring term 1964 test with "all answers underlined and correct." Interested parties were to call "Paul, 355-2708." Underneath was a neatly-typed "Warning." Signed by the chairman of the Political Science Dept., it noted, "This student received a 'C' for the course. Insist on guaranteed accuracy at this price. Also, essentially the same information is available from department without charge."

No Distinguished Service Award was made by the Tecumseh Jaycees this year. The three judges found themselves with but one entry in the annual competition. They reasoned a race can't be run with a lone candidate. Eighteen community leaders were asked to offer nominations, only one did. Either Tecumseh's young men, 21 through 36, didn't do anything noteworthy during 1964, or the oldsters asked to advance possibilities were too "busy" to complete entry forms.

Bob Wolf has changed the name of his business to Wolf's Appliance, having dropped "Tire &."

Sunday's Toledo Blade will carry a variety of stories and pictures from Tecumsehland.

"Spring is coming" reports Mrs. Herman Shanz of Macon who saw a large flock of Canada geese Sunday flying northward over her home.

Faith 'n begorra, Wilfred Waldron must be a wee bit Irish. A fist full of shamrocks it is, in The Herald office, thanks to him.

The Farmers Almanac may not be wrong in its prediction of 20" of snow this week. It seems that is for the Boston, Mass., area.

Allan Seager has a story in the current Saturday Evening Post, but that's not what makes him extra happy this week. His youngest daughter, Laura, a senior at Tecumseh High, has scored with Mademoiselle Magazine, netting $500 on a fiction piece.

Latest contribution to the Herrick Memorial Hospital Landscaping Fund was made in memory of Mrs. Mable Pardee, mother of Mrs. Al Merz, by

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh DesErmia
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schwartz
Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gates
Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hannibal
Mr. and Mrs. Carson House, Jr.

Delaphene Shelton, the Herald's rambling columnist, was Here but she would have liked to be There Monday. She and her husband, Hollis, learned Sunday of the birth of a grandson, Eric John, an hour earlier in Phoenix, Ariz., to their son and daughter-in-law, Carl and Gay Shelton. The Sheltons have 10 grandchildren scattered in four states from the East Coast to the Southwest. No wonder she rambles!

Persons receiving gallon blood donor cards from representatives of the American Red Cross when its Regional Bloodmobile visited Tecumseh recently were:

Dean Moore, 702 E. Monroe Rd. and John H. Hamilton, 418 Shawnee St., Tecumseh; Cecil Servoss, 533 N. Main St., Britton, and Frank LaFave of Adrian.

Tecumsehland residents cringed Wednesday as the snowflakes began tumbling down. Boots were dug out from back of closets and gals who wore their spring hats were looked at with a baleful eye for having caused so much trouble. Some folks even pulled the blinds, hoping that if they didn't look out the white stuff would go away.

7 Traffic Accidents Are Minor

All seven traffic accidents in the city were minor the past week with only two drivers receiving citations.

Paul E. Underwood, 22, of 301 E. Pottawatamie St., was charged with leaving the scene of an accident and violation of the basic speed law Saturday, after he ran into a parked car belonging to John B. Dixon, 18, of 115 N. Pearl St.

Bill Spreeman, rural Britton, was charged with leaving the scene of an accident after bumping into a gas pump at the Texaco service station.

Other accidents without arrests were:

Sondra Lee Revlett, 17, of 115 W. Logan St., backing into Mary M. Allen, 38, of 802 W. Pottawatamie St., in the Kroger parking lot.

Samuel L. Lawrence, 52, of 709 N. Evans St., backing city dump truck into John H. Robinson, 37, of 1210 Shady Lane.

Gerald Craig, Milan, in a Tecumseh Products parking lot mishap, hit a car belonging to Clifford Allshouse, Onsted.

James Pinkard, 35, of 412 Occidental Rd., scraped car driven by Arlie LaBaron, 56, of 137 Brown. Both vehicles were parked on N. Union St., and drivers pulled out at same time.

Agnes M. Woods, 39, Centennial Rd., backed into truck driven by William G. Sisson, 39, of 511 Herrick Park Dr., on James St.

Court House Plan Opposed by Easton, Zorn

Mayor Harold Easton and City Manager Cal Zorn objected to action taken by the Lenawee Board of Supervisors last week.

The board told architects to prepare a preliminary plan and estimate costs of a new city-county building for Adrian and Lenawee County.

Up to $2,000 has been appropriated for the work.

Tecumseh's mayor and city manager were the only opposing votes of 31 cast.

Mayor Harold Easton said Friday morning that he would not have opposed the action if he felt that this was the most economical way to have a new court house, but he feels that the joint accommodation has not been successful in other cities such as Ann Arbor and he doesn't feel that it would be successful in Adrian.

★

IT COULD evolve into a situation whereby the county would be subsidizing a new city hall for the city of Adrian, as it has in other places.

He said, too, that $2,000 is entirely too much money to expect taxpayers to pay for incomplete plans and rough sketches.

The mayor concluded that the offer of a new court house at no cost to the taxpayers, if it was located in Tecumseh, should also be given some study, even though it would probably meet with much disapproval.

City Manager Zorn was in full agreement with the mayor.

A Detroit architect, Carl B. Marr, will study other locations, but it is possible that a new structure may be built on the present site.

A new department for county business is being organized with no space for housing, either in the Adrian City Hall or the court house.

Stacy Zilke, chairman of the supervisors, told the board Thursday that a larger building housing both county and city business offices would be more economical on a square-foot basis.

'Mama Mia!'

For the seventh year Mrs. Eugene Rebottaro and her family will prepare the sauce and spaghetti for the annual St. Elizabeth Rosary Altar Society spaghetti dinner.

The meal will be served from 4:30 to 7 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Preparation of the dinner which annually draws hundreds of persons, will be facilitated this year by the use of the huge new kitchen given recently to the church by the Sage Foundation.

There is a 24-foot hood over the stoves, four ovens to handle 5-25-pound roasts each, steam tables to keep hot foods really hot, and completely automatic dishwashing.

This is one of the finest equipped kitchens in the state.

★

THE SPAGHETTI dinner will be served cafeteria style on newly purchased trays. Included will be cole slaw, hard rolls, choice of home made pies and coffee, tea or milk. Tickets at $1.25 for adults or 75c for children will be available at the door. Children under five years free.

Co-chairmen for this event are Mrs. Thomas Bruce and Mrs. Robert McCrate.

The kitchen chairman is Mrs. Joseph Dziachan; the dining chairman, Mrs. Charles Allen; scalads, Mrs. Ben McWilliams and Mrs. Eugene Parras; dishwashing, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Crevier and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ries; take-out orders, Mrs. Wallace Whiting and Mrs. Paul Clauda; tickets, Mrs. Robert Spence; publicity, Mrs. Louis Caterina.

TEEN TALK

By DEBBIE EARLING

Sunday evening teenagers, adults, and children filled the High School gym to hear the Rev. David Wilkerson speak of his experiences in dealing with troubled teenagers.

The Rev. Wilkerson is the founder of Teen Challenge Centers, located in various major cities in the United States.

He skillfully captivated the attention of his audience as he pointed out the astonishing percentages at which juvenile crime rates and drug addictions are increasing. The Rev. Wilkerson described the disease and misery of the tragic conditions in which victimized teenagers live.

★

BECAUSE of his awareness of the motivations behind teenage drug addiction and its consequences, and because of his belief that God is the solution of counteraction, Rev. Wilkerson said he felt called upon to travel around the country preaching what he knew " . . . and I'm out to preach it hard, fast and straight!"

So he did. For more than an hour attentive ears were pelted with cruel cold facts that make up the horror and filth of teenage crime and drug addiction.

A young man cured through the New York Center related his life story and the events leading up to his 14 years of addiction to heroin.

★

FOR THE FIRST time many in the audience became aware of an environment where survival is a day-by-day struggle. With his direct frankness the Rev. Wilkerson aroused the compassion and sympathy of his audience.

His message was for the young people. He urged them not to follow the crowd to be free-thinking individuals and to look to God for guidance.

He stressed the importance of a goal in life and emphasized conviction of moral standards.

★

"THE RESPONSIBILITIES of citizenship," said the Rev. Wilkerson, "and the actions of teenagers rest with the teenager himself; not the parent, not the school official; not the minister, but with you, Teenager."

"I am not a fanatic," said the Rev. Wilkerson. I only wish to bring God into the hearts of these young people."

The Rev. Wilkerson's program stirred the emotions of the audience, especially those of the teenagers.

Nelson Wins Teacher Award

Gerald Nelson has been selected as Tecumseh's "Teacher of the Year".

This marks the first time that the award has been made locally and was instigated by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Nelson accepted a plaque from the JCs during their March meeting at the Grange Hall.

For the past five years, Mr. Nelson has taught biology and mathematics at Tecumseh High School.

He is a graduate of Northern Michigan University and holds a master's degree from the University of Michigan. Born in Manistique, he is 33 years old.

★

LONG REGARDED as one of the best instructors at THS by Principal Neville Hart, the Teacher of the Year is also highly thought of by his students.

Said one 10th grade biology student, "He makes us want to learn. He makes it interesting.

She noted that Mr. Nelson "mixes humor in to bring out points."

His lectures are sparked with questions fired unexpectedly to pupils all around the classroom. Everything takes on a fresh approach.

Mr. Nelson is fascinated with teaching and notes, "There is constant change. Everything is new every day."

He likes working with people, especially those of younger ages.

The Tecumseh system doesn't confine teachers, he points out, rather there is room for individuality and new ideas.

★

MR. NELSON is a navy veteran, having served four years during the Korean conflict, much of it aboard a destroyer in the Far East.

During summer vacations, he enjoys travel, camping out in state and national parks, like hunting, fishing and hiking.

Another student remarked, "He's always willing to explain anything you don't understand."

condemned buildings in Gotham that are sometimes left for from three months to a year before the demolishing crews arrive.

He spoke especially of one, a "shooting gallery" on the first floor used by dope addicts. The second floor was a house of prostitution.

A former dope addict, a "mainliner" for 14 years, accompanied the Rev. Wilkerson and spoke of his experience after being jailed 23 times, of "kicking" the dope habit, "cold turkey" or without the use of medication.

A native of Puerto Rico, Lewis said he came to this country with his parents when he was 13, felt it necessary to join one of the gangs and soon became addicted to dope.

After trying to fight the habit, he was still "hooked" until he found God at Teen Challenge.

The Rev. Wilkerson explained that "mainlining" is the method an addict uses to get more effect, he shoots the narcotic directly into the vein.

He said three to 15 shots like this and the user is addicted for life.

★

PHILIP RAVENHILL, whose father is the editor of the Teen Challenge Magazine, also accompanied the Rev. Wilkerson.

During the service, the Rev. Paul Brantingham read the scripture and Ray Sommers led assembly singing with Mrs. Brantingham at the piano.

Over 100 teenagers dedicated their lives to Christ at the close of the service.

Mr. Speer will play a tape recording of the service Sunday at 4 p.m. in the Assembly of God Church, 210 W. Bidwell St., for those who care to hear it.

Wes Vivian Wants Bill

Congressman Wes Vivian of the Second Congressional District, said that he fully supported the voting rights bill which the President outlined to the Congress in a Special Joint Session Monday.

"This bill, in my opinion, provides a straightforward, unequivocable method of wiping out the intolerable discrimination in registration and voting procedures still persisting," Mr. Vivian said.

"It is shameful enough that this legislation is required in the first place. It would be disastrous if endless months were required for its enactment. The time to implement the guarantees of the Constitution of the United States is now," he concluded.

AND AWAY WE GO! — All this time we thought the Fisher Body Division of General Motors planned to have its upholstery plant here! But a second look reveals that what looks like a rocket ready to zoom into the wide blue yonder is simply a 130-foot gravity water tank west of the GM plant on Occidental Hwy. The top "bubble" will cancel out that soaring look.

Studies Budget

Tecumseh School Board held a long session Monday night — and early Tuesday morning — on the school budget and program for the 1965-66 term.

Employment of four teachers also was authorized.

First step to promote the extreme northwest section of Tecumseh for housing was taken Monday night by Council, when it approved installation of a sewage lift station.

It will be constructed at the city limits on N. Union St. and will handle most of the adjoining area, including the Kerby Heights subdivision.

Folks also appreciate purchasing a product, such as a prescription, at the lowest possible cost—along with prompt service. Hodges offers these services day-in, day-out, plus a few more: charge accounts, free delivery of your prescription, records for filing with your income tax report—and open seven days a week to provide you with continuous service. Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITOR:

Dear Editors:

This is not a "To Whom It May Concern" letter but it is a "To Whom It Does Concern"—

Sunday evening at the High School gym in Tecumseh, it happened. A young man with a big heart and a big story came to our town, the Reverend David Wilkerson.

Some may call it preaching — but I call it reaching for he reached out his hand to the youth in our community who know not what real want or need is, for most parents are working themselves to death (many holding two jobs) to keep their offspring in the latest style of clothing, sports and games but have neglected the real thing — the most important thing in any one's life — God and their relation to Him. In fact their salvation has been neglected.

This is the Peril of Neglect.

Find one parent who has not told the story of Peter Rabbit to his children, and I will show you 100 parents who have never told their children the life of Christ. And yet these same children are perplexing their parents, praising the devil, and playing their part in life with "ears that do not hear" and "eyes that do not see."

We do not care to let their teeth decay but their souls — well, that seems to be different. Still, pastors, priests and parents grumble about the empty pew, the lack of repenting, and the "pious" people. They do not have any pull because they have neglected the punch — and it is not in a bowl but in the Bible.

Someone did do something about this — Dave Wilkerson. It may have been your boy or girl who decided to follow Jesus instead of the crowd! It took a stranger to give them the gospel of Christ! "Shooting His Wad", "Pulling every punch" — placing the responsibility with each one.

The challenge was great — is great and there was a great response.

"Why?" someone mumbled! "What's he got that we haven't got?" "These kids aren't so bad — we send 'em to Sunday School and Church; BUT, HOWEVER, HOW MANY GO WITH THEM?"

He's got God on his side, which makes all the difference in this world. YOUR KIDS ARE TELLING ON YOU, MOM AND DAD! You can belong or support or work in a church, but if you have neglected to tell your kids the gospel but given them "Peter Rabbit" and slept in on the day of worship — the day of wrath will come to you.

You may feel critical of the method Mr. Wilkinson used — it may be that "emotionalism", "going forward", "making an acceptance", is foreign to your "pious comfortable religion — with organ recital" but the word of God is no fable — no fairy tale, but a whole truth, an inheritance, a promise, a friend.

Dave Wilkerson stood on the promises of God without faltering and he reached them!

Have you?

Sincerely submitted,
Sunday School Teacher.

TO THE EDITORS:

We are sending letters to our senators and representatives urging prompt passage of President Johnson's Civil Rights Bill.

We would like you to publish the following letters in the hope that they will move many other Tecumseh area citizens to write similar letters.

They may also appreciate having the correct addresses.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Boynton

(Editor's note — Copies of the Boynton letters to Washington appear below.)

The Hon. Weston E. Vivian
House of Representatives
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir,

As members of your constituency we want you to know that we are heartily in favor of the Civil Rights Bill being sent to Congress March 17th by President Johnson. We urge you to press for immediate action on it.

We don't want it watered down nor delayed.

In addition we believe that the concept of status rights is outmoded and no longer valid. The existence of states as administrative units, just like counties, cities or townships, is not questioned.

Rather, we feel that the motion of sovereignty of states detracts from the sovereignty of the nation. We believe that the concept of states rights must be replaced by the conviction that what happens to any person in any state is the justifiable concern of the entire nation and the Federal Government.

Sincerely,

Copies to
Hon. Philip A. Hart
United States Senate
Washington, D. C.
and
Hon. Patrick V. McNamara
United States Senate
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir,

As residents of Michigan we want you to know that we are heartily in favor of the Civil Rights Bill being sent to Congress March 17th by President Johnson.

We especially urge you to use all your influence to break any filibuster promptly, and would in fact heartily applaud outlawing the filibuster altogether. It is most undemocratic for a minority to still be able to impose its will upon the nation.

"walks" right over bumps and trouble

Independent front suspension takes the "truck" out of truck ride. It smooths rough roads, protects truck, driver and cargo from excessive jolting. And on Chevrolet pickups it's a proved system with millions of miles of user experience behind it. Try it out on one of Chevrolet's great Fleetside or Stepside pickups. It's one of the big reasons that Chevrolet is first choice with pickup users from coast to coast.

Seniors Continue Drive

BRITTON — The climax to the senior subscription drive for the Tecumseh Herald will be held Saturday when seniors will telephone all the persons who were not at home when the seniors called at their home earlier, and those who did not buy subscriptions. Refreshments for the "telephone day" will be furnished by The Herald.

"If you have not bought a subscription and would like to, any senior would be glad to drive out and take your subscription order," Fayetta Hall, subscription drive chairman, said.

The seniors have sold $430 in subscriptions and hope to double that on Telephone Day. For every new subscription that they sell they will receive $1.25.

High salesmen have been Miss Hall who sold 10 new subscriptions the first week of the drive and Donna Tiede, who sold eight the second week. They received $5 each.

The class receives a bonus of $5 for every 25 new subscriptions. They have sold over 25. The money will help pay for the senior trip.

"The Seven Last Words of Christ" will be presented by the Britton-Macon High School choir at 7:30 p.m. April 13.

The cantata, by DuBois consists of an introduction plus seven choruses, each chorus based on phrases spoken by Christ on the cross.

Soloists are: Terry Auten, tenor, who sings the part of the narrator; Jack Brown and Carl Studnicka, baritones, who sing the part of Christ; Donna Tiede, soprano, who also sings the part of the narrator. The accompaniment will be played by Ginger Frazier.

The program is open to the public.

Youth for Christ Worker Speaking in Onsted Church

ONSTED — The Rev. Reinhold A. Barth, associate director for 10 years of European Youth for Christ International, will be the speaker Thursday, Friday and Sunday nights in the Onsted Baptist Church. The services will be at 7:30 p.m.

The Rev. Barth, who arranged some of the European meetings for Billy Graham, for 10 years worked with teen agers in Europe. He and Mrs. Barth plan to do evangelistic work on the Continent the last six months of 1965, said Rev. Frank B. Thompson, pastor of the Onsted Church, who extended an invitation to the public to attend the meetings.

Mrs. Elizabeth Moll entertained at a birthday party for her son, Earl, Saturday evening. The co-operative supper party was attended by 26 relatives and friends.

Teen Club Foster Child Is Thriving

Members of the Tecumseh Teen Club have received an encouraging report concerning the progress of a child they support in Bogota, Colombia. The youngster, Rosa Elena Rivera, 12 years old Wednesday, has been sponsored by the group for 18 months under the Foster Parents' Plan, Inc.

The Tecumseh organization pays $15 each month and the money is used to buy clothing, blankets, toilet articles and medicine for the youngster.

Rosa, one of five Rivera children, is the daughter of a mason. She had not attended school because of lack of funds until the Teen Club took over her sponsorship. She is now a third grader at Colegio La Immaculada.

ROSA ELENA RIVERA

The family lives in Las Ferias, a Bogota suburb, sharing a house with four other families.

With the report from the Plan headquarters was a hand-written note from Rosa which was interpreted into English. In the letter she told her sponsors about the celebration of Christmas in Bogota.

Through the Plan she had received 105 pesos, "and a box of FAB, toilet utensils and a tea set. With the 105 pesos I bought shoes for my brothers because they don't have."

"I am very grateful with your help, my parents and I wish you Happy New Year."

Club members raise money for the project through dances and through their $1 a year membership dues.

ELDERCARE
....better
care than Medicare

Here's why the Herlong-Curtis Eldercare Bill, HR 3727, is the best answer to the health care needs of people over 65

MORE BENEFITS FOR THE ELDERLY

Eldercare would provide a wide range of hospital and medical services for the elderly — much more than Medicare.

	ELDERCARE	MEDICARE
Physicians' Care	YES	NO
Surgical Costs	YES	NO
Drugs — In and out of Hospital	YES	NO
Hospital and Nursing Home Charges	YES	YES

LESS COST TO THE TAXPAYERS

Eldercare offers more care for the elderly who need help, but would cost less because it does not provide benefits for the wealthy and well-to-do. Eldercare would not require a new payroll tax. It would be financed by federal-state funds through a program that already exists.

By contrast, the Medicare tax plan would increase payroll taxes to provide benefits for everyone over 65, the wealthy included. Furthermore, the Medicare tax would hit hardest those least able to pay. The $5,600-a-year worker would pay as much tax as the $56,000 executive.

Your doctors, who care for the elderly, support Eldercare because it also assures free choice of physician and hospital . . . provides for protection through Blue Cross, Blue Shield and health insurance policies . . . and lets people over 65 qualify for benefits before illness strikes — without a welfare type investigation.

What's Going on at BOYSVILLE

By MARTIN WHITAKER

Boysville found itself pitted against league champion Ida in its opening tournament game, and the opening game turned out to be the closing game for the Knights, as they fell to Ida, 64-55.

Despite being hampered by poor ball handling, Boysville held its own in the first quarter, trailing by only two points, 12-10. Ida opened up in the second quarter, controlled the backboards, and outscored the Knights by 10 points. The half-time score favored Ida, 28-17.

Neither team could do more than match the other during the third quarter, and Boysville still trailed by 10 at the end of the period.

In spite of a real awakening of power in the fourth quarter, Boysville could not overcome the 10-point lead the Bluestreaks had built up and maintained throughout the second half.

Senior guard Ron Klos proved to be the driving force behind the Boysville scoring attack, as he found the hoop for 29 points. Incidentally, Ron won honors for Boysville by being named to the All-County second team. Ron's 22.8 scoring average was highest in the River Raisin League, and it came within three-tenths of a point of capturing the county scoring title. Ron totaled 384 points for the season. Moe Jacobs, a junior forward, was Boysville's leading rebounder and made honorable mention on the All-County team.

The Annual Talent Show will be held April 8 on the Boysville campus. The show, originally scheduled for March 19, but postponed to give the boys more time to prepare, is sponsored by the Sophomore class. Prizes include weekend vacations at home or cash awards.

The Boysville Glee Club, under the direction of Brother Philip Armstrong, CSC, traveled to Saline last Sunday and sang at the Ann Arbor Deanery Women's meeting, in St. Andrew's Church Hall. Among the selections sung were "He's Gone Away", "Deep River", and "Shenandoah". Greg Gard's group, the "Headliners", also entertained with three numbers.

March 3, the seniors journeyed to Dearborn where they had their class pictures taken. The class went on to Detroit; dined at Stouffer's, and attended the movie, "It's a Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World".

The Mission Club at Boysville is sponsoring a Lenten Mission Drive. Brother James Greteman, CSC, club moderator, has announced a goal of $200 to be used for the library at one of the Brothers' schools in Dacca, East Pakistan. An attraction inducing free giving is an ice cream party for the dorm which contributes the most money per capita each week. The dorm which has totaled the highest contribution per capita at the end of the drive will be treated to an "evening out" in Ann Arbor.

Old Building Coming Down

CLINTON — What do residents of Clinton think about their home town? What are its advantages, its potential for future development, its areas in need of improvement?

This was the topic developed by Dr. Howard McClusky of the University of Michigan at the Chamber of Commerce dinner Monday night in the Methodist Church.

From time to time, The Herald will quote individuals with the idea that Clinton's continued growth and improvement depends upon the serious continuous thought and action by its residents.

Attention this week is focused on the main intersection of town, US-12 and Tecumseh-Clinton Rd., where this spring the Lancaster buildings on the southeast corner will be torn down.

A one-time hotel, it was built before the turn of the century. In recent years the structure was occupied by a tavern and a barber shop and only an infrequent resident.

It was vacated last year when an oil company sought to buy the property, took an option, but let it run out and lost interest in the project.

The hotel building and the house beside it on Tecumseh-Clinton Rd. as well as the gas station on Michigan Ave. will be torn down and the vacant property offered for sale.

The corner property owned by the George and Bertha Lancaster estate, extends from the Vescio's Country Market property on the east to Dr. Archie O'Conner's office buildings on the south.

This soon-to-be wide open space on Clinton's main corner offers a challenge to the imagination.

George Lancaster said that he would welcome any suggestions about what should be on the lot.

Personally, he said he would like to see a motel or shopping mall or even a well-designed service station go up there.

★

HERE ARE some ideas regarding the corner in answer to the question:

"What would you like to see on Clinton's main corner?"

MRS. WAYNE HULETT, a math teacher: "We need more parking area in Clinton. That might be as attractive as anything else there. Since the gas station on the north corner of the same intersection is also for sale, that might make a good drive-in branch bank, solving another parking problem."

MRS. JOHN MILLER of Miller's 5c to $1 store: "We need a high-rise apartment to accommodate the numerous people who wish to move to Clinton."

MRS. DELBERT TALLMAN, a department store employee: "A colonial-type motel would blend in well with the neighboring shopping center."

MRS. NANCY MERRITT, an employee at Merkel-Young's Hardware; "A metered parking lot might pay for itself there — or a motel, both of which are needed here."

MRS. EDWIN BIHLMEYER, a cosmetic firm representative: "We surely need more places for people to live in Clinton. It would make a nice spot for a motel."

E. J. CRAWFORD, owner of the Clinton Woolen Mill Store: "There is a need for more parking area, or a city park planted with flowers would be an improvement."

MRS. LEON VAN DEUSEN, housewife: "I'd like to see a nice restaurant there. Since the closing of the hotel dining room and the Purity restaurant, Clinton needs additional places to dine."

HERB SCHOTT, owner of Schott's Shoe Store: "A motel might benefit the village by bringing tourists into the heart of the village, where they could be expected to patronize local businesses."

SEVERAL OTHER persons stated that they thought Clinton doesn't need another gas station there. Others said that a drive-in bank would be convenient.

Almost everyone mentioned the need for more parking in the business area.

George Lancaster will be glad to hear your ideas about the corner, or call The Herald's Clinton Page editor, Mrs. Harold Calhoun and tell her what you think about Clinton.

Laundering Directions Are Given

CLINTON — Mrs. Una Iott of Adrian, the Consumer's Power Co. home demonstration representative, addressed the Home Economics classes at Clinton High School March 10.

Students in grades 7 through 12 heard Mrs. Iott discuss the decisions faced by women today in choosing the best use of their laundry time and money. She stressed the importance of getting white clothes white.

Mrs. Iott criticized the overuse of bleaches and demonstrated the damage to which such overuse can lead. She emphasized that water of the correct temperature and conditioning (softening) are important and demonstrated her point with simple chemical experiments.

The boys in the classes were given special attention when Mrs. Iott talked of the care of wash and wear shirts, which need no ironing if 'polished' by drying in a dryer with dry bath towels and socks, which shrink in spite of guarantees to the contrary, if overdried.

The informative talk was illustrated with posters and a suitcase full of clothes and household linens representing typical problem areas in laundrying, ranging from fiber glass splinters to "suds lock."

50 Juniors Take Merit Examination

CLINTON — Fifty members of the junior class at Clinton High School took the National Merit Scholarship Test (NMSQT) March 9. This is more than three-fourths of the class.

Daniel Schindler, school counselor, was in charge of the test.

Many who take it do not expect to win a scholarship but hope to determine their particular scholastic strengths and weaknesses.

Test scores of the pupils will be returned to the schools by May 15.

Each semi-finalist will then be asked to take a second examination.

Scholarship stipends are based on financial need. They range from $100 to a maximum of $1,500.

Seniors Sponsor Fish Fry Friday in High School

CLINTON — The senior class of Clinton High School will sponsor a family style fish supper from 5:30 to 7 p.m. Friday in the Clinton High School gym. Carry-out orders will be available.

Proceeds from the supper will go to the senior trip fund.

Parliamentarian — Mrs. Ella Van Giesen

Three new members were introduced by Mrs. Richard Barton. They are Mrs. Richard Cadmus, Mrs. W. G. Robinson and Mrs. Harlan Ruhl.

★

MRS. WARREN Van Orden, president of the Lenawee County Federation of Women's Clubs, and the program speaker, Mrs. W. P. Roger, chairman of the Fine Arts Department of the Lenawee County Federation of Women's Clubs, were guests.

Mrs. Dan Reilly presided at the business meeting.

The Ways and Means Committee announced a Thrift Shop, pie and white elephant sales will be held April 9 and 10 in the building next to the bank in Clinton.

A gift of $5 was voted to the Clinton Neighborhood Association of Girl Scouts.

The program opened with two piano solos played by Mrs. Ralph Reed, a newcomer to the community.

"Drama" was the subject developed by Mrs. W. P. Rogers for the afternoon's program. She traced the history of drama from Shakespeare to the present day.

★

MRS. JOHN Gilman led the singing of Irish songs by the group, accompanied by Mrs. Reed.

Mrs. Van Orden poured at a table decorated in St. Patrick's day motif.

Mrs. Rogers invited the members to the annual Festival of Drama to be given in the Adrian Public Library auditorium, at 8 p.m. March 18.

The spring luncheon meeting will be held at the Clinton Methodist Church at 1 p.m. April 14. Mrs. Justin Sutton will give a history of Beaver Island.

CLINTON — Navy Commander George S. Rawson recently visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rawson.

He'll retire April 1 after 22 years of service and has accepted a position at Stanford University's Linear Accelerator Center, which was authorized by the United States Atomic Commission in 1961.

Comdr. Rawson and family, who have been living in Chicago the last two years, will move to Palo Alto, Calif., in April.

CLINTON — Charles Straight was appointed by unanimous action of the Clinton board of education, at the March 8 meeting, to fill the unexpired term of Frank Gilman, who resigned recently.

He holds a BSME from General Motors Institute in Flint and was formerly employed at the Olds and Chevrolet Division of General Motors. He began his employment with the Budd Co. in August, 1963.

Mr. Straight was elected last week to a position on the board of trustees of the Smith-Kimball Community Center.

★

THE BOARD approved also the payment of monthly bills totalling $4,141.92.

Superintendent Richard Wegner reported on the recent citizens curriculum committee meeting.

The matter of the faulty gymnasium roof and plans for the high school addition were discussed.

The calendar for the 1965-66 school year was submitted and approved. This calendar coincides closely with that established and recommended by the Lenawee intermediate school district. The conference days, vacation days, and the total number of days in attendance have been planned to meet the more exacting requirements of the University of Michigan Accrediting Bureau and the North Central requirements.

The board discussed at length the proposed budget for 1965-66 as well as salary proposals for the school staff. A special meeting has been set for March 22 at 8 p.m. to study budget matters.

It's getting so that choosing between our Wide-Track Tigers is as distressing as it is enjoyable. For instance, should you choose the incredible GTO with its extra helping of horsepower (360), or the way it comes (335)? Multiple Dwelling Project Draws 24 to Council Session

Although the area has been restricted to residences, it has never been zoned for single dwellings.

Some of the residents were apprehensive about the effect of this type of dwelling in this neighborhood.

Since the builder was not present and did not send his plans to the meeting, no decision could be made.

The council will schedule another meeting when the plans become available for study.

Mr. Prible told the girls and their advisor, Mrs. Guy Hoover, stories of life in Hawaii, where he had spent much of his life. He explained his early training in the Hawaiian village school where, at the age of seven, he began studying the Hula.

He said the dance, performed now by girls for tourists, was once a traditional masculine dance done only for royalty.

He showed some of his collection of Hula percussion instruments, a 100-year-old tapa cloth, shells and rocks which he has collected for use in making unique flower and window arrangements and some of his oil paintings which recall the beach scenes of the islands.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

GERTIE'S DUCKS

Somehow one article describing the antics of Gertie's ducks always prompts another, and so with your kind indulgence—

Suddenly the little half and half mallard has blossomed from a weak, dependent follower into a busy peace-maker, frantically rushing around trying to keep track of everyone. In the past few days she has taken upon herself the enormous, and so far unsuccessful, task of inveigling the two newcomers to leave their present haunts and join Big White and herself in the creek.

Before the transformation, however, she gave Mom and me a bad time — to say nothing of what she did to Dad. The incident occurred on a day when, although much of the creek was frozen over, several fairly large spots were open. The little duck had spent most of the afternoon swimming and splashing in the frigid water. By the time Mom arrived home from the bank, the temperature was plummeting and we could see that the pools were quickly freezing.

★

OH DEAR, it was just beginning to get dark, Dad had gone upstairs to shower, when Mom looked out and saw the mallard. She was still in the water up in back of Gertrude's but over to one side of the open spot and sitting very, very still. Was she frozen in? All sorts of dreadful thoughts came to us. By the time an unsuspecting Dad appeared, his wife and daughter had worked themselves into a state and incidentally, had also prepared a plan of rescue for him.

By now it was dark outside and bitterly cold. Nevertheless, with our cheers of encouragement ringing in his ears, Dad sallied forth on his mission of mercy. Through our yard, over the fence, along Doctor's creek bank, down the bank, across the bridge and along the bank up the other side of the creek until he was about opposite the place where we had last seen Mrs. Mallard.

Never is the walking easy but, with only the light of a flashlight to show the slippery places, the stones and what have you — well, suddenly he was headed back. Back along the creek to the bridge, across the bridge, up the creek bank and where did he go?

MOM WAS watching the slipping and stumbling movement of the flashlight from my window — after all, if Dad did fa... she would at least know about it. Once safely back on this side, however, the little light and its holder disappeared for some minutes — we were quite relieved when they flashed into sight again. Finally the front door opened and as Dad stamped the snow from his boots he was greeted by an eager chorus, "Well?"

Briefly the story he shivered out was that the duck was not in the first pool but he could see her at the edge of the one on this side of the creek. He did not really think she was frozen in but he shone the light in her eyes, hollored, threw snow balls and the silly thing didn't move.

So, coming back to this side of the creek, he went on up, found a pole with which he could pry her loose, tossed it down the bank and then slid down himself. (This is where we lost sight of the flashlight.

★

RETRIEVING the pole and inching out toward the duck, he had just reached the point to launch his 'Sir Lancelot to the rescue' bit. And, at this part of the recital, I must admit that Dad's face became a bit redder and his voice a little bit more strained. Yes, the walking was bad and it was cold! But anyway, he had just reached the duck when she turned her head to look at him, blinked here eye and calmly swam away.

Dad ended his tale by saying that all over that blank duck's face was written the question, "Why on earth is that stupid human stumbling around here after dark and bothering me?"

So it is that just as I said last week strange things happen with ducks on the creek.

News from the Tecumseh Library

New books at your public library:

EXPLOSION IN A CATHEDRAL by Alejo Carpentier. Closely following the historical facts, the author has set before us an epic based on the turbulent career of Victor Hugues, a neglected but important figure in the French Revolution.

FORGOTTEN PIONEER by Harry Golden; the story of the old-time pack peddlers who walked the countryside from the earliest beginning of our century until the mid-1920's.

STAN MUSIAL, the "man's" own story as told to Bob Broeg, is the biography of a shy, inarticulate boy with a burning love for baseball.

TAKEN AT THE FLOOD, the story of Albert D. Lasker by John Gunther. A brilliant searching biography which brings to life one of the most extraordinary personalities of our time, the restless genius who not only created modern advertising, but led a complex and exciting life which affected Americans more than most of us realize.

THE FIELDS OF NOON by the Author of THE INCREDIBLE JOURNEY, Sheila Burnford. She writes with enthusiasm of out-of-doors life in her native Britain and Northern Canada.

THE BURDEN AND THE GLORY, the hopes and purposes of President Kennedy's second and third years in office as revealed in his public statements and addresses, and with a special forward by President Johnson.

HENRY OF NAVARRE, THE KING WHO DARED by H. Pearson. No figure of the Renaissance blazes down the centuries with greater brilliance than the warrior, lover, statesman who united France after the hideous blood-letting of the religious wars.

THE BAY OF PIGS by Haynes Johnson; the complete story that could not be told until now.

THE BLUE OF CAPRICORN by Eugene Burdick. This book is an exploration of a world rich in paradox and drama, a modern world of polyglot islanders and of ancient primitive savages, a physical world of languorous beauty and uncompromising rigors; all this the section of the world known as Oceania.

CONVERSATIONS WITH STALIN by Milovan Djilas is a unique book, at once a historical document and a personal drama. No one can better tell the story of Stalin seen by Communists as he wielded his power over men and nations than Djilas who went to Moscow in 1944, 1945, and 1948 on missions from the Yugoslav government, of which he was leader second only to Tito.

MRS. G. B. S. by Janet Dunbar has drawn on much previously unpublished material, including diaries, letters and such from Charlotte's famous husband, George Bernard Shaw, and the astonishing correspondence with Lawrence of Arabia, to create a portrait of a remarkable woman and a remarkable marriage.

ON VALOR'S SIDE, a Marine's own story of Parris Island and Guadalcanal by an enlisted man, T. G. Gallant.

PORTRAIT OF MAX is not merely a brilliant evocation of a man who was a novelist, essayist and supreme caricaturist; it also chronicles an era that may never be equaled for great minds, small graces and sheer charm as epitomized by the great Max Beerbohm.

By DELAPHENE SHELTON

A reader has asked me if we have ever tried trailering. The answer is no. We hope, however, to have an opportunity sometime to take a trailer trip. Perhaps as we grow older we may find we want more comfort than a tent can provide.

Some tourists are partial to travel trailers. Others prefer the pickup camper and still others think nothing can beat the canvas tent, carried either in the automobile or in a trailer behind it.

Most folk who have tried tenting have strong feelings in the matter. They either "love" it or can't stand any part of it.

A certain amount of adaptability and a willingness to put up with some inconveniences is necessary of course, but as time passes, manufacturers are making it possible to eliminate more and more of the discomforts often associated with camping.

★

THE FAMILY deciding to try camping would be wise to rent a tent and perhaps other equipment before investing too much money. A week's vacation should provide enough information to come to a wise decision.

Except for a tent and a camp stove the novice camper will find he doesn't need to make too much of an early investment. Air mattresses are almost indispensable in my view, but at first, bedding from home may be used for bedrolls in lieu of sleeping bags. Kitchen utensils may substitute for the nested pans and table service which are so handy and packable.

A card table may take the place of the folding picnic table or the camper can rely on the tables provided in practically all parks. Most families already have Thermos jugs, bottles, a cooler and a bucket or two which may be used.

Campers can and do pay varying prices for their gear.

Tents which will house a family of four may be purchased for as low as $50 — an excellent umbrella tent costs about twice that. Sleeping bag prices range from as little as $10 to as much as $50 or more.

There is the same wide variance in the price of air mattresses with costs being about $5 for plastic ones to $15 or $20 for larger, heavier mattresses made of rubber impregnated fabric.

Gasoline stoves cost from $13 or so to $20, depending on size and kind. No experienced camper would depend entirely on a charcoal grill or a fireplace for cooking. Who wants to fool around building a fire before he can have his morning coffee?

Nested camping utensils and dishes cost around $10. Folding tables and chairs can be bought at varying prices. Lightweight styrofoam coolers which will be sturdy enough for a season or two of camping may be bought for about $5 while heavy coolers cost about $15. Electric and gasoline lanterns range in price from $5 to $20.

★

WE ARE NOW on our third tent. When our family dwindled we sold our wall tent with its screened window walls and bought an umbrella tent, more easily set up and more compact to pack. We're now on a second umbrella tent with the framework on the outside thus giving us more usable floor space.

A few minutes of figuring will convince the budget-minded family that it's cheaper to camp out than to rent a cottage or, on a motor trip, to rent motel or hotel accommodations.

My husband and I are not of that breed of camper who thinks he must prove his toughness by staying out in all kinds of horrible weather. If while on a trip we run into a stretch of rain — perhaps even snow in the high mountains — we are much more apt to hie ourselves to a nice cozy motel than to shiver under canvas.

For the family which cannot put up with inconveniences or which cannot adjust easily, camping might better be forgotten and vacation economies, if necessary, made in other ways.

EVEN THE LITTLEST CAR WILL HOLD A LOT IF THOUGHT IS GIVEN TO THE PACKING

MRS. ERNEST HAMMACK SHOWS OFF GIFTS

Bus Driver 'Retires'

"Ole Smokey" is going to get a new driver.

Tecumseh School Bus No. 3, which has the nickname and slurps oil like kids do pop at a picnic, lost its regular jockey Friday.

Mrs. Ernest Hammack "retired" from the post to accept a job at the new Tecumseh Fisher Body plant starting Monday.

In making her final run, she discovered several signs adorning "Ole Smokey".

One read, "We will miss you and so will 'Ole Smokey'. Good Luck and God bless you, Bus Driver."

★

THERE ALSO was an "Ode to Old Smokey," unsigned, which ran,

"When we see a cloud of smoke,
"We don't sit around and poke.
"We just try our level best
"To give our buses the supreme test.
"'Up front of Ole Smokey' is the cry;
"For behind it, you will surely die."

There were gifts from her regular riders, who chipped in and placed them on the driver's seat. These included a box of chocolates and a box of Girl Scout cookies.

Will Community College Locate Here?

By TOM RIORDAN

A new and exciting challenge — establishment of a two-year community college for Lenawee County — stares Tecumseh in the face.

A 54,000-word report on higher education, which took 18 months to compile, was handed Gov. George Romney by his Blue Ribbon Committee on Friday.

An extensive probe into all facets of schooling beyond the K-12 years, the report touched many aspects, one of these being establishment of a new community college network.

Dividing the state into 29 districts, the committee proposes 27 brand new two-year institutions. One would be in Lenawee County, to serve it and the eastern half of Hillsdale County.

If Tecumseh people wish to help take the lead now, it is entirely possible this new college could be established here.

The 48,000 students now attending community and junior colleges in Michigan represent one-quarter of all higher education scholars, the blue ribbon committee report pointed out.

Community colleges should have "open door" admission policies, contrasting with the selective system used by four-year schools, the committee said.

Technical-vocational progams should be provided in addition to regular college courses with the community institutions being responsible for upgrading technical skills and teaching new ones for both unemployed and job holders.

Tuition charges should be kept moderate, according to the report, and community college districts ought to be separate from existing public school districts.

★

WHAT ARE THE requisites set down by the governor's committee in creating a two-year community college. Basically, there would be:

► An enrollment of 500 or more.

► Population center location.

► Accessible to major highways.

► Be within not more than 35 miles of student residences.

The report said: "The number of educable people, those capable of taking some training beyond high school, is far greater than the number who take advantage of existing post-secondary and adult educational opportunities.

A community college, it said, "must not be looked upon as an extension of high school or as simply the first two years of college. It is an integral part of higher education, but with its own distinctive role of serving the needs of a very large number of youth and adults, a role that the four-year institutions cannot perform."

Community colleges should never be expanded into four-year institutions, the report said. If a four-year college is needed in the same location as an existing community college, the report suggested that the state buy the community college's land and buildings for the larger institution and give the proceeds to the locality to build a new community college.

PAT AND MIKE — When Wajon's Mike of Aberdeen, a two-year-old Shetland sheep dog, posed for a picture with his newest trophy and his mistress, Mrs. James Mull, he was more interested in Pat than the festivities. Mike's award was for "Best Sheltie in Novice A" obedience trial in Battle Creek March 6. In February, Mike took a third among nine entries in the Greater Detroit Shetland Sheep Dog contest. He's a graduate of two obedience courses at the Toledo Kennel Club and is developing into a real champion.

Long and Short

By TOM O'RIORDAN

Folks at Fisher Body have been amazed and impressed with the 12,500 applicants for work at their new Tecumseh plant.

They never dreamed so many people would queue up to seek positions.

One afternoon, Harvey Vogt, director of industrial relations and chief of the Chicago Blvd. information center, spied a woman waiting at the counter when he returned from lunch.

A gentleman doesn't usually ask a lady her age, but in this case Harvey couldn't resist and she was quick to supply the information.

"I'm 75," she responded.

Unfortunately, she had passed GM retirement age 10 years ago.

★

IN THE FIRST class of sewing machine trainees, Mr. Vogt and Bernard Bush, production manager, noted among the girls a common trait — enthusiasm. They seemed determined to learn the new skills and have been stitching like mad on their machines.

During the four-week training period, they're working with scraps from plants in Cleveland and Livonia.

Charlie Rebottaro, who used to be a meat cutter at A&P, is one of the first male "hires" and finding his old skills useful as he trims up large pieces of upholstery waste into strips for the girls to sew.

In the initial week, two trainees decided to drop out, but ready quickly to take their places were others from the long list of girls anxious to learn the trade of sewing door panels, arm rests and sun visors for GM cars.

★

INTEREST FROM the community-at-large in the Fisher operation has not been missed by Mr. Vogt and other General Motors brass.

"I think all of us who have come in here have been impressed with the all-around friendliness of the community," Mr. Vogt said recently.

"If you come here from a big city where nobody cares whether you live or die, this is something that really strikes you."

Folks around town are happy about this and also the number of applicants that Fisher got. It shows the ready Tecumseh/land labor market, points out Pat Meadows, the bank president.

When other industries ask about this point, that 12,500 figure will surely impress.

Incidentally, the bank is about to make its move on erecting a branch on Sutton Rd., figuring to have things humming as the tulips pop into bloom this spring.

On top of that, there is talk that another branch will go up in the A&P store area one of these days, the better to serve a growing community.

Watershed Plan Gets New Hope

There's new hope for the River Raisin Watershed Project.

State Senator Gilbert Bursley has stepped into the picture and come up with a recommendation that the Raisin group operate under Public Act. 253.

This was the same one which was a key in the Huron River effort. (See this week's "From Senator Gil Bursley's" column.)

Senator Bursley suggested a meeting of the Raisin Watershed Association to discuss this and it's set for Wednesday, April 7 at 8 p.m. in the Tecumseh Community Center.

"I have the assurance of Lansing officials that they will be on hand to give their full and constructive advice," the senator said.

"Key officials from Washtenaw County instrumental in preparing the Huron River application will also be present," he added.

★

"THE RIVER RAISIN watershed is just as interested as any other area in solving its many water management problems.

"For a long period under the able leadership of Tecumseh Mayor Harold Easton, Drain Commissioner Don Mitchell and others from Clinton, Manchester, Blissfield, Adrian, Dundee and the various townships and county governments involved a very considerable amount of work has been accomplished", the senator said.

"The River Raisin Watershed Association was following a course to qualify for financial help from the U. S. Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service under Public Law 566.

"The Federal Government has just said the River Raisin doesn't meet the necessary technical requirements to qualify for such a grant," he continued.

"I discussed this subject at length in Lansing last week with Lawrence Oeming and Norman Billings of the Water Resources Commission and it was their considered recommendation that the River Raisin utilize the same state legislation as has the Huron River and apply for establishment of a River Raisin Watershed Council under Public Act 253," the senator said.

"The hundreds of hours of study and work conducted by Mayor Easton and his associates, their great enthusiasm and dedication should be effectively channeled into reaching the goals we visualize," he concluded.

Kiwanians Lay Plans for Show

The Tecumseh Kiwanis Club will present its second annual Tecumseh Worlds Fair April 30 through May 2 in the Tecumseh Community House.

Local merchants and manufacturers will display products and services at this combination home, builder's, garden and auto show.

Proceeds will be used to underwrite the various community and charitable activities of the club.

Last year's show drew over 7,000 visitors and netted $1500.

Kiwanians are hopeful at least 7,000 persons will visit the fair this year, Club President Harlan Dicks said.

Science Projects on Display

Competition will be keen in the grade section of the Science Fair March 27 and 28 at the Tecumseh High School. Pupils will enter approximately 200 projects.

The two day event will feature a wide range of projects from pupils from kindergarten through high school in both parochial and public schools.

Most elementary pupils have projects about birds; junior high school students have "insects, plants, soil and man" among their displays.

A dissection of a frog is one of the biology projects and one chemistry project is a cloud chamber.

Publicity Chairman Sue Kennel said she thought the judges may have a difficult time in making their selections.

Doors of the gym will be open from 1:30 to 8 p.m. Saturday and from 1 to 6 p.m. Sunday.

School officials would like to have entrants remove their projects Sunday between the times of 6 and 8 p.m.

Products Hits $230 Million Sales Mark

For Tecumseh Products Co., 1964 was an all-time record year with $230,278,705 in sales — topping '63 by nearly $33 million.

Net earnings reached $11,551,767 or $6.42 per share of stock. Dividends paid were $3 per share.

In the company's annual report, shareholders were told that "refrigeration sales generally paced the national economy with an overall rise in volume, but sales in air conditioning compressors were appreciably ahead of the general rise."

The Lauson Division in New Holstein, Wis., and Power Products Division in Grafton, Wis., "made an excellent showing in 1964 by substantially increasing their volume." With the introduction of eight and 10-horse power heavy duty gasoline engines the divisions offer "a complete line of engines from two through 10-HP which is the range of the small engine market."

At Peerless Gear Division, recently moved to Clinton, "the transaxle line has been expanded from the original three-speed unit to include a heavy-duty three-speed and a larger four-speed line."

★

"EXPORT SALES of Tecumseh USA manufactured products increased substantially," the report noted.

Sales of Products units during '64 climbed above the 7,000,000 mark, besting the previous 12-month period by more than one million, and more than double 1954.

Publishers Will Exhibit 800 Books at Local Library

Some 800 new books, exhibited by 55 leading publishers, will be placed on display next week at the Tecumseh Public Library. The "Books on Exhibit" show is sponsored by the public and school libraries.

Hours will be from noon until 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

The books will be organized by grade level and subject area and librarians point out "parents, teachers, children and anyone interested in books will want to visit and browse through this rich harvest of the best in fiction and non-fiction."

While the books are not for sale orders may be placed.

Assessments Up and Down

By JIM LINCOLN

Tecumseh and three neighboring townships have reported increases in assessed evaluations, while two townships report drops.

Tecumseh has a gain of about $800,000, of which $300,000 is real estate and $500,000 personal property. Most of the gain was charged against construction at the Tecumseh Products Co., H. W. Tuttle Co., Emerson Electric and 21 houses.

Many downtown businesses also report their taxes were hiked.

The city's 1965 assessment is approximately $20,500,000.

★

JIM MITCHELL, Raisin Township supervisor, has upped his township's assessment by approximately $613,000. Tecumseh's Fisher Body Plant was assessed Jan. 1 at $500,000, and the Stauffer plant on Sutton Rd. at $78,000.

Mr. Mitchell says there were five or six new houses built in Raisin last year.

Raisin's total assessment for 1965 is $3,363,800.

Art Eaton, Tecumseh Township supervisor, reports a gain of $92,900, mostly on new house construction. His 1965 total is $2,220,550.

Ray Jackson, Franklin Township supervisor at Tipton, has an assessment decrease of $7,340, lowering the 1965 total to $2,502,670.

He reports three houses were completed and permits were issued for three more. The decrease, Mr. Jackson said, is on industrial and commercial, which can figure depreciation under a new law for a longer period of time.

★

MILLS SWICK of Macon Township reports a $16,200 loss, despite $60,000 transformer station built by Detroit Edison Co. Again the new depreciation rate affected the total assessment with several pipeline companies benefiting.

A $33,800 increase for Ridgeway Township has been reported by Gus Tiede, supervisor. Losses on farm personal taxes, because of decreased valuation of tools and fewer farm implement purchases, were offset by a $43,000 Consumer Power gas line.

In his 1965 total assessment of $2,776,100 are six new homes.

An editorial next week will discuss income for city and schools as a result of assessment changes.

'Choice, Not Echo' Author To Speak

Phyllis Schlafly, author of "A Choice Not An Echo", will speak in the Adrian Eagles Hall at 8 p.m., Thursday, April 8.

She is coming to the area under the sponsorship of the Citizens For Good Government Club of Lenawee County and the Republican Women's Club.

For the past two years, Mrs. Schlafly has conducted her own weekly radio program called "America Wake Up," a commentary on national and international affairs, now heard on 25 stations.

She graduated Phi Beta Kappa from Washington University in St. Louis.

Mrs. Schlafly holds a master's degree in government from Radcliffe College in Cambridge, Mass.

She also wrote "The Gravediggers."

First vice president of the National Federation of Republican Women, Mrs. Schlafly headed the Illinois Federation of Republican Women at the National Convention in San Francisco last summer.

She was elected president of the group three times, 1960 through '64.

Mother of six children, Mrs. Schlafly was the only woman invited by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in 1963 to testify regarding the Moscow Nuclear Test Ban Treaty.

★

THE SAME YEAR she was named 1963 Woman of Achievement in Public Affairs by the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, which said, "Phyllis Schlafly stands for everything that has made America great and for those things which will keep it that way."

Mrs. Schlafly and her husband, John Fred Schlafly, and their six youngsters live in Alton, Ill.

Tickets are available from Mrs. Robert Murray, Mrs. Harold Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Earling and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Grigg.

TIPTON — The Past Chiefs' meeting, cancelled Wednesday because of the weather, will be held March 31 at the home of Mrs. Roy Benedict.

Civil Air Patrol Being Established

A meeting of persons interested in forming a Civil Air Patrol Squadron here will meet at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the Tecumseh Community Center.

Raymond Betzoldt, a test pilot for Meyers Aircraft Co., who announced the meeting, said the squadron will be open to boys and girls over 13 and to men and women.

THE CAP is an auxiliary to the U.S. Air Force but length of membership is voluntary and members may drop out at any time, he said.

Junior and Senior groups may be formed here and will include persons interested in learning about aircraft, meteorology, navigation, the Morse Code, search and rescue.

Capt. Wells of Belleville, who spoke at an information meeting here last week, will be the organizer of the new groups.

Mr. Betzoldt said there is a possibility at T-34 trainer plane may be made available to the Tecumseh squadron.

Executives Taller

An example of the use of the information being gained in the Tecumseh Community Health Study was evident this week.

This unique research effort is directed toward finding clues to the causes of certain major health problems, especially diseases of the heart.

To do this, many factors are being measured including height, weight and physical activity, as well as results of laboratory tests.

Findings from a special study based upon the examination of a group of business executives from industries in Michigan and elsewhere were reported at a meeting last week of the American College of Sports Medicine in Dallas, Texas.

Comparisons were made between this special group of executives and the average figures for the general population of Tecumseh.

The special group of executives were 1½ inches taller on the average and heavier in relation to height than the general population in Tecumseh.

These executives were also less active physically and had higher levels of cholesteral and uric acid in the blood.

These are only a few of the many factors possibly related to the development of illness which are currently being studied in Tecumseh by University of Michigan scientists.

Use of Tecumseh information for comparison with other scientific findings will continue to serve an important need. More significantly, the studies in Tecumseh will provide information which may shed a great deal of light on the causes, earlier detection and ultimate prevention of major chronic disease.

To Speak at St. Peter's

A specialist in human relations in the inner city and prison work, the Rev. Frederick B. Jansen will preach at St. Peter's Church at 10 a.m. Parish Family Communion service Sunday.

An Episcopal priest, Fr. Jansen is in charge of Christian Social Relations work of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan.

He has done mission work in Boston, Newark and New York and is a past president of the Episcopal League for Social Action.

For six years, Fr. Jansen was chaplain at Wallkill (N.Y.) State Prison.

In 1961, he came to the Diocese of Michigan as the Bishop's Special Chaplain for the Urban Ministry.

"The One Who Heals," a film produced by the American Medical Association, will be shown following the 10 a.m. service.

The film features a series of vignettes that illustrate the kind of situations in which the physician and the clergy are both involved in the care of patients.

Each story indicates that faith is a factor in the treatment of the patient or in dealing with the patient's family.

Dr. Richard Hammel, a member of St. Peter's Church and former Senior Warden, will introduce the film.

The film is designed to acquaint the congregation with the work of the visiting preacher for Sunday, April 4, the Rev. Donald Young, Episcopal Chaplain to the Medical Community in Ann Arbor.

What Will Face Average Home in Bond Issue?

What will the average home owner pay if the $560,000 general obligation bond issue for expansion of the waste water plant is approved by the voters on April 5?

He'll pay less if the issue is passed, and more if the electorate turns it down, according to city officials.

Providing the bond issue is approved and the city secures a Federal grant of $130,000 — for which it will be eligible — the property owner will pay 9/10ths of a mill.

★

WITH THE average city dwelling assessed at $6,000, this would mean about $5.40 a year, or 10c a week. A home owner with $10,000 assessed valuation would pay $9 a year.

If the voters turn the bond issue down, the owner with a $6000 assesment could pay $8.40 a year, and the tax payer with a $10,000 assessment would pay $14.

These figures are based on current evaluations. If Tecumseh continued to grow, residentially or industrially, or both, each property owner's share would decrease.

It's possible that by 1970 property owners would be paying less than a half-mill if the issue is approved.

★

However, residents would have to pay 29c per 1,000 gallons of water instead of the present 12c. Officials felt this two and a half times jump would have been exorbitant.

Also, where the millage tax is deductible for income tax purposes, personal charges on the increase for revenue bonds would not be.

★

CAL ZORN, city manager, says the city could have sold revenue bonds and paid for the expansion of the waste water plant through the quarterly water and sewage statements.

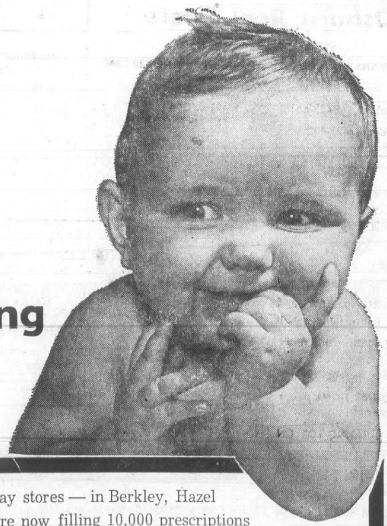
No wonder the Ken-Ray drug chain is one of the fastest growing in Michigan



It's no secret that the four Ken-Ray stores — in Berkley, Hazel Park, Monroe and Tecumseh — are now filling 10,000 prescriptions every month. And they're saving their customers thousands of dollars. Why don't you try Ken-Ray, where the pharmacists can refill any refillable prescription. He'll simply phone your doctor upon your request and have the prescription reissued.

Scouts Promote Varied Program

TIPTON — Junior Girl Scouts and Brownies have had an interesting winter. February 16 the juniors, working on their troop dramatic badges, put on plays for their leaders and mothers. In spite of the fact that an ice storm had cancelled plans for practice the girls did very well.

Troops 156 and 358 joined other scouts for the annual Thinking Day Program Feb. 23 in the Tecumseh Baptist Church.

The Brownies made "Silly Santas" for themselves and soap fish for their mothers during the December meeting. In January they learned the Brownie promise and the Smile Song.

Investiture services were in February with new members receiving their Brownie pins and one-year girls, their stars.

The mothers were guests and after the service the members made Valentine heart pins and Valentines.

They received their friendship pins and attended the Thinking Day program.

Astronauts spinning around, chaos within the high places of the world but the huge ball of fire coming up over the horizon Wednesday morning left no doubt in the viewers mind that "God was in His heaven —"

Never has this columnist seen Ol' Sol such a big, beautiful, brilliant, pink, glowing sphere as it hung low in the sky shortly after 6:30 a.m.

Were there others who saw it and will be watching succeeding mornings? Regardless of the 10 degree temperatures, spring just has to arrive with such phenomenon.

Student Five Smothered by Faculty

BRITTON — The students and the faculty of Britton High School played their annual basketball game March 17, in the gym. The game was open to grades K-12 and was held during the last afternoon period.

Although the faculty was handicapped by the loss of Superintendent, William Saxton, they beat the student team by a score of 32-19. High point man for the faculty was principal William Hetrick, with 13 points. Tom Yarkow paced the students with 8 markers.

The three frantic cheerleaders for the faculty were Mrs. Gerald Henricks, Mrs. William Preston and Mrs. Norman Jacobs. The students were cheered on by the group made up of Bill Prochaska, Larry Richards, Randy Frazier, Mike Jordan, Randy Fergus and Tom Smetka.

The students were enched by Jim Miller while Vern Neidlinger urged the "Fighting Faculty" onto another victory. The game was refereed by Sam Hamilton and Walt Korican.

Missionary Speaks

BRITTON — Dr. Glen Eschtruth, missionary to the Congo, will speak at the Ridgeway Methodist Church Friday, April 2, following a 6:30 p.m. potluck supper. This event is sponsored by the Ridgeway Commission of Missions in connection with the study of Africa.

Dr. and Mrs. Eschtruth heads Piper Memorial Hospital in Kapanga, South Congo, Africa. He is the only medical doctor in an area the size of Michigan and Indiana combined. His hospital complex contains 225 beds, nine rural clinics, one lepersrum, two tuberculosis sanitoriums and one mobile medical clinic. The doctor has enlarged and re-built these facilities.

The hospital serves 11,000 outpatients and 600 in-patients a year. Some 600 infants are born there annually. Patients walk as many as a hundred miles to obtain services.

Another project of Dr. Eschtruth was building radio equipment for communication purposes. He has installed radio equipment in all of the mission stations in the South Congo. He maintains the hospital and keeps the few cars, trucks, diesels and motors in operating condition.

Dr. Eschtruth and his family will return to the Congo mission station. A free-will offering will be taken at the service to go into the equipment fund.

The public is invited to attend.

Chevelle Malibu Sport Coupe

No matter how you look at it, this car makes a lot of sense.

If you're interested in value (and who isn't), the eleven features above give you a good idea why more intermediate-size car buyers are thinking Chevelle.

If you're looking for a wide power choice, Chevelle starts out with a standard 120-hp Six, an ideal city performer. After that you may order from a variety of engines that turn it into an even greater highway performer.

Room? Large door openings. Wide curved side windows for extra shoulder room. Great front and rear leg room. Those four, five or six passengers have it made. And so do you. Chevelle may seat like a big car but it handles like a smaller car.

Comfort? Thick wall-to-wall carpeting in Malibu models. Foam-cushioned seats. Easy-to-read instrument panel. The whole interior looks like those in cars costing far more.

Come on down to our showroom and take a drive soon. Chevelle begins to make even more sense after you've gone a couple of miles.

Hospital Auxiliary Members Brighten Lives of Patients

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Volunteers who contributed more than 3,000 hours to the Herrick Memorial Hospital and nursing home during the past year were given special recognition at a recent meeting of the Hospital Auxiliary.

Mrs. Robert Laidlaw presented a program honoring all volunteers including the Candy Stripers and their mothers who were guests.

Barbara Wood, a Candy Striper, told of her experiences while working in the hospital. She said one of the youngsters in pediatrics tried to follow her home at the end of her duty hours.

Mrs. Laidlaw, who led the volunteers in singing "Give Yourself a Pat on the Back", gave a resume of the duties of each volunteer group and mentioned the name of the present chairman.

★

MRS. KENNETH Killman presented devotions and also provided amusing little comedy interruptions during Mrs. Laidlaw's report.

At the conclusion of the program, the latter pointed out the willingness of the volunteers by selecting nine from her audience to assist her with a skit. Much to the amusement of all they held cardboard letters to spell VOLUNTEER — backwards.

Mrs. Forest Abner and committee served refreshments from a table centered with an arrangement of fresh flowers from the Tecumseh Greenhouses. It was won as a door prize by Diane Spycher.

★

MRS. NEVILLE Hart, president of the auxiliary, has given The Tecumseh Herald an interesting report of the entire volunteer program.

During her year as president she reorganized many phases of the auxiliary program. For the first time a membership book with names, addresses and phone numbers and a membership card were made available.

Mrs. Hugh Walter praised Mrs. Hart saying, "She was instrumental in getting some help for me with the TV's which I badly needed."

In looking forward to spring landscaping, several members have mentioned that the Landscaping Fund at the United Savings Bank is "alive" and contributions may be made there to Mrs. Harry Duncan.

★

THE AUXILIARY has some 400 members. Its goal is to aid the Herrick Memorial Hospital in any manner advised by the board including hospital volunteer services and fund raising projects.

The present board of directors has stressed volunteer sevices in the hospital and nursing home. Each member has completed a questionaire designating the type of service in which she is most interested with the result that the number of volunteers was greatly increased.

During the week the volunteers staff the front desk giving out cards to visitors. Members of the Future Nurses Club handle it on the week-ends.

Mrs. Albert Bagshaw and Mrs. Ted Rundell schedule the volunteers for this service.

A cart containing candy, gum, cigarettes and miscellaneous items for sale is pushed through the hospital once a day by a volunteer. Patients look forward to the "cart" coming to their door bringing a new person to greet them in the sometimes lonely or uneventful day.

Mrs. Harold Kelso and Mrs. John Surratt are in charge of scheduling.

★

"PINKIE" the puppet is made by volunteers and given to all children admitted. Puppets with rabbit faces are being made for the Easter season. Volunteers in the past year have spent about 500 hours in making of puppets.

Mrs. Joseph Rohweder, assisted by Mrs. Victor Lawson and Mrs. Ralph Dabe, is in charge of cutting the puppets and arranging for volunteers to sew them.

For the fourth year the auxiliary is renting televisions to the patients, a service appreciated by them and the administration.

Mrs. Walters has been in charge of this project from the beginning. Rental of 14 portable sets on a daily basis requires that a volunteer be in the hospital every day.

Mrs. Norma Moll, director of nursing, remarked, "Television is wonderful therapy for our patients. Without it we would have to have many more nurses and aides."

Twenty-two high school Juniors and Seniors, known as Candy Stripers have been trained by hospital personnel. They assist nurses and aides in the hospital and nursing home. A class of sophomore girls was started this month to replace seniors when they graduate.

Candy Stripers have contributed some 750 hours since they were organized in November. Mrs. James Robideau is chairman of this project.

A new service has been added recently. A magazine cart, built by Robert Williamson, a Tecumseh High School senior, will be pushed through the hospital and nursing home daily by a Candy Striper. The magazines and paper back books will be loaned to the patients. Mrs. Richard Meyers is in charge of it.

MRS. WILLIAM Macbeth and Mrs. Orrie Gilbert are co-chairmen of the committee that plans entertainment for the patients of the nursing home. A weekly program of varied entertainment is staged in the home.

Music, dancing, demonstrations and travel films are some of the ideas used in preparing programs.

Two teas for the patients and their families have been enjoyed during the winter. Patients were treated to a picnic at Wamplers Lake last September, a color tour to Hidden Lake Gardens in October, and a Christmas party.

The patients were taken on a tour to see the outdoor Christmas decorations before the party with gifts for all at the home.

Approximately 125 hours in volunteer service has been spent with patients at the home.

The third Monday of each month Mrs. Moll conducts a class to acquaint volunteers with the hospital and its service.

"The auxiliary members appreciate the cooperation given them by the hospital administration," Mrs. Hart said. The hospital plays an important role in the community and it is the aim of the auxiliary members to serve the hospital and the community."

Mrs. Hart urges people planning to visit patients to read the poem entitled "The Perfect Visitor" printed in The Herald this week. Visiting hours are 1 to 4:30 p.m. and 6:30 to 8 p.m.

February 1966 will mark the 25th anniversary of the founding of the Auxiliary. Mrs. Dale Bowen has been appointed chairman of a committee of past presidents to commemorate the occasion.

BOB DONATES — Robert Williamson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Williamson, 515 W. Logan St., designed and made this magazine cart for use in the hospital and nursing home. Robert made the cart in the industrial arts class at the Tecumseh High School. Mrs. Richard Meyers is one of the volunteers who push the cart from room to room each day so that patients may borrow their choice of paper-backed books or magazines.

HERALD PHOTOS BY TOM RIORDAN

VISITOR'S CHECK — Mrs. Neville Hart, president of the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, spends many hours for the organization and as a volunteer at the hospital. Here she gives cards to visitors of patients, urging that they make their stay brief.

TV FOR THE ILL — Mrs. Hugh Walter has had charge of the portable television sets that patients may rent by the day since the program was started four years ago by the Auxiliary.

STORE FOR PATIENTS — Mrs. Norman Bailey pushes the cart from which patients may purchase sweets, smokes, stationery, pencils, etc. Volunteers make the rounds of the hospital corridors daily. Patients appreciate their cheerful visits.

Methodists Plan Drive

By KAYE STEELE

The Tecumseh Methodist Church, the first organized church society in the community, has begun another important phase of its own growth and service. The congregation has laid plans for an April Partners for Christ Crusade designed to obtain pledges for the purchasing of land and the building of a new church unit.

The church has a heritage dating from October of 1826, when the Rev. John Baughman of the Monroe Circuit conducted services in Tecumseh every three weeks.

By January, 1828, under the leadership of the Rev. George Walker, the Methodist Church was organized with 11 charter members. They included Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Wheeler, Margarette Cross, Bettsey Silliman, Mary Bangs, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Adams, and one other, strangely forgotten later.

★

IN THE FALL of 1828 the Rev. Joseph Bangs, a local preacher who never became a fully - ordained Conference preacher and who continued his work as a blacksmith on the side, strengthened Tecumseh Methodism and quickly earned universal esteem in the community. With Elder Zarah Coston presiding, the First Quarterly Meeting was held at the home of Isaac Bangs in the summer of 1829. A communion service and testimonial were featured.

About this time the Rev. Walker was closing his two years of preaching on the Monroe Circuit which then extended to the Auglaize River in Ohio, Fort Defiance, Maumee, St. Lawrence, and Vistula (now Toledo), Erie, Monroe, Tecumseh, and Blissfield. He was succeeded by the Rev. Jacob Hill, who remained one year and was followed by the Rev. James W. Finley in September, 1830.

At the close of his pastorate in 1831, the Tecumseh Circuit was established and included some of the old Monroe Circuit and a portion of the newer Ann Arbor Circuit, extending over 400-miles north and west of Tecumseh, with 27 regular preaching services every four weeks.

The Rev. Elijah H. Pilcher and the Rev. Ezekiel S. Gavit were the first two circuit preachers to be assigned to this wilderness circuit, which took in Ann Arbor, Jackson, Coldwater, Marshall and Adrian.

★

TECUMSEH had preaching every two weeks. During the 20 years that Tecumseh was head of the Circuit 34 preachers served and in 1840 it had 600 members, the largest in Michigan for that year.

In 1851 Tecumseh was made a station appointment with one minister who lived in town. Meanwhile, in 1842-43 a small church had been erected on the southwest corner of Shawnee and Pearl Street, but it became overcrowded by the end of 1850.

In 1860, the church purchased a large lot for a new church and in the spring of 1862 ground was broken for the erection of the present building which was completed in 1865. On August 11, 1864, dedication services were held. The parsonage was built in 1890 immediately west of the church, and in 1905 the Barnes Memorial addition was built at the back of the original church to house the modern kitchen.

★

THIS SECTION was a memorial to Dr. and Mrs. Leman Barnes. Dr. Barnes had been a Methodist minister and for 16 years a medical doctor in Tecumseh and an active leader in the Tecumseh church.

Now this 100-year-old building, which on at least three occasions has narrowly escaped being destroyed by fire, has become overcrowded and lacking in the physical needs for proper growth. So the members of the present congregation, pastored by the Rev. Donald C. Porteous, have accepted the same challenge faced by the forefathers of 1860 and will provide for further expansion.

The "Partners For Christ Crusade" extends this opportunity. The challenge will be presented "We Believe . . . Therefore, We Build."

The preceding historical facts were taken from the Church history compiled by the Rev. Ronald Brunger for the 125th anniversary in January, 1953.

DOLLAR and SENSE FARMING.

SHIFTING TO NARROW ROWS can boost yields 5% in corn and 10% to 15% in soybeans. But your soil and fertilizer program should support 20,000 plants per acre on corn. You also need to be producing 120 bushels of corn per acre to justify the shift. If equipment needs replacing now is a good time to consider 30-inch rows. Or, if planter and cultivator are fairly new, many models can be adjusted for narrow rows. In such cases, just a narrow row corn head is needed.

FEEDING FINELY GROUND CORN can reduce the cost of producing 105 pounds of pork by $1 compared with coarse ground corn, as revealed in Purdue tests. Cost was reduced 90c over medium ground corn. For fine grind use a 1/16-inch hammermill screen; medium, 1/2 inch; and coarse, 1 inch screen. Savings result from a higher rate of feed conversion with finely ground corn.

LARGE COWS PRODUCE MORE MILK, according to South Dakota studies. During a 305-day lactation period, cows weighing 800 to 1,000 pounds produced 6.2 times their body weight. For cows weighing 1,000 to 1,300 pounds it amounted to 8.5 times their body weights; and for cows weighing 1,300 to 1,600 pounds production totaled 8.6 times their body weighs. It's still wise to select for size.

TO CLEAN MACHINERY use nonflammable liquid cleaners available from most major oil companies. Flammable fluids such as gasoline or toxic ones such as carbon-tet are dangerous. Carbon-tet fumes in an enclosed building like a machine shed can be fatal.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

We don't consider it eavesdropping to "hear" our children's prayers. Nor is it too much trouble! In fact, it is part of our responsibility to God.

For Mollie and Ted are His children, too. Parents are partners with—not substitutes for—our Heavenly Father.

It is this sense of partnership that has brought faith and the Church into the life of our family. We are not foolishly depending on our mere adulthood to inspire character in them. We do not command that they do what we say, not what we do. And we never sit at home while they are in Church, as though the truth they have gone to seek weren't worth a grownup's effort!

We figure God wants us at the listening post, to monitor their spiritual searchings, to share with them the blessings He has given us all.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

THE ONE THAT COULDN'T BE OVERLOOKED

The Great Blizzard of February 25th went completely unmentioned in this series. Not that there wasn't a wealth of material to draw upon — I, along with a great many others, had never seen such a storm.

But the huge drifts of white stuff caused so many people so much trouble and the winter in general had been so discouraging that I simply did not have the heart to dwell on the storm as it developed here along Evans Creek. However, when Mother Nature kicked up her heels a week ago Wednesday and lambasted us with another storm — well, let's talk about blizards.

★

ACTUALLY the day started innocently enough, the weather forecasts predicted sleet, things but morning dawned dull and gray, just as so many, many others have. Unfortunately, I forgot to check the barometer. Soon nobody needed either a weather forecast or a barometer — the storm was here!

First came the wind. It was strong and loud; quickly it whipped the trees into a wild, frantic storm-dance. By 9 o'clock the snow was falling and in an incredulously short time, the ground was white, white, white. What a St. Patrick's Day — not a splash of green anywhere. What a surprise people must have had whose work kept them away from windows and for those who blithely left home in the morning sans boots and other snow storm apparel.

Also what a shock it must have been to our poor little crocuses. Clumps of them had popped up beneath our south window and only the day before, a foolish purple one and several yellows had opened up. I wonder how they like getting snow in their faces?

★

BEFORE THE snowfall reached blizzard proportions, Ida bundled up and took breakfast out to the birds and squirrels. Fortunately, some of them had time for a quick bite but, of course, when the storm raged at its height, most of our visitors were tucked safely into bushes and trees — I hope. One very hungry squirrel stayed longer than anyone else, the sunflower seeds must have been very tasty, and although he finally had to give up, it was not until the hard-falling snow had plastered his tail and back, turning him into, not a snow man, but a cute snow squirrel.

About mid-day there was a let-up which allowed for some lunching at the bird feeder. Squirrels, scratching to get at what they wanted to eat, uncovered much of the other food and upon this mourning doves, blue jays, cardinals, juncoes, titmice, nuthatches and millions of sparrows feasted. Not together, of course, and not when the squirrel was around. All and all though, everybody had a chance to snatch a few bills full — it was a busy, busy time.

★

SUDDENLY THE gray sky became even grayer, and that we didn't think possible but it happened. A nasty combination of rain, sleet and snow pelted against the windows and oh, boy, what an afternoon! The wind still roared and who could keep track of the changes in the nature of the "stuff" which fell?

The creek was fascinating; bits of ice and large globs of slush floated by the window in a day-long parade. All this happening and, encouraged by those foolish crocuses, we were all ready for spring.

But we were not the only one who had our warm weather thoughts jolted. Looking very silly, very uncomfortable and very much out of place battling their way through the blizzard were a dozen or so purple grackles. The few robins who had also made an untimely return from their summer vacation, looked mighty silly, too.

So it is that although the 'worst storm ever' we ignored, the second blast of the season was one we could not overlook.

Four Attend PTA Sponsored Clinic

By MRS. CHARLES STAPLES

Four area mothers were among the 920 participants at the 11th Annual PTA Problem's Clinic held last week at Michigan State University's Kellogg Center.

Representing Tecumseh Acres PTA were Mrs. John Robinson, Mrs. Avery Lee, Mrs. Clyde Grady, and Mrs. Charles Staples.

Speakers at the clinic were Dr. Clyde Campbell, College of Education, MSU, and Mrs. Jennelle Moorhead, president of The National Congress of PTA.

Dr. Campbell stated that, "America is what it is today because of mass education, the learning processes, like a circle, should encompass everyone."

The opening statement of Mrs. Moorhead's address was, "PTA leaders could change anything in the state on behalf of children."

She also said that parent education was the number one critical issue for the PTA, that new parents need adequate information to solve the problems of raising a family, and "the challenges were never higher or harder".

Seventeen problem clinics conducted throughout the day gave each person the opportunity to attend two. This writer chose "New Hope for Audiences" and "Mass Media and the PTA." The chairman, Charles Ruffing, stated that every day we should be instructing our children to evaluate what they see, hear and read. If they are trained early in life to form an honorable set of values, as they mature their own censorship of TV, movies and publications will be more acceptable.

Mrs. Fay Green, Ann Arbor Patient

Mrs. Fay Greene is a patient at the University Medical Center, Ann Arbor, awaiting heart surgery. She expects to be there until Easter. Her address is Floor Six, East Wing.

THANK YOU

A large number of Lenawee County citizens gave their time and talents in making the recent Oral Polio Clinic an outstanding success.

It was one of the most inclusive public health programs ever conducted in this area. The services which these groups performed shows the interest of Lenawee residents in supporting the high level of immunity against disease which modern medicine affords.

The Lenawee County Oral Polio Committee acknowledges the direction of the Lenawee County Medical Society. Without its help and that of the following groups and individuals, the program could not have succeeded.

What's Going on at BOYSVILLE

By MARTIN WHITAKER

Those students of Boysville who can trace their ancestry back to the chosen Isle of Erin were honored on St. Patrick's Day by a party. The freshmen, under the direction of their moderator, Brother James Reisz, CSC, sponsored this annual affair in the dining hall.

A bingo game afforded the first part of the night's entertainment. Prizes from the Campus P. X. were awarded the winners. Following the festivities in the dining hall, a movie entitled "A Tiger Walks" was shown in the gym.

Friday was the feast of St. Joseph, who, besides being patron of many other things, is patron of the Brothers of Holy Cross, who staff Boysville. Consequently a holiday air reigned on the Boysville campus that day.

Festivities started out to the tune of a gourmet's delight on Thursday evening at six in the dining hall. Arthur Gaul, head chef, prepared a buffet-style dinner Thursday to begin the festivities.

Among the honored guests were the Rev. Fr. Edwin Kalinowski, pastor of St. Dominic's Parish in Clinton; the Rev. Fr. Casimir Lutomski, pastor of St. Joseph Shrine in the Irish Hills, Vincent O'Meara, executive secretary for the Knights of Columbus in Michign; William Crotty, state warden for the Michigan Knights of Columbus, and Harold Lenheiser, an official of the AMT Corporation, who judged a model car contest held on campus Thursday.

Friday saw class periods five and eight dropped to make way for a special High Mass and later on for a movie in the gym. After the Mass, the junior and senior class rings were blessed and distributed. The rings, designed by Brother Jeffrey Michels, CSC, principal of Boysville High School, are 10-carat gold bands with a Knight on one side and a golden cross and anchors on the other, with the words "Persevere in the faith," inscribed. Students ordering rings had their choice of red, blue, or green stones. In the afternoon the movie, "Best of Enemies," was shown.

After two weeks the Mission Club has netted over 80 dollars in its drive to raise $200 to be used for a library contribution to the Holy Cross Brothers' mission in Dacca, East Pakistan.

The drive for the first week was won by Brother Donald's dorm in Holy Cross Hall. The dorm prefected by Brother Francis won the second week's drive by posting the best per capita average.

Students from Boysville have attended the Youth Night at the Adrian Council of the Knights of Columbus hall for the past two Sundays. Last Sunday, "The Kobras," an instrumental group of Boysville students, made their debut at the gathering. Armando Lopez directs and is assisted by Bill Herald, Armand Boisvenue, and Dave Roberts.

The model car contest originating from a donation of 200 models came to an end on March 18. Three semi-finalists from each dorm were entered in the finals. Judging was done by Harold Lenheiser. First, second, and third places were won by Rick Lapish, Greg Gard, and Armand Boisvenue.

2 Join Mothers of Twins Group

Mr. James Hite and Mrs. Charles McLaughlin were welcomed to the Mothers of Twins Club March 16 at the home of Mrs. George Wielfaert in Britton.

A birthday gift exchange was held among the seven members and guests present following the business session.

Roll call was answered with "How We Fed Our Twins."

Mrs. Kenneth Koons of Clinton will host the April meeting when a physician will be the speaker.

Club members extend an invitation to any mother of twins who desires to join the club to call Mrs. Paul Rudd or Mrs. Richard Upell for information.

A decorated cake made by Mrs. Rudd was served with sherbet and coffee.

Art Club Plans Senior Festivity

Arrangements were made to order pins for eligible members of the Tecumseh High School Art Club at the March meeting in the Art room of the school.

About 17 attended when Diane McNichol conducted the session in the absence of President Ruth Niedermier and Vice-president Tim Rinehart.

Karen Creger reported some $88 in the treasury.

The club members will handle the advertising for the Sponge Week activities the week of April 5.

They will also present a 15-minute skit during one noon hour.

Plans are in progress for a party in May as an appreciation and farewell to the seniors.

Another meeting will be held April 1 in the art room.

'Hawaiian Culture' Theme for Little Garden Club Meet

The Hawaiian Culture, presented by John J. Kukini Prible of the Kukini Flower Shop in Clinton, was the topic when guests and members of the Little Garden Club met March 16, at the home of Mrs. Robert Murray.

Mr. Prible told of life and culture in Hawaii, where he had spent much of his life. He explained about his early training in the Hawaiian village school, where he first began studying the Hula, along with several other native crafts.

Mr. Prible demonstrated the Hula, explaining the meanings of the many movements and showed some of his collection of Hula percussion instruments and a variety of leis.

Following this, Mrs. Murray showed colored slides of Hawaii, taken when she lived here.

During the business portion of the meeting, it was announced that on April 3, club members would tour the greenhouses of Margaret Ilgenfritz Orchids in Monroe.

HERALD PHOTO BY DELAPHENE SHELTON

SHE LOVES LIFE — Mrs. Emma Hause, 90 years old this weekend, lives alone and finds pleasure in caring for her parakeet, gold fish and plants. Her understanding smile continues to win friends among the old and young of Clinton.

Mrs. Emma Hause Has 90th Birthday

By MAXINE HAUSE

CLINTON — Mrs. Emma Hause will celebrate her 90th birthday anniversary Friday.

In her honor the Philathea Class of the United Church of Christ will have an open house and birthday tea from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. in the church. Invited especially will be members of her Service Class, friends and neighbors.

Friday night she will go to the home of a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Hause of Dearborn, for a birthday party with all the members of her family.

Mrs. Hause lives alone in her home at 119 Locust St., where she has lived for more than 65 years. A touch of arthritis in her hands is the only infirmity which she acknowledges.

Born in 1875 on a farm one-half mile west of Britton, she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Hause. Her mother died a week after her birth.

★

WHILE A STUDENT at Britton High School she met Howard Hause, of Clinton. Her brother, Irving of Clinton took him to a 'pink tea social' in Britton. The grandfathers of the two young people were cousins.

She came to Clinton to work for a year at the Clinton Woolen Mill before her marriage.

She remembers that first job in the mill when she used a sharp 'burling iron' to pick the flaws out of the wide pieces of woolen cloth as it came from the looms, she was paid the handsome sum of 75c a day!

When the newlyweds moved to Clinton they lived briefly in the present Weaver house across the corner until they built the house where she lives now.

★

SHE RECALLS with pleasure the early married years when her home was a gathering place for the young unmarried teachers in town. This group of young people enjoyed a busy social life which included many church parties and frequent boating trips north of Clinton on the beautiful Raisin River to a picnic spot near the present Frank Allen farm.

The couple had two sons, Roland, who lives at Marietta, Ohio, and Neil of Dearborn, and a daughter, Mrs. Richard Holland of Flint, who is in the process of moving to Lapeer.

There are seven grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Hause's husband, Howard died in 1946. He was employed for fifty years as a bookkeeper at the Clinton Woolen Mill.

Mrs. Hause finds pleasure now in her parakeet, a well-stocked aquarium and several windows-full of plants, as well as the frequent visits of friends and neighbors.

Twice in the last five years she has accompanied some of her family on trips to Florida—one of these a camping trip which she thought was great fun!

Chest Board Picks Officers

CLINTON — Arthur Schuler and Gary Miller were named on the Clinton Community Chest Board at the general election meeting, March 16.

They replaced Thomas Young and Bruno Papsdorf who retired from the board after several years of service.

The board organized with the following officers:

President — Leslie Pierce
Vice-President — Lois Lancaster
Secretary — Mrs. John Mabry
Treasurer — Arthur Schuler

Boy Drowns, Pal Rescued

CLINTON — Douglas Barker, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Barker of Hawkins Road, Manitou Beach, drowned Saturday afternoon when he fell through an ice-covered farm pond.

A companion, Michael Barker, 11, a cousin, who lives at 4500 Carson Hwy., also fell into the pond located across the road from his home.

A dramatic rescue by Clinton State Police troopers, Robert Barton and Allen Houghton, saved Michael's life.

The accident occurred at 3:22 p.m. Saturday, when the Barker boys were seen walking on the ice by John Wall, 10, and his brother, Kevin, 7, who live nearby.

The boys immediately called their mother, Mrs. John Wall, who saw the Barker boys go through the ice.

★

MRS. WALL called the Clinton post of the state police and William Welch, 15, who lives at the home of Michael. William ran to the pond where he saw Michael hanging on the edge of the broken ice. Douglas was apparently already under the water.

Trooper Barton arrived at the same moment. He saw Michael's head go under and was able to shove a plank to the edge to pull the child out to the shore.

Trooper Barton and Trooper Houghton began mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and Michael resumed breathing. He was taken to Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Skin diver David Snyder of the Lenawee Co. Sheriff's Dept., with the aid of a boat supplied by the Tecumseh Fire Department, recovered the body of Douglas in some 10 feet of water.

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Chipped into last week's story on new tax valuations was a note "an editorial next week will discuss income for city and schools as a result of assessment changes."

Unfortunately, your editors were being a bit too optimistic.

Complete information on taxation, in its final form, will not be available until late April, after the County Equalization Board and the State Board of Review have gone over the myriad of figures.

Only the first step — local assessing — has been taken.

But this doesn't stop a resident from doing a little daydreaming about such things as the over-all increase of valuation within the Tecumseh School District, thanks primarily to the new industrial additions in Raisin Township.

Some folks may not realize that our district, which covers some 90-square-miles, includes all or portions of the following townships — Adrian, Clinton, Franklin, Macon, Raisin, Ridgeway and Tecumseh.

In the cases of Adrian and Clinton Townships, these are small parts.

The local assessment of our district was $25,747,625 a year ago.

★

BUT THAT was before state equalized factors were applied and as an example of how that works, take Franklin Township of last year.

Property there was valued at $1,020,015. But the fellows in Lansing said that this was too low an estimate and introduced a factor to bring the valuation on a line with the rest of the state, hopefully.

Franklin's factor last year (it could be somewhat different this time around) was $2,160,276. Local valuation was multiplied by this amount and, voila, the answer of $2,203,515 was then called state equalized valuation.

And that's the amount to which the millage rate for school purposes was applied — 13.3 mills for operational, 6.32 mills for bonded indebtedness and .6 mills for library — a grand total of 20.22 mills.

If a guy is thoroughly confused by now, he hearby can be declared perfectly normal.

This is one business which requires a calculating machine at one's fingertips and the tenacity of a bulldog in battling through to the bitter end.

So we leave you with a promise, when all the tax figures are official, The Herald will present you with the complete happy, dreary data.

150 Scouts Pitch In for Goodwill

Some 150 Tecumseh Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, and Explorers will participate saturday in the annual "Goodwill Good Turn Day."

They will be among 3,000 Lenawee and Monroe County youths who will distribute 20,000 Goodwill bags door to door. The following Saturday they will collect the bags, hopefully filled with repairable household discards.

Officials at Goodwill Industries of Southeastern Michigan, with offices at Adrian, are asking that the filled bags be placed on front porches by 10 a.m., April 10.

Clothing, shoes, small appliances and other household items are needed to keep the 93 handicapped persons employed by Goodwill busy, Claude W. Whitehead, executive director of Goodwill, said.

Salty, star of WSPD TV has been signed by the Tecumseh Kiwanis Club to appear at the Tecumseh World's Fair to be held April 30, May 1 and 2 in the Tecumser Community Center. Children may meet Salty and receive his autographed picture April 30 and May 1.

City Property Owners Decide Fate of Bond

By JIM LINCOLN

Only two issues are on Monday's ballot, but both are important to the citizens of Tecumseh.

One issue involves electing four councilmen. Eight candidates including three incumbents, are seeking four seats on the Council.

The other issue — which can be voted on only by property owners — is Tecumseh's $560,000 general obligation bond issue for expanding the city's wastewater plant.

The expansion will start this year, whether tax payers approve the bond issue or not because state health authorities have notified city officials that they will force the expansion — through the courts if necessary.

Cal Zorn, city manager, has pointed out repeatedly, that approval of the bond issue, along with a $130,000 Federal grant, would result in a lower tax, 9/10th of a mill compared to 1.4 mill.

☆

THOSE SEEKING re-election to council are George McCombs, John Hamilton and C. Raymond Puffer. Both Mr. McCombs and Mr. Hamilton are veteran city officials, while Mr. Puffer is running for a second term.

Herbert N. Barnes, Lawrence Mohr, Marvin Nelson, Douglas Osworth and John Robinson are seeking city posts for the first time.

Successful candidates will take office on April 12, at the Council's annual organization meeting.

Council's regular meeting Monday has been set back to Tuesday evening, due to the election.

Doctor Marsh Calls It a Day

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Lenawee County's dean of physicians, Dr. R. G. B. Marsh, of Tecumseh, will retire May 1.

Soon after, he and his wife, Marjorie, will move to Boulder, Colo. where they have purchased a home.

As a little boy, five or six years old, he started "practice" by concocting a medicine that cured his mother's chilblains.

He said Tuesday, "If I could remember just what I put in that —. It was molasses, salt, water, sugar and what not and when my mother put it on her feet, it relieved her pain."

He enjoyed the responding laughter from this writer and his devoted wife, who must have heard the story many times before.

The son of a Methodist minister, Dr. Marsh was born in the village of Watcrloo, some miles north of Tecumseh.

The Rev. M. J. B. Marsh was pastor in the local Methodist Church at the time of the 100th anniversary celebration Jan. 28, 1928.

Doctor remarked that because of his father's profession, "We lived all over the place, but probably Tipton was the closest spot to a hometown I might have."

★

IT IS six miles from where he has practiced medicine for 42 years with the exception of five and one-half years during World War II.

He trained medical troops for the army at Camp Livingston in the "Battle of Louisiana."

A graduate of Cheyboygan High School, the general practioner took his pre-med work at Albion College and received his degree from the Detroit College of Medicine and Surgery, now the medical college of Wayne State University.

He holds a life membership in the Michigan State Medical Society as shown by a certificate hung on the wall of the reception room in the basement of his W. Logan St. home.

One of the patients waiting with her little girl Tuesday said, "He's a real good doctor, especially with children. He's been our doctor for 17 years."

Another patient noted, "He's been my husband's doctor all of his life, 33 years, and we have been coming here all the time we have been married except when Doctor was in service."

★

BESIDES AN extensive practice, Tecumseh's Dr. Marsh has taken time for the enjoyment of numerous dogs in his home. Presently Duke, age 12, is the doctor's close companion on his calls.

The dog's mother was a purebred German Shephard and Duke's father, the doctor said, "We knew well, he was all American."

In late years Dr. and Mrs. Marsh have become interested in geology and have been quite impressed with the effects of glacial action between here and Adrian and in the River Raisin valley.

Photography, reading and working in the yard are other hobbies the doctor enjoys.

Mrs. Marsh has served as her husband's receptionist over the years.

The couple has a son, Robert, who teaches science in the Aspen, Colo. school system.

He and his wife have two children, a boy David and a girl Kamala.

Another son, Gary, was fatally injured in an auto accident in October of 1961.

Dr. and Mrs. Marsh are looking forward to moving to Colorado, closer to the grandchildren, "But it will still be a five or six hour drive," Dr. Marsh said.

★

BOULDER is 20 miles northwest of Denver. The Marshes have been checking the temperatures this winter on television and find that consistently they are 12 to 18 degrees warmer than in Tecumseh and yet the seasons are not lost there.

Dr. Marsh remarked, "We have no objection to Michigan weather but one cannot retire in the same town where he has practiced and we like the dry climate in Boulder. The city, site of the University of Colorado, has a population of 37,000.

Doctor's retirement comes as somewhat of a shock to many Tecumseh residents though they have not been unaware that he should probably be taking life a bit easier.

Only last week one of his longtime patients called another doctor and stated later, "I just didn't think Dr. Marsh ought to have to get out in the middle of the night any more."

DOCTOR RETIRES — Dr. R. G. B. Marsh starts out on a call accompanied by Duke, who waits faithfully in the car while Doctor sees his patients. The dean of Lenawee County physicians will retire May 1 from a practice which includes 42 years in Tecumseh.

Truck Hits Tree, Man's Leg Crushed

William Spreeman, Tecumseh Products employee, was seriously injured in an auto accident about midnight Friday. The wheels of his truck locked and he swerved into a tree as he turned into the drive of his home on Ridge Highway at Ridgeway.

His right leg was crushed between the motor and the front of the van-type vehicle whose doors were jammed so they could not be opened.

Though the tree is close to the house the crash did not awaken members of his family and Mr. Spreeman attempted to rouse them by pounding on the side of the truck with his fist. At 3:30 a.m. his wife heard the noise.

He was taken to Herrick Memorial Hospital where he was given first aid and then transferred to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital at Ann Arbor.

Doctors told him he would have his mangled leg in traction for six to eight months. In two weeks they expect to operate on the knee joint.

The prizes will be given out the day of the "Fling." Mrs. Orville Bishop, one of the committee members, says, "Remember you don't have to be present to win. Your 10c ticket makes you eligible for the prizes."

Sergeant Scott Faces Hearing

BRITTON — Sgt. Wilbur L. Scott, 29, a Britton soldier home on 30-day leave from Fort Bragg, N. C., is held in the Lenawee county jail, accused of fatally shooting his wife, Mrs. Shirlee Scott, 23.

Scott was arraigned on the murder charge Saturday before Municipal Judge Paul Betz. He demanded examination and was remanded to the county jail without bond. His hearing will be Monday.

She had been working as a waitress in Denny's Tavern here and had been living with her small son, David Eric, in a Tecumseh apartment.

She had filed a divorce suit against her husband after they had wrangled a month ago over custody of the two-year-old child.

Scott returned from Fort Bragg Wednesday and stopped at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Bozeman, where she was calling.

She fled into the street after seeing his 30-30 deer rifle. He followed, Mrs. Bozeman said, and shot his wife in the abdomen. When the first shot failed to kill her he is said to have shot again, this time the bullets striking her in the back and head as she lay face down in the snow.

He was arrested about a block from the scene by Police Chief Frank Becker.

★

IN 1958 SCOTT was sentenced to 90 days in jail and two years' probation on a negligent homicide charge after a car he was driving crashed into a tree at Ridgeway killing his wife, Barbara, 16, and their unborn child.

Services for Mrs. Scott were held at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Niblack Funeral Home. The Rev. Alfred Sheley of the Church of God of Tecumseh officiated and burial was in the Ridgeway Cemetery.

Mrs. Scott was born Dec. 18, 1941, in Cleveland, Miss., the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey G. Bozeman. With her parents she came to Michigan 12 years ago. They moved to Britton two years later and she attended Britton-Macon High School.

She was married to Mr. Scott July 4, 1959, in Britton.

She is survived, in addition to her husband, son and parents, by three brothers, J. B. Bozeman and Charles R. Bozeman of Tecumseh and John R. Bozeman of California; three sisters, Mrs. Cecil Clark of Arlington, Va., Mrs. Charles Miller of Tecumseh and Mrs. Glenn Hartman of Waynesboro, Pa., and her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Bethany of Philadelphia, Miss.

The following comes from Jim Sherman, Oxford publisher, and you can believe it if you want. Jim says a woman asked the local banker for a loan to finance a divorce. The banker explained this was impossible, he loaned money only for cars, appliances and home improvements, etc. "Well, this is a home improvement," the woman said.

General Motors set an all-time industrial safety record for its U. S. and Canadian operations during 1964 and has been presented the "Award of Honor" of the National Safety Council for the 18th time. "Where did the 'Perfect Patient' appear?" asked one reader last week. Well, that Ol' Debil Lack of Space pushed it out, but here it is —

- "THE PERFECT VISITOR trampeth not on hard or spike heels, neither does he shout. He walketh softly and speaketh quietly, for ill people are easily disturbed.
- THE PERFECT VISITOR goeth home SOON. He, or is it often She? might like to chat all afternoon, but is considerate of the weary patient.
- THE PERFECT VISITOR talketh of the pleasant things in life, he smileth often and his demeanor is cheerful. Though at heart he may be a pessimist, he knows that the patient has his own more imminent troubles.
- THE PERFECT VISITOR knoweth what a chair is for. He sits on it. He perches not upon the bed, jouncing not the aching head or obstructing the restless foot.
- THE PERFECT VISITOR beareth with him no cold in the head. Though he be up and about and considers a sneeze or a cough as nothing, he inflicteth not his germs upon the helpless patient.
- THE PERFECT VISITOR thinketh twice about gifts. He brings plants instead of cut flowers, knowing that they last longer. He brings not candy for the weak stomach.
- THE PERFECT VISITOR is always welcome, for he observeth visiting hours. Patient and nurse smile upon him, for he is a precious jewel, above price."

When filling in for an ill instructor, one of the first things Bertha usually does is have the students write get-well letters to the regular teacher. In this regard, last week at Tecumseh Acres, a third grader penned a note to Frances Baker, wished her well and said while she was away her place was being taken by a "nice old lady".

Among the visitors last week to the office of Congressman Weston E. Vivian in Washington, D. C., were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Long of Tecumseh.

Good cooking will out! Proof of this is the profit Macon Methodist ladies realized from serving the Products Credit Union banquet — a tidy $565.

Mrs. Frank Becker, wife of the Britton Chief of Police, had real proof one morning last week that rumor travels fast. She received 15 calls in two hours requesting information about a supposed shooting in the village. Michigan State Police headquarters at Lansing asked why they had not been notified that a member of the Britton Police Department had been shot. Other calls came from state police posts at Jackson, Clinton and Blissfield and from other police departments. This was but 2½ days before the fatal shooting in Britton of Shirlene Scott.

'Bluejacket of Month'

BRITTON — Don McCrate has been named "Bluejacket of the Month" at Camp Lejeune, N. C., where he serves as a chaplain's assistant in the Naval Hospital.

Cdr. J. F. Gallager, the camp's chief chaplain, lauded Don, now 22 and in the navy since 1962, in recommending him for the award.

The commander wrote:

"HN McCrate presents a clear-cut and energetic military appearance at all times, performs his duties in a manner that can only be classified as outstanding and shows a dedication to his work that certainly merits special recognition.

"His is a seven-day a week job inasmuch as weekends are particular duty time for the chaplain's work. HN McCrate cheerfully is on hand rigging and unrigging for alternate services, and, although rating compensatory time for personal business and relaxation, prefers to remain at his work almost without interruption.

"Required to represent the hospital regularly in covering the Marine Corps, base night and weekend duty at the Base Chapel lains' Building, mainside, he was also covering a full hospital duty schedule every four nights without comment until his office discovered the duplication and arranged a duty balance.

"He seems often generally ready to cover duty for shipmates, accepts difficult or unusual assignments immediately and smilingly, carrying them on efficiently and with dispatch.

"He is a man to whom a superior can give any delegation with confidence that it will be carried out with responsibility and care."

MR. AND MRS. CLARENCE EXELBY

Clarence Exelbys Married 68 Years

BRITTON — March 24 was the 68th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Exelby, 278 W. Grand Blvd., Britton.

The two spent the day quietly at the Herrick Nursing Home in Tecumseh, where Mr. Exelby is a patient. Friends called and the Nursing Home provided a decorated cake in honor of the occasion.

★

THE COUPLE was married March 24, 1897 — the bride's birthday. The quiet wedding was performed by the Rev. Deyo, pastor of the Britton Christian Congregational Church in the bride's home, northeast of Britton.

She was Fannie Wiggins, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wiggins. Mr. Exelby, who will be 91 April 29, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Exelby.

It was during the "spring breakup" and mud was so deep no horse could travel the roads, so the bride and groom, the morning after their wedding, walked to the Wabash Railroad tracks and on to Cone where they boarded a train for a few days' visit in Detroit.

★

FOLLOWING the brief honeymoon the two went to their farm southeast of Britton. They moved later to Britton where they now live in the home where Mrs. Exelby was born.

They have one son, Donald J. Exelby, manager of a Commonwealth Savings Bank Branch in Detroit; two grandchildren, Donald C. Exelby, who graduates in June from the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y., and Mary Jane, a sophomore at the University of Michigan.

Britton Baptist Church defeated the Iron Creek Community Church team to win the championship.

Philatheans See Travelogue Shots Following Dinner

BRITTON — President Mrs. Grace Ramage, called the March 8 Baraca Philathea meeting to order with 23 members present. The group met at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Gustav Hannevik for a potluck supper.

The program consisted of a travelog on Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hoagland's trip to Florida and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Eberhardt's trip to Atlantic City.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Bert Moore and a discussion was held concerning the Easter morning breakfast at the Congregational Christian Church.

VOICE of THE HERALD

'Yes' Vote Is Recommended

Property owners who understand Tecumseh's proposed $560,000 general obligation bond issue should flock to the polls Monday and cast a "yes" vote.

Failure to do so may well raise their taxes higher than necessary.

Approval of the bond issue, along with a $130,000 Federal grant, will cost tax payers about 9/10th of a mill. This millage would drop as the city grows and conceivably be less than a half-mill just five years from now.

What happens if property owners turn the bond issue down?

They will be socked 1.4 mills, about .5 of a mill more than if they had approved it. Reason for the increase would be the city's failure to come up with the government's requirements to acquire a Federal grant.

Approving the bond issue will raise the city's indebtedness to a total which makes it eligible for the grant of $130,000.

There actually is no choice for the taxpayer. The State Health Department has ordered the city to expand its wastewater plant.

State officials through the courts, can force the expansion, even though the voters reject it at the polls.

Let's vote yes and keep our taxes as low as possible.

LANSING — An environmental health planning unit has been established at the Michigan Department of Health to encourage communities to develop long range, comprehensive planning necessary to keep pace with the accelerating need for public services.

Heustis, in announcing the creation of the planning unit.

Sanitary engineer Fred Kellow has been named to head the new unit, which will be primarily concerned with generating interest and providing assistance in planning for such services as water supply, sewage collection and treatment, air pollution control, housing, solid waste collection and disposal, insect and rodent control, drainage, and land use and zoning.

Ford Times Featuring Great Lakes

What makes the Great Lakes area a great year-round vacation land?

The nationally circulated "Ford Times" magazine devotes entire April issue to sharing the answers which are already known by residents of the area and the millions of tourists who visit the area each year.

The editors of "Ford Times" say the issue was planned to recognize the general tourist appeal of the area, as well as the growing trend toward weekend trips by residents and neighbors of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan and Ontario.

The special Great Lakes issue of the 84-page, color-illustrated travel magazine will reach 1,400,000 families with an estimated readership of more than seven million.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

SICK AND TIRED OF ———

Wouldn't it be nice if this were our last article to concern itself with snow and snowy bird-feeder activity? I refuse to promise anything, though, because that would be asking for trouble. Trouble, meaning more snow, more wind and more cold temperatures.

Spring supposedly arrived on March 20,— you knew it, I knew it, but someone forgot to tell the weather man. As I write this, we are still not experiencing any nice springtime; in fact, the very opposite is true, the world outside is white and a 'right smart' north-west wind is keeping the thermometer at near record lows.

Adding insult to injury, perhaps we should say shiver to shiver, the weather forecast predicts more of the same.

★

THERE IS ONE thing — no, there are two things which can be said for snow. It is often pretty and it usually produces bird-looking. I am not going to dwell on the former because so winter weary are we all that, well, right now the prettiest sight I can think of would be oceans of bright, warm sunshine splashing through my windows. Enough of that, Marda.

The busy bird feeder aspect of a snowy day does deserve a bit more attention — maybe. Our current snow, and superstitiously I refuse to call it our last, is producing flocks of birds. And for the first time this year, the slate-colored Juncos are more than busy at the feeder. We have had them all winter long but usually picking up left-overs. Scratch feed and bits of corn which have fallen from the feeder-tray, have satisfied them. For two days, however, the junks have been almost constant patrons of the feeding station. Hurrah!

THESE LITTLE winter visitors are fun to have around; they are cute and they are always on the go. When they are on the feeder, much of their time is spent nervously looking around, apparently trying to decide whether to eat or whether to fly away. If they decide against staying, we are treated to the sight of 'dark gray-gowned ladies skipping away but showing traces of their starchy white petticoats'.

The white outertail feathers are very distinctive field marks but a closer look at the juncos reveals some subtler markings. When their wings are folded in, the birds' dark gray backs are faintly traced by black stripes and along their sides, in front, are lighter gray smudges. Nothing, though, relieves the black hood these characters wear pulled down tightly over their heads and shoulders except little pale yellow bills — and their eyes are black, so black they don't even shine.

But other bird friends are dining with us, too. Standing in stark contrast to the white snow are jet black grackles; this background makes them look more evil than ever. The busy and bossy blue jays benefit by the snow scene — their bright blue contrasts beautifully.

★

ACTUALLY, of course, most birds show up well on a snowy feeder and in testimony to this is the click, click, click of my camera's shutter. Not only are we having lots of nibblers but they are obliging models as well.

Saving the best for the last brings us to the cardinals. Snow is such a perfect setting for both the brilliant male and his quieter colored mate. Four of the beauties are in residence and they know spring should be here, too. Each morning they greet daybreak with loud happy whistles.

Although nothing so friendly as sharing the feeder has happened yet, Papa and Mama C. are gradually becoming aware of each other. He eats at the feeder while she patiently sits on a nearby limb — don't worry, gal, your time is coming and, one of these days, your boy friend will be courting.

So it is that the juncos are here "because of", and the cardinals are trying to say a change is coming, but I am, nevertheless, sick and tired of all the snow and other winter jazz.

What's Going on at BOYSVILLE

By MARTIN WHITAKER

March 24, the Boysville campus played host to Father Thomas Hayden, SMA, of the Society of African Missions. The third class period was dropped to make way for Father's talk in the chapel concerning the realization of our vocation in life, with emphasis on the world's need for men and women to join the religious life.

During the course of Father's talk, he exhibited such treasures as hand-carved figures made of ivory and ebony.

In the evening Father Hayden showed slides revealing the conditions and atmosphere in which an African missionary works.

√

Boysville's class of '66 Saturday, will visit the campus of the University of Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind. This trip to the home of the "Fighting Irish" had originally been scheduled for the autumn, but harsh winter weather necessitated the trip's being held off until now. The Juniors will be accompanied by their moderator, Brother James Reese, CSC.

√

The third quarter of study at Boysville is drawing to a close. Quarter examinations are scheduled for Thursday and Friday of this week. Default notices will be published Monday along with the honor roll.

√

Boysville's administration has made an announcement concerning the Easter vacation. Departure for the holidays will be on Friday, April 9, at three o'clock. The vacation will end on Wednesday, April 21, at eight o'clock in the evening.

For three weeks the students of Boysville have united in an effort to fulfill a quota of $200 set by the Mission Club to be used for a library at a Holy Cross Brothers' school in Dacca, East Pakistan. With two weeks to go, a deficit of nearly eighty dollars remains.

The northwest wing of Cardinal Mooney Hall boasted the highest per capita average for the week of March 21-27.

Boysville's Drum and Bugle Corps proved to be a group of pre-dawn risers Sunday morning. They were awakened at 4 a.m. in order to arrive in Detroit for a parade at 6:30 a.m. Upon reaching Detroit, the Corps led the assembled Knights of Columbus of Father Cotter Council to St. Rita's Church in time for the 7:30 a.m. Mass and the Knights' Corporate Communion.

Mrs. Kennard Wise presented the lesson on furniture selection, use and care.

Cake, crackers and coffee were served to seven present by Mrs. Lavender, assisted by Mrs. Melvin Purple.

4-H Girls Present Style Show Friday in Church Center

"April Showers Bring May Flowers" is the theme for the northeast Tecumseh 4-H Clubs' style show to be held at 8 p.m., Friday, in the Fellowship Center of the Presbyterian Church.

Participating clubs are the Tipton Jets, North Franklin Maidens, Britton-Macon Community, Raisin Cane, Ridgeway Sunny Rays, County Line Mixers and the Clintecs.

The annual show gives sewing members up to 14 years of age an opportunity to model garments they have made during the winter months.

A team of judges elected by the Lenawee County 4-H office will evaluate the garments and choose the winners who will participate in the all-county style show at Siena Heights College Saturday.

Mrs. Ernest Helwig, chairman, said that knitting members will have their work evaluated but it will not be judged until fair time. The evaluation will begin at 6 p.m.

Walkie-Talkie Owners Welcome To Attend Session

85 See Film of World Travel at Family Nite

Eighty-five attended the Family Nite Fellowship of the Tecumseh Friends Missionary Society March 25.

Mrs. Paul Brantingham introduced Mrs. Paul Cooley, who was her roommate at Asbury College.

Mrs. Cooley showed films that she and her husband made during their round-the-world trip last year.

The film took the viewers from Detroit to London, The Netherlands, Sweden, Egypt and India, showing a school where Mrs. Cooley had taught for 15 years.

While in India, Mrs. Cooley saw many of her former pupils, who are now teachers.

The Cooleys said that they tried to avoid the regular tourist routes, visiting out-of-the-way places and as many homes as possible.

Orders Extra Copies

TO THE EDITORS:

I just finished reading the full-page editorial by Mr. Jones of The Tulsa Tribune, printed in a recent Herald. At this point all I can say is "Wow!!"

When I recover sufficiently I'll probably think of plenty, but it would just be plagiarism because he's said it all. I'm assuming you agree with his views, since you printed them when you wouldn't have had to.

May I thank you for doing so, if only because it proved to me that I can't be entirely crazy for having entertained the same thoughts which he so beautifully put into words. I mean, newspapers don't usually employ editors who are prudes or nuts.

I would appreciate your sending me some more copies of this issue. I can think of some places where it might do some good, or at least make interesting material for thought for some others that I have in mind.

I'd like to see that editorial spread on the front page of every newspaper in the country, but even if it were possible, I've little hope for the good it would do because the chilling fact is, or seems to be, that the only ones who read past the first paragraph are the ones who already feel the same way, I suppose.

Oh, well, we can still keep trying. You get an "E" for effort, as far as I'm concerned. And I hope you reached some who might give the subject more than just a bit of thought.

It's time the citizens of this country stood back and looked at what we're throwing down the drain. It's a wonderful country, but it's only as good as its people.

Thanks for some darn good reading, fellows. One of these copies is going to the editor of our local newspaper as an example of what a good (pardon the expression) small-town newspaper can do to really contribute to the community and the country.

Yours truly,
Out-of-Town Reader
R. R. 3, Norwalk, O.

Senior Citizen Lauds Scouts

TO THE EDITORS:

I, also, would like to commend the printing of the long editorial of recent issue.

Of course, we have our share of the effects of the slump in morals and decency of recent years, but I do believe that our community is accomplishing a great deal.

The Boy and Girl Scout work there is a fine thing and the efforts of the Community Center and playground director are sure a benefit. I cannot believe that a youngster who has been a Scout or learned fair play in the competition of games, could show the personal cowardice that is so evident in vandalism of property and the gang beatings and sometime murders that are committed.

It would seem that the ideals of chivalry or man-to-man competition with equal weapons has disappeared.

Only a bunch of physical or mental cowards will gang up on an easy mark or maliciously destroy property when little risk is involved.

Let us be ready to praise the good deeds of our young people and also support all efforts to better conditions. This might include help to our law enforcement officers.

Sincerely,
A Senior Citizen.

Church Page Draws Praise

TO THE EDITORS:

Congratulations to you and to your fine staff for the excellent paper, our fine Tecumseh Herald, that you are publishing.

I do especially appreciate the stand you so consistently take on the moral issues facing us today.

Thank you for including a church page. I feel it's beneficial to our program.

Cordially,
A Tecumseh Minister

Our Readers Write

Editor's note — Contributions from our readers are always welcome. They must be signed if they are to be published. However, the editors will use a pseudonym if the writer requests that his or her name be withheld. Letters are printed as soon after they are received as possible, but sometimes their publication is delayed due to space limitations. In these cases, the understanding of the writers is appreciated by The Herald.

All Americans Must Help

TO THE EDITORS:

I wish to commend you for your decision to publish the text of the Jenkin Lloyd Jones article covering a full page of The Tecumseh Herald in the Feb. 25 issue.

This article concerned the moral decays within our nation and expressed some apprehension as to the future of our nation if it continued on its present course.

His suggested program for the newspaper profession is fine and a good beginning. I feel you need the help of every thinking American, of every one of us in this country who is concerned about honesty in government; who is concerned with improvement in education to keep us competitive with out totalitarian foe; who is concerned about creeping (or running) socialism; who is concerned with preservation of our intellectual and moral integrity.

As one reader recently suggested, perhaps each individual or each family is only a drop in the bucket when it comes to retarding the spread of our moral degeneration, but if enough of us join hands and minds in the effort, these drops can become a torrent sufficient to wash out the Bobby Bakers, the Billy Sol Esteses and the payola from our nation's leadership.

Let us all have the intestinal fortitude to stand up and be counted on the side of ideals which have made our country great, and make some effort to preserve and protect our nation, under God, for our children.

Tecumseh Physician

Detroiter Sends Papers

TO THE EDITORS:

Enclosed is payment for 10 copies of your editorial on moral decay which I ordered by phone yesterday. You maye be interested in knowing how they will be used.

Some will be given to friends and business associates who read our clipping, and who requested copies for themselves to keep or share. One of these will be sent to New Zealand!

Some will be started on "Round Robins" among our friends and relatives in states from coast to coast.

Some will be circulated among my fellow members of Detroit Writers' Guild, then passed on to others.

It is a splendid article. Thank you for publishing it.

Sincerely yours,
A Detroiter

Must People Downgrade?

TO THE EDITORS:

The TV program "Decision" which made it's debut on Channel 10 at 7:30 p.m., March 22 was in my opinion a smear of a great man, Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Must we attempt to downgrade all Americans who might have created an image as an anti-communist?

As a senator, ex-Vice-President Richard Nixon dragged out and forced the prosecution of Alger Hiss as a traitor. Years later Alger Hiss appeared on TV to condemn the man who forced his exposure.

The people who tear down American heroes and true Americans call themselves "liberals."

My question: Are there any anti-communist organizations to fight the smear artists?

At the end of the aforementioned TV program, there was no sponsor named or commercial. I wonder why?

Could it have been that no one wanted to sponsor the former president who only reached the rank of captain in artillery in the 35th Division in World War I?

A veteran who served under General MacArthur.

Take Stand, Says Teacher

TO THE EDITORS:

Whoever wrote to you last week (a Sunday School Teacher) has put into words my thoughts exactly. I am a S. S. teacher at the Methodist Church in Clinton for 7th and 8th graders. I had 24 Sunday morning, and all but six were there to hear Dave Wilkerson, as was I.

Our lesson in the morning was on Paul's New Life and Faith.

The one most important statement made by Dave was: "Teenagers, STOP blaming your lives on your parents, schools, teachers, but YOU are responsible for yourself! God gave you a mind to use — YOU take your stand. Nobody is to blame for what you do but YOU, YOURSELF. Face it!"

This did something "for" and "to" the adults and many hearts were changed.

Go to it, teenagers. Live knowing God knows everything about you. We can not and certainly do not. God does!

John 15-15, Jesus said: "I no longer call you servants but friends for what I have known of the Father, I make known unto you."

If the crowd is for Jesus then it is right, good, clean and wonderful. Follow Him."

Sincerely,
Mrs. Gordon (Ruth) Gove

They Make New Lives

TO THE EDITORS:

On April 12, I am to discuss ways in which handicapped persons have overcome their disabilities and made a new life for themselves.

Of all the ones I have read about, your Marda Gene Duncan fascinates me most.

I understand you, in your paper have carried articles about her and that you run a column written by her. Would it be asking too much for you to send me a bit more information or even a copy of one of her articles.

This is a town of retired people and many of them are shut-ins and wer'e trying to suggest ways in which they can entertain themselves or spend their time profitably through hobbies.

I shall certainly appreciate any information you can give me about Miss Duncan.

Thank you.
Sincerely,
Mrs. Logan R. Fuller

100% in Agreement

TO THE EDITORS:

After reading the whole page which you printed from the Tulsa Newspaperman, I decided you are a crusader. I suspected this from another recent Herald issue.

I couldn't agree with you more. I'm with your Tulsa man 100%. Everyone who claims the title "Christian" should support you. If they did, there wouldn't be such a need, woufld there?

PATTERSON SCHOOL PATTER

By SHERRIE LEE HART

Last week was sure a busy week at Patterson. All these mid-semester tests! We're glad they're over and there's no more studying to do.

But now there's another big thing to get ready for.

That is the Patterson Fair. This year it is going to be called Spring Fling. As for posters, there are five out of each 4th and 10 out of each 5th and 6th grade. There's another busy week ahead of us.

Now for the room reports.

3rd Grade

In Mrs. Frank Lasky's room the boys and girls have worked hard on the show case. They made finger paintings and cut them out to look like sea life. The show case is filled with sponges and shells. All have name tags which tell the names of these strange but wonderful under-sea creatures.

In math class the boys and girls are studying the multiplication tables and are also learning long division.

In reading they are reading about other lands.

In the ticket sale for Patterson Fair Mrs. Lasky's room is on top. They are even ahead of the "every - year champions", Earl Greene's room.

2nd Grade

In Mrs. Carl Puffer's room the boys and girls are making an egg tree for the public library to use for Easter decorating. They are decorating their room for Easter, too.

In math the children are working with equations.

That's all for this week. Don't forget the Patterson Fair to be held from noon to 5 p.m., Saturday. Tickets are 10c.

Power of God

How the power of God operates in human affairs is explored in this week's Bible Lesson to be read at all Christian Science churches. The Golden Text is from Luke, "The things which are impossible with men are possible with God."

The Kiwanis Club of Tecumseh urges you to Vote YES

Preliminary Design Data on Addition to Tecumseh Sewage Treatment Plant

1. Population—
   Present capacity 7,000
   Proposed capacity 14,000
2. Design Flow—
   Average . . .1.4 million gallons per day
   Maximum .2.8 million gallons per day
3. Provide new Parshall flume—revamp existing meter.
4. Provide new stabilization tank immediately east of existing settling tanks and of same size.
   Size: 84 feet long x 14 feet wide x 8 feet deep
   Detention time @ 1.4 million gallons per day = 1.2 hours
   Overflow rate = 1,200 gallons per square
   Arrange so primary can be used as final in emergency—by passing raw sewage to aeration tank.
5. Sewage pumps—use existing two at 1,000 gallons per minute; two at 500 gallons per minute to lift settled sewage into aeration tanks.
6. Convert existing two settling tanks to sludge stabilization and mixing tank. Raise water level so average depth increased from 8 feet to 9' 6".
   Total volume:
   3 x 84 x 14 x 9.5 = 33,400 cubic feet = 250,000 gal.
   Detention Time:
   4.2 hours at flow of 1.4 million gallons per day
7. Convert present trickling filter to final settling tank — use rimflo type unit.
   Use 10' 6" water depth
   Tank 80' 0" diameter
   Volume 225,000 gallons
   Detention @ 1.4 million gallons per day = 3 hours 50 min.
8. Add chlorine contact tank to increase detention time to 20 minutes @ 1.4 million gallons per day; consider oversize tank to serve as final tank during change-over (i.e. Build new primary; use existing trickling filter and build chlorine tank to serve as final while converting settling tanks to aeration).
9. Add sludge thickening tank.
10. Add building to house blowers and return sludge pumps.
11. Install gas lift mixing in one fixed cover tank. Add floating cover digester with 17,500 cubic foot capacity to serve as secondary use other existing digester (17,500 cubic foot) for storage tank.
13. Sludge beds — existing area, 7,000 square feet, to be left as is. Use tank truck to haul liquid digested sludge to farms.
14. Blower — use two 1,600 cubic feet per minute.
15. Add meter and control equipment for return and waste activated sludge and air header.
16. Chlorine feed — existing 400 pounds per day and 200 pounds per day machines are adequate.

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Every now and again, it's a good idea to find out what readers think of your newspaper.

The only accurate way to do this is with a scientific survey, checking with households in every neighborhood of the circulation area.

It must be done on a personal interview basis with a carefully-prepared questionnaire. When the survey is complete, the results should dove-tail into something statistically worthwhile.

The Herald recently completed such a project, the second one since 1957. Uppermost in the minds of you readers was to learn how folks feel about The Herald publishing twice a week.

During December, we ran six weeks with two separate editions, an eight-pager issued Monday in addition to the regular papers.

As this part of the survey turned out, there couldn't have been a more fascinating result — 85 people said they enjoyed two editions weekly, 85 told interviewers they'd rather have just one.

Our questionnaire was divided into 13 parts and we had nine interviewers, all Tecumseh High School seniors, who worked under the direction of Diane Ries.

Putting together a list of meaningful questions, which could easily be answered in a period of about 20 minutes, was the first hurdle.

A questionnaire was fashioned and Diane made several "pilot" interviews. The results were noted and some of the questions re-phrased to avoid confusion in the minds of people being interviewed.

The final model was composed, printed and placed in the hands of the team.

★

DIANE, ON HER own hook, prepared a fact sheet for her surveyors, including such tips as:

"Dress neatly — no slacks."

"Be courteous and friendly; your actions are a reflection on The Herald (and that's where your pay is coming from.)"

"Be sure to record casual comments — they may reveal important points that could help The Herald."

"These interviews are confidential."

The team included Nancy Swaney, Chris Pence, Cathy Brown, Kay Becker, Linda Easton, Nancy Mead, Pam Bryan and Susie Hohenstein.

Helping Diane in final tabulating, which took about 28 hours, was Steve Derby.

The 10 young people, who earned a total of $88, did an extremely professional job.

Our circulation area — Tecumsehland, if you like (although one person said to quit using this designation) — was divided into segments.

Enlargement Plan OKed, 636 to 78

In overwhelming fashion, the $560,000 bond issue to enlarge Tecumseh's wastewater treatment plant was approved Monday by property owners, 636-78.

The vote opened the door for a $130,000 Federal government grant to help cover construction cost and was hailed by Council Monday as "a vote of confidence in the community".

With the expansion, capacity of the sewage plant will double and be capable of handling a city of 15,000 population.

★

IN THE only other issue on the ballot, three Councilmen — John Hamilton, George McCombs and Ray Puffer — were re-elected for two-year terms.

Lawrence Mohr, 310 W. Kilbuck, one-time Tecumseh Township treasurer and an employee of Tecumseh Products Co., was chosen by voters for the fourth Council opening on a one-year term.

Mr. Mohr will take over the seat long held by Bob Bonner, who declined to run for re-election.

Of more than 3,000 registered voters in the city, only 752 turned out and all but 22 were property owners.

★

COMPLETE Council tabulations:

John Hamilton — 606
Ray Puffer — 567
George McCombs — 523
Lawrence Mohr — 332
Herbert N. Barnes — 210
John Robinson — 207
Marvin Nelson — 185
Douglas Osworth — 146.

A special meeting of Council will be held Monday at 7:30 to swear in those newly-elected and select a mayor.

Good Friday Service To Open at 1:30

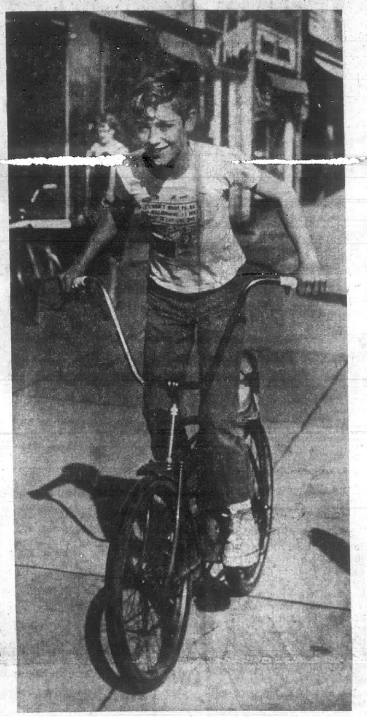
Union Good Friday services will be held in the First Methodist Church from 1:30 until 3 p.m. and is sponsored by the Tecumseh Ministerial Association.

Divided into two sections, the service's first speaker will be the Rev. Harold Speer of the Assembly of God, followed by the Rev. Paul Brantingham of the Friends Church.

First Aid Classes Meeting Tuesdays

Red Cross First Aid classes are being held at 9:30 a.m. Tuesdays, at the city hall with Lester Proctor as instructor.

Attendance at these classes will fulfill the requirement Girl Scout leaders must meet.



WHAT A DAY — The message on Tom Johnson's T-shirt says, "I don't want to be a millionaire . . . I just want to live like one." And he was Tuesday, as winter left and the mercury soared into the high 70's. The sunshine drew cheers of joy from all ages, long fed-up with snow and ice. Taking the photo was Herald apprentice lensman Bill Whiting.

Collection Saturday

Members of Boy Scout troops will pick up filled Goodwill bags here Saturday. Householders are asked to have the bags on the front porch no later than 10 a.m.

Councilmen Decide Not To Bill City

How does a city bill itself?

Well, apparently it doesn't and thus a statement for $243.40 was figuratively torn up Monday by Council.

The tab was for the final two-thirds of a special assessment on curb and gutter around the new library.

An initial payment of $81.13 was made by the library board, but at the time the group held deed to the land—which the city now owns, again.

★

DOES THE story get complicated?

The land initially was county-owned, then the city got it, gave the property to the library so the board could float a mortgage on a new structure.

With the mortgage burned, the land went back once more to city ownership, while the library board held deed on the building.

In the meantime, the first one-third of the assessment was paid.

Librarian Mrs. Jule Foshender wondered about the $243.40 and Councilmen decided to dump the remainder.

Cemetery Board Awaits Mower

Tecumseh Cemetery Association approved payment of $10,384.50 in bills at its March meeting.

Another $1,420, to the Recht Lawn Supply, will be made when a new mower is delivered. The amount covers both the grass cutter and a generator, which already has arrived.

CIVIL RIGHTS SESSION

2 Who Saw Selma Will Speak Here

Three clergymen, including two who participated in Selma, Ala. civil rights demonstrations, will speak in Tecumseh Monday at an ecumenical meeting in St. Peter's Parish Hall at 8 p.m.

The guests include the Rev. Everett Francis, associate director of Program of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan; the Rev. Fr. James J. Sheehan, director of the Archbishop's Commission on Human Relations of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit, and the Rev. Robert Hoppe, a Presbyterian minister and director of race and cultural relations for the Metropolitan Detroit Council of Churches.

Fr. Sheehan, who headed up the Detroit Catholic priests going to Selma recently, has been a leader in Detroit's interfaith civil rights activities.

Among the Episcopalians from Detroit in Selma was the Rev. Francis who accompanied the Rt. Rev. Kilmer Myers, Suffragan Bishop of Michigan. The Rev. Hoppe has organized local civil rights meetings in Detroit and gathered the Detroit clergy and laymen for the "March on Washington" last summer.

Organizing the pioneer service are:

The Rev. Fr. Thomas Collins, pastor of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

The Rev. Julian Gresham, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Frank W. Hawthorne, pastor of St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

In announcing the meeting, the trio noted that Holy Week is an appropriate time to "point to the continuing need in every generation for reconciliation of differences among men."

'Bois' Tops in U.S.

By JIM WILBAR

National awards are going to the dogs these days, but Paul Vollmar of Macon doesn't mind a bit.

One of Mr. Vollmer's pedigreed pooches, "Bois", was deemed Top Rated Brittany Spaniel in the nation for 1964 by Popular Dogs Magazine last month.

Bois' award was based on the number of wins and the stiffness of his competition at kennel clubs last year.

Among his laurels were Best of Breed at Dayton, Best of Breed at Livonia and Best Sporting Dog over a field of 640 entries at the Detroit Kennel Club Show.

Family rivalry was involved at Traverse City when Bois was awarded Best of Opposite Sex after his sister had captured Best of Breed.

★

MR. VOLLMER has been in the canine business since boyhood days. He purchased an English Setter when he was 15.

Shortly after World War II, he showed his first Brittany and took home a consolation award.

Bois' grandfather, Henri, is the only Brittany Spaniel in the nation ever to win a Best in Show award at a kennel club.

The 15 dogs in Mr. Vollmer's kennel de mere than win awards to earn their Gravy Train, however.

The birds season takes them into fields with Paul right behind.

WHERE IS HE, BOIS? — Bois, Paul Vollmer's prize-winning Brittany Spaniel, seems to have spotted a sparrow in this tree while romping with his master near their Macon home.

Well, Who Will Pop?

Tecumseh High band director Don Johnson asked Council if following the Decoration Day parade the city might buy refreshments for the musicians.

For the past three years, the goodies have come from band funds, which now are under austerity conditions.

City Attorney James Beardsley said he'd be glad to handle the situation. Then the 1964 tab was relayed to him.

It totaled $64 — and the question is still slightly unsettled.

Fees Total $320

Justice Ernest Oliver's fees for March, approved for payment by Council Monday, added up to $320.50.

Construction in 3 Months $172,200

Building inspector Lynn Noble reported construction activities for the first three months of 1965 to Council Monday.

They break down:

10 homes	$141,500
1 garage	700
17 Residential alterations	20,160
6 commercial alterations	9,840
Total value	$172,200

Site Selected by Methodists

A site, just north of Brown St., east of N. Union St., and west of Red Mill Pond, has been selected for the proposed First Methodist Church building.

Lynn Noble, chairman of the church's building council, says the new church will be located on a five-acre tract in an area which adjoins River Raisin.

Construction will come in two stages. The first unit will include the sanctuary, Sunday school rooms and a church office. The sanctuary will have a seating capacity of about 400.

★

THE SECOND construction stage will provide for additional Sunday School space and a fellowship hall.

A parking lot will be built for approximately 180 cars.

An artist's sketch and architect's rendering by Marr and Marr, Detroit architects, were presented to the congregation Sunday at the morning worship service in connection with the kick-off of the fund-raising drive, "Partners for Christ Crusade".

A canvassing of members and constituents will be made this Sunday afternoon and Monday and Tuesday evenings.

ARCHITECT'S RENDERING OF PROPOSED NEW FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

Scott Case Adjourned

BRITTON — Sgt. Wilbur L. Scott, 29, who is faced with an open charge of murdering his wife Shirlee, remains in the Lenawee County jail awaiting hearing.

The hearing, originally set for last Monday before Municipal Judge Paul Betz, was postponed as Scott asked for a court appointed attorney. No hearing date has been set by Judge Betz.

Mrs. Scott, a resident of Tecumseh, was fatally shot March 28 in the street before the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey G. Bozeman of Britton.

With thousands of volunteers working in all areas of the state, plans are moving forward rapidly for the 12th annual Michigan Week, to be observed May 16-22. This year the celebration takes on an international color with special projects and events focusing attention on the prominent role of Michigan in world affairs and world trade.

Harlon Boyes of 409 W. Logan St., has a copy of the April 15, 1865, New York Herald which carried the report of the shooting of Abraham Lincoln prior to his death. He found this along with several magazines of the 1880's among the effects of his mother, the late Mabel Boyes.

Suffice it to say that Mrs. Al Helzerman is highly-regarded by her fellow Presbyterians. She was one of those honored for service to the church Sunday and in our story last week of the ceremony we inadvertantly skipped her achievements, while giving run-downs on the other five who were cited. Miss Ann Carson called our attention to the omission and said she was one of "500 bolling Presbyterians" because we slighted Mrs. Helzerman. We explained there had been an error, then chatted with Mrs. Helzerman, who was most gracious in forgiving us. Here are the missing facts: she has sung in that church's choir for over 50 years and active in church life here more than 60 years, especially when it comes to preparing congregation dinners.

The 6:30 a.m. service is sponsored by the Youth of the Tecumseh Area churches.

The committee invites the public to attend, suggesting that guests come warmly dressed.

In case of inclement weather, the First Baptist Church will be lighted and the service will be held there.

One-Day Drag Race Given OK

A one-day session of drag racing in Tecumseh was approved by Council Monday.

Permission was granted the Chamber of Commerce and service clubs to stage drag competition on Meyer's Airport landing strip, Monday, July 5.

Forest Abner represented the sponsors and said insurance, fences and policing would be provided.

He explained time trials would begin at 8 a.m. and racing continue until 6 p.m. with cars coming here from a wide area.

SERVICE AREA EXPANDED — Carl Lamb stands proudly in front of his newly-remodeled and enlarged Rexall pharmacy. An addition brings the total floor space to 2,800 square feet, more than double his former service area. Forty feet of greeting card cabinets nearly cover one wall, triple the previous display. Also tripled in size is the area displaying magazines and pocketbooks. An enlarged, modernized prescription department is featured in the new area, which was formerly an eating establishment on the east side of the store.

Tuttle Co. Seeks Line

A public hearing on June 7 will discuss the proposed sanitary sewer from the H. W. Tuttle plant, south to the existing line on Russell Rd.

Costs would be assessed to the industry, which is seeking the connection to eliminate the present use of pumps at the plant.

7 Homes Petition

Seven households along Iroquois St. petitioned Council Monday for a sanitary sewer line to serve them.

A public hearing on the proposal was set for June 7.

Installation of a line on Iroquois can be made after the Evans Creek intereceptor is in operation, which will probably be sometime this summer.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Did you hear the laughter of the Almighty April 1 as he shook the remaining snow from the heavens and allowed it silently to envelope the astonished inhabitants of His world.

Seemed like the most colossal April fool joke of the century. Little things like paper in Pa's sandwich filling paled in comparison.

It was fun to hear about another Pa who was shaken from early morning drowsiness by the request of his 16-year-old-son for $10.

"What, in the middle of the week ——" Can't you see the ear-to-ear grin as the teen-ager gleefully remarked "April Fool."

Mrs. Vira Bancroft and daughter, Helen, and Forrest Bancroft of Adrian were in Bowling Green, O., Saturday afternoon where they called on friends. En route home they stopped in Rossford, O., where they called on Mrs. Edith McBride.

Dr. and Mrs. Carlton Cook have returned from a fabulous 16-day vacation. They drove to Miami, Fla., with friends from Gull Lake and then flew to Jamaica for six days and on to Grand Cayman Island for three days.

"Weather was delightful, people friendly and Lynn enjoyed a new sport, snorkeling."

Many other Tecumsehites are returning to the city after vacations in warmer climes. Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Helzerman have come back from 10 days in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Mrs. Bernice Williams and Richard Williams, a navy jet plane mechanic, of Lexington Park, Md., were house guests last weekend of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Williams. Sunday dinner guests at the Williams home included Mr. and Mrs. Warren Finkbeiner and family of Clinton and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Dennison and daughter of Milan. Saturday evening callers were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ruesink and Monday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Doc Edwards.

Mrs. E. J. Aebersold is back from Bradenton, Fla.

Mrs. Robert Stone was called to Palm Beach, Fla., by the death of her father, R. H. Nickerson, Tuesday. The body will be cremated and graveside services will be held in Schoolcraft.

Mr. Nickerson was born Feb. 28, 1888. He is survived by his wife, Helen, his daughter and three grandsons. He was preceded in death by a son, Robert, and his first wife, Jeffie.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Danforth and daughter, Jamie, and Kay Wagoner were at Grand Rapids for the weekend. Kay was the maid of honor at the Judith Baldwin and Daniel Hood wedding Sunday in the Trinity Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Burleson and Mrs. Dil Burleson are back from wintering in the Everglade state.

Julia Roff is back in the city from Santa Monica, Calif. She toured the length and breadth of the state while there.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Measel of Brighton, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Helzerman, Jr., of Ann Arbor, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Aylesworth and daughter, Cindy, and Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Helzerman filled a pew at the First Presbyterian church Sunday for the celebration in which Mrs. Al Helzerman was honored for her church activities. Following the services, they met at the home of the Doctor. Ann Carson was also a visitor for the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunt were in Monroe Saturday evening, where they attended the installation of officers of Monroe Commandery of Knights Templar. Mr. Hunt is eminent commander-elect of Adrian Commandery and will be installed in a public ceremony at Adrian Masonic Temple April 17.

Train Rams Auto

A stalled car owned by Joseph Pospisil of 315 W. Cummins St., was badly damaged Saturday when it was struck by a New York Central train on N. Evans St., 75 feet north of Chicago Blvd. There were no injuries.

The automobile was stalled near the rail line and Mr. Pospisil went for assistance. A passerby, Marvin Leismer of 305 W. Chicago Blvd., tried unsuccessfully to flag down the approaching train which had stopped for a red light at the intersection.

F. K. Regnall of Toledo, the engineer, and Robert C. Dudley, Jr., also of Toledo, told police officers they failed to see the automobile which was parked about six inches from the rail line. The rear end and frame of the station wagon were damaged.

In a second accident, David Holden of 208 S. Union St. suffered bruises when a car driven by Thomas P. Barton of 515 W. Pottawatamie St., in which Holden was a passenger careened into a utility pole on Pearl St. as the auto left the city parking lot on N. Pearl St. at a speed a police report called exceedingly fast. Barton was cited for careless driving.

Lois Ann Bivins, 24, of 6960 Green Hwy. was cited for improper starting from a parked position when her car struck one driven by Sarah Lent, 64, 410 W. Pottawatamie St. at W. Chicago Blvd. and S. Evans St. April 1. The left front bumper of the Bivins car was damaged.

A car owned by Mildred Jordan of 12595 Hogan Rd., Clinton, was slightly damaged April 1 when it was struck by an automobile driven by Lela M. Ramsdall, Rt. 2, Clayton who backed from the Fabricare parking lot into the Jordan car which was parked in front of the Center.

Anna May Bowser, 1351 E. Monroe Rd. hit a light pole in the Kroger Parking Lot, April 1, damaging the left front headlight, bumper and grill.

Mable A. Mack, 56, of 209 S. Evans St. was cited for improper backing April 2 when her car backed into one driven by Marie I. Alico of 545 Trenton Rd., Adrian, on S. Pearl St. 20 feet south of W. Chicago Blvd. Both cars had stopped for the red light at the intersection and the Mack car backed up to give way to a school bus going east on E. Chicago Blvd. Both cars were slightly damaged.

Raymond Yenor of Paul's Trailer Park reported to police the rear of his automobile was damaged by an unknown driven as the Yenor automobile was parked at 12:55 a.m. Sunday in the Top Hat parking lot.

There was little damage to either car when an automobile driven by Roger M. Helmer, 22, Ann Arbor, driving from a private drive at 404 S. Evans St. collided Tuesday with a car driven by Donald R. Maiden, 18, of Monroe. Mr. Helmer told police officers he failed to see the Maiden car because of a New York Central RR engine parked at the site.

LONG & SHORT

Within the city there were seven areas and in each the girls got interviews at eight to 12 homes. Thus, there was good representation from every neighborhood and economic income group in town.

The same procedure was followed in the Macon, Ridgeway, Holloway, Britton and Tipton areas, giving a representation of farm homes.

In total, there were 120 households visited by interviewers with 147 persons questioned.

★

THE QUERY attracting our first attention in the tabulation was No. 8, "How do you rate The Herald as a local paper?"

There were four choices and here's the way the people voted:

Poor — 1
Average — 24
Good — 86
Excellent — 35

Following close behind this was, "What would you suggest to improve The Herald?"

This drew 90 ideas, some of which were brought up by a variety of people. Obviously, here is an area where we can dig in and do some spade work.

We are printing the results of the survey in several "takes", starting this week, on the front page of the second section.

Readers' comments run as they were stated. Some praise, some give hefty raps. We value the good and bad.

The girls noted them down and the editors have no idea who said what — and we don't care to know. All interviews were anonymous and the people invited to speak freely.

They did.

You'll realize this when you read the general remarks.

Joyce Randolph, John Martin Speak Vows

Lighted cathedral candelabra with clusters of stephanotis and palm foliage and baskets of white gladioli and pompons decorated the altar of the Tecumseh Friends Church March 27 for the wedding of Joyce E. Randolph and John W. Martin.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Randolph, 517 S. Pearl St., and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Martin of Jackson.

The Rev. Paul Brantingham performed the double ring ceremony assisted by the Rev. G. W. Miller of Michigan City.

Mrs. Brantingham presented an organ prelude of nuptial selections as Larry Snow and Charles Randolph, brother of the bride, seated the guests.

Mrs. Brantingham also accompanied the soloist, Mrs. William Craig of Wixom.

★

THE BRIDE was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore a floor-length gown of sheer organza and Chantilly lace fashioned with scalloped neckline and tapered sleeves.

The boffant tiered skirt was edged with scalloped lace and held at the center front and sides with fabric bows.

A crown outlined with pearls held her veil in place and she carried a cascade arrangement of white roses.

Mrs. Gary Martin of Jackson was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Carol Campbell and Carol Demey.

They wore identical gowns of aqua shantung with matching pill box hats.

Karen Green, flower girl, wore a floor-length dress of white shantung with aqua cummerbund and matching pill box hat.

MRS. JOHN W. MARTIN

Each attendant carried a bouquet of fuchsia carnations in crescent design, accented with fuchsia and violet ribbon.

★

GARY MARTIN served as best man for his brother and Brian Martin, a nephew, carried the rings on a satin pillow.

A reception for 250 guests was held in the social rooms of the church with Mr. and Mrs. George O. Meads, aunt and uncle of the bride, as hosts.

Wedding colors were carried out in the decor of the tables which were skirted with aqua with nylon overdrapes enhanced with violet ribbbon and clusters of stephanotis.

The five-tiered cake was topped with a miniature Bible and steps featuring the miniature bridal party. It was made by the mother of the bride.

Those assisting were Mrs. Robert Meads, Mrs. Lester Randolph, Mrs. Ray Campbell, Madeline Brugger, Sue Ann Hammack, Mrs. Ernest Hammack, Mrs. Charles Sinkey and Mrs. Marilyn Huber.

★

LINDA SINKEY registered the guests. Georgia and Gail Meads and Gloria Randolph, cousins of the bride, helped at the gift table.

The bride is a 1964 graduate of Tecumseh High School and attended the Elite Academy of Beauty Culture in Adrian.

Her husband is a 1961 graduate of Jackson High School and a graduate of Jackson Junior College. He attended Tri-State College, Angola, Ind.

The couple is living at 1004 Greenwood Ave., Jackson, since returning from a honeymoon.

The rehearsal dinner given by the groom's parents, was held at Cambridge Junction Inn.

5,000 Colored Eggs To Delight Children

Some 5,000 colored eggs will transform the Athletic Field into a fairyland for the annual Easter Egg Hunt at 1 p.m. Saturday, April 17.

The Eagles Lodge has ordered 3,600 eggs and plans on donations to complete the 5,000.

Earl Harrison, chairman, will welcome donations of money or eggs for the pleasure of Tecumsehland kiddies.

Prizes are awarded, in various age groups, to those finding the specially-marked eggs.

Children up to 10 years of age will participate in the non-profit making event.

In case of inclement weather, the hunt will be held at 4:30 p.m. Monday, April 19.

VOICE of THE HERALD

40 Years of Service

"We're not used to the idea that Dr. Marsh won't be here," said Marda Gene Duncan with a tear in her voice.

Marda Gene, a neighbor, patient and friend of Dr. Marsh, spoke for many area residents.

The doctor has come to the aid of so many, not just to administer to the physical needs.

Ministers, housewives and children have streamed to the basement office at the Marsh home on W. Logan St. with their problems for more than 40 years and the physician has quietly and frankly assuaged their panic and set people's world to "rights" again.

News of doctor's retirement stirred the memories of city residents. One caller remarked, "His father, the Rev. Marsh, married my parents 39 years ago and Dr: Marsh brought all of their children into the world."

Another spoke of Doctor's early morning rides on his horse by the pond with a beautiful honey colored cocker spaniel at heel.

High School football players are especially grateful to Dr. Marsh for the trophy he now presents annually to a THS gridder in honor of his late son, an outstanding athlete while at Tecumseh High School.

Precious to each individual is the memory of the wonderful friend Dr. Marsh has been to them over the years.

Best wishes of the community, served so long and faithfully, go with the "real good" doctor and his wife as they embark on a new phase in life together.

Wouldn't it be nice if an open house was held at the Community Center giving all of us an opportunity to meet with Dr. and Mrs. Marsh and bid them happy days in Colorado?

All Bids Rejected

Bids on an eight-inch sanitary sewer project along N. Union St. were rejected by Council Monday as too high.

City Manager Cal Zorn said an estimate ran $7,800, but the lowest bid was $19,769.

Councilmen agreed that many things had been rushed too much and it was decided new bids would be sought and extra time given contractors to do their figuring.

The line is slated to start at Pontiac Trail in Kerby Heights subdivision, run 1,270' to the city line, just beyond Paul's Trailer Court.

The eight-inch line would be gravity flow and take wastes north to a lift station, which in turn would pump south through a four-inch line to the existing city line.

Monday's action had no effect on the lift station and four-inch section, approved last week at a cost of $20,720.

When new bids are received, another public hearing will be set to discuss the eight-inch line and assessments for property owners.

Christian Living Is Based on Love

Jonathon Snow, a merchant from Royal Oak, spoke at the sixth annual Church Laymen's Banquet April 1 at the First Baptist Church and attended by 120.

Mr. Snow came as a substitute for Prof. Carl Hawkins of the University of Michigan Law School, who had entered the hospital unexpectedly that morning.

"Living the Christian Life" was the title of Mr. Snow's talk. He left no doubt that the Christian life is one of discipline.

"If not me, who? . . . If not now, when?" was one of the many thoughts he left with his listeners. In summary he said, "the essence of Christian living is love."

William Matteson of Wayne, sang two hymns, accompanied by R. C. Morrow, also of Wayne.

★

GROUP SINGING was led by Carl Lamb and accompanied by Dexter Bailey. The invocation was given by Orville Bishop and the benediction by the Rev. Donald Porteous.

Men from 21 different denominations were present to enjoy the program and roast beef dinner, prepared and served by the Ladies Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church.

Pat Meadows was master of ceremony.

The Kiwanis Club was recognized for having been present as a group for every one of the six annual Laymen's Banquets.

Barney Mensing Arrives Safely in San Diego

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mensing received word of the safe arrival of their son, Barney, in San Diego, Calif. in an unusual manner. A ham radio operator from Bridgman told them about it. Barney enlisted in the Marine. Mike Deaner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Deaner and Jerry Brietenwischer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Britenwischer have enlisted in the Navy. Mike is at Great Lakes and Jerry in San Diego.

Mrs. Holdridge Is Back in Town

Mrs. Arthur Holdridge returned in Thursday's snow storm by plane from San Diego, Calif., where she attended the graduation ceremonies of her son, Jerry, from basic Marine Corps training.

OBITUARIES

● MRS. JUSTINA BERKISH

CLINTON — Mrs. Justina Berkish, 83 years old, of Saline Township, died at a.m. April 6, at her home.

She had lived in the same location 40 years and had been in failing health for two years.

Mrs. Berkish was born Aug. 10, 1882, in Yugoslavia and married Victor Berkish in 1912 in that country and came to Detroit in 1916. She became a citizen in 1920.

The only survivor is her husband.

The funeral was held April 7 at Proctor Funeral Home. The body was cremated at Woodmere Cemetery in Detroit.

HOLLOWAY NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. James Bennington have learned of the birth of a son, Mathew James, to their brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sherman of Jackson. The child was born March 29.

Mrs. Carl Gritzmaker entertained 12 members of the Main St. Extension Club in her home March 30. The evening was spent knitting.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bower who were married March 20 have returned from a honeymoon trip through the Allegheny Mountains. They toured the Skyline Dr. and visited the Shenandoah National Park. They are now at home at 125 Burt St., Tecumseh.

Problem Referred to Board

Les Proctor, owner of a funeral home here, appealed Monday to Council for help in ironing out a problem.

City fathers referred him to the Board of Appeals, but listened intently as he explained the situation.

He is doing remodeling work on his establishment, but ran into a zoning question — the garage is less than two feet from the north property line.

Mr. Proctor hopes to make an addition, which would link the home to the garage and eliminate outside transfers.

★

HOWEVER, by so doing, the establishment would then be a single building and in violation of a zoning stipulation — too close to the property line.

A solution seems upcoming, however, with the moving of the Baptist Church parsonage about 100 yards onto the George French property along W. Pottawatamie St.

The church could then grant an easement right to the funeral home.

Speaker's $200 Fee Is Nudger

Dike Helms, Tecumseh's Michigan Week chairman, informed Council Monday that plans are rolling along with word awaited from Alma officials regarding mayor exchange arrangements.

The Jaycee Auxiliary will handle the annual banquet and Rotary plans a parade the day Alma's chief executive is to be a guest in Tecumseh.

Councilman Don Sunderland, in charge of city planning, on the annual week, asked plaintively, when Mr. Helms concluded, if anyone had suggestions for a banquet speaker.

Bud Guest had been an early choice, but his $200 fee nudged him into a non-contender.

Buys Hunt Home

Mrs. Barbara Carson of Occidental Rd. has purchased the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hunt in Tipton, moving there Saturday. The Carson home was purchased by the United Savings Bank for a future branch office.

Whelan Considers New Site

Whelan Implement Co. is considering erecting a new showroom and service building on the firm's west-end used equipment lot.

Whelan's has long been a downtown landmark on W. Logan St.

A major stumbling block on the project is the re-zoning of land south of the M-50 implement lot, from residential to commercial.

Owner Faye Whelan appeared before Council Monday and the idea was discussed with indications leaning in the direction that a change in zoning might be approved.

Council had earlier sought advice of a Detroit planning consultant firm.

Charles Laman of the company recommended that the commercial area be extended to the south by 226 feet, making a total of 630 feet from the center of Chicago Blvd.

Mr. Laman further suggested that land west of Occidental Hwy., now occupied by the Murray Day Farm, also be zoned commercial.

The Days recently sold their home to Paul's Trailer Sales Corp., and are moving from it this weekend.

James McDowell Attends Meeting on WMU Campus

Tecumseh Supt. James McDowell is attending a three-day conference at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo relating to the "New School Science and Mathematics Curricula."

Two hundred superintendents have been invited from Indiana, Michigan, Illinois and Ohio and the conference is supported by National Science Foundation funds.

The program is pitched directly at administrators rather than at the level of science and mathematics personnel.

Night Club Setting Will Greet Guests

The Tecumseh Senior High School Band will present a Pops Concert Friday from 8 to 9.30 p.m. in the gym.

Dubbed "The Best of Everything," the program will be a complete new and different experience for the people in this area — including refreshments.

The public is welcome to come at any time throughout the show in a night club setting.

Waitresses will serve guests at tables all evening and the band will put on a continuous show from start to finish.

Marches, beguines, Dixieland, blues and popular music are on the musical menu.

Prospects Are Good

It should be a good season for Tecumseh High's track squad.

Coach Tom Fagan's 1964 crew notched six wins in Huron League dual meets, while losing but one and capturing the annual league session. Several of his lads are back.

Leading the pack is senior Steve Derby, who holds three school records:

- High jump, 5'8"
- 120-yard high hurdles, 15 seconds flat
- 180-yard low hurdles, 20 seconds flat.

In addition, Steve helped the 880-yard relay foursome establish another THS mark, 1:33.6.

Steve will anchor this year's 880 quartet, which includes Tim Collins, Jim Morse and Lee Hannibal. Tim helped set the 880-relay record last season and also tied a THS mark in the 100-yard dash, 10.3, which was established in 1960 by Roger Mead.

★

MIKE SHARP is another key man, holding a school record for the mile at 4:42.2. In addition to the mile run, he'll run anchor with the mile relay unit of Bill Chandler, Roger Young and Kirk Lucas.

Roger is a sophomore transfer from Sacred Heart Seminary in Detroit and is regarded by his coach as "promising in all sprints."

The coach points out that Jim Biscupski, Steve Ruhl and John Bolden as promising distance men. All will probably run the mile, along with Mike.

Bill Bartenslager should help in the hurdles and sprints.

★

HALF MILERS will include Rusty O'Neill, a senior transfer from Adrian Catholic Central; Randy Work and Mark Blatchford.

In the 440-yard dash, Coach Fagan will use Chandler, Terry Bates, Doug Goldsberry and Lucas.

Doug's back in action following a one-year layoff due to an injured knee, will also be pole vaulting, along with Kirk.

★

Another record-holder is Bill Thomas, a senior, who has flipped the shot 48'6" and should pace the team in field events.

A sophomore, Joe Vargo, has been reaching 40 feet in the shot and should prove a good No. 2 man.

Junior Doug Gillies is expected to help in high jumping, while Collins, Morse and Fred Freeman are going in the 220-yard dashes.

★

THE SQUAD started conditioning work six weeks ago, dashing around Herrick Park and River Acres subdivisions.

In recent days, a 440-yard straight-away was measured along River Acres Dr., with groups of six each sprinting one way, then jogging back to do it all over again.

The coach said on-coming traffic had good visibility in the area and there was no danger of mishaps—although residents and drivers were probably wondering what the dashing up and down was all about.

They'd understand if they saw the Indian oval, under snow, ice and water until this week.

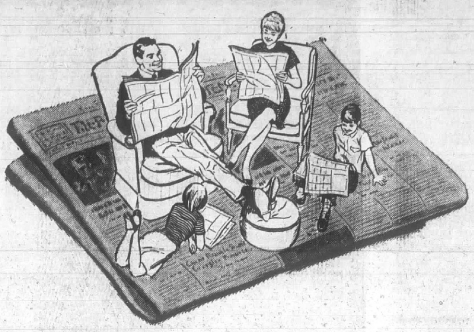
What Do Readers of The Herald Think of Their Hometown Weekly?



Beginning this week, The Herald will present a series of reports on a ecent readership survey taken throughout the paper's circulation area. Among items covered in the first installment are subscriber reaction to the twice-a-week schedule, suggestions for improvements and some general comments on the over-all feeling toward the weekly.

The statements are presented exactly as they were given to the interviewers, who were instructed to note down every comment offered by the people they visited.

DID YOU enjoy the Monday editions?

YES

(Numeral before comments indicates number of times this expression was made to interviewers.)

9 — had time to read paper thoroughly.

2 — Enjoyed reading local news more often.

Monday editions made it seem like more was happening.

4 — Enjoyed the fine display of pictures, and little side-line stories that didn't appear as much in one issue a week.

A growing city should have more coverage than just once a week.

Keeps you up-to-date on local news.

2 — Good source of information and entertainment.

5 — News fresher.

3 — Nice to have two papers a week.

2 — Twice a week was double pleasure.

4 — Enjoyed getting news and sports sooner.

3 — The more papers, the better.

Two editions a week contained a lot of good ads.

Better sports coverage.

Liked extended coverage.

Liked them because daughter-in-law worked on these special editions.

Was following Balain Town-ship dispute.

It provided something to read on Mondays.

"We just like to read papers." (They get 5)

NO

Never read any Monday issues. Old news.

2 — Didn't have time to read two editions a week.

15 — Didn't contain enough to make it worthwhile reading.

6 — Too much duplication.

Monday edition was a poor excuse for a newspaper.

Not enough news.

6 — Would rather read it all on Thursday.

Looks forward to ONE paper a week.

4 — Already get other dailies one or more — (Telegram, Free Press, Blade, etc.)

2 — Just as soon have a bigger paper once a week.

Am still reading Sunday papers on Monday.

More ads than reading material.

Not as good as Thursday's.

Don't see how it can pay.

Too much other reading and activities going on.

Once a week is enough.

Didn't realize Monday editions were out.

4 — Don't care one way or another.

★

HOW OFTEN would you like to see the Herald published?

Would enjoy a second daily in the county.

Twice to make them work harder.

More than once if town was bigger and national and international news was included.

Twice if it contained important news.

Once a week is fine.

There's more news with only one paper a week.

News too old for only once a week.

Twice a week good for business.

Twice a week really needs a longer trial period.

★

WHAT WOULD you suggest to improve The Herald?

More publicity on local events (not card parties!)

5 — Many articles too late; they're past history.

Too large in size.

3 — Editorials too personal at times; not objective.

Ought to get someone new to write letters to the editor.

2 — Make it a daily newspaper.

Lincoln is unfriendly.

It's too hard to find the article that goes with a picture.

Put in news of other schools besides St. Elizabeth's and Patterson.

4 — Misspelled words and mixed-up names are distracting and irritating. Their vocabulary is atrocious.

4 — Keep it once a week.

Local business section could be omitted.

More of Tecumseh's history (in story form).

2 — More coverage of, and cooperation with clubs.

Poor job of printing.

News should be printed as written.

A person had trouble putting in ads.

3 — Same consideration should be given to all churches.

More By-Gone Years.

Sports stories are a little biased.

3 — More coverage on track, baseball and golf.

More "You Told Us".

Receive it earlier and have it delivered (in town).

More stories for juniors.

More room for non-profit organiations (UNICEF, etc.)

Editors should be less opinionated.

Would enjoy interviews with coaches and a bigger sports page.

3 — Put recipes back in, along with short story on the person.

Would make a good daily if it carried world and national news.

4 — Get a correspondent back for Britton — older people know more of what's happening.

4 — Rural route delivery is often late.

Husband de[illegible]y personal items.

Inconvenient to get news to Journalism Class (Britton).

2 — Would rather be called for news than take it in to Journalism Class (Britton).

Britton articles scattered around too much.

More local news.

7 — Accuracy needs improving — better proofreading.

2 — A TV guide.

Emphasize IMPORTANT articles — (too many wasteful articles).

3 — Too much Tecumseh Players.

5 — Biased on reporting.

Full page for Tipton.

Paper covers up some of "small town dirty politics".

Paper should contain more farm news since Lenawee County is one of the richest farm counties in the state.

2 — Notices from outlying areas should be published (Tipton).

2 — Might as well be called Catholic Herald. (No prejudice against catholics, just that they're overemphasied as a religious group.)

5 — Paper must represent the whole area, and this is no longer a Republican area.

Hire more professional help.

2 — More recognition and pictures of Tecumseh teen-agers.

Could use space to better advantage.

Editors quite biased and sarcastic at times.

Editors too prejudiced on religion and politics.

More news on special events (weddings, receptions, clubs, etc.).

Pictures not clear.

Get tired of hearing about the Hunts.

Personal news too amateur.

2 — Put related events all in same spot. (sports)

Headlines often don't rate big billing.

"You Told Us" and other gossip shouldn't receive as much room as education and City Council news.

More support to education.

Riordan acts too busy toward people[illegible]ations.

More reporting of people.

More church write-ups.

More police coverage.

More news of what teen-agers in Tecumseh do for the community.

Refrain from using phrase "Tecumsehland."

Paper too personalized — too much Rio[illegible]an — what happened to Lincoln?

Don't put ad for Meader and editorial for Vivian in same paper.

Print articles catering to the average person.

4 — Get information correct before printing it.

More organization.

I don't like the editor. (Didn't say which one.)

Editor is entitled to own opinion, but goes too far sometimes.

More home improvement or decorating ideas.

Give adequate information with pictures.

Have complete story before publishing.

More critical stand on local issues.

More analytical reports on board meetings, police, fire, etc.

Let people in town know what's going on.

Should give bylines on stories and pictures. (Give credit where due).

2 — Print both sides of story.

Many letters sent are never printed.

Many school articles aren't published.

2 — Trouble getting club news in. (1—Exchange Club).

"Behind Page One" is bad when limited to a few people.

It's OK for editorials to be opinated, but not other controversial articles.

More reports on Teen Club.

Get right pictures with right names.

Better wedding write-ups.

It's OK.

Good pictures.

Not really interested.

2 — Nothing.

They do a fairly good job.

Thorough, objective.

Fine the way it is.

Really good small-town newspaper.

Can see no need for improvement.

★

GENERAL Remarks:

3 — The paper has been improved.

3 — Newcomers, a good addition.

Like straightforwardness of the paper.

Good local items.

Recreation department good.

As Riordan kids grow up, paper mysteriously becomes interested in what they're in. And right now real interested in Boy Scouts — before son was in them people never could read or hear anything about the Scouts.

"Behind Page One", "You Told Me", and church news well-covered.

Especially like composition of paper and pictures.

Likes letters to editor.

Especially enjoy "Thru My Window", and "Behind Page One".

Two sections are better than three.

Excellent cooperation.

Good paper for price and what you get.

Very impartial.

3 — Nice paper.

4 — Real good weekly paper.

6 — Good sports coverage.

Good write-up on Marda Gene.

Here and There

By DELAPHENE SHELTON

Riding one's hobby while on a trip can double the enjoyment of a motoring vacation.

Geneology, rock hounding, collecting, birdwatching and photography are all avocations which may be furthered while one tours the country.

My husband and I have been cultivating our family trees. A trip two years ago in search of further information and as a type of pilgrimage included stops at Jamestown, Yorktown and Hanover Courthouse, Va. (At the latter place we were entertained for an hour in the living room of a plantation home where Patrick Henry had married Sarah Shelton.)

We followed the Wilderness Trail through Cumberland Gap and visited Dansville, Herrodsburg and Frankfort, Ky. where we spent a morning in the archives of the Old State House.

★

LAST YEAR'S trip west took us, as part of our geneology project, to a little rural graveyard near Burden, Kans., to Boot Hill in "Old Dodge," as Dodge City, Kans. is known to TV viewers, and to Cimarron, Kans.

Antique collectors find it hard to pass up a single shop—which makes a tour of the New England States hazardous on a mere two-weeks with pay type of vacation!

Most antiques fanciers find helpful the publications which list shops throughout the country. Similar books will help the rockhound who is anxious to supplement his collection with rocks and fossils of other regions of the country.

And of course no self-respecting rock hound would think of taking his car out of the yard without his picks stowed under the seat. Most times we even carry a 12-pound maul and a chisel. Swapping material may come in handy, too.

★

WE DABBLE in antiques, stamp and coin collecting in a very minor fashion but we have found it possible to pick up some interesting coins in various places just by watching the change given to us as we shop.

Silver dollars are rather scarce in Tecumseh,and, but buy a loaf of bread in Las Vegas, Nev. and the change will weigh almost as much as the purchase!

Coins from the old San Francisco mint aren't seen too often around here but throughout the west they turn up frequently.

Going to Baltimore? Your coin-collecting host will appreciate the gift of a Kennedy half-dollar. They're really scarce there where most larger coins come in quarters, handy to feed the slot machines.

★

ONE OF OUR most happy memories of a vacation in Gatlinburg, Tenn. is the recollection of the mockingbird which serenaded us nightly.

Pocket-size books identifying various flora and fauna are helpful and add to the fun. Who wants to drive half a day beside roads riotous with flowers and not know what they are?

Of course "tourist" and "photographer" are synonymous. The wise cameraman realizes he must use his exposure meter more diligently in strange surroundings. The clarity of the atmosphere in desert regions and the reflection of sand and water can easily cause over-exposure of negatives and ruin what would otherwise be beautiful photographs.

★

THE PHOTOGRAPHER need not be limited to pictorial subjects. By the time our youngest child was six years old he had visited in 26 states, and photographs of him standing by border-line signs make it possible for him to prove it.

Collections of photographs of state capitol buildings are interesting as are pictures of famous statues.

Attending services in churches of other denominations can make a Sunday visit to a strange city rewarding. One's home pastor would appreciate the bulletin more than a post card.

Museums, institutes and zoos have much to offer the tourist who has budgeted his time to include something other than tearing through the countryside.

35 Experts To Check Accidents

Thirty-five traffic safety experts from southeastern Michigan will meet Thursday in Adrian to discuss Lenawee County road problems and highway accident prevention.

Among county representatives will be Sheriff Richard Germond, Undersheriff Arthur Kerr and Henry Martis, Michigan State Highway Department representative at Adrian.

They will be attending the Southeastern Michigan conference on safety sponsored by Automobile Club of Michigan in cooperation with the Michigan State Highway Department, Michigan Sheriffs' Association and County Road Commission.

The one-day event to be attended by safety officials from Monroe, Washtenaw, Lenawee and Jackson Counties will be held at Lenawee Country Club.

It will deal with problems on county and secondary roads and is the last in a series of six conferences held throughout the state.

Major topic at the conference will be ran-off-the-road type of accidents, often referred to as single car crashes.

Soviet Women Are Showing New Wants

By MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — Mrs. Betty Waldin, recently returned from two years' employment in the U. S. Dispersing Office, Department of State in Moscow, has found Russian women demanding more and more of the niceties of life Americans consider essential.

"They are no longer satisfied with dowdy clothes and poor cosmetics," she said during an interview while visiting her mother, Mrs. Rosamond Jenkins, of Clinton. Mrs. Waldin is the former Betty Hoelzer.

She grew up in Clinton and returns here often to visit her mother between two-year assignments to such exotic sounding places as Baghdad, Iraq, and Santiago, Chili. She began working with the State Department in 1957.

Last week she addressed meetings of the Golden Age Club and the Clinton Rotary Club and spoke also to students at the Clinton Elementary School.

★

DESCRIBING the conditions which prevail for employees of the U. S. State Department in Moscow, she said, employees are assigned to U. S. Government living quarters. All their food and supplies are available through U. S. commissaries.

Russian foods may be purchased from markets, she said, but the fresh fruits and vegetables are confined to those grown in the USSR, the variety available is limited, because the climate is so cold.

By far, the best quality fresh produce is offered for sale by farmers who are permitted by the State to grow produce on one or two-acre plots and to sell it in the city.

Other large markets sell quantities of poorer quality produce which is raised on the collective farms.

Americans miss most in Russia, the good old corner drug store and all of the ordinary personal creature comforts which are available there, Mrs. Waldin recalled. There are pharmacies for medicinal needs, but such things as face tissues don't exist, and all paper products are in short supply, she added.

★

THE HIGHLIGHTS of any visit to Moscow is the entertainment which is available, she said.

Moscow residents queue up for seats at the theaters for performances of the ballet, opera, circus, traveling artists and sporting events.

"There are no vacant seats," she said. Prices range from an equivalent of 25c to $3.50. It is not unusual for a Russian family to attend the theater two or three times a week.

★

IN ORDER to attend such a performance, which usually lasts four hours, one must be prepared to stand in line as much as three hours awaiting admission.

Cafeteria-type counters provide refreshments during the two or three intermissions.

There would be no public dining rooms open when the entertainment is over — nor is there time to dine out before a performance, so one plans to do this on another evening.

"While dining in a hotel in Moscow, you will be startled," she said, "to have the waiter seat other guests at your table, even when two women are dining together." "We soon learned to accept this custom," Mrs. Waldin said, "since it is almost the only time one can have a conversation with Russians."

Some Russian foods are good, she said, especially the breads and pastries.

Service in the retaurants, she said, is somewhat undependable and one can never be sure that good food will be available again in a place where one might have had a fine meal just the week before. Because of the requirement of the State Department that its employees must refrain from any action which might be used by the Russians to compromise their position there, the Americans were not allowed to visit any private homes, except for diplomatic receptions.

★

TO TRAVEL beyond 25 miles from Moscow, one must submit to the Russians a formal request in writing 48 hours in advance.

MRS. BETTY WALDIN

One's destination, exact times of departure and arrival and mode of travel must be stated.

One may not receive approval for the trip until almost time to leave, she said. Sometimes travelers get to the airport, with approval, only to be told that their 'plane has left' — or that the area to be visited is not 'open to visitors' or some other obviously contrived excuse.

This can be most disconcerting, especially if one has prepared for a 10-day trip somewhere.

Mrs. Waldin was able to spend a few days in Sochi, a resort on the Black Sea. She found the people there much more friendly than in Moscow.

In the Russian Orthodox churches many very old people can be seen sitting — often for the entire day — with a small sack containing food which they munch on from time to time.

It is deeply moving, she said, to see the old grandmothers leading a small preschool child around the beautifully ornate church explaining the religious symbols to them. Almost no middle-aged persons are seen in the churches — and no youth.

★

MRS. WALDIN mentioned the unusual features of the Russian graveyards where, on each grave, a photograph sometimes almost life-size and frequently of the deceased person in his youth, is placed in a permanent frame. Small garden-type borders are fashioned around each grave and a small bench is placed where members of the family can come to spend the day.

The Russians are eager to learn about Americans and all types of American exhibits, scientific, medical or cultural are crowded by Russian visitors.

Photographs, books, magazines or brochures disappear as if by magic from these exhibits, she said.

Mrs. Waldin suggested that it is important that we continue to promote every kind of exchange program with the Russians.

"They are becoming increasingly aware of Americans with the advent of so many tourists," she said.

Evidence of the new look in Russia can be seen on the faces of Russian women who are, in the last few years, becoming much more style conscious. "From just such small beginnings, the capitalist ways are creeping into the Russian way of life," Mrs. Waldin concluded.

Mrs. Waldin left Saturday to visit in Florida for two weeks. She will return to Clinton at Easter and will leave May 1 for a new assignment in Amman, Jordan.

Methodist Women Learn of Problems in Translating Bible

CLINTON — Mrs. Robert Beadle, a former resident of Ghana, West Africa, addressed a gathering of Methodist Church women and several guests from the Macon Methodist Church at a Silver Tea, March 29.

Dede Hannah Circle was host for the program. Mrs. Thomas Odell, the president, welcomed the guests.

Mrs. Beadle and her husband and three children spent 18 months in Ghana, West Africa with the Wycliffe Bible Translators, an interdenominational group. The Beadles served in an executive capacity, not as linguists, but they did learn the language.

Mrs. Beadle described the difficulties encountered in translating the native language, much of which had never been written, into Bible form for the natives.

Mrs. Gordon Gove, Mrs. Martin Scott and Mrs. Paul Hawkins comprised a vocal trio, and a girls' vocal quartet included Dede Meyers, Kay Harrison, April Miller and Iva Brooks sang, accompanied by Mrs. Frank Allen.

Mrs. Hazel Thompson and Mrs. George Kinney presided at the tea table.

Articles brought from Africa by Mrs. Beadle were on display during the social hour.

The family has lived in Clinton for six months. Mr. Beadle is a trooper with the Clinton State Police.

CLINTON — A new member, Mrs. Robert Jones, was initiated into the Golden Rod Chapter, OES at the meeting April 1.

Mrs. Robert Weinberg was the pro-tem candidate.

The chapter will entertain at a Friendship Night program at 8 p.m. April 15 in the Masonic Hall.

Mrs. Oley Mahrle and Mrs. William Stout served refreshments from a table decorated with an Easter centerpiece.

Six Seek Funds for Aten Cemetery

CLINTON — Six persons, interested in re-forming the Aten Cemetery Association, were assured at the annual meeting Saturday of the Clinton Township Board, that it will consider, after certain legal requirements are met, allocating funds to help keep up the premises.

The cemetery is on Tecumseh-Macon Rd., in the southeast corner of the township. The delegation was advised to secure legal counsel.

In other business the board:

► Set a budget at $32,200, one per cent of the assessed valuation.

► adopted a pay schedule for township officers and board members.

► Agreed to allocate $100 annually for the Clinton High School Band with the stipulation the band would take part in the Memorial Day parade.

★

THE PAY SCHEDULE includes these salaries and fees: Supervisor, $200 monthly; clerk, $100 monthly; deputy clerk, $10 monthly; treasurer, 1 per cent of tax roll plus all delinquent tax penalties; all board, members, $10 for each meeting attended; township fire board members, $10, each meeting attended.

Decision to assist the band was made after a committee of three members of the Clinton Band Boosters Club requested financial assistance to help purchase new uniforms.

Regular meetings of the board will be held at 7:15 p.m. on the first Monday of each month in the Clinton Township Library.

Attending Saturday's meeting were Robert Braden, Allen Brooks, Mrs. Agnes Geiger, Thomas Pence and Edward Hulett.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

THE SPARROWS WHO SING

This is the time of year when each day a new voice is added to the early morning bird chorus. The full complement of songsters has not yet arrived but those currently in residence are working hard and getting in shape.

Their rehearsals are delightful to hear. Chirps, cheeps, whistles, coos, trills, warbles and occasionally an out - of - tune squawk melodiously blended together.

As usual the cardinals have the lead but again, and also as usual, they are backed up by other extremely-talented singers.

This serenading of the early spring morning is a greatly-looked-forward-to treat which I am sure everyone, whether bird lover or not, enjoys. There is something about their happy songs which gets the day off to a good start. A short time back, when we were mired in the discouraging mountains of snow, snow, snow, the bird chorus bespoke of the spring which is coming and thus made the dreary days more bearable.

★

ALTHOUGH we are nearing the best singing season of the year, we were not completely without bird music during the winter. Almost every ray of sunshine, which broke through to brighten an otherwise dreary winter-scape, was greeted by the happy trilling of our song sparrow. I knew exactly how he felt; silently I joined him in his joyous song of thanksgiving.

How to describe this little singer's refrain has me stumped. It is a marvelous thing to hear anytime, but during the cold weather months, when there is practically no other bird music, it is especially welcome. Technically, it consists of several notes on the same pitch followed by a squeaky trill — but these words make nothing out of sounds which are really very pretty.

Thoreau heard, in the song sparrows' singing, lyrics something like, "Maids! maids! maids! hang up your teakettel - ettle - ettle!" Well, I think I will just say that all of us thrilled to the little sparrow's song.

★

OF COURSE, he had us a bit baffled at times, too. Much as we enjoyed listening, we wanted to 'watch and hear', that was the trouble. He wasn't always easy to see. Although these chunky little sparrows are incorrigible ground feeders, the stage they prefer for their singing performances is usually elevated, the top of a small bush or something similar. To make a long story short, there was a great deal of rushing from window to window and twirling my bed about but the reward of spotting the singer was always worth the trouble.

These are cute characters, small and round. Certain birds, black-caped chick - a - dees and slate-colored juncos, always trigger the same thought — wouldn't they be fun to hold cupped in my hand? To the list of cuddly birds must be added the song sparrows — they look so soft.

Color-wise they are a mass of stripes, their backs are brown on brown and their whole fronts are brown dotted stripes on tan. Most distinct is the stick pin dot at the base of the throat, or as is the case with one of our song sparrows, the three dots at the base of the throat. It is fun to catch the birds in their singing posture. They puff up, throw their heads back and let go. A happy singer and a happy sight to see.

So it is that although the stage is now being set for the large full-blown spring time bird chorus, we will long treasure the many winter days which were highlighted by the sparrows who sing.

Addison Products Purchases Garland, Texas Stove Firm

Addison Products Co. has purchased the operating assets of Dearborn Stove Co. in Garland, Texas.

Becoming effective April 1, the acquisition was announced by V. C. Knight, Addison Products board chairman and president.

The Texas facility manufactures vented and unvented gas-fired space heaters and circulators, residential gas-fired furnaces and evaporative coolers, which it has been marketing through a network of more than 3,000 dealers.

With plants in Addison and Jonesville, Addison Products is a producer of room air conditioners, unitary air conditioners, light commercial air conditioning equipment and dehumidifiers for OEM accounts.

In the past few years it has marketed commercial air conditioning products under its own name. A subsidiary, Weather-King, Inc., produces air conditioning equipment in Orlando, Fla.

Present management of Dearborn Stove Co. will continue to operate the 240,000-sq.-ft. completely air conditioned plant near Dallas, which employs 250 people.

Jerry Hebb Hillsdale Letterman

Jerry Hebb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hebb of 516 West Chicago Blvd., completed a successful first season as a Hillsdale College basketballer by winning his first varsity letter. The 6-4 inch freshman forward came on strong in the second half of the season, hitting consistently in double figures. He meshed 190 points for the year and showed his deadly shooting ability, though tending to be conservative.

Coach Rod Halstad was impressed with Hebb's ability to learn. "Jerry is counted on to do great things next season as Hillsdale's basketball program continues to improve," Coach Halstad said.

"If Jerry will shoot more and become more aggressive on offense, he should become a real threat," he added. "His rebounding and defense also showed constant improvement as he helped the Dales to a vastly improved record."

Halstad is hoping that with experience Hebb can rack up the same record he compiled at Tecumseh High School.

Rep. Conlin served as chairman of the Government Reorganization Committee during the last two years.

Camp o' Hills Improvements Costing $125,000

Directors of Irish Hills Girl Scout Council have voted approval of a five-year improvement and redevelopment program for Camp o' the Hills at nearby Wamplers Lake.

A special committee drafted plans for the project in 1963 at an estimated cost of $125,000.

Several present camp facilities will be retained, others will be new. A five-room cabin-style caretaker's house, now under construction, will be completed this spring.

Year-around operation of the camp will be possible under the many changes to be made throughout the 109-acre area.

The council, which includes all of Lenawee, Jackson and Hillsdale counties and the City of Albion, now has a membership of approximately 4,000 girls between the ages of 7 and 17 years.

Membership by 1970 will top 6,000 by present estimates.

★

PER CAPITA area quotas to meet the cost of the program are:

- ► Lenawee County — $27,000
- ► Jackson County — $80,000
- ► Hillsdale County — $13,000
- ► Albion — $5,000.

Donations exceeding $50,000 have been pledged with the proviso that $10,000 or more can be raised in the Council area, according to the directors.

Fund solicitation will be made in the Lenawee, Hillsdale and Albion areas first.

After June, permission to solicit donations in Jackson County will be sought from the United Community Services.

★

THE CAMP, started in 1928, has been maintained and operated with money received through calendar and cookie sales.

Plans call for three complete 32-girl troop units and one 32-girl primitive-type unit, improved or new administrative facilities and five troop camping lodges.

Each troop unit would cost $15,900 and would have all-season troop houses, nine tent platforms and standard tents, a wash shelter and pit-type latrine.

The units would be widely separated.

Other improvements would include:

- ► New health center, $7,000
- ► Improved adult staff housing, $4,000
- ► A larger hot shower facility, $10,000
- ► Improved dining hall, $30,000

★

THE RE - DEVELOPMENT plans were worked out by a committee made up of R. G. Patrick, chairman; E. C. Hansen, architect; M. J. Hungerford, Jr., contractor, C. W. Ferguson and Francis Metz, all of Jackson County; Marlin Duryea and H. K. Slade, Hillsdale County, and F. W. Morse and J. Fortunato, Lenawee County.

R. W. Hazecamp, Chicago land planner, who made a survey of the camp area in 1963, recommended many of the proposed changes.

The committee also was guided by contents of a book, "Camp Site Development", prepared by Julian H. Solomon, member of the Camping Division, National Girl Scout Headquarters.

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITORS:

The Pledge of Allegiance speaks of "one nation under God indivisible," but, so it seems, this phrase setting forth the noblest of unity, that of all citizens in brotherhood with each other under the fatherhood of God, has lost its meaning for many Americans.

It is easy for us in the North to sit back and fatuously agree to this lack of brotherhood among Southern white American when we recall the fatal beating received by Rev. Reeb of Boston and the sniper-slaying of Mrs. Joseph Liuzzo of Detroit recently. But that's in the South; the Southerners just aren't enlightened. So we cluck quietly to ourselves and maybe contribute a dollar or two to the NAACP to salve our consciences. Then we righteously go back to the business of withholding brotherhood from our own fellow men each day.

★

We LAUGH at, encourage, and even tell the stories about the Polack, the dumb Dutchman, the Shylock Jew, the Wop. We, the decent, upstanding, and above all, enlightened, citizens of Tecumseh, are outraged by the events in Selma, Alabama. Yet, I've heard these same enlightened people, property owners in Tecumseh, voice concern over the possible influx of "Detroit nigger trash" when the GM and Stauffer plants are completed. Is this the example we Tecumseh, Michigan, citizens wish to exhibit to the Southern whites whom we castigate for their unenlightened attitudes? Are we really loyal to "one nation under God indivisible" when we indignantly voice concern over the value of our precious property, the devaluation of which occurs only in our bigoted minds? Are we really loyal when we buy Confederate flags as souvenirs and then have the effrontery to display them as I saw one displayed Sunday morning on the car of a good Christian family in Tecumseh?

Many will argue that the stories are told in fun, that souvenir symbols are harmless. And, of course, the swastika flown a few weeks ago over Patterson School was only a prank.

★

MILLIONS OF PEOPLE died, some of them your relatives and mine, because the entire nation of Germany and the leaders of the so-called Free West kept quiet and tried to pacify a mad man by capitulating time after time between 1933 and 1938. The triumph of doctrines of racial hatred was possible because not enough people dared to defy what they knew was morally wrong in time to do any good. The twisted cross that was the swastika won by default because not enough of the decent, upstanding citiens of Europe and the world spoke out.

Can we afford to take a chance on laughing off Tecumseh's fliers of a souvenir Confederate flag, a swastika raised over an elementary school as a prank, the harmless ethnic joke? Do we dare?

These are moral as well as patriotic questions which we as adults must answer. We dare not allow our minds to become so hardened that we don't recognize the insidiousness of evil when we see it. We must teach our children the preceptsof our freedom and the responsibility which goes with those freedoms.

Only then will they be able to answer the same questions for themselves.

★

PRESIDENT KENNEDY said in an address to the nation on June 11, 1963: "We face, therefore, a moral crisis as a country and as a people. It cannot be met by repressive police action . . . It cannot be quieted by token moves or talk. It is a time to act . . . above all, in all of our daily lives."

God grant that we have the moral courage to examine our beliefs honestly and then act in support of that which is right. Unless we do, the United States cannot endure as "one nation under God indivisible." A unified nation is impossible when its citizens are split into divisive camps of sectional, ethnic, and racial hatred.

A Tecumseh resident.

Tornado Lashes Area North of Tecumseh

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

8 PAGES TORNADO PICTURES

Damage to Farms, Livestock, Homes, and Cars Will Top $1 Million

By TOM RIORDAN

An area northwest of Tecumseh felt the full brunt of Sunday night's tornado.

The twister seemed to touch down at the Martin Hally farm on Staib Rd., about two miles west of Tecumseh-Clinton Rd. No one was injured in the home as the roof was stripped off.

The Hally barns were leveled and approximately half of the 25 Holstein milk cows were killed. The surviving animals were taken to the Clarence Heimerdinger dairy farm near Clinton. One of 11 Hally heifers was lost, while all five calves lived, although they were reported in poor condition.

Mr. Hally's four tractors and his pickup truck were buried in debris. He was aided by 12 neighbors. Mr. Hally's son, Roger, and Norm Bless of the County agriculture office arrived to help about midnight.

Dead animals were being removed by a fertilizer firm, but getting to them was a strenuous job.

Two of the Hally cows were saved by a peaked roof of one building, which was blown over them. An opening was sawed through the shingles to release the badly-frightened animals. One dashed to the far end of the barn yard, the other lay quivering among bales of hay.

Mr. Hally said the tornado hit at 8:05 from the northwest, coming so suddenly the family had no chance to get into the basement.

☆

FROM THE HALLY FARM, the twister continued east along the roadway, leveling a cement block storage building at the James Howard farm, then crushing the barn at the Ed Solarski place.

Next in line was the two-story William C. Rader home. Three of the four Rader children were sleeping upstairs as the roof was torn off and hurled into the buildings beyond.

It flipped the Rader car over and pinned a horse in tumbling timbers. The animal later had to be shot. A pig survived.

The worst was still to come as the twister completely cut through the home of Felipe Valdez, completely destroying it. A fire quickly broke out, adding to the horror and confusion.

Mr. and Mrs. Valdez and their six children raced to a neighbor's home, that of Dorothy Frolich, who lives across Staib Rd. A tree had fallen on the Frolich home and a shed carried to the River Raisin, about 75 yards away. However, the home was substantially saved.

Cyril Frolich first went to the Rader home and found that the children had survived the blast to their home. A school bus in the road had been pushed into the yard.

Then Mr. Frolich went to what remained of a small home next to the Valdez place. It was occupied by Mrs. Gregoria Alaniz. She miraculously escaped with a small cut on one leg after being trapped in a rollaway bed, which had snapped into an upright position and held her captive nearly 30 minutes.

☆

THE TWISTER RACED across Newburg Rd., slammed into the home occupied by Bob Livernois and his son, Bob Jr., 16. Only a few hours earlier Mrs. Livernois had been admitted to Herrick Memorial Hospital for X-rays.

The Livernois structure was a total loss, an insurance man told its owner Robert P. Rupert, Sr., 613 Murray Dr., who valued it at $10,500.

While Mr. Rupert looked over the damage, he noted

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

A strange remembrance crossed my mind as I stumbled, almost mechanically, through debris Monday, taking picture after picture.

It was a dream — probably everyone has had the same one —walking down a street and suddenly discovering pieces of money laying about.

The more you pick up, the more you find — and it seems to be endless.

That's the way the picture possibilities were. There were literally hundreds. Fantastic stories went with each one.

My territory covered the area north and west of town. At the same time, out in Tipton, Dorothy Grigg and Delaphene Shelton were gathering stories and pictures.

After the first 30 minutes, it was apparent we never were going to get everything, but we rushed on from place to place, hoping to do the best that was physically possible.

What impressed most was the attitude of the victims. It was tremendous, there was little griping. Instead, folks kept repeating, they were lucky to be alive.

Obviously, plans for this edition, including another segment on the recent readership survey, a lengthy article on the Watershed program and various pictures were scattered as unceremoniously as the tornado ripped the area.

We'll try to get back on the track by next week, although it's going to be difficult.

BOOKS SCATTERED — Mrs. Lloyd Stites, 1964 Russell Rd., and Mrs. Richard Eisenminger, 9145 Tipton Hwy., examine one of many books found in the debris of the Franklin Township Hall, which was leveled by Sunday night's tornado in Tipton. The women are standing before the ruins of the Tipton Grange Hall. This weeks edition of The Herald contains an eight-page pictorial supplement, which shows the extent of the disaster in the Tipton and Clinton-Macon areas.

Homes in Tipton Leveled by Twister

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Tipton residents were totally unprepared for the disastrous tornado that struck and nearly devastated their village Sunday evening about 8 p.m.

Many couples had gone bowling, leaving their young teenage children in charge.

Fortunately the electric power failed at 7:50 p.m., reducing the threat of fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Allen had heard tornado warnings over the radio and said that she didn't want the town young people to go bowling knowing that many little folk would be left alone.

Little did she know what was ahead.

She said that the terrific winds were preceded by a stillness and the atmosphere was "real hot," then there was "awful noise" and the breaking of glass.

"We didn't even hear the trees fall. It only lasted two, maybe three minutes at the most."

Trees fell six feet from the room where Mr. Allen is bedfast. A huge beam came through the bathroom wall, stopping just before it entered the partition to his bedroom.

Fortunately, the Allens have coal heat and are able to keep warm even though many windows in their home are out.

One hundred cans of honey — about three tons — kept the new $5,000 truck the Allens use in their honey business from being blown over. It was extensively damaged on the left and rear sides.

There was no phone service or electricity in the village.

☆

AT LEAST THREE HOMES in the town itself were being vacated Monday. A giant hole in the roof of the Lee Griffin residence allowed torrential rains to ruin much of their belongings and make their house uninhabitable.

Mr. and Mrs. Burdell Williams and family, who rent a home from Llewlyn Treat, will move as will the Jerry Mungers with their baby, Michael.

Elaine Williams, 17, who will graduate from Tecumseh High School this June, was heartsick when she saw her room, which she recently had completely redecorated.

Strangely enough her electric blanket had been torn from the bed and was found on the side lawn. Miss Williams was in Tecumseh during the disaster.

Only the kitchen of the Williams home had been left intact and the wind snatched a kerosene lamp, a candle and a pan of water drawn for emergency use, from the table and hurled it through the window. Household goods were covered by insurance.

A two story barn, 20'x35'x40, behind the Williams residence, used for storage, was smashed flat. The family car was beneath the whole second floor of the barn.

"GET THE BABY and take her to the basement," said Mrs. William Murphy to her oldest son over the telephone.

"Yes, Mother, but I can't talk longer now, the windows are breaking," and with that young Michael Murphy hung up and shepherded his brother, Jim, and the baby, Sheila, out of harm's way.

Mrs. Fay Luce, proprietor of a small restaurant, using a camp stove, attempted to keep coffee brewing for workers who were clearing the roads of fallen trees, which completely shut off the town in all four directions.

She said that the Auxiliary of the Sand Lake Fire Department brought coffee and doughnuts for volunteers in pre-dawn hours of Monday.

A radio club from Adrian brought an auxiliary generator, thus making it possible for Mrs. Luce to fill many containers with water.

The Luce residence and restaurant remained standing, but their garage was gone and the back porch was ripped off. A stack of freshly laundered Luce clothing was tossed through a window and distributed around the yard.

The Franklin Township Hall and the Grange Hall were both demolished. Records and important papers were scattered to the winds. Piles of heavily-bound township record books lay where the hall stood.

Mrs. Charles Driffill's home was demolished as were Alma's mayor and city officials visit here three days later.

A regular meeting of Council will be held this Monday night, and it will be the first for Lawrence Mohr, who was elected April 5.

Churches Uniting for Friday Rites

The Union Good Friday service April 16 at the Methodist Church will be divided into two sections.

Sponsored by the Tecumseh Ministerial Association, the service will continue from 1:30 to 3 p.m.

Special music will be provided by members of the Methodist Church congregation.

The Rev. Harold Speer of The Assembly of God Church will speak on "Benefits of the Cross" and the Rev. Paul Brantingham of the Friends Church on "Bad, Good Friday."

The Tecumseh Area Chamber of Commerce announces stores will close Good Friday from 12 noon to 3 p.m.

Drive Tops $121,000

Merlyn Downing, chairman of the "Partners for Christ Crusade" at the Methodist Church, announced the overwhelming success of Sunday's canvass.

A total of $121,251.24 has been received in pledges and gifts, with a small percentage still to be recorded.

According to the Rev. Dwight F. Woodworth, Crusade director, national averages show that a church of comparable membership — 200 families — is expected to be able to pledge $90,000.

Mr. Woodworth praised the membership of this church for its "loyalty to the cause of Christ."

Special notice has been taken of the contributions made by the youth of the church. With 67 youth pledges, a total of $5,314 has been subscribed.

The Rev. Donald C. Porteous and Mr. Downing led the canvassers in a Victory Rally Tuesday evening at the church.

It was announced that payment on the pledges, covering a four year period, will begin Sunday.

Egg Hunt Saturday

Difficulty in obtaining eggs poses problems for the Eagles Lodge as they organize Saturday's annual Easter Egg Hunt for area children.

The hunt will be held as scheduled on the Athletic Field at 1 p.m. — unless it rains.

In that case, it will be moved to Monday at 4:30 p.m. on the field.

Children up to 10 years will be welcomed at the non-profit making event, undertaken by the Eagles Club.

As Planned!

Easter services will be held as scheduled at 10 a.m. Sunday in the tornado-damaged Tipton Community Church. (See pictorial section.) All other services have been cancelled. The Rev. Philip Rusten is the pastor.

Disaster Fund Is Established

A "Tornado Disaster Fund" has been established for victims of the immediate vicinity, with donations being accepted at the United Savings Bank of Tecumseh.

Exchange Club members conceived the plan, reports John Saling, and the group made a $50 donation. The Herald added another $50.

The fund will be administered by the Tecumseh Service Club and anyone wishing assistance may contact one of the following:

Mrs. John Thompson, 423-2831
Mrs. Earldean Roe, 423-2660
Mrs. Art Geisenhaver, 423-2971
Mrs. Charles Irelan, 423-3087

Quick thinking on the part of members of the Grace Bible Church probably saved them from injury, perhaps death Sunday night.

When the lights went out during a worship service in the converted Pink School at Carson Highway and M-50, Mrs. Ralph Ruesink suggested they go to the basement.

They felt their way through the dark holding to each other's hands. The pastor's wife, Mrs. David Holly, closed the basement door just as bricks were hurled through the church.

Mrs. Holly added, "We have prayed for a new church but we did not want it to happen this way. Asked what future plans were, she said, "As the Lord provides, we will build."

A picture of the ruined building appears in today's pictorial section.

Nearly 65 Detroit Edison high linemen were fed in Don's Beef Buffet Monday night until almost midnight. Owner Don Smith had volunteer kitchen help, including Mrs. Joe Layton and Mrs. Joe Galazzi.

E. J. Crawford, 9760 Murphy Rd., owner of the Clinton Woolen Mills Store, suffered serious injuries Sunday night when the Short Way Lines chartered bus in which he was riding was overturned by the tornado on the Toledo-Detroit Expressway, a quarter mile south of the Michigan line.

Mr. Crawford crawled out of the bus over dead and injured. He is being treated at Riverside Hospital, Toledo, for a broken leg, cuts and bruises.

Newsboys delivering daily papers were a common sight until customers had no place for them to leave the various editions.

Calmly and quietly Norman Jones strode from battered house to battered house Tuesday afternoon in Tipton. He said his patrons wanted their daily to see what had happened. Mostly he left the papers in cars.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Jones, the boy said his family was staying with relatives.

It's interesting to note that of donations made last fall to the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation, $11,181 went to four agencies which are presently lending assistance to tornado victims.

These include Red Cross, Salvation Army, Tecumseh Service Club and the Michigan United Fund.

It was Cricket's time to go. The eight-month-old Shetland pony owned by Gary Easton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Easton, died before it could be rescued from the ruins of the Ray White barn on Newburg Rd.

Richard Eggleston and Mr. Easton rent the barn to house six ponies.

Mr. White and Charles Gross who recognized the animals which had fled the flattened barn, notified the owners. They, along with Tim Neill and Forest Abner who brought a generator to provide light, helped to free two other ponies but Cricket had been hurt too much.

"Dusty" and a registered yearling filly, "Ladybird," and three others are housed in the barns of Louis Caterina and Mr. Neill.

"The Red Cross volunteer workers have been wonderful," said Mrs. Luce. "They brought food and have told us to charge any further supplies to the Red Cross."

People moving temporarily or permanently from the area have been asked to register this fact at the Coffee Shop.

Dr. Eleanor Skufis and a state inspector stopped at the restaurant reassuring Mrs. Luce and telling her not to worry.

Mrs. Luce remarked that people have been wonderful. She said, "The Rev. Frank W. Hawthorne was here Sunday night after it happened bringing urns filled with coffee, hams and other food the next morning." The Rev. Hawthorne is pastor of St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

Members of the Grace Bible Church, the Tecumseh Presbyterian Church, Van's Bakery, Meadowridge Dairy, the VFW Auxiliary and many others brought food to the tired workers and the residents who were without cooking facilities.

The Yale Kerbys, Doug Aylesworths and others brought clothing to the coffee shop for distribution to those who needed it.

Hope reigns eternal. Mrs. Luce said that she hoped to have her shop open for business Easter Sunday.

One of the most seriously injured is Felipe Valdez, who has a broken back. His wife is also hospitalized.

Their home was demolished and the six Valdez children are being moved into a quonset owned by Jim Fielder at 706 S. Pearl St.

The five boys and one girl will be cared for by their older sister, Mrs. John Harnandez, who is moving into the quonset with them.

The Valdez children, all Tecumseh school students, stayed with the Candelario Sanchez family, 105 Muscody St., and the Adama Valdez family in Adrian, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday nights.

Felipe's serious injury was made more tragic by the fact that he had just been released from two months in the hospital following surgery.

Ladies must look their best for Easter.

All-out effort is being made by Ilene Schafer to achieve this for her customers, although her Country Side Beauty Salon on Ridge Rd. was blown down in the tornado. Miss Schafer is working Tuesdays through Fridays at Eva's Beauty Bar in Tecumseh until her shop is rebuilt.

The Tecumseh Service Club is seeking assistance from residents of the area in providing bed linens, sheets, pillow cases and blankets. They may be left at Tecumseh fire barn on S. Evans St.

The Red Cross has established headquarters in the Tipton Coffee Shop, where food and clothing are being brought. Families without electricity and natural gas for cooking are getting meals prepared there.

The town was still without electricity Tuesday morning and the community of 250 was filled with a variety of volunteers and utility people trying to mend the devastation. Partial telephone service had been restored.

Two large generators were set up at the Coffee Shop, one provided by the Sand Lake Fire Department and the other by Whelan Implements of Tecumseh. They are providing the only electricity in the village.

Of the town's 55 homes, almost every one was hit in some degree by the twister. About eight were almost completely leveled.

Folks still kept their sense of humor. Mrs. Faye Luce, who operates the Coffee Shop, reported that the Lenawee County Health Department has provided a Chic Sales, placed almost in the center of town—providing chuckles among residents.

Congressman Weston Vivian will tour the damage area around Manitou Beach and Tipton Friday morning.

He will remain in the general area to talk with residents of Clinton Monday and be in Tecumseh Wednesday, April 21.

How fast were winds rolling at the heights of Sunday's storm? The wind gauge at Meyers Airport, operated by the Community Health Study, ran off the recording chart at 150 miles per hour at 8 p.m. One hour later, it showed winds of 75 miles per hour.

"But the sun is still shining behind the clouds!" That was the comment Monday of Charles W. Allen, 80, of Allen Rd. as he viewed the remains of what had been a 108 by 66-foot hip barn.

The long 108-foot roof almost intact, lay immediately beside crumpled building beneath which was grain, hay, and farm machinery.

Ceiling of the lowest level of the barn had remained, although huge supports had shifted and 200 sheep, some of them ewes, were safe but restless.

Mr. Allen said a builder told him a year ago that to construct such a barn would cost $40,000 at today's prices.

Helen Bendes, a vocal teacher in the Tecumseh School System, escaped injury as her apartment over the Loveless Gift Shop, 9800 Tecumseh-Clinton Rd., was torn apart.

Miss Bendes said she clung to the door knob as bricks sailed through the air. She remembers pleading, "Please don't let any more bricks break loose."

Miss Bendes' new television set, which she was to have included on her household insurance policy Monday, was demolished.

A shortage of refrigeration compressor motor housing, coming from Acklin Stamping in Toledo, sent many Tecumseh Products workers home at 11 a.m. Monday. Acklin's work crews were thinned by the Toledo tornado.

Mrs. Ralph Helzerman, Sr. fed work crews which labored at the farm of James Tonneberger Monday. She brought food around noon hour and then had volunteers come to the Helzerman home for dinner.

The freak winds dipped down three miles north of Clinton to pick on the Martin Hoelzer barn containing 19 head of cattle, tools and hay and grain. The cattle escaped injury. The house was slightly damaged.

When the Hoelzers were looking through the wreckage they found some personal papers of someone in Indiana, apparently blown on the winds.

It is reported that a Tecumseh resident found a canceled check belonging to an Indiana resident.

A deposit slip made out by Lyle Furgason, Saturday in the Manitou Beach area was found in Detroit after the storm.

LONG-CLIMB—This steep stairway to the second-floor sanctuary is one of the reasons members of the Tecumseh Methodist Church are seeking funds for a new building. Inadequate educational facilities and deterioration of the present structure are given as additional reasons in a brochure mailed recently to parishioners. A partners for Christ Crusade, under the direction of the Rev. Dwight F. Woodworth of the department of finance and field service of the Methodist Church, has collected $121,251.24 to date.

Drivers Hit, Then Run

Three of eight accidents investigated by Tecumseh police during the past week involved hit-run mishaps.

Only one motorist was cited.

Wednesday of last week, a small postal truck was hit at the post office and damaged slightly. The other motorist is unknown.

Wilma Neir of Britton reported her car damaged while parked behind the fire station Saturday. Tuesday Mrs. Albert Ceasar, 34 Park St., discovered her auto damaged while parked at St. Peter's Episcopal church.

Last Thursday, Carl R. Henkel, 1109 Willow Court, started backing at Ed Clark's service station parking lot and hit the car of George E. Rusling of Palmyra, as he was pulling into the lot.

A rear-end mishap occurred Saturday when Dorothy M. Reeves, 58, of 226 Herrick Park Dr., bumped Glenn E. Pennington, 55, of 207 W. Kilbuck. The minor accident happened on downtown Chicago Blvd.

Another minor parking lot accident Tuesday involved Joseph B. McLaughlin of 401 Outer Dr., and Vivian Ann Marsh of 106 S. Van Buren.

Richard L. Vehmeier of Palmyra reported to local police that a piece of wood flipped off a pickup driven by George L. Kelsey, Milan, hitting his windshield while he was driving on Ridge Rd.

Tuesday, Vincent Villegas, 39, Adrian, was cited for failing to yield the right of way after an accident with Troy Lee Harris, 35, Comfort Rd. The accident occurred at the intersection of S.E. Evans St. and Russell Rd.

Time of Decision Coming

By DELAPHENE SHELTON

Pointing out that Holy Week marked another period when "civil turmoil took place," the Rev. Frank W. Hawthorne welcomed some 100 persons to a "meeting of reconciliation" Monday night in the Parish Hall of St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

Speakers were:

► The Rev. Fr. James Sheehan, the Archbishop's Secretary for Human Relations

► The Rev. Everett Francis, Associate Director of Program, Episcopal Diocese of Michigan

► The Rev. Robert Hoppe, Secretary for the Commission on Religion and Race, Presbytery of Detroit, United Presbyterian Church.

The meeting was sponsored by clergy of three local churches—St. Elizabeth Catholic, St. Peter's Episcopal and the First Presbyterian.

The speakers pointed out the needs and wants of the Negro; the Church's position in the Civil Rights movement and what can be done to prepare to reconcile a community for the problems certain to come in any area no matter how isolated.

"The Negro today is seeking justice," said the Rev. Francis, who, with the Rev. Sheehan was among the civil rights workers in the Selma and Montgomery, Ala. demonstrations.

The Negro is saying, "We are going to ask, demand—and exercise—the rights and privileges of human beings and American citizens."

★

THE REV. HOPPE declared that in the civil rights movement the Church, as a whole, has "been like the parade leader who suddenly finds he has to run like mad to catch up with those who are supposed to be following.

"In the last six weeks the conscience of the people has been outraged by the events of Selma.

"Church people must be committed to the principles of love and justice for all men and they must count the terrific cost of standing up for those principles.

"They must raise the issue in such a way people must take sides and they must develop a strategy and program designed to support the movement now. If such a strategy is not adopted the church will respond only to crises. The problem is in every community even though it may not yet be visible," he added.

★

THE REV. FR. SHEEHAN, who spoke at the funeral of Mrs. Liuzzo, the Detroit civil rights worker killed following the Selma march, emphasized the cost to the individual who becomes involved in the drive for human rights.

During a question and answer period, a member of the audience, asking what interested persons could do in a community in which there is no apparent racial problem, was told:

► Civil rights groups are strapped for funds and money is needed.

► Decisions must be made by persons of good will as to how they will react to the influx of persons of other races who are certain to seek residence as industrial firms expand, and, meeting federal requirements, hire more and more Negroes.

"We must make clear to others that we regard every man as a child of God," Fr. Sheehan declared.

You Told Us

The gay array of new Easter outfits makes more sense when you know how the custom was started by early Christians.

It was Emperor Constantine who ordered every member of his court to appear on Easter morning in new attire in honor of the newly risen Lord.

The idea soon spread through his kingdom and to many other lands.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Goodman, John and Jim were in Ann Arbor Sunday for the Southeastern Michigan Science Fair. Jim and Stanley Lewis received honorable mentions for their projects in biology and physics.

√

Mr. and Mrs. LaRue Hart have moved from River Acres Dr. to Portage Lake near Pinckney.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Beland flew to Tampa, Fla. April 7 to drive his father's car to Tecumseh. Mr. and Mrs. Clair Beland flew home April 8 due to his illness. He is a patient at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

√

Helen Jewell from Smith Creek spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Al Jewell.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Barron are grandparents again. A baby girl, Julie Ann, was born April 8 to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Barron of Kalamazoo. They have three other children.

Mr. and Mrs. George Green Jr. of Three Rivers were callers at the Keith Barron residence last week.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Driscoll were honored on the occasion of their 49th anniversary April 8 at the meeting of the Order of the Eastern Star. A surprise bouquet was presented to them by the worthy matron and patron, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kempf.

√

Joseph Bartenslager, Jr., has returned from four years' service in the U. S. Navy. With his wife and daughter, he has moved into a trailer home at Paul's Trailer Park. He is employed at GM-Fisher Body Co.

Mrs. James Murray of Malibu, Calif., is a guest at the home of her sister, Mrs. R. C. Osburn, and family this week. She and her husband, sports columnist for the Los Angeles Times, stopped en route home from Salisbury, N. C., where he was honored as top sports writer of the year. The NSSA awards were determined by balloting of almost 7,000 sportscasters and sportswriters throughout the nation.

√

Kim Dabe left Shemya Island, 1,800 miles west of Alaska in the Aleutians April 14. He will leave Alaska by plane April 22 and he and his bride will arrive in Tecumseh to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dabe, about May 1.

Phone Maintenance Men Working Since Sunday

"We should be in pretty good shape by this weekend," Ken Conway, Tecumseh District Manager of the General Telephone Co., said Tuesday.

Work on damaged telephone lines began Sunday night immediately after the tornado passed.

The heaviest damage was in the Tipton area, with 130 customers out of service in the village proper.

About 50 were without service in the Tecumseh rural area mainly on Staib and Newburg Roads.

There was a total of some eight miles of damage to telephone lines on every north-south road between Tecumseh-Clinton Rd. and Clinton-Macon Rd. with half-mile sections on each road.

Many of the lines are being restored to houses which are almost completely destroyed and some to homes which may never be rebuilt.

Toll routes from Adrian to Onsted and Addison were disrupted and alternate routes had to be established to handle the service, Mr. Conway said.

Jesus' Triumphs

What do Jesus' sufferings and triumphs mean to us today? This is the underlying question to be taken up at all Christian Science churches Easter Sunday. The subject is "Doctrine of Atonement."

Dow Anhydrous Ammonia: Lowest cost form of nitrogen in the field.

The reason is, anhydrous ammonia gives you far more nitrogen per pound than any other nitrogen fertilizer. Which means it takes far less DOW ANHYDROUS AMMONIA to do the job than it does with any other form of nitrogen fertilizer.

If you're planting corn on corn, it will take 150 to 200 pounds of nitrogen per acre to decay the old stalks and still have the nitrogen you need for high yields. Supply this nitrogen with DOW ANHYDROUS AMMONIA and you may save $6 to $8 an acre. And boost crop yield quality and feed grain protein content while you do it.

It's so long-lasting one application is all you need.

See us today for details. And save some money for a change.

Clinton Township Tax Assessment Shows Big Gain

CLINTON — Edward Hulett, Clinton Township supervisor has announced that the 1965 tax roll amounts to $4,079,900 which is a gain of $454,575 over the 1964 tax roll.

"Personal property assessments against new industry accounted for most of this gain," he reported.

The township board expects to continue a program of improvement of roads until every road in Clinton Township is blacktopped, Mr. Hulett said.

The township has a matching funds agreement with the Lenawee County Road Commission up to an amount of $4,000, which gives a total of about $8,000 per year for the improvement of roads. It costs about $8,000 per mile to grade and blocktop a road, he said.

Course Is Changed

Plans for the River Raisin Watershed project are on a new tack.

A Water Management Council will be formed under the new Michigan Act 253, which will include a representative from every governmental unit in the four-county area.

This is being done because Federal Act 566 wouldn't approve assistance for the entire 400,000-acre project.

Chairman Harold Easton named Don Mitchell, Lenawee County drain commissioner, to head a committee which will delve into all the details.

Congressman Weston Vivian, who sent Mike Berla to Tecumseh last week as his representative at a Watershed meeting, has promised help, which eventually could produce Federal assistance.

★

CONGRESSMAN Vivian wired The Herald Monday:

"I have been in touch with the Soil Conservation Service, concerning the recent finding of the State Conservationist that the Watershed does not qualify for funds under Public Law 566, for the construction of impoundment structures.

"It was pointed out that the report did identify some 51.5 miles of channel improvement, which might be undertaken under Public Law-566. It is my hope that this possibility will be.

"In addition, my office has initiated inquiries with the Soil Conservation Service regarding the possibility of qualifying the proposed River Raisin Watershed project, possibly somewhat modified, for funds under the Resource Conservation and Development Section of Public Law 87-703, the Food and Agriculture Act of 1962.

"Once again, the first step in qualifying for such a project will be the certification of the modified project by the State Conservationist.

"I have asked my office staff and my field representative to assist the officers of the River Raisin Watershed Association in obtaining the needed certification."

Red Cross Set Up in Tipton

By DOROTHY GRIGG

TIPTON — Applications for emergency and long-time rehabilitation assistance are being taken by staff members of the Red Cross from Ann Arbor and Detroit in the trailer set up at the Tipton Coffee Shop.

Eugenia Wellman said Tuesday afternoon that applicants need is determined by a case worker, if a long-time plan is desired, or on-the-spot if it is an emergency.

Elmer Revell of Detroit was coordinating efforts Tuesday until National Disaster Red Cross units arrived.

R. J. Lamley of the Consumers Power Co. in Adrian said that about two-thirds of the customers in the Tipton area had their service power restored by 4 p.m. Tuesday.

From 25 to 50 men worked from daylight to dark Monday and Tuesday after an around-the-clock shift starting Sunday night.

Generators, loaned by farm implement companies, fire departments, individuals and the Civil Defense in Monroe helped pump water and milk cows.

★

NEARLY 300 WORKERS and residents, who were without cooking facilities, lined up for food in the Red Cross canteen Tuesday at noon.

Many exposed dwelling places have been covered with plywood or canvas to keep out the rain and weather.

Piles of neatly stacked debris on the Tipton lawns is mute evidence that life must go on in spite of disaster.

Ricky Vealey, Doug Eggleston, Mike Kronberg, Scott Lask and David Wilson were the other Cubs and they had the help of David Frownfelder, a Boy Scout. Mrs. Howard Kronberg, den mother, accompanied the boys.

FM Radio Station To Start Broadcasting Next Month

Lenawee County's newest radio station will commence broadcasting about the middle of May. Dick Lackie, station manager, announces.

Studios for the new FM station, WLEN at 103.9 on the radio dial, will be located at the corner of S. Main St. and Church St. in Adrian. The 299-foot tower will be located about one mile east.

The station will operate on 3,000 watts and will broadcast from 6 a.m. to 11 p.m. daily.

Mr. Lackie and Jim Wood, program manager and sports director, were both formerly with WABJ, also of Adrian.

An experienced announcer is being sought as well as other parttime staff members.

Owners of the station are James Hazen, formerly with Goodrich-Hazen Construction; Norman Haft, president of Maumee Sporting Company; John Koehn, industrial accountant; and Gaylord Baker, attorney.

PATTY BEAUBIEN GIVES BIKE TO THE REV. JAMES E. BERNARD

Patty's Bike Keeps Rolling

Patty's bicycle is still "riding the range" in Harbel, Liberia, Africa.

Probably not many of the bicycles The Tecumseh Herald gave as premiums for new subscriptions have covered the miles this particular one has, at least not the same kind of terrain.

Patty Beaubien decided to give a Herald bike to a Liberian missionary.

In a recent letter to Paul Speer, 321 N. Pearl St., the Rev. James E. Bernard mentioned the bike:

"As I saw David Johnson ride in the mission on the bike that Patty gave, I was again reminded of the heart warming gift of this little girl.

"David uses the bike constantly and amazingly enough, it is still going. The seat is badly broken and I had to give him one of my spare tires last week, but he takes good care of it."

★

THE REV. MR. BERNARD went on to say that other bikes at the mission are in bad repair, but he has so many maintenance jobs he hesitates to take on bicycles.

In speaking about the weather March 20, he wrote, "The heat these past few weeks has been unbearable. We are looking from day to day for the rains to begin, bringing a few hours of relief each day."

"To get our house fixed so that it will not be so hot I put an addition on it and am breaking out part of the wall to let a breeze in. I am convinced that Albert Schweitzer's statement is true.

"He said, 'If your house is hot in the tropics, put your architect in prison.' Our house is a Swedish pre-fab with small windows. This I'm attempting to remedy."

Mr. Bernard asked Paul about schools and his future plans suggesting that if he had two or three years of college, he could come to Liberia as a Peace Corp volunteer.

★

HE SPOKE OF his family saying, "Our girls are enjoying themselves much more since we brought a 13-year-old Kpelle girl to stay here with us.

"This gives them an opportunity to get out of our sight and go to the brooks and net small fish or climb trees for oranges and quava and dig cassava from some of the students farms. They love to cook their food over the little fire with Mary.

"To them beating rice and cooking food in this primitive way is more enjoyable than story books."

The pastor's letter concluded with thanks to Paul for his assistance with lending money for small parts for a mower.

LOCAL BUSINESS

The old-time village which centered around a school, a couple of churches, and several general merchandise stores is disappearing from the American scene. The change seems sad to many who recall the pleasant aspects of village life.

At the same time, the town, or small city, has taken on a bright new character which more than compensates for the passing attractions of village activity.

The small city, 10 miles away, is now closer to a rural family than the village, one mile away, was 30 years ago. Fast automobiles and good roads eliminated the need for shopping and service centers which were incomplete at best.

County seats and other growing shopping centers, like Tecumseh, which have taken the place of the village now provide goods which were once available only in metropolitan centers or by mail order.

The small city merchant is enjoying a new prosperity which was something of a social accident. However, he will not automatically hold his position. In years to come he may face the same threat which closed the village stores. Metropolitan centers move closer to him every year.

But the small city merchant has advantages the village store never enjoyed — modern and complete stock, volume prices, convenient to a large public and a local newspaper for advertising.

The local retailer's position is scarcely ever threatened when he fully informs his potential public of his goods and services through advertising — a job which the metropolitan retailer does so well.

2 Veterans Lead THS Golf Team

Two returnees from the 1964 golf team will lead the Tecumseh Indians on the links this season, according to Coach Ray Newton.

Russ Blanden and Dan Vollmar top the team and will probably play the first two team positions. Others rounding out the team will be Jeff Noe, Jeff Robinson and Gary Hall.

Jeff Schwartz and Kim Rosacrans are two alternates.

ROMNEY REPORTS

Weekly citizens' meetings with me resume again on Thursday mornings.

A combination of circumstances, including the 1964 campaign and the beginning of the 1965 session of the State Legislature made it impossible to hold these sessions regularly in recent months.

But I believe it is essential to a democratic system of government that the people have ready access to their elected officials.

Those planning to take part should determine in advance whether the meetings will be held, as pressures of state business may occasionally result in their cancellation.

The same "ground rules" will apply as before. Each citizen will be taken on a first come, first serve basis until noon and will be given a maximum of five minutes in privacy with me and my staff.

★

IN ANOTHER important matter recently I requested the State Supreme Court to make an immediate determination of a case currently in a lower court — involving the constitutionality of the Michigan Industrial Development Revenue Bond Act.

The statute in question, Act 62 of 1963, was adopted to authorize Michigan municipalities to issue self-liquidating bonds for the acquisition and construction of industrial buildings and sites.

These facilities would then be leased to private enterprise in return for rentals which would be applied to retirement of the bonds.

It is of the utmost importance to the entire state that the validity of the bonding authority granted by Act 62 be finally passed upon for the benefit of Michigan communities.

The need for such authority has become increasingly evident because of similar legislation passed by other states which has induced Michigan industry to locate elsewhere.

Twister Rolls Along Allen

Tornado damage in the Macon area followed a path along Allen Rd., Pennington Rd., and Bihlmeyer Hwy. and east of Macon on Macon Rd.

The horrible consistency of the damage is best described by saying almost every barn in the path of the storm was destroyed. Very little livestock was involved in this area, and in serious personal injuries are reported.

Broadview Farms, owned by Robert Bush, sustained the loss of several registered Hereford cattle, and the top half of Mr. Bush's brick house was blown off.

The barn was destroyed at the Elwood Bush residence and the house occupied by the John Fraser family moved more than a foot on its foundation.

Trees and buildings were leveled on the Macon Golf Course.

Other Macon area property owners who sustained losses to their barns or outbuildings include:

Clarence Twork, Charles Bigelow, John Taylor, Jack Hintz, Mrs. Lavern Pennington, Ralph Schafer, Claude Sebring, Herbert Murphy, Charles Allen, George Dinius, Robert Spence, Richard Sherman, D. J. Jones, and John Hewlett, Glen Simerson.

Farmers who begin spring field work face the job of cleaning debris from these buildings scattered across every field.

The engagement of Marie Louise Ngo to Specialist 5/c Joseph A. Satterelli is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vinhthank Ngo of Saigon, Vietnam. Specialist Satterelli is the son of Mrs. Edward Turk of Tipton and Frank Satterelli of Jackson. The couple is planning a July wedding in Saigon where Specialist Satterelli is stationed.

Police Work Long Hours for Two Days

Tecumseh's police force — seven patrolmen and Chief Murell Clark—worked around the clock Sunday night and Monday assisting the disaster area northwest of town and at Tipton.

Sunday night and Monday, the local station was the communication center for incoming and outgoing messages, including many for the Manitou Beach area.

All off-time due patrolmen was cancelled. Chief Clark reports there has been some looting north of Tecumseh and in the Tipton area. Police cars here have been shuttled back and forth to Tipton and in the northwest area to help patrol against looting of homes and debris scattered in the fields.

As of Tuesday, the local station was still handling most of the emergency calls for the Tipton area.

'I Will Not Be Afraid To Go with My Holy Father'

Editor's Note — Shirley Blaine, 13, wrote the following Easter message as an English assignment in school. Shirley and her two sisters, Carol, 18, and Joanne, 15, have been making their home with their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Turk of Tipton since their mother's death Dec. 6, 1964. Fortunately the Turk's new residence was not damaged in Sunday's tornado.

By SHIRLEY BLAINE

I think of Easter as a heavenly day because it was the day our Lord rose from the dead and from His tomb to rejoin His Father in heaven. I know when I die I will join Him in heaven and everything will go well, for the Lord is my shepherd and I will not fail him.

I do not know what to expect, but if everything in the Holy Bible is right, I will not be afraid to go with my Holy Father in heaven.

Many souls are sinful and may not go to heaven but I am sure I will go unto the Lord. For if your soul is pure and ridden of your sins you will also go to heaven and live to ever end.

My mother is safe in His hands and is preparing a place for me, for when I go to be with them, I will reach out and take their hands.

She knows I want her with me even though I cannot speak to her or listen to her but I know she is around.

My mother is all I wanted and I guess He needed her more than I.

Even though I cannot see or feel her, she gives me warmth within.

Now on every Easter, I am going to pray to her and ask her for forgiveness for all the things I have done and wish her all the happiness I could have ever brought to her from now until my end. For when I go I'll be with her and have peace within.

My head is full of tears and all in a whirl, for when I lost her, I lost my world.

So if I'm sad forgive me, and I'll try again and again, for everything I do, I do to please her.

All the words I have said, came out of my poor miserable head for I am all mixed up and don't know what I've said. From now on, I will try to remember the every wish she wanted and do it with her in my mind.

Production Opens Monday

Sun shades and head linings rolled out of Fisher Body sewing machines Monday morning as production work officially began at the Tecumseh plant.

"We're three weeks ahead of schedule," grinned Lewis Lamm, plant manager.

Thirty fully-trained women operators are going full blast and a new training crew of 30 is starting to learn the operation.

LETTER

TO THE EDITORS:

On behalf of the City Council I wish to express their thanks and appreciation for the fine article in the paper regarding the Bond Issue.

It was the thought of the members of the Council that this article was very informative and brought the issue to the attention of the people residing in the city.

The only regrets are that more did not take advantage of their opportunity, but those who did expressed their confidence in the Council by the number who voted in favor of the issue.

Many thanks for a job well done.

Sincerely,
Naomi Sallows
City Clerk

Crepe paper Doric columns surrounding the dining area and a life-like garden provided an effective atmosphere.

The entertainment was presented in the form of two skits, one of which will be complete in the Sponge Week activities.

The guest of honor was Mrs. Gloria Calhoun.

Goblets have been ordered for next year's banquet and will remain permanent property of the Latin Club.

Clinton Jaycees Seeking Members

By MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — If you are between the ages of 18 and 35, male, and want to go to work — to improve the community of Clinton — there is a job waiting for you as a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Clinton Jaycees have some fine projects in mind — but they need some enthusiastic young men to help get them into action.

The Jaycees have a sum of money available to beautify Clinton, wherever it is most needed.

They requested permission to plant trees and place picnic tables in Monument Park on W. Michigan Ave. The village council voted to keep the park as is and suggested the tables be placed in Waterworks Park which will be done.

However, the Jaycees think there still is a need for replacement trees in the village to fill the gaps left by the elms that were removed.

★

SUGGESTIONS about how to beautify the village would be welcomed by the Jaycees.

The Clinton Chapter was chartered April 23, 1956. Officers were Edward J. Thomas, Terry Merrittt, William Richardson, Dorman Force and George Semark. There were 21 members. By October that year there were 47.

Through the years the Jaycees had some notably successful projects, among them were the teen age road-eos, the annual Christmas lighting contests and the annual Christmas tree sales.

The club operated a midget race track west of the village for three summers.

It cooperated with the Clinton Fire Department in the purchase of a scoreboard for the football field.

For several years the Jaycees have provided milk for needy children at school — amounting to about $7 per month.

Each Christmas the club takes between 20 and 30 needy children on a shopping tour, providing the funds for their purchases from the Christmas tree sale.

★

DUES ARE $12 per year and are paid semi-annually. Meetings are at 8 p.m. on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month.

Officers are:

President — Robert Cooper
Vice-president, internal — Mike Williams
Vice-president, external—Dale Porterfield
Treasurer — Delbert R. Tallman Jr.
Secretary — Larry Sanborn
Director — Bill Goble

'Solid Gold Cadillac' Loaded with Laughs

By EVE BOWEN

Aging ex-actress Laura Partridge sits quietly at the annual stockholders' meeting of the General Products Co. until a motion to accept the treasurer's report is made.

The embarrassingly pointed questions she asks bring about a postponement of the question and a motion to adjourn.

She is then offered the hastily-created post of Director of Stockholder Relations, her duties to consist of answering any letters the minority stockholders may write.

However, Laura takes her position seriously and does not wait — she demands the list of stock owners and starts writing personal letters to them.

She also decides that her secretary needs a little help with her romance and immediately takes that in hand.

This is the way "The Solid Gold Cadillac," a three-act comedy, opens the Tecumseh Players final production of the year, opening Thursday, April 22 at Odd Fellows Hall on Green Hwy.

Mrs. James Vanzo, a stage veteran, has the role of Laura.

★

HER LETTERS to the stockholders produce amazing results; hundreds of replies come pouring in and all in an intimate vein. They feel at last they have a friend in the company.

Through one of these letters, Laura discovers that General Products has just put Apex Co. out of business by underselling it and considers this a rather strange procedure as they happen to own Apex.

Ed McKeever — performed by Duane Steele — ex-president and chairman of the board of General Products, is working in Washington for the administration.

GP had expected to receive some juicy contracts through his efforts, but Ed is bending over backwards to avoid favoring his company.

The board having discovered that Laura can be quite formidable sent her to Washington to persuade Ed to change his tactics. She and Ed of course become friends and when he learns about the Apex shenanigans he returns to New York with her.

Having been forced to sell his stock in General Products when he went to work in Washington he has no lever to use at the board meeting.

BUT ALTHOUGH for years the minority stockholders had received their proxies they had never bothered to send them in on the basis that their little vote would not be noticed.

Now feeling that Laura is their friend and will truly represent them they are sending the proxies to her by the hundreds and hundreds.

And, you've guessed it—Laura receives enough votes to enable her to take over the board meeting and wind up as vice-president and treasurer and Ed resuming his old place as president.

The show continues April 23, 24 and 29, 30 and May 1. All seats are reserved.

News from the Tecumseh Library

New books at your Public Library:

SEA JADE, a romantic novel of suspense by Phyllis Whitney. Fighting for her life and happiness, the heroine realizes that she will have to piece together the tragedy of three sea captains if she is to solve her own nightmare. Miranda's moment of truth comes during a raging fire aboard an old whaling ship in a spellbinding scene.

BRIDE OF PENDORRIC. Victoria Holt has set her new story of romantic suspense in modern Cornwall. A spine-chilling story of a young woman who finds herself alone in a world where someone she calls husband, sister, friend, is trying to kill her.

LEGEND OF THE SEVENTH VIRGIN, also by Victoria Holt. There was a legend that six novices and a nun living in a convent in Cornwall had strayed from their vows, and one night, in a field nearby, six were turned to stone as they danced in the moonlight in defiance of their sins, while the seventh Sister was walled up in the building. This is an absorbing chronicle based on such a legend.

FOREVER AND A DAY by Emilie Loring. The author once again vividly re-created the world her large following has long claimed for its own, a glittering and romantic world where mystery and intrigue form the background for a love story simply and beautifully told.

DON'T STOP THE CARNIVAL. Herman Wouk's new novel, perhaps the most entertaining he has written, is an ironic comedy of tropical adventures, misadventures and love affairs.

HOTEL by Arthur Hailey. The scene is the St. Gregory Hotel in the lusty, tumultous city of New Orleans in 1964. Through five eventful days we share the fortunes, conflicts and intimacies affecting the hotel and its guests.

TEACH YOURSELF HANDWRITING by J. Dumpleton. Planned for the intelligent adult who wants to change his handwriting for the better. Gives excellent advice and guidance. It is systematic and comprehensive and has lots of illustrative material.

THE WORDS, the autobiography of Jean Paul Sartre. In the past twenty years Jean Paul Sartre has become the best known and most influential French writer alive. Now at 59, he has undertaken his autobiography, a masterpiece of self-analysis.

CRAFTS FOR FUN AND FAIRS — felt toys and gifts, sewing, knitting, crocheting, recipes, nature crafts — and how to sell home crafts at a charity fair.

PLASTICS AS AN ART FORM by Thelma Newman. The developments and uses of modern plastic materials in the creative field of art today are truly amazing. The author, a distinguished artist and resognized authority on plastics, has investigated and examined all avenues of the plastics world as it reflects on art.

THE CHAIR OF PETER: A HISTORY OF THE PAPACY by F. Gontard. A history of the papacy in one volume, as colorful as it is fair minded, aimed at the general reader while making use of the best contemporary scholarship.

DILIGENTLY COMPARED; the revised standard version and the King James version of the Old Testament, by Millar Burrows.

Newest TV Shop Holds Big Opening

A grand opening is scheduled for downtown Tecumseh this weekend.

Carl's Radio & TV, located in the old General Telephone Exchange, next door to Osterhout's Flowers, is officially joining business row.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Clark are owners of the shop. For the past five years, Mr. Clark has been engaged in TV and radio service, working from their home on N. Raisin Center Hwy.

They purchased the two-story structure and completely remodeled it, downstairs for the business and upstairs for their living quarters.

★

THE CLARKS are parents of six children, five of whom are at home, John, a student at Jackson Junior College and employee of Tecumseh Products Co.; Brenda, Linda, Charlene and Marsha.

Another daughter is Mrs. Dale McCarley.

During the past month the shop has been open as the Clarks geared up for business, but even without formal festivities, sales has been good, reports Mrs. Clark, who said five color TV sets have already been sold.

This weekend's grand opening will feature door prizes, refreshments and balloons for youngsters. Kids may register for a large bunny prize, but they must be accompanied by parents to do so.

HIGH FINANCE — Mrs. Carol Delaney of Adrian plays the role of secretary to Duane Steele, industrial tycoon in Washington, in the comedy "Solid Gold Cadillac", which opens April 22 at Odd Fellows Hall on Green Hwy. This will be the final show of the year for the Tecumseh Players, who are enjoying a boom season. "Solid Gold Cadillac" is slated for a total of six performances over two weekends.

Boysville NEWS

Boysville's juniors embarked Saturday on their long-waited trip to the campus of Notre Dame University in South Bend.

Enroute they stopped at the St. Joseph Novitiate in Rolling Prairie.

Brother Bernard Donahue CSC, novice master of the institution, guided the group on a tour of the institution, told about life as a novice in the first year of the brotherhood.

Following the arrival at the campus of the "Fighting Irish" the students accompanied by Brothers James Reese, Robert Fillmore and Raymond McLaughlin, CSC, toured and visited the new library, the Moreau Seminary and the Stephan Center.

A student assembly was held in the gym April 4 at noon. School Principal Brother Jeffrey Michels, CSC, made announcements concerning the remainder of the school year, including dropping of the 5:15 p.m. study hall, in order to make way for the spring sports program.

The second week, the northeastern wing of Cardinal Mooney Dormitory boasted the highest average per capita giving in the drive to raise $200 for missions.

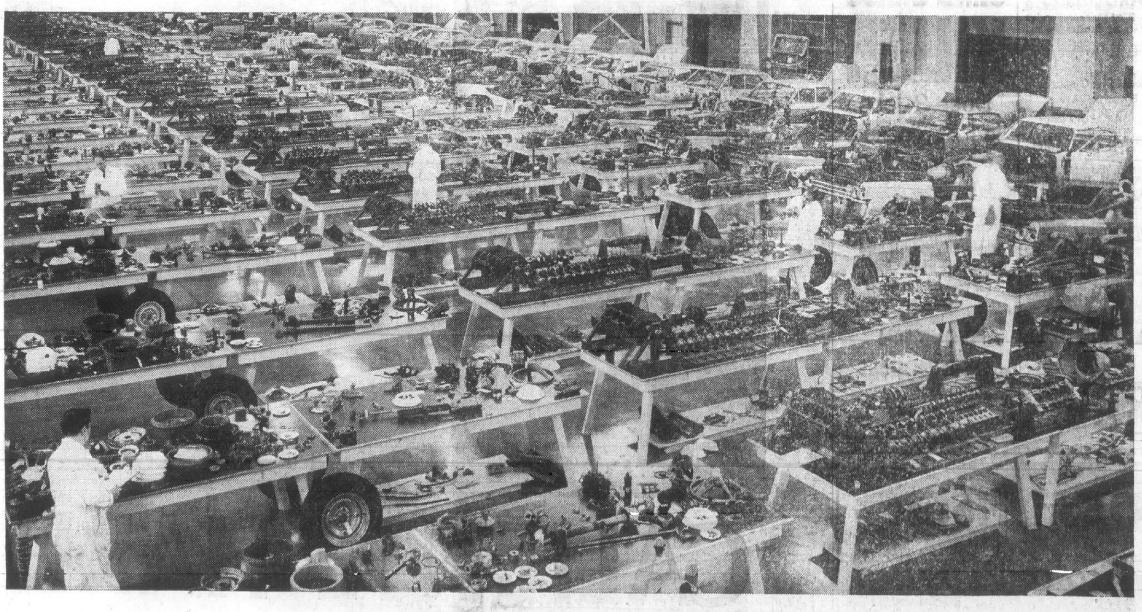
HARDWARE Tecumseh

45 cars at the GM Proving Ground have just finished the "Big One" at Milford—a grueling, around-the-clock durability run. But it isn't over yet.

Now comes the "Teardown Room."



This is the "Teardown Room" at the 4,011-acre General Motors Proving Ground at Milford, Michigan. Where—day after day for the next few weeks—more than 6,000 GM engineers and technicians will study, analyze and check 45 cars that are spread out part by part on long examining tables. The 1965 model cars that took part in a racking 36,000-mile test run.

The real test

This "autopsy" is one of the most revealing in the automotive world. To find out about wear. To find out about maintenance. And to find out about things like: What happens to a brake that's been applied 20,000 times? To a suspension that's been through years of punishment in a matter of weeks?

It's a test of testing, too

And then we set about to find if the results tally with the exhaustive part-by-part testing that went on months before our Durability Run began.

You see, we test GM cars long before production. Often before many of the parts and systems ever find their way into an automobile. And, later, on "one-of-a-kind" prototype models.

We test them in the laboratory. And we test them out on roads at GM proving grounds in Michigan, Arizona and Colorado. As well as all over the country on the kind of roads you're likely to meet up with.

The long way, the hard way, the right way

It isn't the easy way. But over 40 years of experience and more than 300,000,000 test miles have convinced us it's the right way to test a car—and to improve the cars we build.

Who wins the "Big One" at Milford? And who stands to gain from these months of testing? You do. In a Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick or Cadillac that is worth more on the day you buy it, all the while you use it, and chances are, when you go to trade it in.

General Motors cars are proved all around.

All around the clock, all around the calendar, all around the country, all around the car.

Just a Ferry-Ride into Yesteryear

Mackinac Island, Michigan's famous horse-and-buggy summer capital, is just a ferry-ride into yesteryear and a little world of Victorian elegance, scenic enchantment and a 19th century tempo of living.

With good reason, Mackinac has consistently been ranked among the top 10 resort centers in the nation.

This tiny island, tucked between Michigan's upper and lower peninsulas, has been called the Bermuda of the North.

It's many hotels and shops set against a background of cedar forest and blue waters, its accent on Old Dobbin and the total absence of automobiles make Mackinac a truly unique vacationland.

Mackinac Island is also the home of the famed Grand Hotel, Fort Mackinac, and the official summer residence of the Governor of Michigan.

Nearly 400,000 tourists visit Mackinac each summer. Many are attracted by the charm of a 30-minute ferry trip from the Michigan mainland.

Still others come just to ride in a colorful, old-time surrey. But, for all its quaintness and Victorian charm, Mackinac also claims a distinct touch of modernity.

Its main concessions to progress are its newly-improved yacht dock, magnificent Grand Hotel, and its entertainment—name orchestras, famous singers, and sporting events of all kinds.

★

VACATIONING parents who take their children along consider the Island a perfect spot for the kids because of the safety features. All autos are banned, and transporation is by horse and carriage, foot and bicycle.

Scenery on Mackinac is without peer in the Great Lakes region. Winding shore and towering cliffs, Arch Rock, Sugar Loaf, lovely Crooked Tree Drive, Skull Cave, lonely beaches, evergreen forests, and breath-taking view of the Straits of Mackinac from an Island bluff all contribute to an unending panorama of loveliness.

Here, too, are many man-made wonders: John Jacob Astor's first trading post, the Continental Army parade grounds, early American churches, Marquette Park, Catholic shrine, stately summer homes, Fort Mackinac, rebuilt Fort Holmes, and dozens of others.

★

MAIN STREET with its charming shops—curio stores, restaurants, hotels, clothing stores, fudge shops, and lounges — is an attraction in itself.

A few minutes from the center of downtown is the Boardwalk, with the blue waters of the Straits and the gleaming Mackinac Bridge beyond.

The Island's chief show-place is the magnificent Grand Hotel, world's largest summer hotel.

The Grand is more than a hotel—it is a landmark, an institution with its own fascinating history. Thousands of visitors come just to view its great flag-decked, geranium-lined 880-foot veranda and to see its red-carpeted steps, red-plumed horses, serpentine swimming pool and sunken gardens.

Still another great attraction is Fort Mackinac, historic bastion of the Old Northwest. The original fort, built in 1780, has been preserved exactly as it appeared then, complete with massive limestone ramparts, cannons, guard house, block house, and dungeon.

Most outstanding is the fort's restored interior. A museum features historical exhibits and period settings which bring alive in colorful and dramatic re-creation the history of the fort and the Straits area.

★

SUMMERS on the Island are highlighted by several special events and celebrations.

Lilac Time, in June, honors the blooming of the famed double purple lilacs brought here by French explorers three centuries ago.

The Fourth of July has a fascination all its own. Designed to capture the true spirit of the original Independence Day, Mackinac's old-fashioned celebration features fireworks, greased pig, water fight, cycling, and swimming contests.

During Race Week, the billowing white sails of sleek yachts fill Mackinac's harbor for the annual Detroit to Mackinac and Chicago to Mackinac yacht races.

Pictures of Mexico Are Shown

James S. Aneff was the speaker April 6 for the Alpha Chi Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma International Honor Society.

The meeting was held following a potluck dinner in the Blissfield Library.

Mr. Aneff illustrated his talk with slides of Mexico which he had taken while working with the Youth for Understanding International Student Exchange program.

He will direct the 1965 summer program in Mexico City and is active on special Mexican projects for college students.

Mr. Aneff is qualified to speak on Mexican culture. His subject had to do with the trends of culture in the urban and rural areas.

Hostesses were Sarah Crist, Mrs. Robert Kelty, Margaret Myers and Helen Kafer.

English Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Burns and son, David, of London, England, came by plane to Rochester, N. Y. where they were met by her sister, Margaret Fish. The Burns family will spend some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fish of Tipton. Mr. and Mrs. Burns were missionaries in Sudan but are now stationed in London.

Musicians Present Program

The meeting Sunday of the Junior Music Makers Club was highlighted by a program of Grecian Music in the Friends Church.

It was given by Mrs. Lili Rethis, formerly of Greece, and now a resident of Adrian. She told of her life in Greece, answered questions and played three Grecian piano solos and a duet with Linda Gilbert, one of her piano students.

Other numbers on the program were two vocal solos by Debbie Earling accompanied by Mrs. Owen Merrill, a piano solo by Pat Cook, a vocal solo by Kitty McWilliams accompanied by her mother Mrs. Ben McWilliams, a piano and saxophone duet by John Hayden and Wayne Brooks, and vocal selections by Jamie McWilliams who accompanied himself on the guitar.

The Music Appreciation study was given by David Bush on the life of Johannes Brahms. John Hayden led the hymn of the month accompanied by Jeannette Mannino.

Refreshments in keeping with Easter were served around a table centered with an Easter egg tree made by Cindy Caterina. She was assisted by Linda and Jackie Sinkey.

Members and friends are reminded of the Spring Concert by the club on May 23 at the Friends Church.

ONE OF THE TORNADO'S oddities was what happened at a birthday party for Mr. Rupert's grandson, Allen, Jr., who was two years old Sunday.

Celebrating the anniversary, 14 relatives were in the trailer home of Allen Rupert, one of three brothers. The others, Robert Jr., and Carl, were also on hand with their wives and the three youngsters of Robert, Jr. Virginia Rupert, wife of Allen, and their three children were also on hand for the festivities.

The twister snatched up the trailer and hurled it 40 feet, completely demolishing it and scattering the people within it all over the landscape.

Mr. Rupert, Sr., said that as the twister hit, the trailer exploded.

Almost unbelieveably no one was killed, although Mr. Rupert's wife, Martha, and Robert's wife, Nora, were both taken to Herrick Hospital for treatment.

Allen said that when electricity went out about 8 p.m., he lit a gasoline lantern. Allen then turned off the trailer's oil heater, noting, "I little more than got it off and it happened."

Allen, Jr., had blown out the two candles on his cake about five minutes before the disaster and he later told his grandfather, "My birthday cake got upset."

Two invited guests who didn't make the birthday party, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Motter, saw Allen several hours after the twister destroyed the trailer and were thankful they had missed the near brush with death.

The homeless Ruperts have temporarily moved in with their parents on Murray Dr.

Both Mr. Livernois and Mr. Rupert, Sr., are employed at Peerless Gear in Clinton.

☆

FIVE HUNDRED YARDS to the south of the trailer is the James Tonneberger farm, which was also in the path of a twister, which could have been the same one which hit the trailer.

A row of four 100 foot evergreens across the street went first, snapped off near the ground. The two-story home held, but the pressure was tremendous.

Mrs. Tonneberger rushed to the basement, while her husband lingered a moment to catch the weather bulletin flash which broke into the Ed Sullivan variety show on television.

He yelled upstairs to his son, Jim, Jr., and his wife, Karen, then dashed for the cellar. The son and his wife live in the second-floor apartment, which has a rear entrance.

Jim, Jr., tried to open the door, but the pressure was so great he couldn't budge it, ending up by pulling the knob off. The couple retreated to the bathroom, the only room which has no windows and rode out the blast on the floor.

They could feel the whole structure sway and the floor waver. When the worst was past, Jim, Jr., kicked out the door and the two joined their parents.

Jim, Jr., said he could see branches flying by, "Going straight up." He watched the twister demolish the huge barn and pin 100 sheep within it.

The Tonneberger's 16 steers, valued at $3,000, broke loose and the father and son have no idea where they had gone.

Portions of their buildings, including a corn crib, flew into the River Raisin, which is about one-quarter mile to the east. Tops of the giant trees which grow along the water's edge were clipped off, leaving an eerie view.

The Tonnebergers estimate their loss in buildings and cattle will top $38,000.

A Volkswagon in the yard was pushed about 20 feet, two other autos were also shoved shorter distances.

The Frank Bishers, who live in a small home on the Tonneberger farm property, about 40 yards from the large home, were both injured and hospitalized.

☆

TO THE SOUTH AND EAST of Jim Tonneberger's is the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Al Tonneberger. They were returning from visiting relatives in Sylvania in one car, following another driven by son, Jack, who lives with them.

"The tool house greeted me as I came up the driveway," said Jack. Otherwise there was no damage.

The Clifford J. Curran garage, 9531 Newburg Rd., was demolished. It stood three feet from the house, unscathed except for one torn shingle. The Curran car, parked in the garage, was only slightly damaged.

A 40'x8' house trailer, parked along side the Doug Maves home, just north of Maves Trailer Court, was heaved onto two wheels and rested against Doug's home.

☆

PEERLESS GEAR AND MACHINE CO. in Clinton got one touch of the twister, which drilled into a section along the north side of the plant about 50 yards long. The employee cafeteria, washup area and locker room lost its roof. The contents were hurled into a jumbled mess.

A large section of the roof from the Wayne Johnson's home landed in the next door yard of the Clarence Keller home.

Charles Barber of Adrian, Peerless plant protection man on duty at the time, rushed to the front of the office area several across the street, including that of Guy Cox and Mrs. Frank Baldwin.

KROUT'S MARKET SUFFERED roof damage but the store was opened for the convenience of residents.

The north end of the village was the scene of much destruction with the cemetery filled by uprooted cedar and pine trees and broken monuments. Huge barn and garage beams lay on the many graves.

The south side of the Tipton Community Church had been impaled with a huge beam, knocking the wall of the vestibule into the building. Three and four foot splinters had been driven into the siding by the mighty wind.

A front porch lay in the hall at Tipton School. Classes were cancelled Monday.

Going south on Tipton Hwy., part of a roof from the Elvin Piercy residence was gone, the Edwin Dies big barn was flattened and the home just purchased Saturday by Dean Cook lost the roof of the house and the whole barn. Mr. Cook hadn't had time to get insurance yet.

McKinley Spaulding lost his barn and there was roof damage to both the Lawrence Smith residence and that of Richard Van Sickle.

The Elwin Shea house is still standing, but the barn went down on the cattle and all but one small outbuilding is gone.

Both barn and home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Simonds on N. Adrian Hwy. is gone.

Few barns were left standing in the wake of the tornado, and many farm animals were killed or crippled.

Area farmers got together in crews of 25 to 30 and worked through the night, freeing suffering animals and clearing the area. As morning's light appeared on the horizon, they loaded damaged cattle and lambs, sending them to market.

☆

ABOUT 15 OF THE 75 HEAD of cattle in the barn at Lester Mungers, one mile north and a mile east of Tipton, were killed. Don Daniels, a nephew of Mr. Munger and also a livestock buyer, said that probably nearly 50 of the 200 lambs in the barn are dead.

Many of the cattle are dead and others have not been found.

Milking cows in the area was a major problem without electricity and some were trucked to other farms. Carl Rieves, south on Beebe Hwy., took his to the Raynor Van Valkenburg farm.

Farm people were visibly shaken by the grizzly chore of caring for their wounded and dead animals, their sorrow overcome, however, with gratitude for life itself.

☆

EAST OF TIPTON fields and roadways were littered with shingles, siding, sheet metal roofing and other debris between Bramble Rd. and Carson Hwy. on M-50.

It's at this intersection the Grace Bible Church stands. It appears as though a freight train went right through the building. Rubble lies everywhere. The front end fell intact down the front steps of the church, which was remodeled from the old Pink school.

On the south side of M-50, barns of Kenneth Ernst and Mrs. Eugene Fisher were completely demolished.

The new home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Webb and their four sons on the north side of the road, just outside Tipton, had its roof completely taken off.

The Webbs moved in Dec. 18, now are looking for an unfurnished apartment, hoping that they may be able to salvage enough of their furniture.

Sunday night they stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kint on Russell Rd.

The Richard Carter residence escaped serious damage, but the garage was completely flattened. Mrs. Carter remarked that their losses were nothing in comparison to her sister's family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Travis and sons.

☆

THE TRAVIS RESIDENCE, an elaborate home, was recently completed with much of the work being done by Mrs. Travis, nee Alice Claus, and her husband. Completely gone, the home was about two-thirds covered by insurance.

Youthful Eric Travis was thrown out into the yard where his parents found him. He was treated at Herrick Memorial

Firemen Labored for Long Hours

Twenty Tecumseh firemen labored around the clock following the tornado.

Things started with the barn fire at the Roger Gillespie farm on Allen Rd.

The building was a total loss, with corn and hay destroyed, as well as an auto which was owned by Harold Underwood, who lives in the farm house with his wife and child.

Then came a plea for help from the Tipton area, followed quickly by a call from the Felipe Valdez home at the intersection of Staub and Newburg Rds.

★

DOWNED TREES littered Newburg and after chain sawing two, the firemen realized the Valdez home could never be reached since nine more trees lay in their path.

Several other departments were blocked from reaching the home, too and it burned to the ground.

Tecumseh then sent its emergency wagon and eight men with chainsaws to help open roads around Tipton. They worked until 12:30 p.m.

Hardly had they returned to Tecumseh, but the crew was told it was needed in the Devil's Lake area and took off immediately, coming back about 3:30 a.m.

Monday morning, the rescue unit with six men and chainsaws again returned to assist in the Devil's Lake section.

★

AMONG THE firemen who spent long hours during the disaster were Wallace MacGeorge, Ivan Maynard, Richard Beasley, Albert Seitz, Elwood Ball, Dick Purkey, Jack Curtiss, Herbert Barnes, Ralph Sager and Dave Faling.

Others were Robert Randall, John Hamilton, John Saling, George Ruhl, Don Purkey, Harold Easton, Mahlon Sebring, Gail Hooton, Ernest Oliver and David Ousterhout.

David Blanden on Golf Team at Alma College

David Blanden, son of Dr. and Mrs. Merwin Blanden, 5140 E. Monroe Rd., is a member of the Alma College golf team which recently completed its annual spring vacation tour.

Coach Art Smith's six-man unit gained victories over Ferguson and Ft. Meade. They dropped a match with Ft. Eustis and two to Old Dominion. Mr. Blanden is a sophomore.

The team will defend its MIAA title Tuesday at Hope College.

WHERE STAIB RD. CROSSES the New York Central spur, between Tecumseh and Clinton, more havoc was wreaked. The Merle Mellotts lost their barn, tractor shed, sheep barn, granary, chicken coop "and two cats," said Mrs. Mellott.

Portions of the new Anderson Fertilizer building's roof were ripped off and wagons tumbled about.

Mac Powell, who worked until 12:18 on the Tecumseh police telephones, was busy Monday morning trying to get a fence back in shape next door to the Mellotts to keep his horse in. The animal's building was thrown across the road and shattered. Mr. Powell's saw mill was pretty well flattened, too.

Of his evening at the police department, he noted he "Never heard such bedlam" in his life. He said five phone lines and four radio mikes were going simultaneously.

☆

EXTENSIVE DAMAGE WAS registered along Tecumseh Rd., north of the city.

The Wendell V. Reums, 9589 Tecumseh Rd., had just finished a session of bowling at Tecumseh Airport Bowl and were stunned upon their return home to find their two-car garage torn from their home.

Debris cluttered their property and the entire back wall of the garage was resting in the back yard. Tiny trees were decorated with chunks of wood and metal and the fields beyond laced with waste.

Doug Aylesworth's bottled gas office, which he shares with Jim Records, an insurance man, was ruined. The walls and some of the windows remained, but the roof was carried 50 yards to the southeast and fiberglas insulation strewn 200 yards across a naked field of corn stubble.

Mrs. Records was on hand early in the morning to try and get some claims forms as the phone at the Records' home had rung 15 times with reports of damages.

She said Jim had gone to the office following the tornado and been there until nearly 3 a.m. trying unsuccessfully to retrieve filed material, which "were floating around in the air."

☆

KITTY-CORNER ACROSS the street from Doug's Gas is a farm home owned by Mrs. Winnie Broderson. It was damaged on the back, trees in the yard snapped and a utility pole buried in the backyard.

The big brick farm at the intersection of Tecumseh-Clinton and Allen Rds., owned by Roy Richards, survived the full force of the storm, but the barns were crushed.

Mr. Richards has the home divided into apartments and one of the tenants, David Simpson, had a harrowing tale to tell.

"There were four scared people praying," he related.

At 8:06 p.m. the clock stopped and that marked the time of disaster. Mr. Simpson was on the back porch about three minutes before this, watching the tornado develop. It sounded like a locomotive, he said.

He rushed inside, taking his wife and two children into the basement. They could feel the home shake. Windows were blown out, the furniture flipped about like tenpins.

Outside, the granary was left intact, although it had been moved 12' off its foundation, Mr. Richard noted as he examined the area.

AT THE EDDIE KIRKLAND HOME, 10101 Tecumseh-Clinton Rd., windows were broken and furniture strewn about. Mr. Kirkland and his daughter, Susan, a 16-year-old sophomore at Clinton High School, found safety in the cellar.

Mrs. Kirkland and son, Kevin, 10, a fourth grader, had been at a Baptist Church service in Tecumseh. They returned shortly after the storm hit, found the area dark and debris littering the landscape.

Fearful at what might have happened to her husband and daughter, Mrs. Kirkland pulled into the yard and started to honk the car horn. Mr. Kirkland dashed out to announce that he and Susan were safe.

The family's fruit stand, which had been located near the highway, was gone. Kevin's bicycle had been in it. The next morning the bike was discovered about 500 yards east of the home in a field, the front wheel missing, the back wheel and frame badly bent.

In the front yard there was an air ventilator enmeshed in a tree limb. It had sailed more than 1,000 yards, having been torn off one of the barns on the old Kuhlman Potato Chip farm. The other Kuhlmann barn, on the east side of the road, was almost completely demolished.

Hospital and released. Mr. Travis suffered cuts about his right eye.

He and Eric were watching TV as the storm approached. Mr. Travis attempted to open large glass breezeway doors to relieve the pressure when he noticed the window panes bending.

It was then that the twister struck, completely wrecking the magnificent home. Windows were even sucked out of the car in the garage.

☆

CLOSER TO THE VILLAGE of Tipton, the home recently sold by Mr. and Mrs. Don Hunt to Mrs. Barbara Carson, is a shambles, roof gone and all outbuildings torn down.

Just next to this is what remains of a barn owned by Raynor Hardy with a number of cattle standing and laying on top of the wreckage Monday. Animals killed underneath were unknown.

Mrs. Hardy said that they had 46 head of young cattle, one only three-days-old and she has carried water to them all during the winter months from the Hardy residence.

Picking up several pieces of plastic housewares as she went, she said, "You could hear the roar. I was getting supper for my husband and son, Greg, who were at the other farm milking. Without warning windows started to break and I got under the table. I tried to open doors to go to the neighbors and I couldn't so I just laid on the floor and prayed."

Mrs. Hardy said that she had been through floods in Kansas, but she had never felt anything like the terrific wind.

She added that they have no heat in the home because the roof raised up and the chimney is gone.

She told of her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hardy, who were trapped in their basement. They tried to signal with flashlights and finally two nurses stopped and aided them, taking Mr. Hardy to Herrick Memorial Hospital.

The Clifford Hardy properties were completely demolished.

☆

ACROSS THE ROAD THE HOME of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Cook was extensively damaged with the roof gone and the barn behind the home flattened. The two-day-old car that young Curtis Cook had purchased and placed in the garage for safety was smashed. Timbers from the Hardy barn covered their driveway.

Mrs. Cook reported a terrific vacuum, saying, "I thought my head would pop."

Mrs. Richard Eisenminger and her son, Kenneth, carrying water from the flowing well on the Hardy farm, noted that there was a tree through the roof of their home and the garage is gone.

Miraculously the villagers escaped with minor injuries and no fatalities, a fact that seems almost unbelievable in the face of such devastation.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend service regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

One hundred sixty-two feet high and one hundred forty-seven feet wide Napoleon built his arch of triumph. Proudly it rises above the Place de l'Etoile reminding the world of an Emperor's early victories—and later defeats.

On the road from Bethphage to Jerusalem centuries before there had been another arch of triumph. Nature had fashioned it of palm trees. Beneath their bowing branches the Prince of Peace rode into the city that was to crucify Him.

Jesus, unlike Napoleon, never had need of a gigantic monument to help the world remember Him. The doors of a million churches bespeak His victory. Men pass through them not to gaze upon the majesty of carved stone, but to worship and serve the Son of God.

Napoleon bought for himself a transient glory at the price of other men's blood.

Jesus bought for All Men eternal life—at the price of His Own Blood!

Raisin Cane Again Sells Fair Goodies

Gene Tuckey, a Kiwanian, was a special guest at a recent meeting of the Raisin Cane 4-H Club at the home of Mrs. William Osburn.

The project leaders, junior leaders, club officers and parents advisory committee were present to discuss plans for the refreshment booth and concession stands at the Tecumseh Kiwanis World's Fair.

The event will be held at the Tecumseh Community Center April 30, and May 1 and 2.

The menu will feature homemade pies and cupcakes besides the usual hot dogs, sloppy joes, milk, coffee, pop, potato chips and ice cream bars.

The Raisin Cane 4-H Club made $100 serving food at the Kiwanis Fair last year. The club gave $24 to Ypsilanti State Hospital for craft supplies for 12 patients, $20 to the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary Landscaping Fund for two bird feeders and bought a regulation 4-H flag for the club's use.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

SOME ARE NICE, SOME NAUGHTY

I could say that this is a squirrel-ly neighborhood — but if I do, I had better come on quick with an explanation. So all right, here it is — for several months now we have been able to look out our west facing picture window any morning and see not just one or two, but usually three or four squirrels enjoying breakfast.

Since there are only three breakfast tables, the feeder itself, the corn-tree and an ear of corn fastened to the fence, there is great action to watch when four try to eat.

Polite and generous are words in no way descriptive of these corn-eaters. If one is eating at the feeding station and another invites himself up, there is no friendly greeting nor moving over to make room.

It is just chase, chase, chase and whoever is the stronger, eats. The loser sprints out to the corn tree and another fight, the loser of which sees his luck at the fence.

Often this scra[illegible] other on the feeding station — around and around they go and what fun to watch.

★

THE BATTLE for the feeder is a rip-roaring affair. The intruder usually tries to sneak up the post, but once his little nose pokes over the edge of the tray, there is full scale warfare.

Scratch feed flies every which way and a blurr of bushy tails, black palmed paws and squirrel heads, scrambles on the feeder, over the sides, back up on top and even down the post.

When one decides he has had enough, the victor returns to claim his prize. As he settles himself down to the task of eating, what a proud, arrogant character he is.

Of course, there are squirrels whose actions we do not enjoy or appreciate. Red squirrels are cute, they are little, and they are faster than greased lightning, but they are also regular tyrants.

They are mean, ill-tempered, cruel and everything else that is objectionable. Unfortunately there are two little reds in the neighborhood—in several weeks there will probably be more showing up.

This is bad news for all concerned because, when they become too plentiful, the other squirrels leave. Leave is not quite the right word if it denotes a voluntary action. Chased or driven out is a more accurate description.

★

WHEN A LITTLE red invades the yard he is not content with playing "musical chairs." He maliciously attacks everyone in sight. It is so maddening to watch the big squirrels run away and not even try to stand their ground.

One day a flock of mourning doves almost called little reds' bluff. They were gathered under the corn tree eating the kernels which had been dropped when [illegible] into their midst zoomed little red.

In a whir of wings, doves exploded in all directions with two brave exceptions. The squirrel stopped dead in his tracks. He seemed utterly amazed at being challenged.

A final bit of defiance was shown when each dove extended its right wing upward—wonder why it was the right wing?

Anyway, the lovely pale bluish tinted underside was clearly visible and pretty I might add. By this time however, little red had collected himself and on his next lunge forward, the two "fighting" mourning doves beat a wise retreat.

★

JUST ONE MORE squirrel-ly tale must be told — it concerns a big squirrel and an ear of corn to which still clung some dried out husks. The corn was on the fence. Of course, the husks were fanned out ready to move in the slightest breeze.

A squirrel came running along the top rail and suddenly saw the husks. Well, what was that—he crouched down and started cautiously sneaking towards the "thing."

It was a stop and go trip until finally, just a few feet away, he shifted from slow into high, jumped to the ground, tore around to the other side of the post, leaped back on the fence and dashed to the corn. Nothing happened, he ate in peace and I wonder if he felt a bit silly.

So it is that the neighborhood is full of squirrels — some are nice, some are naughty.

Dow Anhydrous Ammonia: Lowest cost form of nitrogen in the field.

The reason is, anhydrous ammonia gives you far more nitrogen per pound than any other nitrogen fertilizer. Which means it takes far less DOW ANHYDROUS AMMONIA to do the job than it does with any other form of nitrogen fertilizer.

If you're planting corn on corn, it will take 150 to 200 pounds of nitrogen per acre to decay the old stalks and still have the nitrogen you need for high yields. Supply this nitrogen with DOW ANHYDROUS AMMONIA and you may save $6 to $8 an acre. And boost crop yield quality and feed grain protein content while you do it.

It's so long-lasting one application is all you need.

See us today for details. And save some money for a change.

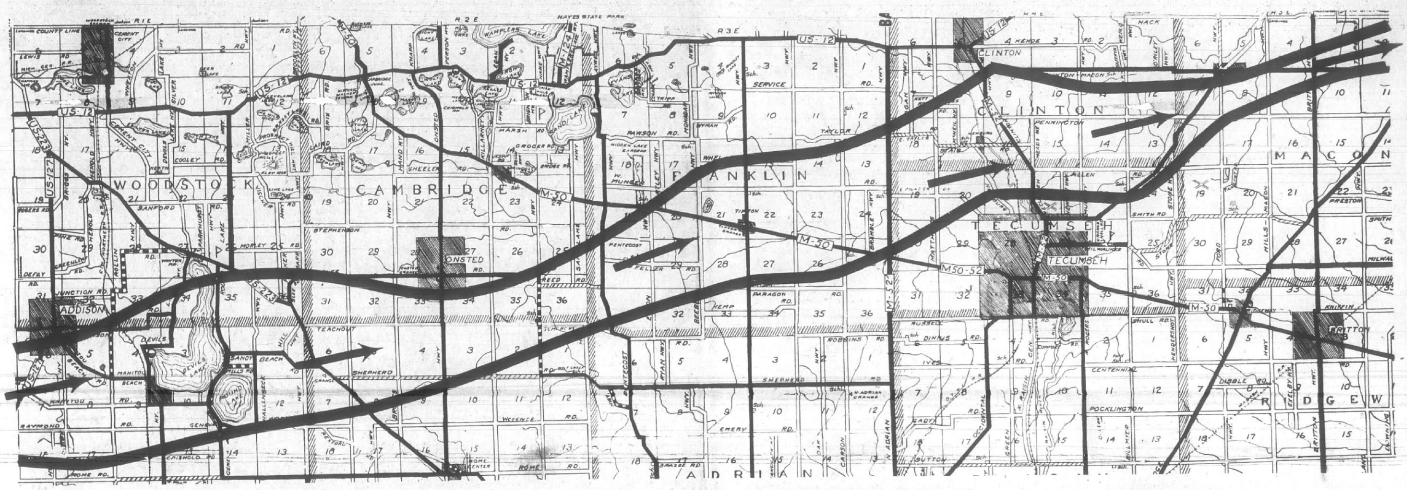
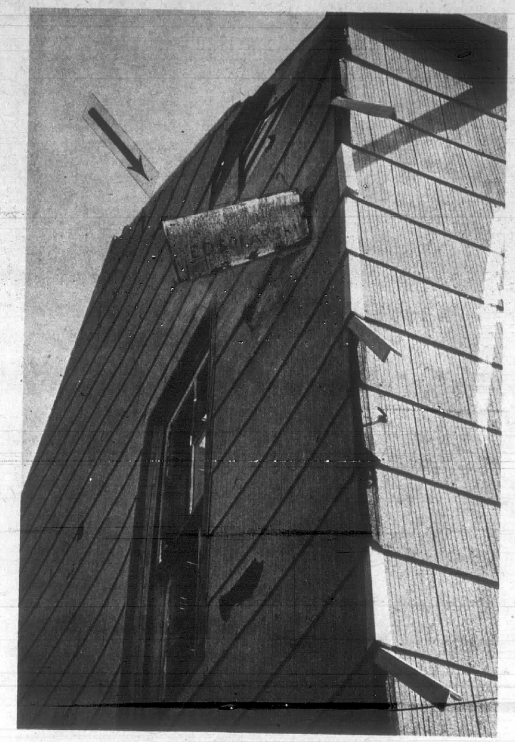
A Day To Remember: Sunday, April 11, 1965



Photos By Delaphene Shelton and Tom Riordan

Two houses stood here at 8:05 Sunday evening. By 8:07 they were leveled and a fire was about to start. Mr. and Mrs. Fielep Valdez were in one with their four children, Mrs. Gregoria Alaniz occupied the other. Mr. and Mrs. Valdez were both injured and hospitalized, the others escaped without serious mishap.



Special Delivery

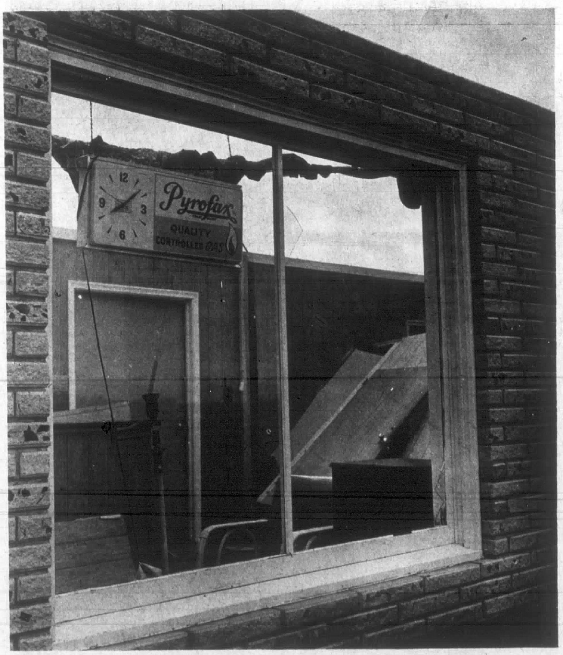
Bob Livernois (above) and his son, Bob, Jr., rode out the tornado in their home along Newburg Rd., never realizing that during that hectic few minutes--which seemed an eternity--a "special delivery" had arrived. It was Ed Solarski's rural mail box, which embedded itself into the west wall. The box traveled nearly one-quarter of a mile.

Martin Halley's farm along Staib Rd., about two miles west of Tecumseh-Clinton Rd., caught the full force of the tornado at 8:05 p.m., as the roof of the Halley home was torn off (top left) and the huge dairy barn completed leveled (above), killing a dozen cows. Mr. Halley and a work party struggled through the night and all the next day to free the surviving animals, one of which he comforts at left.

Chet Richard (left) and his son, Harry, survey complete distruction of Chet's farm buildings on Allen Rd.

Everywhere - Destruction !

The twister neatly detached the two-car garage at the Wendell Reums home, 9587 Tecumseh-Clinton Rd., hurled the rear wall into the backyard.



Doug's Bottled Gas was destroyed--and the stopped clock spotted the time of disaster.

In the foreground is the roof of the William C. Rader home on Staib Rd., which lost its second story. The Rader youngsters survived the onslaught.

"I'm just grateful we're all alive," exclaimed Mrs. Guy Cox, mother of six. Mr. and Mrs. Cox at 4 p.m. Sunday completed a fourth apartment in their large house on M-50 in Tipton. Contents of an up-stairs unit are laid open to the street as Monday's sunshine reveals the devastated building.

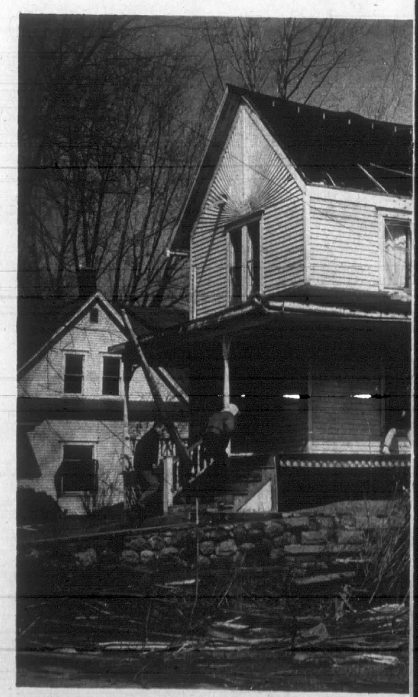
This tombstone, set in 1851, was one of dozens damaged in the Franklin Cemetery at Tipton.

Tipton Ravished

Debris litters what was once the side yard of the newly-completed Harry Travis home on M-50, less than a mile east of Tipton. Mark, John and Mrs. Travis walk from living room.

Grange, Township Halls Ruined

Tax assessment ledgers lie in the rubble of the Franklin Township Hall. Wind and rain buffeted the ledgers and law books, some of them decades old.



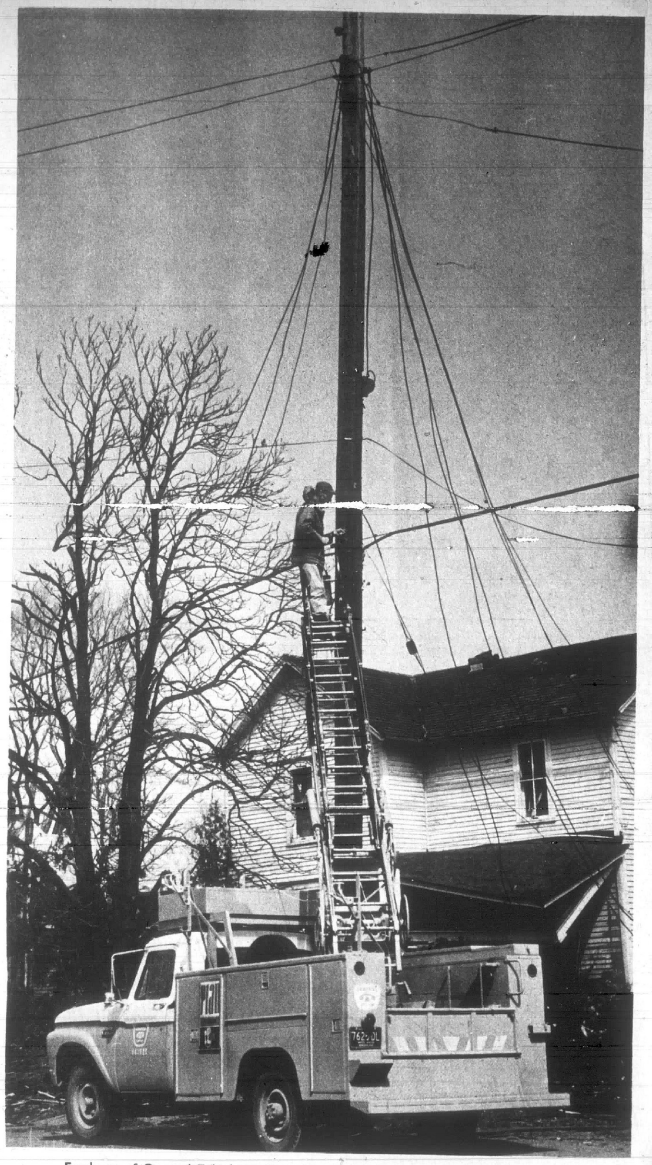
The Tipton Grange Hall was left open to the rains after the twister ruined it Sunday night. Foreground is rubble of what was Franklin Township Hall.

Mrs. Barbara Carson and her family moved into this once-fine house a week ago after she purchased it from Mr. and Mrs. Don Hunt. The house is now uninhabitable and the displaced family is staying with Mrs. Carson's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Stretch of Allen Rd., Tecumseh.

Members of the Burdell Williams family trudge into their rented home extensively damaged by the tornado. The house, on M-50 in Tipton, is owned by Llewlyn Treat.

Mrs. Raynor Hardy shows the shocked unbelief which strickened area residents felt this week. Mrs. Hardy and her family lost many of their 46 head of cattle when the tornado razed the barn in which they were housed. "I carried water all winter to those animals and now they're gone."

14 Hurled Over 40 Feet Through Air



Employes of General Telephone Co., Detroit Edison Co. and Consumers Power Co. worked unceasingly to repair damage to lines. Fallen poles, cables and wires cut off utility service throughout the tornado area. This was in Tipton.

Allen Rupert holds salvaged family Bible as he is consoled by his father, Robert Rupert, Sr. They and 12 others were in Allen's house trailer when it was hurled 40' from point where man stands in background, only two being injured.

Some 50 of 200 lambs and 15 of 75 head of cattle lost their lives when this barn on the Lester Munger farm at 2170 Munger Rd. collapsed as the twister hit.

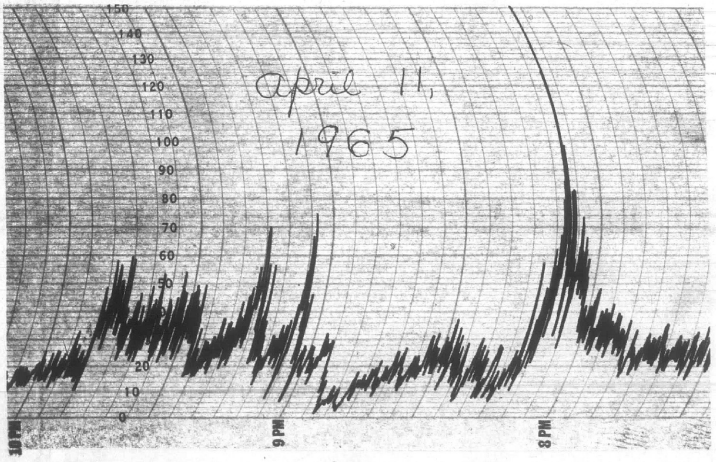
"The debris headed southeast," points out Jim Tonneberger (right) to his son, Jim, Jr. (left) and brother, Jack. A herd of steers disappeared and half of the Tonneberger's 100 sheep were killed in the barn.

Barns Suffered Heavy Casualties

Giant barn on the east side of Tecumseh-Clinton Rd. at old Kuhlman Potato Chip farm looked forelorn in Monday morning's sun.

Things Were Flying

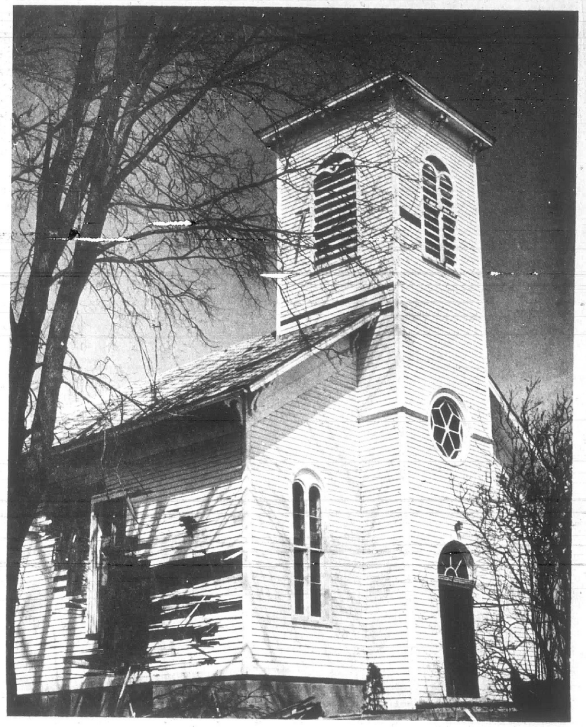
Strange things really happened around the Eddie Kirkland home, 10101 Tecumseh-Clinton Rd. An air ventilator (above) flew more than 1,000 yards from a barn on the Kirkland farm. Susan Kirkland takes a look. Brother Kevin (before) examines what is left of his bicycle. It was found 500 yards behind the Kirkland home. The family fruit stand, where the bike had been stored, never was found.



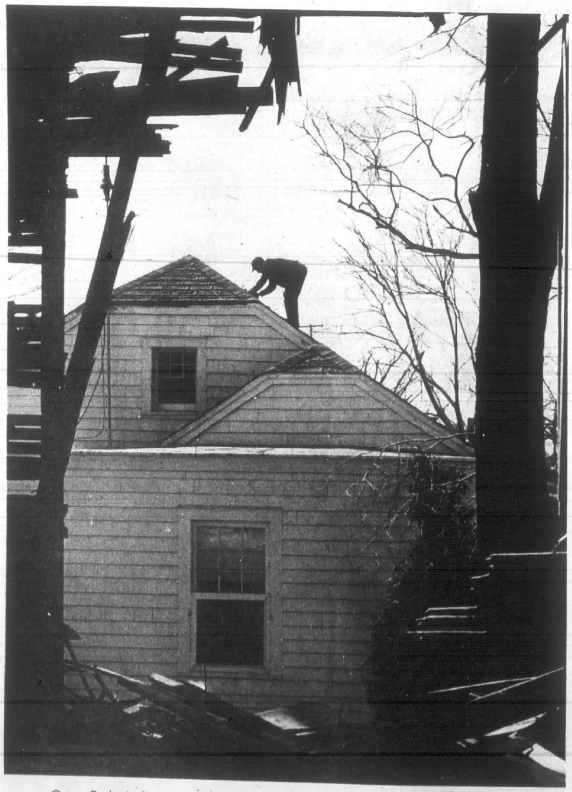
The wind blew at 150 miles per hour - and probably then some! This is the graph taken from the Community Health Study anemometer at Meyers Airport. It shows a top-of-the-scale reading at 8 p.m. and 75 miles per hour an hour later.

The Grace Bible Church, the former Pink School, at M-50 and Carson Rd, was extensively damaged when the twister tore through the structure.

Tipton Community Church Hard Hit



Planks and heavy beams driven by tornado winds tore into the Tipton Community Church and did extensive damage.



Omer Earl is framed by the broken wall of the Tipton Community Church as he repairs the roof of his damaged home.

Elaine Williams, 17, Tecumseh High School senior, helps to clear up the debris of a big barn flattened in the back yard of her Tipton home. The building, owned by Llewlyn Treat, was used as a garage and storehouse. The Burdell Williams automobile is crushed beneath the rubble.

This twisted warning sign wasn't necessary Monday. Tipton school children stayed home when classes were suspended in their damaged school building and to help their parents clear away debris.

Senate Dubs Her 'Angel of Tipton'

By TOM RIORDAN

TIPTON — Fast becoming one of the best known eating spots in southern Michigan is the Coffee Shop here.

They're calling the wonderful gal who runs it an inspiration to the entire community — and rightly so.

A Michigan Senate resolution has dubbed Mrs. Fay Luce as "Tipton's Angel." (The complete text appears on page 4 of Section B.)

But if Mrs. Luce's three daughters, Mrs. Dick Rudd, Mrs. Wallace Wilkin and Norma, have their say, the Angel will be kicked out of town until Friday.

She really needs a rest, after being the rallying point in this village of 350 from the moment the tornado hit and all during the next 10 days and nights. Her vitality, cheerfulness and quiet expressions of hope to tornado victims helped greatly in getting the town back on its feet.

From that tragic Palm Sunday evening, the Coffee Shop, which seats about 25, was made into a public eating place. As many as 400 meals were served during one noon, all free. The food was donated, but Lillian and her helpers had to keep things moving.

The usual income from the Coffee Shop for the Luce family was, of course, absent.

That's why, the three sisters have told their mom to take a breather so that they can dig in and completely clean up the Coffee Shop and have it ready for re-inspection by the State Department of Health.

If all goes according to schedule, the Coffee Shop will re-open for business Friday evening.

And Tipton's Angel will be on hand to greet the guests.

LILLIAN LUCE, ANGEL OF TIPTON, STUDIES DEVASTATION IN HER HOME TOWN

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Sorry, but there isn't going to be a hole-in-one contest at this year's Kiwanis World's Fair.

"Even the most successful promoters can make one error in judgment," ruefully admits one Kiwanian.

He hastily adds that the 1965 Fair, next [illegible], will offer everything else of last year — and then some — but no golfing events.

A year ago the lads filled the Community Center with exhibition goodies and attracted, 5,000 guests.

In a planning session, someone had popped up with the idea of testing folks' putting skill against great difficulties and the plan was OKed.

Each player would be given three tries for two-bits and if he should sink one of the efforts, the prize would be $5.

It sounded like a winner—for the Fair.

"Now, the ideal situation," one of the guys slyly told his fellow Kiwanians, "is to have a winner real quickly — if somebody could just get lucky — and then start him talking about his prize of five bucks."

The other grinned broadly.

The Fair opened and sure enough visitors headed for the hole-in-one area. What luck! Just as they hoped, there was a winner.

With a flouish, the crisp $5 bill was presented the happy fellow.

Before many moments passed, another lad sunk his putt.

Then another.

The Kiwanians chuckled nervously. In went a third, then a fourth.

★

WITHIN A FEW hours, the game had doled out $40 in prize money — and the end wasn't in sight.

The Fair was grinding happily along with nearly two days yet to go when an emergency meeting was held. After a few minutes of conflab, Kiwanians decided to go out of the golfing business for the duration.

And the duration continues to this day.

In place of the hole-in-one are several 1965 entries — like Salty the Clown, displays by Fisher Body and Stauffer Chemical.

The Herald's drum of old pictures is also going to be at the Community Center, too, with visitors invited to rummage through — each print will go for 10c.

Pictures of the tornado will be on display.

General Telephone is going to have a closed circuit television setup.

With all the old regular entries back, it looks like a real fine World's Fair.

But, please, don't mention golf to the Kiwanians or ask which way the hole-in-one setup is located.

Eagles To Draw Up Election Slate

The nomination of officers of the Eagles Lodge will be held during the regular meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Lonal Bishop said, "Here's your opportunity to nominate those you would like to have operate the club. Please make your wishes known now. I'd like to see all members at the meeting."

$200,000 Being Spent at Hospital

By JIM LINCOLN

A $200,000 construction program — $140,000 for two additions and $60,000 for remodeling — will start next week at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Kenneth Herrick, chairman of the Hospital Board, made the announcement Tuesday, adding that remodeling will be the first extensive work along these lines since the hospital was built in 1938.

Four additions have been made to the original 12-bed hospital, but little has been done towards remodeling.

★

THE NEW construction program includes:

► A 47x31-square foot addition, south off the extreme west section, primarily for enlarging the X-ray department, with hopes that a second X-ray machine be added in the near future.

► A 30x42-square-foot addition of the south wing for four semi-private patient rooms.

★

REMODELING will include:

► Renovation of the emergency rooms, adding a second room and altering the entrance there.

► Enlarging the pharmacy to twice its present size.

► Gift Shop.

► Beneath the new X-ray department, a 31-47-square-foot room will be used for storage of medical records. The new basement in the south wing will let hospital authorities expand kitchen facilities.

Herrick Hospital has been among the most progressive in southern Michigan, constantly expanding and adding new equipment and facilities.

Hospital Administrator, Orrie Gilbert, points out that the first addition was built in 1941, with others coming in 1951, 1954, 1956 and 1962.

The hospital technically comes under the jurisdiction of City Council, but municipal officials have stayed largely in the background as the hospital board compiled an outstanding record over the years.

★

IN 1964, THERE were 25,794 patient days, 3,750 admissions and 399 births. Services were performed by a staff of 199, including 13 physicians and 61 registered nurses.

Mr. Herrick says the new construction program will not necessitate an appreciable increase in this staff.

Work is scheduled for completion next fall. Marr and Marr of Detroit are the architects and Lenawee-Krieghoff is the general contractor.

The $200,000 for the project was donated to the hospital by a local organization.

Carleton Sheley Is Recovering from Surgery

Carlton Sheley, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Alfred Sheley, will be able to go out for football this fall with the approval of his physician, his mother said.

Carlton had the pin removed from his left thigh at Herrick Memorial Hospital this week. He returned to his home Tuesday and Mrs. Sheley said that a lift on his shoe will remedy the one-half-inch he lost in two breaks, the first Sept. 20, 1963 and the second, March 6, 1964.

Limited Parking Appeal Backfires

Council learned Monday night that the new two-hour parking limitation in the 200 block of E. Kilbuck St. does not work.

Residents there sought the limited parking after employees from nearby industries clogged the streets.

The new signs and police enforcement cleared the street of employee cars but resulted in ticketing of local residents, some of whom have to park in the street.

The signs were ordered removed.

Scott Sent Back to Jail

Wilbur LeRoy Scott, charged with the March 26 slaying of his wife, Mrs. Shirlene Scott, 23, of Tecumseh, demanded examination when arraigned Monday before Municipal Judge Paul Betz. He was remanded to the county jail without bail.

Scott, a U. S. Army sergeant, is accused of killing Mrs. Scott as she lied from him at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Bozeman of Britton. The shooting took place in the street in front of the house and was witnessed by Mrs. Bozeman.

EGG HUNT — Nearly 800 youngsters lined up by the side of the Athletic Field Monday afternoon for a belated Easter Egg hunt sponsored by the Eagles Lodge. Swiftly the 3,600 colorful eggs were swept up by the children and $36 in gift certificates and 10 one dollar prizes were awarded to those with the specially-marked eggs. Earl Harrison, assisted by Al Landis, Frank Verrier, Duane Creger, Jim Curtiss and George Milosh made the arrangements for the annual event.

Where To Give

People who wish to donate money for Palm Sunday tornado victims of the Tecumseh-Tipton areas may do so at two places:

1. United Savings Bank of Tecumseh, checks to be made out to "Tornado Disaster Fund."

2. Tipton post office, checks to be made out to "Franklin Township Disaster Committee."

Fund No. 1 is administered by the Tecumseh Service Club and No. 2 by the Franklin committee (more details on page one of Section B).

Problems for Schools

By JIM LINCOLN

The plight of the Tecumseh schools took a turn for the worse Monday night when board members learned that the schools face a $20.000 to $25,000 deficit at the end of the present school year.

Boardmen also learned that the deficit could top $90,000 by the end of the 1965-66 term.

Coupled with the deficit was the realization that the board will have to rent portable classrooms for next fall, or add six classrooms to the Tecumseh Acres elementary building.

MORE BAD NEWS ON SCHOOLS, NEXT PAGE

The proposed budget for 1965-66, turned over to the Lenawee County Tax Allocation Board earlier this month, shows expected income at $1,195,400 with expenditures at $1,288,600.

Most of the income will come from:

► Taxes — $502,300

► State aid — $696,000

Major items of expenditure are:

► Instruction — $875,000

► Administration — $47,000

► Transportation — $115,000

► Plant operation — $136,000

► Maintenance — $38,000

A tentative budget for the board will be presented in June, with final action scheduled for the August meeting.

'We Stand Ready To Help'

"We stand ready to help," said Mrs. John Thompson of the Tecumseh Service Club Tuesday when queried about aid to tornado victims in Tipton.

She said that immediate needs have been cared for.

However, many are living in rented, furnished places or with relatives and they are still so shocked that they do not yet really know their own needs.

"When they find themselves we want to have household linens and furniture in good shape for them," Mrs. Thompson remarked.

She said that the Service Club is making a list of names of people with items to donate, but the Club does not have adequate storage space for the "amazing response" of the public.

She said that the room at the fire barn had been emptied twice of clothing and she believes that there is no immediate need for more at this time.

Blankets, pillows, towels, sheets and cases and other such things will be needed when people are able to get back to their own homes.

The Service Club will work with the Franklin Township Disaster Committee.

"They know the people and can determine their needs so that we may provide whatever is necessary," said Mrs. Thompson.

She also said, "We have helped in some other areas and will gladly help more in this school district."

Mrs. Thompson was impressed with the residents of Tipton.

"They certainly take care of their own. One man whose home had not been harmed seemed to feel as though he should be suffering with his neighbors. He was most compassionate."

Water St. Made First 'One-Way' by Councilmen

Second one-way street in Tecumseh was approved Monday night by Council when officials approved making Water St., one-way west from N. Maumee St. to N. Evans St.

The change is effective July 1.

The short street, about a block long, runs directly behind the A & P store.

Is your dog safe from rabies? Well, if he's not, then you're not, either! Rabies spreads from wildlife, to pets, to people. Voters May Get Request for Added School Millage

By JIM LINCOLN

Possibility of school millage on the June ballot increased Monday night when the board asked school officials to investigate three different plans for providing classrooms at the elementary level.

Crowded classrooms and anticipated increased enrollment may cause officials to rent two, or even four, portable classrooms at $4,000 per year each.

This expense would have to come out of the general fund, which already is expected to show a deficit between $20,000 and $25,000 in June.

Construction of new houses in the school district could top 75 or 100 new homes this year. Number of children will not be known until fall.

★

NORVAL BOVEE, assistant superintendent, was requested to investigate placing one mill on the June ballot for five years for construction only. Cost of adding six classrooms, plus equipment, to the Tecumseh Acres school is about $185,000.

Another possibility of financing new construction may result in increasing the present 6.32 mills — now levied for the 1957 building program — to 8.5 mills as voted by the people.

The 1957 debt has approximately $860,000 remaining. If the schools levy 8.5 mills, they'll be able to reduce the '57 debt to about $600,000, or about $140,000 less than the schools can assess the district.

★

BEING A Third Class District, Tecumseh can assess property owners, providing its outstanding debt is less than 2% of the district's state equalized evaluation. No vote is required.

It's believed the district's evaluation will be $37,000,000 in another year or two, and 20% would place a $740,000 limit.

The board also learned that half-day sessions and cuts in services and programs also could be made to help halt the deficit trend.

School officials are hoping for increased state aid and reported that one bill before the legislature would up assistance from $189 per child to about $247. This large hike is not expected to pass but some increase in aid is expected.

No action was taken but the board agreed to meet early in May to discuss renting portable classrooms.

The Rev. and Mrs. Walter R. Damberg of Dundee announce the engagement of their daughter, Janet Kay, to Kenneth C. Seegert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Seegert of Dundee. Miss Damberg is a 1964 graduate of Dundee High School and attended Davis Business College of Toledo. She is presently employed by the University of Michigan as a secretary. Mr. Seegert is a 1964 graduate of Summerfield High School and is attending Cleary College in Ypsilanti. He is employed by the Ford Motor Company. A 1966 June wedding is tentatively planned.

FHA Offers Victims Help to Rebuild

"Special mortgage insurance terms will be available to Lenawee County families whose homes were damaged by tornadoes," Director Dwight K. Hamborsky of the Detroit Insuring Office of the Federal Housing Administration has announced.

"No down payment is required of families seeking FHA insured loans up to $12,000 to replace homes lost or seriously damaged by the tornadoes," Mr. Hamborsky said.

He explained that the FHA special provisions became effective when the President declared Lenawee County to be a disaster area on April 14.

Under FHA's repair and rehabilitation programs, the FHA is authorized to insure improvement loans in amounts up to $10,000 per family unit which may be repaid over a period up to 20 years.

First Aid Schedule Is Changed

Because students in Lester Proctor's first-aid class must be home for an early lunch hour, the time for the remaining four sessions will be from 9-11 a.m. Tuesday mornings at the City Hall.

Girl Scout leadership training classes are in progress. The remaining two meetings begin at 9 a.m. April 27 and 29 at the Scout Cabin.

Plans for day camp are being made for June 21 — at Aho's Landing. The camp will be from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Total charge will be $3.50 per girl. The highlight of the week is always the overnight campout. Scouts who will enter the Junior level or higher this fall are eligible.

★

GIRLS WHO will become new Brownies this fall are eligible for camp but not the overnight stay.

Adult help is needed with this project. Those who are interested may attend the Day Camp training session given by the council May 19. It begins at 9 a.m. at Camp of the Hills with women bringing a sack lunch.

The last neighborhood meeting of the current year will be May 20 at 8 p.m. at the Scout Cabin.

Brownie Troop No. 106 went to Paul Vollmer's kennels April 10. They thanked him for showing them new English Cocker puppies, English Setters and Brittany champion dogs.

Cars Shoved

Mrs. Dale Shaw and her 16-month-old son of Pentecost Hwy. underwent two narrowing experiences Palm Sunday night.

The roof of their home, torn away during the tornado, the two were being brought into Tecumseh by neighbors when a second blast hit the automobile in which they were riding.

The driver pushed the accelerator to the floor only to have the wind lift the car, carry it backward and set it on the road again. Only then was he able to move it forward.

Mrs. Shaw, whose son was ill with measles, is the wife of a U. S. Navy man now at sea.

☆

Shifts at the Fabricare Automatic laundry were doubled to accommodate customers bringing unusually muddy clothing from the tornado area.

Mrs. Larry Cote of the staff said that church groups and individuals came back four and five times with loads for residents whose homes had been struck.

Hostesses were quick with answers as to best methods for cleaning and laundering and many were surprised with good results.

☆

...Ray Jackson, Franklin Township supervisor, said

"People in the community lent heart and hands in doing a fine job in cleaning up the damage. We can thank God with all the property damage people escaped with minor injuries.

"Tipton may look in a shambles today but I feel people have heart and mind to restore it to its original beauty."

☆

Harry Hungerford, chairman of the Lenawee County Chapter of the American Red Cross was one of the county's busy residents last week.

Among Red Cross personnel stationed at Tipton was Mrs. Leonard Julien, assistant director of the Washtenaw County Chapter at Ann Arbor, who worked in the registration trailer adjacent to the Tipton Coffee Shop.

Mrs. Julien said applicants for long-range rehabilitation will be given forms to be filled in following family discussion. Family heads will then confer with Red Cross representatives to determine available assistance.

Victims were given orders, she said, which permitted them to buy food and clothing. In some cases rent would be paid on a temporary basis, she said.

The Red Cross representative will also accept applications for disbursement of national disaster funds, Mrs. Julien said.

Disposal of dead livestock was one of the biggest problems facing tornado victims.

Directing the operation were Dr. Warren Hagenbuch of Blissfield, a veterinarian employed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and Dr. William Britton of Lansing, assitant state veterinarian.

Some 250 dead cattle were hauled by truck to the Adrian Tankage Co. of Adrian. When that firm was no longer able to accept animals because of space shortages and operational limitations the veterinarians turned to Detroit firms for help.

About 125 bodies were buried in holes bulldozed on farms. Following state sanitary regulations the animals were covered with eight feet of soil to prevent contamination.

☆

Mrs. Mildred Schmidt RN, a member of the staff of the Lenawee County Health Dept., was stationed last week at the Tipton Coffee Shop where she operated a first-aid clinic.

Included among her duties was the giving of tetanus shots to workers who sustained cuts and scratches while cleaning up debris and to persons who stepped on nails.

"Workers were warned not to wear sneakers because of the danger, but many young persons did," she said.

Mrs. Schmidt applied antiseptics and bandages and handed out tablets for the purifying of water.

☆

Young people of the area worked diligently all week long doing any and everything to help clean up the devastation in and around Tipton.

Onsted High School students were out of school most of the week. Even the girls did not cringe at the unsavory task of picking up dead chickens on the Raynor Hardy farm and throwing them into a truck to be hauled away.

Youth from the Ridgeway Methodist Church and from Britton, Adrian College, Clinton and Tipton pitched in to do a tremendous job of clearing fields, lawns and homes of debris.

Tecumseh students helped after school.

☆

Only the cement blocks and stone-work of the screen and platform and projection booth were left standing at the Devils Lake Drive-In Ministry following the tornado there Palm Sunday.

The Manitou Beach Bible Church was leveled and many seriously injured, some fatally.

Movies of the disaster have been flown to the Florida Drive-In staff and were shown there Saturday night.

Terry and Lowell Lytle, co-directors of the Drive-In Ministries, whose father died as the result of injuries from the storm, are starting possible repairs. They hope to have at least one program at the end of the summer season.

☆

"I'd like a hairnet and this paper," remarked one of the customers at Coller's Beauty Salon in Adrian, and that started the avalanche of sales of The Tecumseh Herald there.

"I didn't have the heart to tell her that those were some I had purchased for myself," Mrs. Coller said.

Twice after that Mrs. Coller ordered more papers for the accommodation of her clients.

☆

As the storm raced through Macon towards Milan, Mrs. and Mrs. Gordon Garlick were on route back to Tecumseh on Ridge Hwy.

They stopped and the car began to rock—not side to side, as one might expect—but up and down.

Chunks of brick, boards and other debris went sailing by, but nothing major struck the car as the terrified occupants wondered how close they were to eternity.

☆

Mrs. G. A. Abner reports that a tornado struck in this area 45 years ago on April 22. She remembered the date because her daughter, Christine, now Mrs. George Meads, was just 16 months old. Mrs. Abner said, "Poor little thing, we had no clothes for her or the rest of us, either."

One of the Abner pillows was found lodged in a tree in Ypsilanti after that big blow. At the time they lived south on the Ridge Rd.

7,500 Extra Supplements Are Printed

By noon last Thursday, the April 15 issue of The Herald fell into the class of collector's item. Each of the 4,700 copies was gone.

But the demand continued.

There were about 900 extras of the eight-page tornado supplement and these went on sale at the office and all regular newsstands.

Snatched up in lots of anywhere up to 20, they swiftly disappeared. A call went to the Ingham County News, where the sections had been run on the sleek offset press at the Mason weekly.

A second printing of 7,500 supplements was rushed out and delivered Friday afternoon. These were snatched up almost as fast as they went on counters around the area.

Since calls had come from Adrian, asking if the sections were available there, The Herald dispatched 2,000 to Chaloner's newsstand.

Radio Station WABJ announced that supplements were on sale in Adrian and by Monday more than 1,500 had been bought.

In Blissfield, The Advance had 350 copies, selling fast — at 25c a copy — with everything over cost going into the disaster fund, reports Publisher Duane DeLoach.

Letters arrived from out-state locations (see Our Readers Write) seeking tornado sections.

The Herald has a few hundred left and they may be obtained at the office.

Citizens Band Radio Club Aids Guard

The Raisin Valley Citizens Band Radio Club which has done yeoman service in the tornado stricken area is hoping to generate interest in forming a permanent emergency CB organization.

Louis Loesch of Britton, president of the group, is asking that interested CB licensees meet at 8 p.m. May 4 in St. Elizabeth Catholic School, the club's regular monthly meeting place.

Members of the club set up a base station at 10 p.m., within two hours after the tornado hit Manitou Beach, Palm Sunday. Located at first at "Christian Corners", the base was moved soon afterward to Manitou Beach.

*

SOME 40 TO 50 persons were involved in the effort of members cooperating with Company B, Michigan National Guard members in policing the area. They drove more than 2,200 miles in their own vehicles and at their own expense checking the nine barricade points.

Their efforts continued 24 hours daily and will continue to do so, Darwin Creger, vice president of the club, said as long as the need exists.

The CBs assisted the members of Company B in providing eggs for the Easter hunt for Manitou Beach area children Sunday.

Through the cooperation of Mrs. Kenneth Jenkins of Adrian, who went on a monitoring channel with a request, 18 dozen eggs were donated, Mr. Creger said.

Dow Anhydrous Ammonia: Lowest cost form of nitrogen in the field.

The reason is, anhydrous ammonia gives you far more nitrogen per pound than any other nitrogen fertilizer. Which means it takes far less Dow Anhydrous Ammonia to do the job than it does with any other form of nitrogen fertilizer.

If you're planting corn on corn, it will take 150 to 200 pounds of nitrogen per acre to decay the old stalks and still have the nitrogen you need for high yields. Supply this nitrogen with Dow Anhydrous Ammonia and you may save $6 to $8 an acre. And boost crop yield quality and feed grain protein content while you do it.

It's so long-lasting one application is all you need.

See us today for details. And save some money for a change.

Regrets Are Sent by Donor

Arlo Gittins, volunteer worker in the Tecumseh Church of Christ clothing collection center, found this interesting letter in a box of clothing contributed to tornado victims:

April 14, 1965

Dear People:

I hope the ones who distribute these goods wil lallow this letter, to whom-ever you are, so that I may express my deepest regret to your misfortune.

The tornados, the floods have so changed your lives, and I pray in some small way my contributions, as meager as they are, will help you to repair your lives somewhere near normality.

I mean by all this to say that living in the tornado area (Petersburg, Mich.) as I do, the storms hit all around us. I may be in need of your help someday, should it ever be necessary.

Again my deepest sympathy goes to all of you, those of you who have lost loved ones, most of all to you; and to all whose homes and places of business were destroyed. I am sincerely sorry.

My prayers are with you,

Rita Cooper

Multitude of Problems

Congressman Weston E. Vivian spent Friday inspecting the tornado disaster area in Lenawee County.

"The extent of the damage, spreading over miles of farmland, is appalling and the devastation of the Manitou Beach community area was difficult to comprehend," Vivian said.

During the day, Congressman Vivian provided township officials with instructions for applying for disaster loans from the Small Business Administration.

He also called the Federal Office of Emergency Planning in Washington and District OEP offices in Battle Creek and Lansing, to obtain information of specific assistance.

He initiated arrangements for specialized technical personnel to be assigned to the disaster area over the next several days.

*

IN ADDITION, the Congressman said that he had been in touch with the Internal Revenue Service, concerning income deductions for non-compensated property losses in the tornado.

He requested the Service to consider applications for refunds from persons who had filed their tax returns prior to the tornado. The Service has ruled that amended tax returns will be accepted from such cases, until July 15.

Normally, casualty losses which are not compensated by insurance are not eligible to be deducted until the following year. However, the Internal Revenue Service ruled earlier this week that 1965 damage would be allowed as a deduction against 1964 income, for people who had not yet filed.

This privilege will now be allowed for people who had previously filed their returns. Full information may be obtained, Congressman Vivian stated, through local IRS offices.

*

CONGRESSMAN Vivian was also assured by IRS that the tax returns of tornado victims would be given expedited service this month, in order to speed the process of making refunds for these individuals.

"During my visit Friday, I was impressed by the courageous spirit of the victims of the tornado and by the generous assistance offered by so many in the community.

"Praise must be given to the many citizens and institutions of Lenawee and neighboring counties who have given so unselfishly this past week of their time and energy in an effort to help the people in the disaster area," he added.

Congressman Vivian plans to revisit the area this week to see what progress has been made in debris clearance and rebuilding and to see what further assistance can be offered the victims of this disaster.

Utility Plan for Disaster Goes Well

Special to The Herald

Within minutes after disaster strikes anywhere on the state-wide electric and gas systems of Consumers Power, the company is dispatching crews of men to the troubled area, frequently from miles away.

In cases of severe storm, like a tornado or ice storm, the company's crews often are joined by other crews from distant cities.

These can be other Consumers crews, or crews from as far away as Chicago.

Consumers, which has service in 66 of the 68 counties of the Lower Peninsula, often has storm difficulty somewhere on its system when the great majority of the company's customers are enjoying fair weather.

The families of Charlevoix County, for instance, might be struggling with a four-foot snowstorm while families in Lenawee County are still looking forward to the first snow flurries of the season.

★

BECAUSE IT is a large utility covering an area of both geographical and climatological differences — from the Straits of Mackinac to the Ohio and Indiana state lines — Consumers long ago developed a system for meeting trouble which involves the whole company.

For instance, within 24 hours after the Palm Sunday tornadoes disrupted power service to some 50,000 electric customers of the company, service was restored to all but the 5,000 hardest hit storm victims.

And these, where they were physically able to receive it, had power within a few more hours.

★

THE REASON was that within 12 hours of the storm, some 300 outside workers were in the tornado areas helping Consumers crews repair damage.

The Commonwealth Edison Co. of Chicago sent 100 men to help Consumers in southern Michigan and in the Grand Rapids areas. Detroit and other outside contractor's crews included another 200 helpers.

In a way, some of these were "repaying" Consumers, which itself has sent crewmen to Detroit and to Chicago within the past 12 months to help utilities in those cities repair and restore service after bad electrical or ice storms.

Headquarters for Consumers at Jackson, helped by the smaller division headquarters of the company in 14 other Michigan cities, all work closely to coordinate repair and restoration work in disaster times.

★

THE COMPANY'S main reason for fast repair is, to alleviate any possible suffering a lack of electrical power or natural gas service might lead to.

Michigan is a big state. The company's service area alone approaches some 30,000 square miles of land.

But so efficiently and quickly can the company mobilize its men and machines that it often has a disaster situation well in hand before the vast body of the general public is even aware that any distressing development has taken place.

DR. DARRELL H. POLLARD — academic dean of Adrian College, will speak at the annual Father-Son banquet April 29 in the First Baptist Church Youth House. Dr. Pollard received his Bachelor and Master of Arts degrees from Albion College and his Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University of Michigan. The former Michigan College of Mines instructor and Albion College professor of history and political science is the author of articles concerning the history of Michigan. Dr. George Burkhard is chairman of ticket sales for the banquet. Hugh Walter will be master of ceremonies.

Parents Invited to Orientation

Of interest to parents of eighth graders will be the "Parent Orientation Night" program to be presented at 7:30 p.m., April 29, in the high school gymnasium.

It will familiarize parents with the high school programs and the part parents must play in the student's high school scheduling and adjustment.

"It is becoming more and more imperative in this fast pace life of ours that students get off on the right foot in educational training for their adult roles," said a THS counsellor.

"Realistic vocational goals in high school, and the battle of the drop-outs, are upper-most in the minds of the Guidance department and the staff of Tecumseh High," he said.

"The transition from junior high to high school takes team work for satisfactory results. The parent, the student, the staff, and the counselors must all take part. We can no longer say "let the child take what he wants" because most 14 year olds are not sufficiently aware or informed of today's career requirements. The adults must give a helping hand, and this is the best way to assist.

"Parents should learn now, before the child makes a schedule, about the vocational areas and about the requirements of the college preparatory course," he said. "The responsibility of the child's future is in the hands of the parent even in high school."

Corrugated Box Employee Hurt

Gaylord Wilson of Dundee was bruised Tuesday morning at the Tecumseh Corrugated Box Co. when a skid of material fell and he jumped into another truck load as he tried to get away from the falling one.

★

He was taken to Herrick Memorial Hospital for treatment and released.

WABJ Newsman on Job 34 Hours

One of those unsung during the tornado was Gene Baril, news director of Radio Station WABJ.

He labored 34 straight hours from the station's mobile unit, first to warn residents that a twister was coming and then to help get volunteers going.

Communications were nearly non-existent for a long period and the Sheriff's Department asked Gene to call over the air for first aid workers, National Guardsmen, Red Cross personnel.

Then the radio requested area residents with station wagons to go to the Manitou Beach area to help remove injured.

The response was excellent and nearly 95% of people hurt went out in volunteer station wagons.

Gene was broadcasting on and off from Sunday at 6:30 p.m. until Monday at 1 a.m., but he continued to gather information on casualties and was reporting over the air early Monday, continuing until late afternoon.

His request for persons trained in first aid brought in motorists, some who happened to be heading for Detroit and heard the WABJ broadcasts.

★

THE STATION is now distributing Tornado Safety Rules, Mr. Beril states. They were printed without charge by Finch Printing of Adrian.

He said copies will be made available at the United Savings Bank in Tecumseh.

Development Gets Tentative Okay from City Council

Council gave tentative approval to Plat 3, Sunset Meadows, a housing section owned and being developed by Harry Beland.

The area includes the extension of Park St. and land south of Willow St.

Two Vacancies Must Be Filled on School Board

BRITTON — Persons desiring to run for a position on the board of education of the Britton Macon Area School District have until 4 p.m. May 15 to file their petitions, according to William Saxton, superintendent of schools.

They must be signed by at least 50 registered school electors of the district.

Expiring are the terms of Harold Rohrback and James Squires. Mr. Rohrback has decided not to run for another term.

Also on the ballot June 14 will be a request for an increase of one and one-half mills for operating expenses for the next two years.

Mr. Saxton pointed out this week that since the last millage election of June, 1963, the district has lost one-half mill to the townships. This came about because of the approval given to one township which requested an additional half mill. Similar approval was then given to other townships.

The mill and one-half will bring to five mills the total that voters will be asked to approve for operational expenses, Mr. Saxton said. "The need for additional money has been brought about by the increase in operational expenses for the new addition plus the raise in the teacher salary schedule," Mr. Saxton added.

May 17 is the last day persons may register with the appropriate city or township clerks in order to be eligible to vote in the annual election. Registration closes at 5 p.m. on that day.

Kiwanians on both sides of the border are spearheading the 42nd annual observance of Canada-U.S. Goodwill Week, April 25-May 1, according to Harlan Dicks, president of Tecumseh Kiwanis.

April 28 marks the 148th anniversary of the signing of the agreement which demilitarized the 3,000 mile border between Canada and the United States.

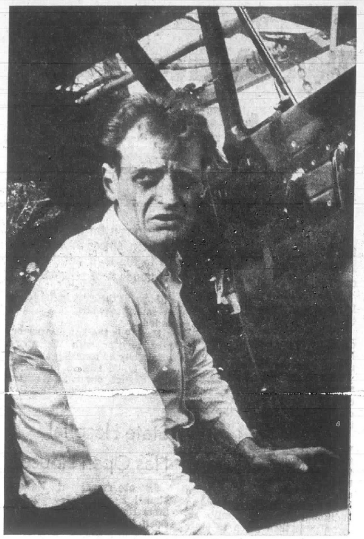
To dramatize the peaceful nature of this coast-to-coast boundary, Kiwanians in both countries have set up 35 "peace markers," one at each principal port of entry.

Kiwanis, which celebrates its own Golden Anniversary this year, has grown up simultaneously in both nations.

Sgt. Elwyn Baily of Tecumseh, chairman of Kiwanis International Relations, reports that Kiwanis 50th anniversary greeting cards have been sent to seven overseas clubs.

Replies have been received from Austria and Mexico. The oldest overseas club was formed only three years ago.

On April 20, Sgt. Baily addressed the noon meeting of the Hudson Kiwanis on the subject, "Europe and What Service Men are Doing to Better International Relations."



Paul Lindstrom Hurt as Truck Strikes Bicycle

Paul William Lindstrom, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Lindstrom, 1014 Red Mill Drive, received an injured ankle in a truck-bicycle accident at 1:50 p.m. Wednesday.

He was struck by a one-half-ton truck driven by Stewart Watson, 308 E. Kilbuck St., who was traveling west on Chicago Blvd. at Union St.

The Lindstrom boy told Tecumseh police that he thought he had time to cross the street as the light changed.

Mr. Watson, of Watson Bros. Roofing Co., said that he apparently applied the brakes so suddenly and hard the lining broke, releasing the fluid, thus leaving him without brakes.

Paul was taken to the Herrick Memorial Hospital for treatment.

TRAGIC CRASH — This truck was sideswiped, ran out of control and crashed head-on into this car Good Friday along M-52 near the Skate Arena. The semi driver, Norris Lynn (left), 25, of Wayne, survived. Harriet O'Shea, 16, of Ubley, one of four in the car, died. The others, Mrs. Rosella Dominick, 59; her daughter, Alice, 18, and Beatrice O'Shea, 15, were all taken to Bixby Hospital. In the first vehicle, which the truck sideswiped, 66-year-old Jesse Yoakum of Adrian survived, being flipped over. In an auto immediately behind the Dominick's was Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks of Britton, who narrowly missed being involved. The Herald's van, en route to take tornado supplements to Chaloner's newsstand in Adrian, arrived on the scene several minutes later and these pictures were taken. —HERALD

Thinclads Beat Milan

Coach Tom Fagan's Tecumseh Indians opened the league track season Thursday with an easy 66-43 victory over a Milan team.

The local thinclads won seven firsts in the 13-event meet, plus seven seconds and eight thirds.

Bill Thomas set a school record in the shot put with a mark of 50'¼".

Tecumseh swept the hurdle events with Steve Derby pacing his teammates with two first place finishes.

Kirk Lucas vaulted 11' to win that event, and Mike Sharpe ran the 880 in the winning time of 2:13.9. Both the 880 and mile relay teams won with Roger Young opening the mile event with a 54.2 quarter.

Tim Collins, 100-yard dash champion last year, was upset in both 100 and 220 by Milan's speedy Bill Eaddy.

Vivian Lends Aid

The School Board dealt with many problems Monday night, problems other than discussing shortage of classrooms and a proposed budget showing a deficit of about $25,000 at the end of the school year.

Also on the agenda were:

► Refunding of $300 bond to Walter Hochrein after he explained reasons for not moving the old Macon school building.

► Delaying final action on a request from the Church of Christ to rent seven classrooms this summer at Herrick Park school for vacation Bible school.

► Approving a request from the Class of 1949 to plant a tree and erect a plaque at the Junior High in memory of Mrs. Fred Dickinson.

► Discussion about collecting $3,000 in delinquent book fees.

► Report that state legal officials urge teachers with tenure to wait until the final 60 days before a new school term to sign teaching contracts.

► Discuss salary increases — no action — for teachers, secretaries and maintenance employees.

► Approval of election resolution for June 14.

Pat Meadows, bank president, says grading operations will start soon afterwards and the area will be paved.

Dow Anhydrous Ammonia: Lowest cost form of nitrogen in the field.

The reason is, anhydrous ammonia gives you far more nitrogen per pound than any other nitrogen fertilizer. Which means it takes far less DOW ANHYDROUS AMMONIA to do the job than it does with any other form of nitrogen fertilizer. If you're planting corn on corn, it will take 150 to 200 pounds of nitrogen per acre to decay the old stalks and still have the nitrogen you need for high yields. Supply this nitrogen with DOW ANHYDROUS AMMONIA and you may save $6 to $8 an acre. And boost crop yield quality and feed grain protein content while you do it.

It's so long-lasting one application is all you need.

See us today for details. And save some money for a change.

Card of Thanks

I WISH TO thank all those at Herrick Memorial who contributed in so many ways to my well-being. Especially do I thank the Rev. Robert Mitchinson, Dr. Helzerman, Dr. Coak, Dr. Wilson and the nurses for all their help. My thanks also go out to the many friends and relatives for the flowers and many cards; also the visits which helped so much during those long hours. Words alone cannot express my gratitude. I thank you. Frances Haas.

A SINCERE THANKS to all our relatives and friends for cards, flowers, gifts and calls during the long illness and death of our loved one. We also wish to express our gratitude to the nurses and nurses aides of Herrick Memorial Hospital for their kind and loving care. Also Dr. H. D. Ocamb and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Niblack for their services, Britton Congregational Church for the use of the dining room and all who furnished food. Also all the offerings given to the Cancer Foundation in memory of Gladys. A special thanks to Rev. G. O. Hannevik for his many calls and comforting words. LaVern Russell and relatives.

I WOULD LIKE to thank Dr. ——, the nurses and aides for the wonderful care I received during my stay in Herrick Memorial Hospital. I would also like to thank my friends for the flowers, cards and gifts that were sent to me. Mrs. Adah Gove. A.21

SALVAGE WORK PROGRESSES—Among property owners who hurried to repair roofs and other damages to their buildings were the Glen Joneses, 3830 W. Monroe Rd., Tipton. Few Tipton homes were left unscathed by the Palm Sunday tornado and many families were left homeless. Ray Jackson, Franklin Township supervisor, said last week, as he surveyed damage, that in his opinion most householders and businessmen would rebuild and make Tipton even more attractive than it had been.

Speaker Claims Dem 'Sellout'

By DOROTHY GRIGG

More than 300 persons heard the address of Mrs. Phyllis Schlafly April 8 at the Eagles Hall in Adrian when the author said that "the United States is quietly being 'sold out' to the Communists by the Johnson administration."

The writer was sponsored by the Citizens For Good Government of Lenawee County and the Republican Women's Club.

Among her books are "Choice Not An Echo" and "The Gravediggers."

James Duncan of Lansing, president of the Conservative Federation of Michigan, and Wayne Hartman of Clarks Lake, president of the Jackson Conservative Club and treasurer of the state organization, were among those present.

Mrs. Schlafly said, "You can't buy friends with American money any more than can individuals."

She suggested that President Johnson should have blockaded the Russian ships headed for Viet Nam, saying that the cost in American lives will be many more once the Russian missiles are carried off the ships and put in the launching sites.

Mrs. Schlafly was feted at dinner at the Adrian Country Club preceding her appearance at the Eagles Hall. She was introduced by a girlhood friend, Mrs. Walter Brown.

Sanitary Sewer Work Progresses Council Learns

A new sanitary sewer to Harvey Carpenter's motel on W. Chicago Blvd. will probably be finished this week.

City Manager Cal Zorn reports work has been delayed on the Evans Creek Interceptor Sewer Project, mainly due to the work load of Selders Excavating.

He hopes the partially constructed sewer may be finished late in the fall.

9 Managers Are Sought for League

Nine managers are needed for the Tecumseh Cub League.

Both adults and teen-agers are invited to volunteer.

Those interested should contact:

- ► Preston Caswell, 423-2229
- ► John Kachur, 423-2644

If the managerial posts aren't filled, the league will have to drop teams.

Tryout for the boys will be May 1 and 8 at the Tecumseh High School diamond.

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITORS:

The Journalism Department of Wayne State University, and many other departments and schools of journalism, receive copies of weekly and daily newspapers from all over the country. And we usually glance at them and stack them in the departmental library.

But this wasn't the case with the April 15 issue of The Tecumseh Herald, especially the Tornado Supplement. It was really a swell job, and it gave a far more graphic account of what a devastating wind can do to an area than anything I've yet seen.

I liked the section and its pictures so much I even brought it home for my wife to see. And it so happened that that day we got a lererfomiarfdnttexeo got a letter from a friend of ours in England, saying they had read about the tornado hitting Michigan, and they wondered if we were all right. (The storm fortunately missed Franklin, Michigan, where we live.)

In order to show our British friend what the tornado did do to an area close to us I sent the Tornado Supplement to Leigh-on-Sea, Essex, England. I'm sure this is the first time The Tecumseh Herald has ever been read in Leigh-on-Sea.

Congratulations on a fine piece of journalism.

TO THE EDITORS:

That special supplement of pictures on the April 11 tornado should not pass without a commendation.

The pictures were very professional and the layout was superb.

And to think you did the job in the short amount of time alloted made it even more amazing.

The graphic presentation of the tragic storm with your limited staff would have done credit to a newspaper five times the size of The Herald.

Just thought your fine efforts [illegible] and would know there are those who appreciate newspapering at its finest.

Yours,
Bob Warren

Come to Comet's celebration!
■ We're celebrating because we have the liveliest, fieriest lineup of cars in the business waiting for you to turn a key—the 1965 Comets. 10 models, all priced right. And all tough. All powerful. All beautiful.
■ We're celebrating because this month is the date of Comet's 5th birthday. And this car has gone a long way in those years. We've just completed the best year in Comet history. Now we're out to top it! Want a popular car? That's Comet!
■ We're celebrating because the 1965 Comet showed its championship performance by roaring 16,000 miles, from the bottom to the top of the world—from Cape Horn to Fairbanks, Alaska—in 40 days and nights of driving. A free 16-page, full-color booklet about this run is waiting at your Mercury dealer's.
■ We're celebrating because a specially equipped 1964 Comet, after traveling 100,000 miles at Daytona, went on to complete another 130,000 stop-and-go miles cross country—more than the distance to the moon. And this Comet's hardy engine is still running strong, without a single major repair.

Women's Club Has Spring Luncheon

CLINTON — The annual spring luncheon of the Clinton Woman's Club was held April 14 in the dining room of the Clinton Methodist Church. Forty members were present.

The luncheon was served by women of the church, with Mrs. Wayne Powell in charge.

The luncheon committee consisted of Mrs. Frank Allen, chairman, Mrs. Richard Barton, Mrs. Roy Porter, Mrs. Powell, and Mrs. Ralph Reed.

Mrs. George Miller gave the invocation.

The president, Mrs. Dan Reilly, recognized the past presidents, Mrs. Ted Kiebler and Mrs. Linn Weaver, and introduced the new officers for 1965-66. She then introduced Mrs. Warren Van Orden, president of the Lenawee County Federation of Women's Clubs.

★

OTHER FEDERATION officers present were Mrs. Walter Prill of Britton, Mrs. Clifford Knudson of Tecumseh, and Mrs. J. Howard Meyers and Mrs. Medford Pfister, both of Adrian.

Guests were Mrs. Margaret Stone, Mrs. Edward Rudd, Mrs. Clyde Bailey, and Mrs. Frank Humble of Clinton and Mrs. Andrew Woodward of Tecumseh.

Mrs. John Mabry thanked the Club for the gift to the local Girl Scouts and Mrs. Tom Pence reported on the successful Thrift Shop and pie sale.

Mrs. John Hoelzer, program chairman, introduced the speaker, Mrs. Justin Sutton of Morenci, who related the interesting history of Beaver Island, where she and her husband have a summer home. 55 miles from the Mackinaw Bridge and 34 miles from Charlevoix, the island is the largest of the Beaver archipelago, containing 15,000 acres of land. The island can be reached only by a two-hour ferry trip from Charlevoix and by air shuttle.

★

Even before the pilgrims had reached New England, Samuel de Champlain had explored this island, canoeing down the St. Lawrence and Great Lakes on his way to Chicago. Early Jesuits were among the first to settle there and Iroquois and Ottawa Indians still live on the island.

Beaver Island's only village is St. James, named in honor of James Jesse Strang, a renegade and excommunicated Mormon who in 1847 founded a kingdom and was crowned king, the only man ever to be king in the United States.

By treachery he took over the island, either converting or driving out the Gentiles from their island home. In 1850 he was shot but escaped to the home of his first wife in Wisconsin, where he died two weeks later.

★

THE GENTILES then took back the island and drove out the Strangites. Today the population is predominantly Irish, many of whose forebears came to the island about 1857 at the time of the potato famine in Ireland.

Mrs. Sutton said the island is a sportsman's heaven, with its seven lakes, sugar sand beaches and good fishing.

The May 12 meeting of the club will be a potluck cooperative luncheon at the Community Center. Annual reports of officers and chairmen of committees will be received. Mrs. Hans Schmidt will give a travel talk on the trip she and Mr. Schmidt took on a freighter to Germany last summer.

Supervisors Reach Agreement on Fires

CLINTON — Supervisors from Manchester, Bridgewater, Macon and Franklin townships met April 14 with the Clinton Township Fire Board to discuss pay for fire calls.

Clinton had requested the townships to pay $300 for each fire call answered in their township. Franklin and Macon agreed. Saline township is to consider the proposition at a meeting of their board soon. Bridgewater township will pay for all calls except for automobile fires occurring on the highway.

Manchester refused to make any agreement, stating that they had ample fire protection for their own township. If you live in Manchester township and have a Clinton phone, you must call long distance to Manchester to report a fire to the Manchester Fire Department.

Mr. Poore is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Poore of Evans Lake and he also is a 1963 graduate of Clinton High School.

Students Assist in Clean-up Job

CLINTON — More than twenty Clinton high school students met at the school Monday morning to go by bus to the Newburg Road area to assist with the tornado debris clean-up.

DOLLAR and SENSE FARMING.

BREEDING COWS on the first heat 60 to 80 days after calving is a frequent problem. This is especially the case on farms having a milking parlor and loose housing. Heat can more easily go unnoticed. Keep accurate breeding records, and observe cows in a group twice a day. Cows are in standing heat for an average of 18 hours. At the earliest, breed in the middle of this period. Rule of thumb: Breed cows detected in the morning that afternoon; cows noticed in afternoon, the next morning.

CONTINUOUS CORN needs supplemental nitrogen for top yields either plowed down or sidedressed before corn reaches 8 inches high. Each year corn follows corn residual nitrogen drops further. While secondcrop corn may need 80 pounds of N, you'll need 100 to 125 pounds per acre for third-year corn. N needs will jump to 125 to 150 pounds or more, depending on yield goals for longer corn rotations.

ANNUAL MACHINERY COSTS can be rapidly estimated as a fixed percentage of the purchase price. Figure the percentage according to the amount of annual use and the number of frequently replaced parts. Figure 20% on equipment where parts such as plow shares or sickle bars need frequent sharpening or replacing. For equipment such as harrows, planters or rakes, use 15% of the purchase price.

FIFTEEN POUNDS OF FEED saved on every hundredweight of hog sold will earn you $1 extra profit on every market hog you sell, say Pennsylvania researchers. Use of limited feeding under proper management and good self-feeders along with a balanced feeding program all save feed.

The other day Grandad read an account in our newspaper about the miraculous speed of a B-58 bomber. He contrasted this accomplishment with the experience in his youth when he spotted his first airplane five miles outside of town — and then rode a bicycle into town in time to see the plane circling the capitol building.

It seems incredible the technological advances mankind has made in the past fifty years. Men who rode to Sunday School by horse and buggy as boys, today follow the flight of astronauts on TV. Their wives do the family laundry with the twist of a dial, and their grandchildren learn Algebra from programmed textbooks.

One unchanging fact remains. Man still needs God as the center and circumference of his life. And the Church, as God's expression, remains constant in the teaching of His Truths.

THE CHURCH FOR All... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

News from the Tecumseh Library

New books at the public library:

THE CATWALK, set in the Michigan the author loves so well, is a study of a simple man whose life has been an uneventful progression of dawns into sunsets. Ever since boyhood he has been waiting for something special to happen to him. In the hope that someday it may, and to be ready when it does, he builds a catwalk on his roof.

VOICES OF A SUMMER DAY. Here is a new novel by one of the world's finest and most mature talents. Four decades of American life are re-created through the dramatic reminiscences of Benjamin Federov, a typical yet very special man, son of immigrant Jewish parents.

MEMOIRS OF A TOURIST by Stendhal, is translated by Tecumseh's own Allan Seager. This is the first English translation of Stendhal's fictional account of a tour through France in the reign of Louis Philippe.

P. S. WILKINSON by C. Bryan. When the reader first meets the hero he is a lieutenant in truce-time Korea, competent, serious about his duties, and impatient to return to the envied existence of his college friends, who are already working in offices, getting married and raising families. But the life to which he returns is wide of his expectations.

FIRST PAPERS by Laura Hobson. This satisfying and moving story takes place during the six years that led to the First World War. It enters in the triumphs and tragedies of an unforgetable family living on Long Island during those critical years.

Adrian College Gets New Planetarium

Astronomy at Adrian College just got a tremendous boost.

A planetarium will be built this spring on the campus.

The cost and donor are being kept in confidence, according to President John Dawson.

The building will be attached to the east end of the Peele Hall of Science and will be approximately 31' x 31' in size. A 30' perforated aluminum dome will be hung from the interior.

Seating will be in a 270-degree configuration and will accommodate 90 persons with 71 seated under the dome.

★

SPITZ LABORATORIES, Inc., of Yorklyn, Del., world-famous builder of astronomical equipment, will erect the projector, including auxiliary equipment of remote control and a projector orrery.

The projector will be on a hydraulic system allowing it to be lowered into a pit of the floor, thus permitting the planetarium to be used for other classes.

There will be a stereo sound system installed to help dramatize sounds of moving objects in the sky — rockets and orbital capsules.

Marr & Marr Associates of Detroit are the Architects and Krieghoff-Lenawee of Adrian, will be the building contractor.

★

WITH THIS addition the college will be able to offer more advanced courses in mathematics, physics and chemistry as they relate to the stars.

Mr. Dawson said, "This addition will make Adrian College the number one small college in the area of astronomy."

He said astronomy can now be taught in all kinds of weather using the planatarium on cloudy nights, or during the day and Robinson Observatory on clear nights to see, in person, the heaven as it actually appears.

Zing into spring! Chevrolet Impala

Chevrolet Impala Super Sport Coupe—one of two bucket-seated beauties for '65.

People who buy other big expensive-looking cars get one thing you won't (big expensive-looking payments)

It looks like a big car. And is—by almost any standard you want to apply.

Width? Nobody builds a car as much as one inch wider. Length? It grew three inches this year. Roominess? Every closed model's got three inches more shoulder room, front and rear, and more leg and foot room up front too. Luxury? Nice little touches like the look of mellow walnut across the Impala's instrument panel. And big touches. Like the fineness of the same Body by Fisher workmanship that makes some of America's most expensive cars look so expensive. How about the ride? Chevrolet engineers took the Jet-smooth one and smoothed it out even more this year. Also made it more stable by widening the wheel stance. Custom features? You can personalize your Chevrolet all you want because there are nearly 200 custom features to choose from. Price? That's where Chevrolets fall way short of the other big expensive-looking cars. But we wouldn't have it any other way. Would you?

One last question: How soon can you make a good spring buy on a Chevrolet? One last answer: Just as soon as you can get down to your Chevrolet dealer's.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

IT'S THAT TIME

The days are getting gloriously long — after an almost unending winter of hard use, the electric lights are enjoying a little rest as we can now eat dinner in the warm soft glow of sunshine.

Even our breakfast toast and juice seems to taste better in the daylight and how pleasant it must be for people to go to work with their automobile lights left in the off position.

But the ever lengthening hours of daylight trigger a complicated chain of reactions which result in another springtime miracle. One to which we all eagerly look forward — the birds' annual trek northward.

★

Bird migration, its hows and whys, is still far from being completely understood. We do, however, know that the added hours of daylight activate certain glands and their secretions cause birds to [illegible] thus eventually, our window pictures are full of returnees.

Some of them will be with us all summer long and others will merely passe for a few days before continuing on to their more northerly homes. Whichever the case, they will be greeted with open arms and as each day's sightings are recorded on our bird calendar, the excitement here in the gray and white house at the west end of Logan Street mounts higher and higher.

Actually, of course, some of the braver — no, I think we should say some of the more foolish birds started showing up quite a while ago. Big, fat, bright red-breasted robins are everywhere and how pretty they look hopping around the newly green lawns.

★

Purple grackles, with heads iridescent and back shockingly black in the bright spring sunshine, strut and parade in glorious full-dress uniforms. Later in the season, when their invasion-size forces have completely overrun the neighborhood, we will not speak of them in such flattering terms. Now, however, their 'newness' is still exciting and really, they are pretty. Also quite handsome, before they become too plentiful, are the cowbirds; at least the males, jet black bodies and bronze colored heads, are attractive.

Yes, a few birds seem ahead of themselves, or maybe they were just in a hurry to get back to good old Michigan, but on the whole, the spring migration show is running 'way late.

Usually our March calendar notes returning [illegible] catbirds, towhees, kingfishers, phoebes, fox sparrows and vesper sparrows. If we are extra lucky we should see, or at least hear about woodcocks, bluebirds and do you remember a number of years ago when the beautiful whistling swans rested on the pond between here and Adrian? That too was in March.

Of course, there was excitement — Mom saw a long, gangly, but always thrilling blue heron and Ida spotted two lesser scaup ducks bobbing down the creek. As of this writing though, we have not even so much as heard the raucous rattle of a kingfisher.

★

April did not start out to be much better. By the middle of the month we should have entertained white-crown sparrows, white-throated sparrows, yellow warblers and purple martins; the brilliant orange and black Baltimore orioles, the pretty little chipping sparrows and the slate gray catbirds should also be showing up. And how about the wrens?

Weather plays an extremely important role in this migration show, too. First of all, the availability of food is a prerequisite to a successful breeding season, which after all, is the purpose of coming north. Secondly, birds tend to fly when things are as they like them, weather fronts — storms, winds, etc., — cause 'bunch ups' while they wait for nicer traveling conditions. Therefore, if ever our weather does straighten out, we are hoping our bird watching will improve.

So it is that although nothing much has been happening as far as the spring bird returning goes, any day now all sorts of excitement should fly in — it's that time.

NEXT WEEK: Probables.

150-Man Crew Works on Lines in Macon Area

By JOHN HARKNESS

Special to The Herald

A Detroit Edison task force of 150 men and a fleet of mobile equipment were dispatched to the Macon area Sunday night, April 11, to restore the company's electric power facilities damaged in the severe storm which struck earlier that evening.

Lightning and high winds had severed power lines, broken poles and damaged transformers, interrupting service to about 800 Macon-area customers.

Fallen trees, floods and knee-deep mud hampered restoration in some sections by preventing the use of mobile equipment in setting poles, stringing wire and transporting supplies.

Much of the work had to be done manually by labor forces working in shifts.

Arrangements were made in Tecumseh for feeding the overhead line crews, representing several company divisions, also for refueling and servicing vehicles.

★

THE TASK of untangling lines and re-setting poles was a joint Detroit Edison-Consumers Power Co. project in the area of Pennington and Macon Rds. where several hundred feet of high-voltage Consumers Power transmission line fell across an Edison distribution circuit.

Extensive damage to Edison facilities was reported throughout a mile-wide area stretching from Tecumseh-Clinton Rd. and Allen Rd. to Macon Township.

The restoration included replacing 32 poles and re-stringing of several miles of power lines. A mile-long section of distribution line along Billmyer Rd., between Allen and Pennington Rds., was completely down and had to be restrung.

An Edison spokesman said that about half of the Macon-area customers were back in service by 10 a.m. Monday. The majority of the remaining users had electric power by late Monday.

In a few cases, customers were without service until Wednesday. Mopping-up operations continued into this week.

★

ALTHOUGH MANY communities in the southeastern Michigan area served by Edison experienced outages as a result of the storm, the company's electric system suffered the greatest damage in southern Washtenaw and northern Monroe counties.

Downed transmission lines feeding four substations supplying parts of Sumpter, Huron and Dundee townships interrupted service to about 4,000 customers for periods ranging from a few minutes to more than 24 hours.

Clothing Gifts Amaze Pastor

"How do you say 'wonderful' differently than it has ever been said before?"

That's the question that Tecumseh Church of Christ minister, the Rev. Ed Pistole, asks.

"The word doesn't adequately describe the attitude, the concern and big heart of the people in this area.

"I have never witnessed anything more moving than the concern of one person for another and I have never seen it demonstrated more than here," Mr. Pistole noted as he looked about the basement of his church.

What normally are Sunday School class rooms, six in all and in various sizes, have temporarily been transformed into storage areas for donated clothing.

★

MR. PISTOLE and his congregation wanted to do something to help area victims of the devastating tornado, which leveled homes in the Tecumseh and Tipton area, inflicting nearly $1 million in damages.

So the pastor issued an invitation — anyone with gifts of clothing could leave them at the basement of his church. He or members of [illegible] were on hand from 9 to 9.

The response was instant and overwhelming. It was difficult for the youthful clergyman to find words which described his emotions.

"Wonderful" was the one he repeated over and over again.

"People have been so thoughtful and you see it as they bring things in, thrilled to do something. As you sort through and see how these things have been cleaned, ironed and pressed.

"Many of the items are new. The people are sharing their good things with others. There seem to be no discards," he marveled.

★

FOLKS HAVE been arriving with car loads, some in station wagons packed full. The usual comment from the donors were, "We have a few things."

The minister quoted the Apostle Paul, "Rejoice with those that rejoice and weep with those that weep." The Biblical quotation exemplified the attitude of the givers who were thinking "They were stricken with the tornado, but all of us feel the pain."

"This gives one a faith in humanity to see this concern for one another," adds Mr. Pistole.

A Red Cross volunteer, Mrs. John Quigley, who has helped in sorting the various items voiced a feeling of amazement at the excellent condition of the gifts.

Of the thousands of garments — from ladies coats and men's shirts through girls dresses and boys trousers, plus diapers, plus bottles and bedding — only one tiny box needed washing, another some patching. Discards were almost non-existent.

★

THE CHURCH WOMEN worked long hours filling the various rooms, one with shoes, another for girls gear, one for boys, heavy duds, light ones — all tagged for size.

They've been aided by teenage volunteers, one afternoon girls of Onsted High laboring with great zest and asking if they could return the next day.

The Church is cooperating with the Red Cross, which has headquarters in Tipton, and the Tecumseh Service Club, the year-around emergency aid group for the city.

For tornado victims who need clothing, the place to come is the Church of Christ, states Pistole. He and his congregation will be delighted to serve.

CLOTHING BOORED IN — Six basement rooms at the Church of Christ were loaded with a wide variety of clothing, donated for tornado victims, soon after the disaster. Red Cross volunteer Mrs. John Quigley and Mrs. Ed Bailey (center) were among the folks who helped sort and label the gifts. The church's minister, the Rev. Ed Pistole (right), issued the call for donations and voiced joy at the wonderful response of people.

Planned, Scheduled Meals

The Rev. Harold Speer, president of the Tecumseh Ministerial Association, planned and scheduled food for the clean-up operation at Tipton.

He said, "We thank the many members and friends of Tecumseh and surrounding area churches who provided food for the planned menus with such beautiful cooperation. It was a pleasure to correlate a program when everyone was so cooperative."

John Saling of the Civil Defense program asked Mr. Speer to oversee the program after the individual churches had handled it earlier in the week.

Everything was donated so [illegible] to be served to 400 area residents and volunteer workers Wednesday, 200 on Thursday, 500 on Friday and 300 Saturday without charge.

★

MRS. FAY LUCE, owner of the Tipton Coffee Shop where the meals were served, has the highest praise for the area churches and the ministers.

She said "Urns of hot coffee and food began to arrive as our supplies from the kitchen ran out. We had made chili, coffee and other hot things but our three camp stoves couldn't keep up with the flow of people. The Women's Auxiliary of the Sand Lake Fire Department were the first to come with food and coffee Sunday night.

The Rev. Frank Hawthorne was the first of the ministers to arrive and then the Rev. Speer took over and planned the operation for the rest of the week.

"Food came from everywhere," said Mrs. Luce. "We have pans marked Britton School and we know the Britton churches and Ridgeway also helped."

★

THE REV. SPEER said, "We are doing our best to get containers back to their owners but we are afraid some will be lost. People may pick them up at the rear door of the Presbyterian Church in Tecumseh.

"I have not been refused on any hand while soliciting food for the Tipton area and for Newburg later in the week. Over four dozen lunches were sent to farms there, too."

The three dairies, Driggs, Meadowridge and Lenawee, and Kroger, A & P and Vescios have donated quantities of food as well as other stores, organizations and individuals.

★

AMONG SOME of the gifts were:

60 lbs. ham
40 lbs. ground beef

Was It A Warning?

Nature in the 1965 tornado destruction, only killed 250 people. Three hundred fifty (350) people per day are killed by their fellowmen with lung cancer. Henry Ford, Sr., said, "The day will come when not any man would smoke." Read the POWER OF HONESTY, price: $1.00.

From Dr. GEORGE LeROY DALE'S book, Attaining Spiritual Mastery: quote—"Approximately five hundred years before our calendar started, Confucius, the great philosopher and teacher of ancient China, advocated the Golden Rule as the Rule of Wisdom for personal unfoldment and also the rule to be taught to all emperors, judges, and others in authority in the Chinese Empire. Confucius is credited with having so educated the rulers of a certain province through Golden Rule practice that jails were emptied in two years and judges and lawyers had no work to do. Crime and war had disappeared because of the right mental training given to all people of that province." end of quote.

What happened in those days can happen again in our modern age if enough people learn to love and practice the Golden Rule.

The rule deals with mans' conduct toward others. DO UNTO OTHERS AS YOU WOULD WISH TO BE DONE BY, IF YOU WERE IN THEIR PLACE. And a simple rule to direct all of our conduct. To get a right result two things must be adhered to, our motive must be helpful, and our method: love, kindness and honesty.

There are Creator's laws that arrange results from men's acts. All wrong results we see around us are the results of men not adhering to these two simple rules.

Every one of your acts has a consequence: A Blessing or A Sorrow.

Order a copy of The Power Of Honesty Creator's Laws of Consequences. Price, $1.00. Address P. O. Box 222, Saline, Michigan. Enclose self-addressed envelope, or a separate slip with your complete name and address on it.

A tornado struck... and you responded

Suddenly, there was debris and heartache everywhere Yet, there was hope, too. Yes, and volunteers to help. The kindnesses, thoughtfulness and work of many helped to relieve some of the pain for the people who had been hit so hard. When the call for clothing and donations went out, family after family responded. Here was the true spirit of Easter in action. A Tornado Disaster Fund was established by the Tecumseh Exchange Club to help Tecumseh-Tipton area victims. It is being administered by the Tecumseh Service Club and will be used to obtain those personal items — from tooth brushes to dishes — which people lost and are not covered by the big disaster funds. Tribute to an Angel

State Senators Haskell Nichols and Gil Bursley, on behalf of Lieut.-Gov. William Milliken and the entire membership of the Senate, offered the following:

"Resolution, in tribute to Mrs. Fay Luce, Tipton's Angel."

"WHEREAS, in the midst of tragedy and disaster, Mrs. Fay Luce, owner of the Tipton Coffee Shop — the only restaurant at Tipton, became the community's succoring angel. After the tornado's holocaust, she kept the Coffee Shop open for those who sought shelter all night on Sunday, April 11, 1965 — when all but six homes were storm-damaged in the little town of about 300 population; where people couldn't cook or even keep themselves warm; and

"WHEREAS, with nobility of heart, Lillian Luce saw that everyone had been fed and found warm places to sleep, and herself dozed in a chair for only an hour and a half. But her cash register didn't ring throughout the several days of aftermath; and

"WHEREAS, Mrs. Luce nourished her community with comforts beyond food and shelter; her selfless vigil provided a source for information, allaying anxieties concerning other sufferers, and as Tipton's rallying-point for sharing adversity and reviving morale — a focus for community regeneration, for bearing one another's burdens; and

"WHEREAS, beginning the next day—Monday, at noon, the Lenawee Red Cross Chapter reached Tipton, bringing food and medical supplies. Tetanus shots were administered, and water purification tablets and other drugs were dispensed from one end of the Coffee Shop's dining room; in another corner were piled donations of clothing.

"Portable generators, loaned by the Fay Whelan Implement Company of Tecumseh and from the Sand Lake Fire Department furnished the restaurant's heat and running water. Church groups and many other organizations from Tecumseh arrived with roasters full of hot food and urns full of coffee.

"About 500 persons, residents and cleanup crews, filed through the food line, and Mrs. Luce estimates about 200 persons ate lunch in her small emporium — small only in physical size, but a giant of towering strength during adversity; now, therefore, be it

"Resolved by the Senate, that its members, by these presents, extend their highest honor and warm praise to Michigan's citizen, Mrs. Fay Luce of Tipton, in deep gratitude for her selfless action and no less for her personal example; and be it further

"Resolved, that copies of this encomium be presented to Mrs. Fay Luce, and to each organization cited herein and others who contributed so nobly to the succor of Tipton."

PAUSE FOR REFRESHMENT — Because of the generosity of Mrs. Fay Luce, Tipton Coffee Shop proprietor, and unnumbered individuals, churches and organizations, hundreds of Tipton storm victims and workers were fed without charge last week — as many as 500 for one meal with tables outdoors. Following the tornado which struck soon after 8 p.m. Palm Sunday, Mrs. Luce threw open her shop, which escaped with relatively small damage, and with the aid of portable generators, camp stoves and the helping hands of her family, made the little restaurant a bright, warm oasis in the horror-stricken community. That night and in the days that followed hundreds came with gifts of food, clothing and household gifts for the less fortunate. Tables were set up in the area adjacent to the shop and here as many as 500 persons — many of them without cooking facilities in their own homes — took their meals, after selecting from the hot, wholesome and delicious food set out smorgasbord style in the restaurant. Red Cross workers made their headquarters there for a week. Mrs. Luce, who sacrificed the profits of her little business during a period which is usually one of her busiest, was cited as Tipton's Angel in a resolution passed last week by the Michigan State Senate.

Janet Murphy and James Wasil Exchange Vows

Janet Lee Murphy and James Steven Wasil were united in marriage Feb. 6 in St. James Roman Catholic Church in LeBelle Pa.

News of the wedding has been delayed due to the hospitalization of the bride, a graduate of Tecumseh High School and former resident here.

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Don Murphy, former residents, now of Hyattsville, Md.

The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Michael E. Wasil of LaBelle.

The Rev. Fr. David Fisher performed the ceremony before the altar decorated with white gladioli, spider chrysanthemums and fern.

★

THE BRIDE entered the church on the arm of her father. She was gowned in white silk faced peau de soie appliqued with embroidered Alencon lace and pearls.

The fitted bodice featured long tapered sleeves and the belled skirt ended in a pelated chapel train held by a wide flat bow.

Her bouffant veil of silk illusion was secured to a pill box hat of peau and Alencon lace trimmed with pearls.

She carried white lilies with two bunches of white grapes centered with a white yellow throated orchid.

Mrs. Frank Bukus served as matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Linda Easton, Mrs. Lil Barrish, Delores Lubozenski and Janet Capozzoli. Lisa Petriello was the flower girl.

All were gowned alike in mango peau satin sheaths with floor length belled overskirts and matching open crowned pill box hats.

Jet veils of silk illusion and silk crosses were attached to the pill boxes.

The attendants carried spider chrysanthemums.

Herbert Hayack served as best man and the guests were seated by Keith Murphy, the bride's brother, and Ed Kavulic.

★

ABOUT 600 guests attended the breakfast, dinner and reception held in Brownsville, Pa. They came from Ohio, Maryland, Virginia, Texas and Florida.

MRS. JAMES STEVEN WASIL

The bride is a graduate of Cleary College and is employed as a secretary in the sales department of Truehaurf Plant in Uniontown, Pa.

Her husband is a 1965 graduate of California State College with a BS degree.

The couple is making its home in LaBelle after a honeymoon tour of the Eastern States.

The rehearsal dinner was held at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Clair, in LaBelle.

Monday Club Holds Luncheon

The Tecumseh Monday Club climaxed the 1964-1965 season with a luncheon in the Youth House of the First Baptist Church. Seventy-seven members and guests were served by the Ladies Association of the church.

The retiring president, Mrs. Truman Rentschler, introduced the new president, Mary McWilliams, who in turn presented the new officers.

Mrs. W. P. VanOrden, the County Federation president, was a guest.

As is the custom, a brief service was held in memory of members deceased during the year.

Mrs. Wilfred Waldron played meditative piano music as Mrs. C. B. Brock wrote the names of Mrs. Norman McConnell and Mrs. Floyd Elliott in the memory book.

Mrs. Maynard Mulvany had arranged a program which included piano solos by Mrs. Paul Brantingham and Dexter Bailey; vocal solos by Dennis Bryan, accompanied by Mrs. Katharine Hunt; songs by the Tecumseh Music Club and the Tecumseh High School Madrigal Singers.

Mrs. R. J. McCoy welcomed Mrs. Rentschler into the Past Presidents Club.

Congressman Explains Medicare Benefits

In the last two weeks the House of Representatives has passed three very significant bills:

► The Water Resources Planning Act

► The Older Americans Act of 1965

► The Medicare Bill.

The Water Resources Planning Act, after passage by the Senate, will authorize the creation of Federal-State river basin commissions and planning councils in order to foster greater conservation and more efficient use of fresh water.

Such planning and coordination will help efforts to clean up Lake Erie and the Raisin and Huron Rivers, reports Congressman Wes Vivian.

★

THE OLDER Americans Act will establish an agency within the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, which will administer existing Federal programs for the aging and sponsor research and provide information useful to the elderly.

Medicare, when originally introduced in 1957, contained provisions for limited hospital and nursing care benefits for persons over 65, financed by Social Security payroll taxes.

Groups, which previously had opposed such legislation, changed tactics and submitted alternative versions — one the Eldercare Bill, sponsored by the American Medical Association. It stressed medical and surgical as well as hospital care.

The leadership of the House, agreeing that such benefits were needed, then incorporated the Eldercare concept into the Medicare Bill, said Congressman Vivian.

★

IF PASSED by the Senate — as expected — beginning next July, senior citizens will be eligible for 60 days of hospital care, plus subsequent nursing care for each illness. These benefits will be financed out of increased Social Security payroll taxes. No doctors' fees will be paid out of this fund.

In addition, all persons over 65 will be eligible to enroll in a 100% optional supplementary program that will pay for physicians' and surgical services wherever performed, including the home or doctor's office, diagnostic X-rays, lab tests, necessary surgical dressings and medical equipment and aids.

A third section of the bill will provide an increase of 7% Social Security Old Age

EVERYONE PITCHED IN — Students from Onsted High School and from Adrian College were among the first to volunteer their services to assist the Tipton storm victims. High school classes were dismissed at Onsted April 12 and 13 and many students were excused later in the week to permit them to help in cleaning up the debris. Among the busiest workers was Judy Paschal (above) shown here checking Rick Weinbrenner (left) and Dave Smith, Adrian College students, who were moving contributions of clothing from the Tipton Coffee Shop to the Tipton Post Office where temporary storage facilities were available. Persons hard hit by the tornado may receive gifts of clothing, household linens, etc., from headquarters now set up in the basement of the Tipton Community Church. Distribution is being handled by the newly-created Franklin Township Disaster Committee headed by Mrs. Grover Swarts, chairman.

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

An embarassing thing happened to me a couple of Mondays ago.

That is, it will be when Mrs. Fred Fisher, a third grade teacher in Adrian, catches up with the facts.

During a DAR luncheon in the Maple City, Mrs. Fisher sat at my right and as we chatted amiably, she asked,

"Does Tecumseh have school problems like we do in Adrian?"

To those who haven't kept track lately, Adrian has been going through the wringer on this education business, voting down millage issues, dropping all athletics, bickering with the administration.

Which brings to mind "The Music Man," line that unexpectedly got the loudest chortles during the Adrian performance:

"Will you members of the school board stop bickering in public."

It was meant for the mythical boardmen of River City, Iowa, circa "19 and 12," but the audience of 1,200 Maple Citians allowed as how it fit perfectly their current estrangement.

★

BUT BACK to that lovely lady's question.

Rolling over a few hurried facts in my mind, my answer came out something like, "Oh, no, things are going along pretty well in Tecumseh."

Then came a peek at last week's reports on the recent school board gathering. Ugh.

Trouble, yes, we got it up to our ears and when Mrs. Fisher gets all these facts she is going to have a chuckle or two.

There's a $25,000 deficit staring the school in the face at the end of this year. About 100 new homes will be going up in the district, meaning more classrooms, more teachers more deficit.

This no doubt will call for additional millage in Tecumseh and we're off and running once more.

A lot of us dreamed that with tax money rolling in from new industry within the district, all problems would be resolved. It looks like pie in the sky.

A boom brings new and mighty problems and it appears as though Tecumseh will have them for years to come. It's going to mean a lot of good, straight thinking by officials, who must chart the school's course through those rough seas that lay ahead.

★

MEANWHILE, Adrian and Tecumseh aren't the only places beset by difficulties on the educational front.

Teachers in Hamtramck have closed their schools by staging an old-fashioned sit-down strike, although the modern handle is sit-in.

They've come up with some unique demands — a healthy pay boost, hospitalization and life insurance, plus, and this is the kicker, a three-week vacation, in addition to the summer off.

Doesn't that sound wonderful?

Just think, if a fellow was a skin diving fan, who liked to follow the sport, in say, the Florida Keys, he'd just tell his principal he wanted to take his three weeks vacation in February.

And off he'd roar.

Fabulous.

$655,854 City Budget To Be Eyed by Council

A proposed budget of $655,854 will be submitted to Council Monday night by Cal Zorn, city manager.

The budget — biggest in the history of the city — shows an increase of approximately $85,000 and a .6 mill jump on present city taxes.

Present Tecumseh tax is 12 mills local valuation. The additional millage, plus income from increased assessed evaulations on personal and real property, and increased aid from state sources, will provide anticipated income of $619,202 for the budget, which runs from July 1, 1965 to June 30, 1966.

★

Millage for expanding the waste water plant, recently approved by the voters, will not be included in the city taxes until next year.

Although there is a difference of about $36,000 between anticipated income and anticipated expenditures in the new budget, a loan of $40,000 in the special assessment fund has been planned, which in effect, will balance the budget and show a slight surplue of about $4,000.

Practically all city departments will receive more money as will most of the city's 36 employees. Total salary increases amount to about $10,000.

Mr. Zorn says the new budget still falls short of the needs: planning, sanitary and storm sewers, water, contour maps, building improvements, reassessments, tree program, parking, park improvements, refuse collection, dump improvements and others.

Councilmen will receive the proposed budget Monday night and have scheduled a special meeting, May 10, for a public hearing.

WILL THEY MAKE IT FIVE? — Rotarians Bob Karle, Bill Davis, Chuck Butler and Spec Simmons are helping gun for a fifth straight State Award of Excellence in the city's annual Vehicle Safety Check. They hold awards for 1961, 1962, 1963 and 1964. Mr. Butler again chairmans the project, which is slated for May 20, 21 and 22, starting with a king-size parade and crowning of a queen. He'll be assisted by Messrs. Davis and Simmons. Mr. Karle is current president of Rotary, the service club spearheading the drive.

Hearing, Vision Program To Open Early in May

A program of hearing and vision screening will be opened early in May for Tecumseh preschool children. Letters of application have been sent to their parents by Mrs. Roger Richards of the Lenawee County Health Department, sponsor of the clinic, who asks that they be returned immediately to her office.

Mrs. Richards, coordinator of the program, said purpose of the screening of youngsters from 3½ to kindergarten age is "to help children to enter school better equipped to handle their learning tasks as far as vision and hearing are concerned."

She pointed out that many eye and ear disorders, noted when the child is young, may be remedied.

The vision and hearing technicians, trained and certified by the Michigan Department of Health, will be Mrs. Helen Vanderveer and Mrs. Vivian Turnwald.

Parents may call Mrs. Richards at the Lenawee County Health Department office if they have questions about the project.

Klager To Speak Farmers' Night

Lou Klager of the Toledo Blade will be the speaker Tuesday for the annual Rotary Farmer's night.

Mr. Klager will use pictures to emphasize his talk about fishing above the Arctic Circle.

Spec Simmons is the program chairman. The dinner will be served at 6:15 p.m. at the Tecumseh Country Club.

Comedy Not Easy To Stage

By ROY E. HAMLIN
Special to The Herald

A humorous insight into the manipulations of big business and big government was brought to Tecumseh last week when the Tecumseh Players produced "The Solid Gold Cadillac" by Howard Teichmann and George S. Kaufman.

The show is not an easy one to stage, from both acting and technical standpoints, but the Players came up with a thoroughly enjoyable presentation.

It will be given again Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights in the Odd Fellows Hall with curtain at 8 p.m.

"The Solid Gold Cadillac" is hampered by a lack of real action and by a seemingly interminable number of scene changes. Hence an even greater responsibility falls on the actors to maintain the pace of the show.

Fortunately, by virtue of solid performances in key roles and excellent direction, the Players were equal to the challenge.

★

THE KEY FIGURE in the show is Mrs. Laura Partridge, played with outstanding success by Mrs. James Vanzo. Mrs. Partridge interrupts a stockholders meeting of the General Products Co.

She asks a series of embarrassing questions of the four directors, who have taken over control of the firm after the former head man, Edward L. McKeever, has accepted a big government job in Washington.

In order to quiet Mrs. Partridge, the directors put her to work for the company. Soon they are disturbed by the lack of government contracts and send Mrs. Partridge to Washington to persuade McKeever to help them out.

Instead she induces McKeever, unhappy in his government job, to quit. The two then manage to regain control of General Products from the four directors, who are more interested in feathering their own nests than in working for the good of the company.

★

THE BLUFF but conscientious McKeever is well played by Duane Steele. He is particularly effective in the famed "Spartacus to the Gladiators" soliloquy, the highlight of the show.

Of the four company directors, the best interpretation is given by David Schoonover as Clifford Snell, company treasurer. His superior over-all performance is marred only slightly by a tendency to overact in certain situations when he becomes infected by audence enthusiasm for his interpretation.

Frank Dalton does an excellent job as T. John Blessington, chairman of the board. He is slow starting in the opening scene, but picks up momentum as he goes along.

In the smaller roles of the other two directors, Edward Mengerink, and William DePuy give creditable performances as Alfred Metcalfe and Warren Gillie, respectively.

The weak-kneed and indecisive Gillie presents probably the toughest interpretation challenge of any part in the play.

★

IN MINOR roles, the best job is turned in by Mrs. Jack Baughey as Amelia Shotgraven, Mrs. Partridge's secretary who starts out as loyal to the company, but who is soon won over by Mrs. Partridge.

The love interest—along with some of the best laughs in the show—is provided by Miss Shotgraven and Mark Jenkins, the company mail boy, played by Donald Partridge.

Others who do well in their smaller roles are Mary Kunkle as Miss L'Arriere, company mod-

Summer Program Will Be Tackling Speech Problems

Children with serious speech problems will be given therapy under a program to be set up this summer by the director of Special Education of the Lenawee Intermediate School District.

Preference will be given to preschool children who will be enrolled in kindergarten next fall and to pupils already enrolled who have not received speech correction help during the school year.

Speech therapy during the summer session will be conducted at the Lenawee Institute by certified speech correctionists on an individual and small group basis for one hour each day. Times will be scheduled for regular parent conferences. The program will be held from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. from June 21 through July 23.

Referrals may be made to the speech correctionist serving the school where the child is enrolled or directly to the office of the county superintendent.

They may be made by parents, teachers, principals, physicians, etc., and should be completed by June 1.

There will be a small charge for each youngster enrolled to cover the cost of school insurance while attending the summer program. Transportation to and from the Institute must be furnished by the parents.

Herrick Park Sixth Graders Go to Lansing

Sixth grade students of Herrick Park School and their teacher, Mrs. Gordon Garlick, were in Lansing Tuesday to visit the capitol, the House of Representatives and the Senate.

They were awarded the honor of visiting the Supreme Court since, as one pupil said, they "were the only well behaved group touring the capitol that day."

In the afternoon they visited the museum, at Michigan State University.

The Britton-Macon Community 4-H Club held Parents Night Monday at the Community Center with some 80 parents and youngsters present.

David Csokasy presided at the business meeting.

Elwood Bush showed slides on entomology and of the tornado destruction in his area.

Sue Gleason, Lenawee County 4-H agent, was a guest.

Punch, coffee and cookies were served by Mrs. Elmer Wilt, Mrs. Jack Brown and Mrs. William Miller.

Four Are Injured in Rear End Crash

A traffic accident on E. Chicago Blvd. Tuesday night sent four people, including one local resident, to Herrick Memorial Hospital.

One driver, Arlene L. Randolf, 36, of 701 Adrian St., is still confined.

Patricia M. Van Valkenburg, 22, Adrian, driver of the other car, and her husband, Charles, 26, and son, Michael, 4, were treated and released.

Both cars were westbound when the Randolph car rammed into the rear of the Van Valkenburg auto and then veered off the road, stopping at the base of the embankment.

Police cited the local driver for violation of the basic speed law.

IN ANOTHER accident involving injuries, Ronald K. Beck, 22, of 223 Herrick Park Dr., was charged Saturday with failure to have his car under control.

Charles R. Pask, 60 of 507 E. Pottawatamie was cited Saturday for failure to yield the right of way after a collision with Daniel D. Schultz 70, of 303 W. Chicago Blvd., at the intersection of S. Evans St. and Patterson Dr.

An accident Tuesday at the Quick Lunch restaurant happened when Paul A. Kenner, 52, Manchester, sideswiped a parked car owned by Otto Beaubien of 117 W. Chicago Blvd.

To Have Poetry Printed in Book

The National High School Poetry Press, publisher of the bi-annual anthology of high school poetry, has extended congratulations to Mary Blumerick, Jeff Long and Pamela Williams whose poetry will appear in the current anthology.

From Hedda Hopper's column right after Academy Awards night: "And did you notice that Oscar went home with those who acted, produced and directed good, clean, family-type pictures? Proving that not only the rest of the country but Hollywood, itself, doesn't go for all that over-abundance of sex and stripping."

Poor Henry Luce will pop his cork when he learns the blooper one of his Time magazine writers made in the tornado round-up story last week. Referring to one Michigan city Time had it "Goldwater."

Mayor Harold Easton has proclaimed Kiwanis Golden Anniversary Week in Tecumseh, May 9 to 15, pointing out that "the men of Kiwanis have contributed unselfishly to the good of the community, aided in their work by the citizens."

Tornado Clean-up. Anyone see a new log chain — that may be worn out by now? Forest Abner lost one April 12 in the Tipton area. He thinks someone with a tractor may have it unknowingly.

Tornado victims wishing clothing may call 423-7330 or 423-2220, that's where the Rev. Ed Pistole can be reached. Nearly 10,000 items were donated to the Church of Christ, of which he is minister. They're now stored at 412 E. Shawnee St.

Maybe the medical association will insist that Les Proctor sign up for membership. In a "Perils of Pauline" chase, Les delivered a baby the other day. The adventure started calmly as he picked up the expectant mother at Wampler's Lake. But his ambulance got a flat — his first one in 17 years — and Les put in a call for Gary Underwood, who assists the funeral director now and again. The slight delay found Mr. Stork swinging slow and in quick order Les found himself delivering, the second time in his life.

How about lunch at the Coffee Shop in Tipton? It's a friendly spot and you'll be giving a boost to a grand person, Lillian Luce.

Donations of $116.37 were accepted at The Blissfield Advance office in the past two weeks, via the sale of Herald tornado sections and a $38 gift from the Blissfield Kiwanis Club. The cash was delivered Saturday by Publisher Duane DeLoach to Tipton and went into the town's local disaster fund.

Russia and America celebrate the first of next month, May Day, in different manners. The Reds parade their military might, we fly our flags. Saturday is the time. Our celebration is called Law Day.

Soon to be available for guitar entertainment at such occasions as weddings and wakes, will be Donnie Martin of the Gambles store.

National Music Week will be observed in Tecumseh as well as the rest of the nation Sunday through May 9.

The Jaycee Auxiliary is a busy group of young women. But not too busy to do their stint for tornado sufferers and workers. They took two roasters of goulash, cakes and cole slaw for a "swad of people" at Tipton Saturday.

Tecumseh goes on the air Tuesday at 1:45 over WJR on Bud Guest's new program, "Places, People and Things."

Those Popelar kids are popular this week all right. Both Mary and Bob were married, but not to each other. Fathers of both are named Frank and they are first cousins. Mary's parents live in Britton and Bob's in Dundee.

HERALD PHOTO BY TOM RIORDAN

IT'S OFFICIAL NOW — Richard Chafetz (left) of Detroit, head man of the Save-Mor chain, popped into Tecumseh Monday to visit Ray and Ken Dubrinski, owners of the four-store Ken-Ray group, a recent Save-Mor affiliate. The trio posed by the new wall sign. Mr. Chafetz pointed out that Save-Mor, through vast buying power and mammoth warehousing facilities in Detroit, can afford extra savings to customers of Save-Mor stores, which continue to maintain independent management.

'Solid Gold Cadillac'

el, Mrs. Frank Delaney as Miss Logen, McKeever's secretary. In Washington, Dr. Robert Murray, David Woods and Ronald Jacobs as newspaper reporters and Guil Rothfuss, Richard Boyd and Mrs. David Schoonover as news broadcasters.

Dr. Murray also handles the part of the narrator who keeps the audience informed of the play's intricacies.

★

THE PLAY is directed by William D. Smith of Monroe, veteran director and actor. Mr. Smith is well grounded in "The Solid Gold Cadillac," having appeared as McKeever in a Detroit professional theater production and having played McKeever and and also directed the show for the Monroe Community Players last year.

Mrs. Frank Dalton is the assistant director and Michael Brose is technical director.

Adding greatly to the effectiveness of the show is the smooth transformation from one scene to another. The play is presented in the board room of General Products, Mrs. Partridge's office, Blessington's office, McKeever's office, a newsroom and a broadcasting studio, presenting quite a challenge to the show's department.

But even in the cramped confines of the Odd Fellows Hall, the scene changes move fluidly and efficiently.

"The Solid Gold Cadillac" doesn't rank as the best comedy ever written, but it does offer an enjoyable evening of lighthearted entertainment for playgoers.

Pictures of Holy Land Are Shown by Mrs. Maves

Mrs. Paul Maves showed pictures of the trip she and her husband took to the Holy Land to 20 members of the Tecumseh Garden Club.

Mrs. Maves described in detail the events of the trip and also showed pictures of the formal gardens in London.

The meeting was held April 23 at the home of Mrs. Don Heesen with Mrs. Bess Livingstone, president, conducting the session.

Anne Carson and Mrs. Al Helzerman assisted the hostess in serving refreshments from an attractive tea table.

Mrs. Edward Boss and Mrs. Livingstone presided at the silver service.

Hobos Gather Strange Objects

After the successful "Financial Crusade" held by the Methodist Church recently, the Young Adult Couples felt a "Hobo Party" was in order.

Approximately 30 dressed as hobos, knap-sack and all, for the April 24 party only to learn that they were being sent out in groups of six to attempt to locate some pretty dangerous and ancient items, not to mention some signatures of several prominent townspeople!

Mrs. Mary Stanifer said, "Our apologies to the people we got out of bed — the horses who so painfully gave up the several hairs from their tails and the ones who thought us 'would-be tornado looters.'

"And to the helpful people who came up with the cancelled two-cent stamps, 1963 issue of the Tecumseh Products Broadcast, punched rail-road ticket. Thanks go to Ellen Snedecor, who led a group through the cemetery to a spot where we might find a dead mouse," Mrs. Stanifer grinned.

Two distinguished guest hobos were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Janousek, missionaries to Monrovia, West Africa.

All returned safe and sound at 10 p.m. and were served chili, coffee, tea and cookies seated on the floor around an open "candle lit fire".

Committees in charge of planning this fun-filled evening were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Rendel, Mrs. Donald Porteous, Mrs. Gene Tuckey and Mrs. Ralph Searbrough.

New Restaurant Opened in Clinton by Mrs. Buell

CLINTON — LaVonne's Dining Room has opened in the Clintonian Arms Apartment building in Clinton. Mrs. LaVonne Buell of Tipton operated the dining room in 1961-62 when the hotel was owned by Mr. and Mrs. Gerald French.

Mrs. Buell says she likes to cook so well that she often helps out her friends with big dinners just for the fun of it.

She makes her own pies, pastries and homemade soups. She plans to serve business men's luncheons, short orders and dinners.

The dining room will seat 40 guests and is available for banquets. Reservations are requested for the special Mother's Day dinner.

The dining room will be open from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. every day except Saturday.

Carilloneur To Perform in Tecumseh

An unusual musical concert on the only mobile carillon of cast bronze bells in the country will be held at St. Peter's Episcopal Church at 7 p.m. May 7.

Guest recitalist will be Prof. Wendell Westcott, carilloneur of Michigan State University, East Lansing.

The steel frame of 35 cast bells weighing 5,000 pounds will be installed on a truck which will be parked on the front drive of St. Peter's Church.

Chairs will be placed around the front lawn. In case of rain the concert will still be held but the audience will sit inside and listen through the open doors of the church.

The public is invited to attend by the Rev. Frank Hawthorne, pastor of St. Peter's.

Youths Will Bat and Shag on Saturday

Tryouts for the Tecumseh Cub League will be held at Nelson Field for 11 and 12-year-olds Saturday at 9 a.m.

The following week, on May 8, tryouts are slated for 9 and 10-year-olds.

League officials announce that four more managers have been obtained, but that five more are still needed.

Men or teen-age youths who would like to volunteer can contact Preston Caswell, 423-2229.

Mother-Daughter Breakfast

St. Elizabeth Rosary Altar Society will hold a Mother and Daughter Breakfast Sunday after the 11 a.m. Mass.

All mothers of the parish, with their daughters, are invited.

Reservations may be made with Mrs. Gerald Henricks, chairman of this event, 423-7208.

Mrs. Thomas Riordan and Mrs. Lawrence Cote are assisting her.

At the Altar Society's recent meeting, Mrs. Tom Bruce announced that the recent spaghetti dinner netted a profit of $365.51 as 444 dinners were served.

Mrs. Eugene Rebottaro and her family served one of the most delicious spaghetti dinners ever — according to all who partook. Thanks from the Society were extended to Mrs. Rebattaro.

★

A NOMINATING committee was appointed and includes Mrs. James Tressler, Mrs. Jack Ries and Mrs. James Kershner, who will present a slate of officers to be voted on at the June meeting.

Ways and Means committee chairman, Mrs. James Cabla will present a calendar of events to be studied at the May meeting and voted on in June.

Mrs. Arthur Lopshire presented a travelogue and colored slides of Spain and Portugal.

The members and guests — Mrs. Jerome Kujawa, Mrs. Linda Faust, Mrs. Maurice DeJonghe and Mrs. Ann Twight were served refreshments by Mrs. Wallace Whiting and her committee, Mrs. Charles Allen, Mrs. James Kershner and Mrs. Roy Brosamer.

Emergency Livestock Feed Plan Now Includes Lenawee

The Emergency Livestock Feed Program has been extended through June 30 and now includes Lenawee County.

Under severe drought, flood or similar conditions, the Secretary of Agriculture may make available Commodity Credit Corporation-owned feed grains to eligible farmers in affected areas, for assistance in the preservation and maintenance of foundation herds of livestock.

Included are producing dairy cattle, sheep, goats, at not less than 5% of the feed grain support price, and other eligible livestock at 100% of the support price.

This program was recently approved for Allegan, Barry, Branch, Hillsdale, Kalamazoo, Kent, Lenawee, Monroe, Montcalm, Ottawa and St. Joseph Counties because of the loss and damage caused by tornadoes on Palm Sunday.

★

The CCC-owned feed grains available under the Livestock Feed Program may be obtained through Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service county offices.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Cries of excitement are heard as the seines are brought in filled with smelt at Pointe Pelee on the Canadian side of Lake Erie.

People, people, people line the beaches. From just above the toddling stage to those in their declining years they scramble for the wriggling smelt as they are dumped from the nets.

Cold, wind, darkness and high waves don't deter the enthusiastic fishermen one bit. Right back into the water up to their necks they go and, carefully feeling their footing, they guide the seines to catch a school of smelt.

Protected by rubber suits, they appeared to be warm as toast and maybe they were.

Our efforts were confined to looking Friday night but judging from the comments that kept interrupting my sleep on the way home through the early hours of Saturday morning, this could lead to something.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunt and Howard Wilson of Ridgeway attended ground breaking ceremonies for Wayne Masonic Lodge Sunday.

Donna Grigg was one of 34 freshmen to be capped in the freshman class of St. Mary's School of Nursing in Saginaw Sunday. The ceremony was performed in the St. Mary's Cathedral. Among those attending were Donna's mother, Mrs. Robert Grigg; her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Grigg; her brother, Airman David Grigg; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Dinse, Alma Sonerant, Pat Rutherford, Dale Close and Kathleen Butler. Airman Grigg was home from Chanute Field for four days.

David Brock, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Brock, will report for service in the army at Adrian Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Barry Brock, nee Kathy Tomorsky, and daughter, Kelly, will move from New Carlisle, O., to Troy, O., Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Walter entertained at a family dinner Sunday after their daughter, Tracy Sue, was baptized at the Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church.

Kenneth Bagby has returned to Sacred Heart Seminary, Detroit, after spending the Easter holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bagby, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Danforth and Jamie spent from Thursday to Sunday in Marquette visiting Airman 1/c James G. Danforth and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Peck and daughter, Lynn, were in Nitro, W.Va., last week to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Reinacher. Mr. Reinacher has just undergone surgery.

Dorie Boynton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Boynton, was initiated into Gamma Phi Beta Sorority April 24 at Michigan State University. In traditional ceremonies Mrs. Boynton pinned her own pin on the shoulder of her daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gillies entertained her brother, Dr. J. B. Kirk of St. Petersburg, Fla., formerly of Adrian this week. He accompanied their mother from DeLand, Fla. where she has been spending the winter. Mrs. Kirk's summer home at Devils Lake was destroyed by the tornado and she will spend the summer at 285 Oak Hill Blvd., Adrian.

The Rev. and Mrs. Harold Speer and family spent from Thursday to Saturday of last week in the Atlanta area.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Rebottaro were in Mason, O. last weekend to visit their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rice, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Laidlaw arrived in the city Wednesday from their Ft. Meyers, Fla. home.

Thirty members of the Thomas Hamilton family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton for dinner Sunday in a Jackson restaurant. The affair was in observance of the 2nd birthday anniversary of Mr. Hamilton, April 27. "Beaming Mr. Hamilton was so happy to have his entire family, including 18 grandchildren present, that he could hardly eat his dinner," said one daughter-in-law. Besides his family, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Waldron and Ruby Preston were guests. The group, which included the families of Sam of Britton, Robert, John, Mrs. Isabel Aiuto and Tom, Jr., all of Tecumseh returned to the host's home for birthday cake and ice cream.

Several members of the local church attended the installation of the Rev. Ted Walworth Sunday evening at the Calvin Presbyterian Church in Detroit.

Sharon Sturtevant, Robert Popelar Are Married

Simplicity marked the candlelight wedding ceremony Saturday evening in the Ridgeway Methodist Church as Sharon Jean Sturtevant became the bride of Robert Dale Popelar.

The Rev. R. A. Mitchinson performed the double ring service before the altar enhanced with baskets of white gladioli, snapdragons and pink candles in candelabra faced with palm foliage and stephanotis.

San Dee Bailey of Ypsilanti accompanied the soloist, William Hetrick of Britton.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sturtevant of Britton and the bridegroom's parents are Frank Popelar of Dundee and Mrs. Harold Quick of Monroe.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride chose a gown of imported organza over summer taffeta with a fitted bodice, long tapering sleeves, and a square neckline edged in lace.

The organza overskirt edged in lace draped over three tiers of lace in floor length. The back was accented with a double chapel train also edged in lace.

Her headpiece of imported illusion was attached to a crown of pearls and her bouquet was a white cattelya orchid centering a cascade arrangement of stephanotis.

Mrs. Richard Papworth of Britton was the matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Joyce Baker of Hudson, cousin of the bride, and Sue Austin of Britton.

They wore floor length gowns of pink crepe with scoop necklines, cap sleeves, high waistlines and a chapel back with satin bows and streamers.

MRS. ROBERT DALE POPELAR

Each carried a bouquet of pink champagne roses centered with a cluster of violets and accented with an outline of French heather and violet ribbons.

Geen Popelar of Monroe attended his brother as best man. Seating the guests were Carl Popelar, another brother, and Bob Sturtevant, brother of the bride.

A reception was held in the church for 175 guests with Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Bailey of Hudson serving as host and hostess.

After a short wedding trip the couple will be living in Temperance.

The bride was employed at the United Savings Bank of Tecumseh and the bridegroom is employed at the G & J Barber Shop in Point Place, Ohio.

The rehearsal luncheon was Friday evening at the home of the bride's parents.

Ann Fitzsimmons Guest of Honor at Bridal Party

CLINTON — Ann Fitzsimmons of Adrian was guest of honor at a bridal luncheon held recently at the home of Mrs. Richard Coury.

Mrs. Llewelyn Bowman and daughter Patricia assisted.

Those attending were the coworkers of Miss Fitzsimmons, who is employed as a nurse at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

The bride-elect was presented with a gift from the group.

Featured at the luncheon was a decorated bridal cake.

Miss Fitzsimmons will be married May 15 at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Adrian to Alexander B. Nemoth of Tecumseh.

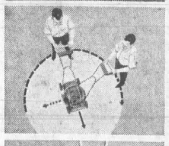
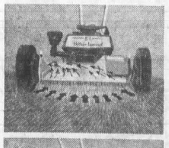
Power Up Front!
and "Wind-Tunnel" action in Toro's New 21" Whirlwind
Front-wheel Pow-R-Drive pulls you up slopes . . . lets you turn on a dime.

You just steer. Toro's 21" Whirlwind® rotary mower does the rest. Pulls you up hills, pulls you through heavy grass. Front-wheel Pow-R-Drive makes cutting your lawn as easy as taking a walk. Extra power, more durability, because of automobile-type positive gear drive.



Because the power's up front, you can push down on the handle . . . lift the front wheels up . . . pivot right around in place without scuffing or tearing your lawn. With ordinary rear-wheel drive, you have to run around corners . . . turn in big circles.



Toro's unique "Wind-Tunnel" action puts the power of the whirling wind to work for you. It creates such a powerful pulling force it actually pulls flat grass up so it can be trimmed cleanly and evenly.

The same powerful "Wind-Tunnel" action that pulls grass up turns your 21" Whirlwind into a 3-season yard machine. Use it to clean up litter in the spring, bag leaves in the fall, mow and bag grass all summer long.

Exclusive "Wind-Tunnel" Action pulls the grass up for a more even cut . . . bags grass, litter and leaves.

$5,000 FUND GIFT — Dr. A. C. Kerlikowske, (center) director of the University of Michigan Hospital, is shown accepting a check for $5,000 from Robert J. Molhoek to establish the Hemophilia Fund for research and services at the Hospital. Mr. Molhoek is president of the Michigan Chapter of the National Hemophilia Foundation, and Dr. John A. Penner (right) assistant professor of internal medicine at the University, is chairman of the Medical Advisory Council of the Chapter.

Hemophilia Fund Drive in County Opens May 1

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Boss will head the annual Hemophilia Foundation Fund drive to be conducted in Lenawee County May 1 through May 31.

The Bosses are parents of two sons, Guy, 18 ,and Merton F., 15, who are hemophilia patients and over a period of years, have been hospitalized for many weeks at a time and who have received innumerable blood transfusions.

★

"WE HOPE this year's drive will be more successful than that the foundation conducted last year in the county when only $150 was donated," Mr. Boss said. "The 1963 gifts totalled $1200."

Canisters will be placed in business places throughout the county, he added. Donors may send gifts to Mr. Boss, Box 572, Tecumseh, or to Hemophilia, Claude J. Cousino, treasurer, 12731 St. Telegraph Rd., LaSalle.

The establishment of the Fund was announced recently at the presentation of a check for $5,000 to the University of Michigan Hospital by the Michigan Chapter of the foundation.

★

THE FUNDS will further research in the "bleeder's disease" and the latest techniques in diagnosis will be available for known or suspected cases at the University Hospital.

Free laboratory work-up for all known or suspected cases of hemophilia is available to aid in the diagnosis of the disease and physicians are invited to offer this service to their patients, Mr. Boss said.

Burglaries Fail To Yield Much at Hall, Station

Two burglaries Saturday failed to net the culprits much of anything, according to police reports on break-ins at the American Legion and Johnny and Bill's Citi[illegible]ice station.

Burglar — or burglars — broke windows at both places to gain admission. Safes appeared to be the prime targets but neither yielded to tampering.

At the American Legion, an undetermined small amount of money was taken. Nothing has been reported missing from the service station.

John Winzler, station employee, reported the burglary there, and Willis Gray, Legion employee, discovered the break-in at the Legion hall.

Fay Whelan Offers Disaster Procedure Ideas

TO THE EDITORS:

How do we recognize a disaster? How do we prepare for it? How do we get the most from our preparations for a disaster after it happens?

In the time since I heard the first news about Palm Sunday evening storm until the moment of this writing—some 50 hours later—many thoughts have gone through my mind.

My first thought was another cry of "wolf," to a current thought of "there must be a better way of meeting emergencies that arise in our modern, complicated living."

How do we prepare for an emergency? By insurance? By individually owned equipment? Nationally, trained organizations? Or, through unorganized community folks who want to help a fellow man who is down and needs help?

★

I WAS visiting at a home one mile north of Tipton, within one-half mile of the edge of the storm, when it passed. We waited for the rain to stop, and although watching, we did not recognize a major problem except for the loss of lights, which we all know is not unusual in an electrical storm, especially in rural areas.

Two hours after the storm passed, we started for home. Our usual road was blocked by a downed tree. We tried another road along with a collection of motorists who had been trying various roads to get home. In numbers there is strength, but we soon found trees too big.

We also found a call for help: get tractors, several barns are down with cattle under the debris with trucks, farm machinery, etc., on top.

Tractors were able to clear a path to the damage. Then lights were needed. Fifteen or twenty good neighbors began to arrive, a few flashlights, a couple of chain saws, and work was started to get buried animals free.

Two of us went to procure lights. By 11 p.m. the radio told us of other damages. The Tecumseh police radio was in constant use, as was the phones. The calls for help were so numerous that it took Chief Clark's expert ear to decipher the calls.

It did not take long to see that the radio could be of little use to us in locating lights, because human life is more important than animal suffering. We went back to aid in the little area we knew about.

Radio and newspaper coverage told of damage, but I question if any of us realize at this time of the total damage.

★

I WOULD LIKE to list a few of the problems that different people have tried to overcome since the storm hit.

No one would question injured people should come first. I think a great effort was made, but I also know there were desperate calls by police for men and chain saws on the police radio at 11 p.m. for the lake area.

I know of people who offered this equipment earlier, but were not called after being told to go home and wait for instructions.

I do not blame this on individuals. The trouble was a lack of knowledge of the amount of need and insufficient help to cope with it. One reason for this was loss of communication. Phones were out in the distress area.

A need for electric power was obvious. I personally tried to help on this problem. Not being an electrician, I had to have help to hook up what I could find.

Eighteen hours later, after innumerable phone calls, I had located two small generators to pump water or operate up to 2,500 KVA — of little use on large farms.

Communications were a problem for getting the most out of your efforts. Telephone lines were down. If you were in an area and needed to call out, you had to drive for help.

The Red Cross headquarters in Tipton had no phone available the first day. An emergency radio in the area was helpful, but still very limited. Food, water and other supplies were a problem for crews working away from the populated areas.

After power went out, workmen that spent the night and next morning in salvage work had to have a friend outside the damaged area to get food.

Traffic was a problem. There should be a permit system from local authorities that would identify working men and equipment to pass through blockades. And, other people should be educated that they do not enter barricaded areas. Sightseers do not realize the trouble they cause.

★

IN CONCLUSION, I would like to say that we all should be thankful to all the people, organizations and utility personnel who have done so much already.

I am sure that the people that have received help, feel a little less lost and have more hope because of these efforts. There are thousands of man hours of work ahead before people can even start to rebuild. Some of this work will not be finished for weeks, or even months.

All of the people who have a few hours or a piece of equipment which can help a neighbor will be welcomed by the neighbor, and both will feel stronger and have more faith.

I hope this experience will make us all more prepared for what may happen at some future date. You may not think we need to worry about a war, but Mother Nature can do more damage in five minutes than all mankind can do in a week.

Faye Whelan
Hoyt Whelan Implement Co.

P. S. — Further investigation since I originally wrote this indicates that civilian defense have procedures set up for these things, but I think the "time lag" for reporting the extent of damage done, to the proper people and getting these processes moving is too great to take care of an emergency. C-D equipment should be "ready to go" on a moment's notice. Equipment stored under present regulations "are not available" at a moment's notice. Can this ever be corrected?

Credit Left Off

TO THE EDITORS:

In reading your report on the tornado damage done in Tipton and the work being done there I feel there was credit left out that was very much deserved.

For instance in the report about the Tipton Restaurant there was no mention of Mrs. Aneta Hankenhof, and Mrs. Lorraine Oberst spending 10 to 12 hours each day all week to help serve the people who came in to eat.

These two Gray Ladies not only helped to serve meals but also helped to register the volunteer workers who came into the area to help with clean-up.

Mrs. Luce did a lot to help these people and deserves recognition, she and her daughters worked hard but so did these two women and many others.

Find Tax Form

TO THE EDITORS:

Please find enclosed 50c and will you please forward me a copy of The Herald, with the tornado pictures in it.

Thought you might be interested to know that while looking through the debris in our field on Saturday, April 24, my husband found an Indiana Individual Income Tax Return, all made out by a John J. and Carrie Inbody of Goshen, Indiana, Rt. 2.

Mr. Inbody must of had this ready for mailing, as the paper clip where the W2 form was attached is there, but the W2 is gone. We will return this to Mr. Inbody as perhaps this is the only record he has.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Richard Ruttkofsky

The quick getaway coat

It's Friday and you have to beat the traffic out of town. No time even for a quick change artist. Try this: A Cricketeer sportcoat. Crisp, yet well-mannered around the office, but watch the change when you hit the road. Open up your shirt collar, slip on some loafers and smile when the latecomers envy you for being away the whole week.

Young, Thomas Set Records as Indian Runners Romp

Coach Tom Fagan's Tecumseh track team continues along the unbeaten path with five straight dual meet wins, including three in the Huron League.

Last Thursday, the Indians trounced Flat Rock, 70½ to 38½, and then whipped Grosse Ile here Tuesday, 64½ to 44½.

Tecumseh had little trouble with FR, leading all the way. GI led the Indians until the final four events, which saw Tecumseh pick up 27 points to GI's five.

★

TWO SCHOOL records were set in Tuesday's meet with Bill Thomas setting records nearly every time he throws the shot. His mark of 51'3 ⅞" Tuesday broke the 50' record set against FR.

Sophomore Roger Young broke the 440 mark against GI with a time of 52.2, which is also the best time recorded this year by anyone in the league.

Thomas and Young join Steve Derby as three record holders on the present track squad. Derby, undefeated in the hurdles this season, holds records in both the 120 and 180-yard hurdle events.

FLAT ROCK results are:

Shot put — Thomas (T), St. Andre (FR), Williams (FR), 50'.

Mile — Sharp (T), Coaker (FR), Kohn (FR), 4.53.9.

880 — Counter (FR), O'Neil (T), Gomes (FR), 2:10.

440 — Young (T), Nagle (FR), Mowers (FR), 53.2.

100 — Collins (T), Smith (FR), Morse (T), 10.6.

180 lows — Derby (T), Bartenslager (T), Matrone (FR), 21.4.

220 — Collins (T), Morse (T), Smith (T), 24.1.

Mile relay — Flat Rock, 3:45.8.

Seager Resigns

At a recent meeting of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation the resignation of Allan Seager, a trustee, was accepted with regret.

Mr. Seager will be traveling throughout the United States, England and Ireland while working under a Guggenheim Foundation fellowship on the biography of Pulitzer Prize poet Theodore Roehke.

Douglas Dunn, treasurer, reported:

► Second quarterly payments to all of the agencies have been made.

► A check for $1000 has been sent to the board of the Tecumseh Library for the purchase of new books.

► A payment of $5000 plus interest has been made on the land contract for the "Pit" property to be used by the city for recreational purposes.

► The balance due the 12 agencies this year, and which will be paid on a quarterly basis is $17,465.

OUR READERS WRITE

TO THE EDITORS:

The Adrian Area Chamber of Commerce Award of Merit presented to our organization on March 30, 1965, should actually have been given to the entire Lenawee County community.

The help of people like yourself has made the Goodwill program of services to the handicapped a success. The inscription on the award was copied and is enclosed.

On behalf of those who received the benefits of our program, I want to thank you again.

On Monday, May 10, 1965 at 2 p.m. the Grand Opening will be held at our newly acquired plant and offices at 600 E. Beecher St. You have a special invitation to come and see how your support made possible jobs and training for the crippled, the deaf, the frail, the mentally retarded, the mentally ill, and the aged.

Tours of the plant and dinners served by the Women's Auxiliary (5-7 p.m.) will be the features of the day.

Sincerely yours,
Claude W. Whitehead

Weather Bureau Seeks Pictures of Recent Tornado

The United States Weather Bureau and the University of Chicago announced a joint study of the Palm Sunday tornadoes in the midwest, reports the Associated Press.

"We are interested in obtaining eyewitness account of the tornadoes, giving locations and accurate times of the observations," the announcement set forth.

Researchers said they would welcome photographs, with time and location noted, and promised to return them if requested to do so.

The university's department of geophysical sciences has teamed with the weather bureau. A spokesman said the study was prompted by unusual aspects, such as reports of double-funnel twisters and one tornado striking a half hour after another had passed.

Information should be sent to the U.S. Weather Bureau, 710 Feedral Office Building, Kansas City, Mo., 64106.

Gambles

Don't Panic!

The fire was planned with members of the Raisin, Madison and Palmyra Townships volunteer fire department, who stood by to make sure that only the old Carson farm at Occidental Hwy. and Sutton Rd. would be destroyed. It was removed Sunday to make way for our new branch office, which will be open by July 1. Bulldozers will be moving in, followed by asphalt paving crews. When driveways and parking area are completed, a 20' x 45' mobil bank trailer will be put in place. It will serve as a temporary branch office for about one year. To be managed by Mrs. Curtis Wright, an assistant Vice-President, the branch will offer all regular United Savings Bank services, except safe deposit boxes. Mrs. Wright will be assisted by Paul R. Mann.

City Is Planning Test Well Near Red Mill Pond

A city test well will be driven either this week or next in the area west of Red Mill Pond and north of Brown St.

Cal Zorn, city manager, says the well could replace one located further north along River Raisin and not usable by the city.

Extremely hard water and sulphur caused officials to abandon the well.

HUNDREDS VISIT 1964 "FAIR" — The Tecumseh Kiwanis Club is sponsoring its second annual "World's Fair" this weekend in the Tecumseh Community Center. Featured will be displays by Tecumseh factories and businesses. Profits will go to charities annually carried out by the club. The exposition, designed to appeal to visitors of all ages, will offer the fun-filled acts of Salty, the clown TV who will appear Saturday afternoon and Sunday. Fair hours are from 6 to 10 p.m. Friday and from 1 to 10 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Food will be available at a snack bar.

Capitol Flags Are Available

LANSING — For years, flags which have flown over the nation's capitol in Washington, D.C. have been a big hit with groups and organizations. Now, it is possible to obtain also a Michigan flag which has flown over the state capitol in Lansing.

Under a plan worked out by Secretary of State James M. Hare, chairman for the promotion of the state flag during Michigan Week, and the George P. Johnson Company of Warren, which manufactures flags, such state flags may now be purchased by the general public.

He said that a wholesale, prepaid price of $4 for a 3x5 foot cotton bunting flag from the Johnson Co. had been worked out.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Miller spent Saturday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Papp.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

IN THE OFFING

Last week we were bemoaning the lateness of some of the March and April bird migrators. To be specific about dates was courting contradictions and sure enough, it happened.

THE TRICKSTER was a ragged kingfisher. We said that "as of this writing" we had heard or seen nothing of our rattling friend. Well, Marilyn picked up the article and I am sure she had no more than put the paper in her typewriter when there he was.

The biggest kingfisher we have ever had was sitting just outside our window and you know, as he flew away, his loud raucous call sounded for all the world as if he were laughing at us.

★

THERE ARE PIT-FALLS because the birds don't read the same books we do — the books that say so and so is due back at such and such a time. Nevertheless I think it is fun to know approximately when we can start looking for old friends and so let's barge ahead with a few May returnees.

Our fifth month should be extremely busy; it is the month in which the springtime migration reaches its height. Our confusion reaches its height, too, because many of the travelers are warblers — tiny bits of energy who never sit still long enough for us to check identification charts.

Before looking ahead to May, however, there are a few April-expected birds whom we should mention. By now, many of the graceful swallows should be back — barn, bank and cliff. The chimney-swifts, the green herons and the wood thrushes should have been sighted. Also helping to liven up the scene should be flocks of tiny goldfinches, the males nattily dressed in their bright yellow and black spring finery.

★

FOR A QUICK look at what the next few weeks should have in store we can polish up the old crystal ball — the crystal ball being an Audubon check list and our bird calendars. Soon the pretty kingbird, with his black tail and its white end band, will be sitting on utility wires and fence posts. Meadowlarks, night herons and orchard orioles are also due.

And one of the prettiest sights in the world is a brilliant scarlet tanager perched on the limb of a fully blossomed out fruit tree. The black and white bird which wears a red cravat, the rose-breasted grosbeak, is another May visitor.

Actually the month we are about to enter is "big" for family traveling. A whole bunch of the warbler clan will be on the move —warblers such as the black-throated blue, black - throated green, Blackburnian, chestnut-sided, blue-winged, golden-winged, Prothonotary, Parula, bay-breasted. Black-Pools and redstarts are members of this family, too, and of course, we cannot mention warblers without naming Michigan's very own Kirtlands. We will not see them here but they will be returning to their jack-pine nesting sites up north.

★

THE VERRYS and the thrushes like Southern Michigan in May. The olive-backed thrush, the chestnut-sided and the gray-cheeked. But space is running out and the list of May returnees isn't — we must hurry. A few more of the expected are: fly-catchers — crested and olive-sided; vireos — blue-headed, yellow-throated and red-eyed; oven birds; yellow-billed cuckoos; pewees; tiny ruby-throated humming birds; and little jewel-like indigo buntings.

So it is that May is truly one of the great bird months of the year — we have given nowhere near a complete run-down but at least, from the above list, you have a little idea of what may be in the offing.

NEXT WEEK: Surprise, Surprise!

Volunteer Work Proves Big Help to Tipton Residents

"I wasn't even in town Saturday," said Mrs. Ralph Dabe as she called to right an item in last week's Tecumseh Herald.

It was Mrs. William Tilton who helped Mrs. Vic Lawson with the Day Care Center in the Tipton Elementary School April 17.

Mrs. Tilton also hauled big jugs of water and cared for other Tecumseh resident's children so that they were free to help in the Tipton area last week.

Modestly Mrs. Tilton said Friday, "I helped a little but there were so many that helped a lot. Those Tecumseh Firemen worked their heads off that Monday. They must have had at least 15 chain saws going all that day and the gas was donated."

Mrs. Tilton and her caller agreed that it was indeed a tremendous cooperative effort among area people.

"Tipton farmers came to town to help and the Tipton people went to the farms," concluded Mrs. Tilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rice have purchased and are moving Saturday to the home vacated Wednesday by Mrs. Burt Ousterhout, 500 Blanchard. Dr. and Mrs. Larry T. Burch of Saginaw have bought the Rice home. Mrs. Ousterhout has purchased the William Love residence at 804 Red Mill Drive, and the Loves moved to a new home on M-52 near Ives Gas Station.

The engagement of Judy Kay Martin to Daniel R. Harvey is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Martin, 5 Occidental Hwy. Mr. Harvey is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Dale R. Harvey of Hastings, former Tecumseh residents. Miss Martin is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and Stauzenberger Business College, Toledo. Her fiance is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and Olivet Nazarene College, Bourbonnais, Ill., and is a member of the U. S. Air Force. The wedding will be an event of June 6 at the First Methodist Church.

Soldiering in the Arctic

Jerry McCrate, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCrate, 10423 Pocklington Rd., was with the 4th Armored Division soldiers stationed in Bamberg, Germany, which took part in NATO maneuvers 200 miles above the Arctic Circle in the far northern reaches of Norway.

After completing the week-long survival test in the rugged mountains surrounding Bardufoss, he wrote to his parents:

Dear Folks,

We arrived back in Bamberg Sunday at 4:45 a.m., after leaving Bardufoss at 9:05 p.m. The weather there was pretty good. They have about nine feet of snow now.

It snows a bit each night. We were trucked 30 kilometers out of Bardufoss the first day and were put in position the next day. We were air lifted by helicopter another 30 kilometers to a big bridge that we were to defend.

★

NEXT DAY we skied cross-country 2 kilometers all up hill with full gear on our backs. The elevation we stopped at was 1,700 meters high on a glacier between two mountain ranges. No trees up there or life of any kind.

The commanding general spoke to our company and was well-pleased. As a result, he gave us off until April 4. NO DUTY, for our good deeds and relationship between us and the Norwegians.

Tomorrow night we are having a big blow-out downtown, dinner and all free. We have become quite popular in the di-look straight up and see them. They were like giant search-lights of great beauty but cold. Boy, was it cold.

There were acres where, while cross-country skiing, on the vision over our outing in Norway. I caught cold while there.

★

THE NIGHT we arrived on the glacier was the coldest, 23 below. We sure were cold. It started to get light at 3:30 a.m. every morning while we were there. I saw the great northern lights. I could stand flat footed and mountain edge, you could see almost 600 feet straight down. I'll say this much, the Norwegian soldiers are great experts at winter warfare tactics.

It was a beautiful day, got up to 59 degrees. I hope it stays this way. The grass is getting green. Take good care of yourselves around the farm doing spring work.

Love,
Son, Jerry McCrate.

SOCIAL SECURITY Questions and Answers

QUESTION: I lost my billfold yesterday including my social security card. How do I get a new card?

ANSWER: It is good that you are taking prompt action. If you still have the stub of your card, bring it to the social security district office or mail it to us with a letter saying you want a duplicate card and we will issue one immediately. If you don't have the stub, you should fill out an application for a duplicate card and we will issue you one within a few days.

√

QUESTION: My 1964 W-2 form has my social security number wrong. Does this mean that I did not receive credit for my wages? And how do I straighten this out?

ANSWER: Tell your employer of the mistake. He can check his records to see what number he reported. If the mistake was made there, too, he can send in a correction report. You may also want to obtain a special post card from our office to send for a statement of your account, to check whether you received full credit.

√

QUESTION: I earn $30 a week doing cleaning work in a private home, but my employer does not withhold any taxes. Does this mean I am not getting social security credit?

ANSWER: Not necessarily. Since you earn $50 cash or more in a quarter, you are "covered" by social security, but your employer may be paying your share of the tax as well as her share. Ask your employer about this and also complete a post card, available at our office, to send to our headquarters for a statement of your account.

Punishment, Topic

The spiritual requirements for release from guilt and suffering will be examined at Christian Science church services this Sunday. Subject of the Bible Lesson is "Everlasting Punishment."

Included in the Scriptural passages to be presented are these verses from Ezekiel: "Make you a new heart and a new spirit . . . For I have no pleasure in the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord God: wherefore turn yourselves, and live ye."

Don Berkley, industrial arts teacher in the junior high school, has been selected to participate in the Michigan Leadership Development Program and the internship program for 1965. The University of Michigan is the site of the program to begin June 28, funded by the State Board of Control for Vocational Education and the Carnegie Corporation of New York.

Capitol Tours Have Attracted 33,600 Visitors

More than 33,600 visitors — most of them school children — have toured the State Capitol since Jan. 1.

Legislators, though normally busy with committee work and other lawmaking chores, try to spend some time with groups from their districts, explains Sen. Gil Bursley.

Three Capitol guides, whose office is a desk on the first floor just outside the State Treasury, assist guests.

Under ideal conditions, groups of up to 300 can be accommodated in a single tour. During legislative sessions, the guides lead the way to the House and Senate galleries, describing the past and present traditions and operations of the Legislature in a 20 minute lecture.

Legislators are notified when groups from their districts are visiting the Capitol and they make every effort to make the visits happy and meaningful, the senator said.

Arrivals should be timed as early as possible, starting at 9:30 a.m. Visitors should be given a pre-tour briefing in school or by the sponsoring organization.

Plans should be made in advance.

To make certain the trip to the Capitol is successful, Senator Bursley urges sponsors of any group to write to:

Hustlers Busy Clearing Debris

CLINTON — Twenty-two members of the Franklin Hustlers 4-H Club went to the John Kotts farm on N. Adrian Hwy., Saturday morning to assist with the clean-up of tornado debris.

The young people, accompanied by their leader, Mrs. Claude Creger, and John Vincent, worked all morning clearing three wagon loads of debris from a hay field.

The Kotts family, assisted by Mrs. Willis Davenport and Mrs. Charles Aebersold, served lunch to the group.

Mrs. John Kotts has been confined to bed with a leg injury since the tornado.

John Kotts, Jr., Saturday received cuts on the leg from broken glass. The cut required several stitches to close.

Mrs. Ned Kotts, mother of John Kotts, Sr., who resides at the same house, returned April 19 from California where she had spent the winter with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Chase.

The day's activities were climaxed by considerable excitesome of the boys discovered a den of 10 fox pups. While the mother fox was away, the boys succeeded in capturing alive all 10 pups. Bounty for the foxes will go to Dan and John Dewey, James Creger, John Kotts and Fred Davenport.

EACH LANGUAGE STUDENT IS LOCATED IN A SEPARATE BOOTH, EARPHONED, CUT OFF FROM CLASSMATES

HERALD PHOTOS BY TOM RIORDAN

Mrs. Leslie Calhoun, at the console of the Tecumseh High School language lab, can speak to the class as a body, then switch to one student, check pronunciations, ask questions. A variety of tapes are available and these can be played through the sound system, to be picked up by as many students as the teacher desires.

They Learn Languages 'Fun Way'

(Editor's note — This is another in The Herald's series on educational opportunities in Tecumseh.)

By GLORIA CALHOUN

The very modern trends and methods in the teaching of foreign languages require expensive, delicate and intricate equipment, which becomes the most helpful aid for students as well as teachers.

Tecumseh High School is fortunate indeed, to have a modern language laboratory in one of two large rooms devoted to instruction of foreign languages.

In the one in which the drilling and practice is conducted there are 30 individual booths.

The instructor is able to maintain contact with the whole class or with each of the students individually.

The precise electronic equipment brings the voice of the teacher or that of the commercial tape directly to the student, who is able to adjust the volume according to his or her own need.

One-half hour of the period is used in the laboratory. The other half-hour is in the room next to it, where the teaching of grammar, discussion and the showing of movies and slides take place.

Two different foreign language classes share the same period. For instance, while Gordon Gutowski, the head of the department, teaches a Latin class, Mrs. Frank Hawthorne, instructor of French, will spend half an hour in the laboratory doing the oral practice.

At the end of the first half-hour, both classes exchange rooms and at this time Mrs. Hawthorne will teach the grammar while Mr. Gutowski will be using the laboratory.

The next two hours find the Spanish classes, under the direction of Mrs. Gloria Calhoun, exchanging rooms with the Latin and the French classes.

There are special periods for recordings, which show the amazing progress of the student's pronunciation and comprehension.

Of course, not all is hard work in this language center. There is one period set aside once a week for games, songs, records and entertainment materials from the particular country of study.

It is evident that thanks to the language laboratory the "boring", "tiresome", teaching and learning of the foreign language has become a thing of the past.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Walter and son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Stiller of Detroit, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Don Blesing.

Dow Anhydrous Ammonia:
Lowest cost form of nitrogen in the field.

The reason is, anhydrous ammonia gives you far more nitrogen per pound than any other nitrogen fertilizer. Which means it takes far less DOW ANHYDROUS AMMONIA to do the job than it does with any other form of nitrogen fertilizer.

If you're planting corn on corn, it will take 150 to 200 pounds of nitrogen per acre to decay the old stalks and still have the nitrogen you need for high yields. Supply this nitrogen with DOW ANHYDROUS AMMONIA and you may save $6 to $8 an acre. And boost crop yield quality and feed grain protein content while you do it.

It's so long-lasting one application is all you need.

See us today for details. And save some money for a change.

It's time to take a ride to the lake and buy your cottage or building lot.

ON THE NORTH SHORE OF SAND LAKE — Year-around 3-bedroom, will sell or trade, will take land, cows, horses, cars, boats, airplane, swimming pool — most anything in trade on this.

ALSO NICE SMALL COTTAGE ON S. MEADOW — Only $8,000 and with air conditioning. Built-in refrigerator, big front porch — by golly, this is worth the money.

ON DEVILS LAKE — They missed this one with the storm. 2-bedroom, lake front at $11,000 and large lot. No cars will bother you here, you can hardly drive down to it.

WAMPLERS IS A GOOD LAKE — and we have a 2-bedroom for sale. This has been on the market quite a while. So far, no one has made an offer — if someone doesn't buy this soon, I think I'll try trading some odds and ends for it.

IN TECUMSEH AT 1112 MURRAY DR. — there's a 4-bedroom that's empty. You can move right in and the price is right.

ON TERNES ROAD — there is a good-sized 3-bedroom, full basement, large garage with fenced-in back yard. Empty, waiting for a new owner — present owner would trade for some land near Tecumseh — 5- or 6-mile area, that is. What say, anybody?

8931 MATTHEWS HWY — This guy has a goofy idea and wants to rough it on an old dirt lane, so will sell. He will take a trade in town; this home is in a wood lot with live stream, 3 to 4 acres of land. Make a pass and you might own it. Oh, yes, possession now.

WE HAVE A LARGE better-than-new 5-bedroom here in town. The garage is as big as most houses, 2 full baths, steam heat, fireplace, 2 living areas — and the nice part — their family has grown up so will trade for a smaller home — or will sell outright.

JUST OUT OF TOWN — 525.3 feet out — we have a new 3-bedroom, 2 baths, 2 fireplaces, good size dining area, 2 balconies, and many more nice things. Yep — 30-day possession and it's brand new.

MANY OTHERS — I'm getting a cramp from writing or we would list all the houses, lots, etc. Call us, and we will talk . . . . somehow, I can talk when writing gets to be a chore.

Haunted Theatre Keeps Laughter Coming at Play

BRITTON — Take a haunted theater, a group of lively teen-agers determined to put on a play for a worthy cause and you have the basic ingredients of the unusual Britton Junior Play, "A Midsummer Night's Scream."

The comedy will be presented Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. under the direction of Gary Lovett.

Jackie Cunkle plays the director of a group of young people trying to raise money for a Youth Center to combat "juvenile deficiency," as Myrtle,—done by Joan Check — one of the group, calls it.

When an unexpected rain storm breaks up the first rehearsal of "A Midsummer Night's Scream," their choice of a play, the young people take refuge in a long-deserted theater on Larry Richards' estate. He is the town's eccentric millionaire.

The theater seems to be long-deserted by humans, but not by a ghost which plagues rehearsals, and nearly keeps the show from going on.

How Jackie unmasks the villain, who turns out to be not such a villain after all, and the riotous presentation of the "Pyramus and Thisby" portion of Shakespeare's beloved comedy, form the climax of "A Midsummer Night's Scream."

Others in the cast include Dianne Ivan, Keith Auten, Paul Covell, Sylvia Luegge, Karen Ivan, Mike Jordan, Charles Drexler, Nancy Downing, Clark Griffin and Sherry Squires.

Admission prices to the play are $1 for adults and 50c for students.

—JUDY FAUST

From left to right bowlers are Carla Rupert, Bowling Green University — Sandy Jeanicker Central Michigan University; and Linda Steele of Michigan State University. Seventy-six girls from the United States and Canada participated in the all-expense paid tournament. THE ALTAR was decorated with baskets of pink gladioli and carnations.

The Rev. Gustav Hannevik officiated. Mrs. William Raeburn was at the organ to accompany the soloist, William Hetrick.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride approached the altar wearing a traditional gown of peau de soie and peau de angne lace. It was designed with a bell controlled skirt falling in soft French folds.

The removable chapel train featured lace appliques. The fit[illegible]se was of lace and had an iridescent and pearl design.

Long tapering sleeves ended in points over her hands. She carried an arrangement of white roses and stephanotis.

Barbara Gillespie of Tecumseh was the maid of honor. Sandra Beal and Judy McClue of Britton were the bridesmaids. They wore pink satin floor length gowns designed with scoop necklines, elbow length sleeves, and bell controlled skirts. They carried white lace umbrellas containing burgandy roses.

Dow Anhydrous Ammonia: Lowest cost form of nitrogen in the field.

The reason is, anhydrous ammonia gives you far more nitrogen per pound than any other nitrogen fertilizer. Which means it takes far less DOW ANHYDROUS AMMONIA to do the job than it does with any other form of nitrogen fertilizer. If you're planting corn on corn, it will take 150 to 200 pounds of nitrogen per acre to decay the old stalks and still have the nitrogen you need for high yields. Supply this nitrogen with DOW ANHYDROUS AMMONIA and you may save $6 to $8 an acre. And boost crop yield quality and feed grain protein content while you do it.

It's so long-lasting one application is all you need. See us today for details. And save some money for a change.

TO THE EDITORS:

In the hopes of achieving some tangible relief for persons who suffered severe property loss in the tornado, the attached resolution has been introduced in the State Senate.

Senators Zaagman, Johnson, Vojkema, Lockwood, Potter, VanderLaan, Nichols, Garry Brown and McCauley joined with me in introducing this legislation.

It would be my thought that any relief given on local taxes would have to be made up out of State or Federal funds. We are investigating these possibilities with the State Tax Commission and other interested agencies.

Sincerely,
Gilbert E. Bursley,
State Senator.

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 99

A resolution relative to the possibilities of assessment and tax relief for property owners in disaster areas.

Whereas, The havoc wrought by the forces of nature throughout many areas of the state on Sunday evening, April 11, 1965, to real and personal properties of hundreds of families indicates that at best the basis of taxation based on property values is subject to sudden and dramatic changes; and

Whereas, Many assessing officers are hearing legitimate complaints from hundreds of taxpayers that adjustments must or should be made in tax assessments on real and personal property which has been completely destroyed and in many cases actually obliterated and to pay taxes on that which is no longer in existence is certainly unjust; and

Whereas, While in many areas much of the tax base has been destroyed, the governmental expenses not only continue but actually increase due to the appalling costs of restoring the normal operations of government in the way of repairing and rebuilding of roads, bridges and buildings, and restoring services; and

Whereas, Before intelligent legislative answers can be made, information relative to the types of assessable property damages which occurred, the effects of the destruction of the basis of taxation and the replacement time involved must be known; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate, That the members of the Senate call upon the State Tax Commission to reopen the tax rolls of those areas considered disaster areas at the request of the assessing officers of such areas in order to make adjustments in tax payments, to explore the amount of tax base damage and to supply the Legislature with suggestions as to what measures the Legislature can take to provide for relief to such areas in regard to taxes, while at the same time preserving the necessary tax dollars needed by such local units to keep their governmental functions continuing; and be it further

Resolved, That the State Tax Commission report to the Legislature by May 15 as to its findings and recommendations; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the State Tax Commission for its immediate action.

The whole disaster situation has given me much food for thought and I plan to take steps to see that we minimize loss and confusion in any future disaster situation.

I look forward to meeting you again in the near future.

TO THE EDITORS:

Just finished looking over the April 15 edition of the Tecumseh Herald and couldn't resist dropping you a hurried note of congratulations. It was great.

Your coverage of the tornado disaster, both by word and picture, was magnificent — interesting and very comprehensive.

I brought The Herald to the office with me this morning to show the Record-Herald staff what a fine job you did. They all agreed with my appraisal.

Bob Rochester, our city editor, was very enthusiastic.

Again, congratulations and best wishes . . .

TO THE EDITORS:

Certainly it's no fun covering disasters such as hit your area two weeks ago. When storms or floods or other of Nature's upheavals come a newspaper has to put forth additional effort to inform the people and put it in words and pictures for history's sake.

You did an outstanding job, and I'm sure it's appreciated by your readers.

TO THE EDITORS:

Fair Features One Army Team Exhibit

Soldiering is a complex profession.

It is many men, at many places, doing many jobs.

The soldier mans a Nike-Hercules site in the far northern regions of Alaska, or an air defense site on the Eastern Seaboard. He marches through the flesh-freezing cold of the Arctic, into the steaming jungles of Vietnam.

They are the men who form the One Army team — regulars, reserves and National Guardsmen — the ring of steel around democracy.

A colorful, multi-unit exhibit will bring the story of the One Army soldier to Tecumseh, April 30 to May 2, during Tecumseh World's Fair.

VOICE of THE HERALD

And Bertha Chuckled

Editor's note — Bertha LaPointe chuckled when she read this editorial from the Bangor (Maine) Daily News. She thought Herald readers might enjoy it.

We were buttonholed on the street by a stranger, a fellow bubbling with enthusiasm and anxious to talk.

"Say," he exclaimed, "This Great Society idea is getting greater all the time, isn't it?"

"In what way?"

"Haven't you heard President Johnson's latest plan? He wants the federal government to help people pay their rent; people who are having a hard time to make ends meet.

"But of course that would just be a starting point. The next step would be to help with car payments. Autos have become necessities these days, you know . Oh boy, would I just like to have Uncle Sam give me a lift with my new car. You see I kind of went overboard. The missus talked me into getting something a little too fancy. You know how it is. Next, I would expect good old Uncle Sam to help me with payments on the television set."

"How do you figure that?"

"Education. Uncle Sam is strong on education, you see. My kiddies shouldn't be deprived of watching educational TV. Get it? I bet he'd even okey buying a colored set to brighten our lives. There's nothing dull about the Great Society. Then there is the new refrigerator I bought. I could use a little check every month from the government to help out on those payments. It's a necessity—a matter of health and hygiene. That's obvious, isn't it?"

The stranger paused and cocked his head thoughtfully.

"Boy, I just can't wait to join a golf club with a subsidy from Uncle Sam."

"Let's not be altogether absurd," we protested.

"Why should the government help you pay golf club dues?"

"Where have you been?" Haven't you heard about physical fitness? The White House wants everybody to be physically fit. What better way is there to keep fit than to belong to a golf club—providing you bend the elbow more with the golf sticks than with glasses? I'm telling you this Great Society is going to be the greatest. There's just no end to the possibilities."

"No end?"

"Well, maybe there is," said the stranger with a frown. "It's a funny thing but none of these Great Society people in Washington have said a thing about helping the poor taxpayer pay his taxes. Uncle Sam should come up with matching funds on the income tax, at least."

"But where," we asked, "would the government get the money to give the taxpayer, except from the taxpayer—who has to foot all the bills anyway?"

"I dunno," said the stranger.

"Just leave that to the Great Society planners. They are a pretty resourceful bunch, you know."

"At dreaming up ways to spend other people's money," we agreed.

"Oh, don't be a kill-joy. Join the Great Society and enjoy life."

As he walked away, he looked back and said gayly: "See you at the golf club."

Surprise and Glee

Apparently, the first installment of The Herald's recent readership survey was received with surprise in some quarters, glee in others.

People called and wrote to say they thought it took courage to print such information, some of which was extremely critical of the paper and its publishers.

We can only note, "That's life."

A publication, like a person, must learn to accept the bitter with the sweet—and, besides, there were considerably more bits of praise greatly softening the harsh blows.

The second was due three weeks ago, but instead we had a tornado. Balance of the survey data runs this edition.

We have found the results extremely informative. Readers said what they thought, some displaying a real skill at solid shin-kicking, to which we do not object.

The name of the game is "produce a paper which will inform and be interesting to the greatest number of people." Sometimes, editors can get a little off the track. Surveys like this one are extremely helpful.

Personal interviews were conducted at 120 households, located throughout the Herald's circulation area. All told, 147 were asked about their Herald reading habits, 99 women and 48 men.

A carefully-prepared set of questions was presented to each. Those interviewed were encouraged to make general observations and suggestions. The 10 interviewers noted down each one.

We've always felt this weekly — and most hometown papers — get solid reader attention. The survey helps verify this.

Rating tops was the front page, which ranked as being read "always" by 141 and "usually" by 6 — the sum total of those questioned.

Pictures are extremely popular with 129 saying they "always" look at them. It underlines the theory that people like illustrations with their reading matter.

Long Road Back

It has been a long road back for Willard Hosford, from a coma induced by Parkinson's disease, to being a contributing, useful citizen as an employee of Goodwill Industries.

The fight isn't over for Bill, as he is called by fellow Goodwill handicapped. He still is confined to a wheel chair, and his hands are not steady.

But another important milestone was reached when he was appointed manager of the new Goodwill retail store at 600 E. Beecher St.

A grand opening of the store will be May 10.

Bill was in a coma at the University of Michigan hospital for several months before brain surgery in 1962 set him on the road to recovery. Until Goodwill Industries gave him the opportunity, he had not worked for four years.

★

BILL WAS an advertising agent and salesman for nearly 20 years before Parkinson's disease stopped him.

The State Department of Vocational Rehabilitation and Goodwill cooperated in sponsoring Bill in six-months training period in preparation for managing the store.

The retail store is being constructed in a corner of the old Stearns Manufacturing Co.

It will provide 4,800 square feet of display area for the variety of merchandise cleaned, restored and repaired by the 95 handicapped workers at Goodwill.

The expanded retail store at 261 W. Maumee St. will be maintained indefinitely. A third Goodwill store is located at 23 W. Front St. in Monroe. The grand opening program will include tours of the new plant, refreshments and a dinner after the tour served by the Goodwill Auxiliary.

Mrs. Adams Is Hostess for Meeting

Mrs. William Adams was hostess for Child Study Club April 12. Mrs. LeRoy Titley, program chairman, presented two State Officers from Michigan Child Study Association.

Mrs. Charles R. Goff, president of the association, spoke on her duties and the functions of the Child Study Club. Mrs. Harold L. Banta, past-president from Muskegon, spoke on "Are You Raising A Drop Out?"

Officers for the coming year will be:

President—Mrs. Orrie Gilbert

Vice president — Mrs. Richard Chatters

Secretary — Mrs. Proctor Pace

Corresponding secretary—Mrs. Stephen Fulop

Treasurer — Mrs. Richard Gates

Club members will meet at p.m. May 10 at Don's Beef Buffet for the annual banquet. Mrs. Hugh DesErmia will be hostess and Mrs. Richard Gates and Mrs. James Quigley will have charge of the program.

Seventeen members and four guests enjoyed refreshments served by the hostess and cohostesses Mrs. Don Sunderland and Mrs. Ben Ross. Favors for children were furnished by Mrs. James Quigley, Mrs. Robert Ries and Mrs. Robert Lepp.

Owosso Pastor Guest Speaker at Church Here

The Rev. R. L. Berthume, pastor of the Owosso Assembly of God Church, will be speaker for special services this week at the local church at 210 W. Bidwell St.

Held each evening except Saturday, the services begin at 7:30 p.m.

"The Rev. Berthume will also speak at the Sunday morning and evening services," said the Rev. Harold Speer, pastor of the local church.

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Nearly three years ago, Dr. Dick Hammel started to think how he could get some specialized training in psychiatry.

Such knowledge would help him become a more proficient general practitioner, he reasoned. After all, quite a few of his patients — and those of almost every doctor — who come for treatment of physical ailments also suffer mental illness.

The idea of more knowledge about psychiatry persisted.

Time rolled along. At a medical meeting in Detroit, Dick chatted about the situation with a friend who said that Ypsilanti State Hospital was going to offer work in psychiatry for physicians.

Dick checked it out, but found this wasn't really the case, but as he talked with an official there, he was asked, "Have you thought about taking a residency here?"

Dr. Hammel said he hadn't.

The weeks wore on and he came to the conclusion that maybe this might be the route to go.

In June of last year, Dick decided to seek a residency and was accepted. It took nearly 12 months to get all arrangements made and now the Tecumseh physician is about to take the leap.

In addition to his salary from the hospital, he has also been awarded a three-year grant from the National Institute of Mental Health.

Dick will see his last Tecumseh patient on June 17, then he and his wife will swing up to Stratford, Ontario for a short vacation and to see a couple of Shakespearian productions.

He checks in at Ypsilanti on July 1.

The psychiatric staff there numbers 40 with the average patient roster bobbing around 3,000.

★

WHAT ARE his plans beyond 1968?

Dick is thinking about a new avenue of medicine — general clinical psychiatric practice. It got a big boost in Michigan with the Mental Health Act of 1963, whereby the state will help a community set up a mental health clinic.

"This makes a lot of sense to me," Dick states.

He points out that the Lafayette Clinic in Detroit was the first of this kind to be established in Michigan. Two more followed in the Motor City and several are now being readied outstate.

Gradually, oh so gradually, the public reaction to mental problems may become more charitable and sensible.

The 40 year old Tecumseh physician laments the old fashioned ideas of pushing Aunt Tillie into a back room for 25 years because she is "different."

"People are reluctant to admit they have an anxiety neurosis, but they'll brag about gall stones and prop them up on the mantle," he muses.

Dr. Hammel's dad practiced medicine in Tecumseh for 38 years until his death in 1953. Dick has been on duty here the past 13 years. He did a turn with the Navy during World War II, then dug into medicine, graduating from the University of Michigan in 1951.

Dick notes that his dad poohpoohed any idea of his son following in the father's footsteps. The final decision to become an MD was strictly Dick's.

Now he has made another vital judgment.

★

THE HAMMELS will continue to reside in their home along Red Mill Pond and he'll commute the 17 miles to the State Hospital.

Dr. Hammel has sold his office to a dentist, Dr. Graham Foster of Flint, currently serving with the Air Force. Dr. Foster

7th Grade Pupil Breaks Left Arm in Phys Ed Class

Earl Richard Ruttkofsky, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ruttkofsky of 317 N. Pearl St., broke his left arm Thursday in a fall from the trapeze bars at Tecumseh Junior High School.

The youngster, a 7th grader, was participating in a physical education class session at the time of the accident.

Faculty, Students Get Holiday Break

Students and teachers will get an extra day vacation this month.

School Board Monday night approved closing school on Monday, May 31, day after Decoration Day.

Car-Wash Operators Seek To Install Gasoline Pumps

The Board of Appeals, formed by Council two years ago, will hear its second case at 8 p.m. this Thursday evening at city hall.

Scheduled for a hearing is Joe Collins, owner of a new coin-operated car wash now under construction on W. Chicago Blvd., between Greenwald's Cleaners and Bud's A&W Drive-In.

He will be seeking approval to install gasoline pumps at the site, which is in Highway Business zoning. This ordinance requires a hearing before the Board for approval.

★

SEVERAL YEARS ago, the city had a moratorium on gasoline and service stations, but it has since been lifted.

Although the Jackson businessman has been given approval for construction of the car wash, City Manager Cal Zorn says he has not been given approval for gas pumps.

In a mixup at city hall, building inspector Lynn Noble, issued a permit for construction and told Councilmen Monday night that he had made a mistake. Construction plans included two pumps.

★

LAST WEEK, Harry Beland and Jack Osburn, two local businessmen, sought permits for gas pumps at their coin-operated car washes. Beland's is directly across W. Chicago Blvd. from the car wash, and he told city officials that he would need pumps to be competitive.

Osburn's is east of the A&P.

No action—including issuance of permits—has been taken. If the Tecumseh businessmen obtain permits to install pumps, they also will have to appear before the Board of Appeals.

Members of the Board are John Tompson, Robert Bonner, Fred Dickinson, Don Brazee and Dr. Richard Coak.

Who Will Be Crowned Mr. Safety?

Who will be this year's Mr. Safety?

Citizens wishing to nominate candidates may do so by writing a letter of 50 words or less.

Each entry should tell about the safe driving habits of the candidate.

The letters should be sent or left at The Herald before May 17.

The winner will be announced in conjunction with the annual Vehicle Safety Check Parade, Thursday, May 20. He'll be crowned and awarded a prize at that time. The person nominating Mr. Safety of 1965 will also be given a prize.

GIVE TO 3 FUNDS

Donations Hit Total of $23,258

Three disaster funds established within the Tecumseh area have collected more than $23,258.66.

Included are contributions of Tecumseh Products Co. employees, $18,000; Tecumseh Service Club, $3,308.66 and Franklin Township Disaster committee, $950. In addition the Tecumseh Products Co. management contributed an unannounced sum.

"The spirit of help exhibited by everyone after the tornado is amazing," Joseph Fortunato, a member of the personnel staff of the Products Co., said.

★

HELP IS not limited to employes who sustained damage in the storm but is available to anyone in need, Mr. Fortunato said.

Money is being used to provide furniture, clothing and other needs. Some employees offered their trailers to be used to house disaster victims, he said.

Service Club funds are being handled through the United Savings Bank of Tecumseh and are being used for area persons who suffered losses. Gifts continue to come in from points as far distant as Royal Oak.

★

MEMBERS OF the Franklin Township Disaster Committee continue to meet to consider requests for funds collected for Tipton tornado victims.

Mrs. Grover Swarts, chairman reported Wednesday the fund totals $950 and will be used to aid Tipton residents. Decisions as to whom funds will go will be determined after careful consideration, she said.

Unwelcome Chutists Visit Nudist Camp

CLINTON — The Shagbark Hollow nudist camp near Clinton is a good six miles from Tecumseh Airport but two parachutists claim capricious winds blew them off their course Sunday and caused them to land among some 150 sunbathers.

The nudists scurried for cover as the proprietor of the park, Thomas Odell, indignantly demanded the skydivers leave the property immediately.

Mr. Odell, who operates the secluded camp in a wooded section of his farm on Sheridan Rd. northwest of Clinton, told State Police of the Clinton Post that the parachutists have been dropping into his camp unannounced and uninvited.

He asked troopers for a trespassing warrant against Peter Myks of Detroit and David Sauve of Lansing who claimed they were blown off course Sunday and landed in the fenced camp instead of at Tecumseh Airport, their intended destination.

The men are members of a Flint skydiving club which uses the Airport as a base for weekend outings.

Troopers referred the matter to the Washtenaw County prosecutor's office.

Mr. Odell opened his camp several years ago after conferring with State Police, the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department and the prosecutor's office. The land has a small lake on it, is bordered by a thick growth of trees and has picnic tables and badminton courts.

Pre-Enrollment of Kindergartners Set for May 18

The annual kindergarten roundup for parents of children who will be five years old on or before Dec. 1, 1965, will be held in Tecumseh Acres School at 7:30 p.m., May 18.

Supt. James McDowell asks that both mothers and fathers attend, as information will be available which can help materially in giving their child a good start in his formal education.

Purpose of the roundup is to acquaint parents with kindergarten and to arrange pre-enrollment of children. Parents are requested not to bring their children, but their birth certificate.

Kindergarten manuals will be distributed. Refreshments and open house will be held in the kindergarten room.

This year there are 306 kindergarteners attending the Tecumseh schools. Although the 1964 census shows an anticipated enrollment of 272, school officials expect the number of beginners attending school next fall will be considerably greater.

PACES INDIAN TRACKMEN — Senior Steve Derby was one of Tecumseh's standouts as the Indians took second place in the Jaycee Relays Saturday. Steve is shown as he sprinted the last leg on the winning shuttle hurdle quartet. He won the 120-high hurdles in 15 flat, was third in the broad jump and anchored the 880-yard relay team which captured a second.

'Army' To Roll

If Charlie Butler has his way, Tecumseh's 10th annual Vehicle Safety Check will be the biggest and best yet.

A long-time Ford dealer in Tecumseh before his retirement five years ago, Charlie has long been the driving force behind the spring event which helps make sure cars and trucks are in A-1 shape.

For the last four years, Tecumseh's Safety- Check has drawn top state awards for excellence.

It has always begun with a giant parade, features prizes in a variety of categories and attracted hundreds of motorists thru the check lane.

Last year the idea was broadened so that qualified gasoline stations and garages could also check customer cars.

★

CHARLIE — and his king-size committee — are looking at what could be several new attractions for the 1965 event, which is slated for May 20, 21 and 2.

Gov. George Romney is being invited, so is Look Magazine, which is the driving force nationally behind the concept of making motor vehicles safe for appearances on roads and highways all across the United States.

If Tecumseh could muster a fifth state award, Charlie thinks that Look would focus its cameras on his hometown.

The big parade will begin at 7 p.m. on Thursday, May 20, followed with a ribbon-cutting of the check lane, which will officially begin the real business of the event.

It will also handle cars and trucks the following two days.

When trouble is spotted — say, a faulty exhaust system or burned-out headlight — the owner is asked to have it fixed and return to the check lane and be eligible for a prize.

"There will be no reprisals or tickets issued," Charlie points out.

★

ORGANIZATIONAL meetings for Safety-Check have been held and a small army of chairmen assigned to various tasks. Many have performed in these capacities for all nine previous events.

The run-down includes:

Co-chairmen — Lamont (Spec) Simmons and Bill Davis.

Publicity — Hugh Walters, Robert Karle and Arthur Eaton.

Corresponding secretary—Paul Roekle.

Photography — Edward Boss.

Records — Glenn Driscoll and the Rev. Frank Hawthorne.

Finance — J. W. Meadows, John Surratt, Perry Satterthwaite, Willis E. Haselwood and R. H. Moore.

Prizes — Yale Kerby, Glenn Kohler, Harry Beland, Clayton Greenwald, David Ousterhout and Andy Woodward.

Fisher Body Chief Speaks

Lewis Lamm, manager of Tecumseh Fisher Body plant, will be the speaker at the Mayor Exchange dinner May 20. The affair, a feature of Michigan Week, will climax a busy day of activities, Dike Helms, Michigan Week chairman, said.

Honored at the dinner will be Robert L. Anthony, mayor of Alma. Harold E. Easton, mayor of Tecumseh, will visit Alma, May 17, in observance of Our Government Day.

Mr. Lamm will speak on "Industry in Russia in Contrast with Industry in the United States." The banquet will be served by the Jaycee Auxiliary with Mrs. David Schoonover in charge. Time and place of the affair have not yet been determined, Mrs. Schoonover said.

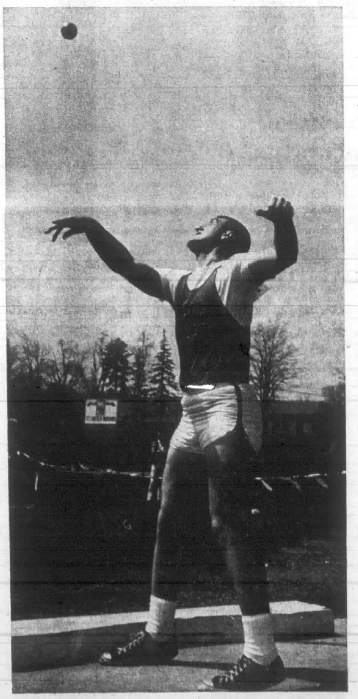
★

THE ROTARY CLUB Safety Check parade will be part of the day's festivities also.

The Tecumseh City Council, which usually meets on Monday nights, will postpone its meeting until Tuesday night to permit councilmen to accompany Mr. Easton to Alma. Mr. Helms said the public is urged to attend Tuesday's meeting to observe the functioning of the body.

Spiritual Foundations Day, May 16, will open the week's activities. Mr. Helm said he has asked the Rev. Harold E. Speer, president of the Tecumseh Ministerial Association, to suggest to the city's ministers that they call attention to the part the church has played in the development of the community.

Plans for the Week's Hospitality Day, Our Livelihood, Education Day, Our Heritage Day and Our Youth Day are still uncertain, Mr. Helms said.



CHAMPIONSHIP FORM — Big Bill Thomas flipped out a 49'4" toss in the Class B shot put competition to win first place at the Jaycee Relays and help the Indians capture a second in the meet behind Willow Run.

Pick Up Gear

'Golfers' Get Ready for Season

Burglars hit the pro shop at the Tecumseh Country Club early Tuesday morning and made off with nearly $1,500 in golf merchandise.

Entry to the shop, located at the rear of the clubhouse, was gained by breaking a small pane, then opening a window.

Dick Demeritt, club pro, discovered the break-in shortly after 8 a.m. and called local and state police.

Not only did the burglars fit themselves out with the best in golf clubs, they also took enough sportswear for a season or two.

An inventory of missing merchandise included 105 golf balls, six golf bags, two carryall bags, two sets of clubs, seven putters, towels, jackets, sport shirts, socks, and one pair of golf shoes.

Mr. Demeritt's $171 guitar also was stolen.

Members clubs and bags were not touched. The yegs overlooked 80 dozen new golf balls, still in their shipping cartons.

F. C. Hanna Insurance reports the loss was fully covered.

Council Rejects Bids on Pickup

All bids for a new city pickup truck were rejected by Council Monday night due to a technicality in the specifications. Cal Zorn, city manager, is undecided about re-advertising.

Bids received were George's Motor Sales, $1,698.85; Tecumseh Motors, $1,770; and Tecumseh Equipment, $1,785.

plans to begin his Tecumseh practice next spring when he doffs his uniform.

It will seem a little unusual for long-time residents not to have a Dr. Hammer on tap to administer to aches, pains, colds and assist the stork with his deliveries.

This has all been pretty serious, so let's close in levity.

Dick played the lead in "The Music Man" and one of those in Adrian who saw him recently sent a verbal message via a wayward Tecumsehite, for the doctor.

"Tell him there are two reasons I'd never let him take out my tonsils," remarked Mrs. Don Frazier.

First of all, he was so convincing in his role, I now think of him as Prof. Harold Hill.

"Secondly, I don't have any tonsils."

Corny, but cute.

A nice tag for a rather grave opus.

PTA Members Install Playground Equipment

New playground equipment was installed at a work bee at the Tecumseh Acres School Sunday. Helping to install the equipment were Mrs. Harold Ocamb, chairman of the committee, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Robison, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hensen, Mr. and Mrs. William Tilton and Harold Iffland.

A Buck-about and new swings were placed Sunday and a "Katy the Caterpillar" will be installed soon. They were purchased with proceeds from the PTA Fun Night.

Other small equipment, such as jump ropes, plastic balls and bats and playground balls were purchased with proceeds from the March 13 bake sale. John Robison is making a portable box for storage of the small items.

The project almost came to a halt Sunday when it was found the wrong bolts had been sent. Through the kindness of Don Martin Jr. who came down and opened the Gambles Store, the right bolts were found and the job completed.

Scott To Stand Trial June 22 in Circuit Court

Trial of Sgt. Wilbur LeRoy Scott, 29, charged with murdering his wife, will begin June 22 in Lenawee Circuit Court.

Scott stood mute Tuesday when he was arraigned before Judge Rex Martin. The trial is expected to take about a week.

The defendant was arrested March 26 within a few minutes after his wife fell dead from bullet wounds in front of the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Bozeman, of Britton.

Scott was home on leave from Ft. Bragg, N. C. His wife, Shirlee, lived in Tecumseh. Court records show she was in the process of divorcing her husband.

NEWS from Boysville

By MARTIN WHITAKER

The Boysville home baseball season began last Thursday against the Aggies of Sand Creek. Ron Klos, River Raisin League scoring champ in basketball and ace pitcher for the Knights of Boysville, limited the Aggies to one hit.

The first batter brought Ron off the mound to what appeared to be a routine ground out. Ron's throw to first, however, was wild, and the base runner advanced to second. Later he stole third. Then Ron yielded his only hit to the next batter on a successful squeeze play which scored the only Sand Creek run.

Neither team threatened until the sixth inning when Ray Lemanski of Boysville rapped out a single. Shortly after that he stole second on a passed ball. John Klos then waited out a base on balls.

With two outs and runners on second and third, Ron Klos came through with a triple down the right field line, bringing in the two runs and literally winning his own game. In the final inning he retired Sand Creek's side in order, striking out all three men. Ron struck out a total of 11 in the game.

In other games of the week Boysville proved no match for Monroe Catholic Central as the team went down to 7-3 defeat at the hands of the Falcons. In Adrian, though, on April 28, the Boysville nine beat Madison, 12-3. Norris McFarland, starting pitcher, won his first game of the season. Don Chalmers and Andre Brown homered for the Knights.

In other sports news, Boysville's track team has gotten off to a slow start, losing one triangular meet and two dual meets. Weakness in the field events seems to be the primary cause for concern. The first loss of the season was to Saline and Manchester in a triangular meet in Saline. The other two came at the hands of Whiteford and Madison. The loss to Madison, though, was by only three points and showed an improving Boysville team.

Adorning the north wall of the Boysville library is an original painting by W. Stilson. This painting came from the collections of the Purnell Galleries in Baltimore. Terry Kelley, who attended Boysville in 1952-53, donated the painting as a memorial to his parents.

Mr. Stilson is an impressionistic painter who is guided by the inspiration of the moment.

POLICE BLOTTER

Mary Reese, Adrian, drunk and disorderly, $50 and 10 days in the county jail. Additional 30 more days if fine not paid.

Lynwood Fisher, Petersburg, speeding, $18.

Larry D. Collier, 302 S. Maumee, stop sign, $6.

Carlos Ojeda, Adrian, speeding, $10.

Mother's Day is Sunday. One way to please would be to give her tickets to the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "Trial By Jury," to be staged May 12 and 13 in the Patterson School by the Tecumseh High School Chorus.

The production promises to be of real interest with a bewigged judge and jury and colorful costuming.

Frances Moran will have her cast whipped into shape just as soon as she can get those seniors home from New York and Washington, even though she couldn't cram big Dan Vollmer into a size 34 outfit when he usually wears a 44.

As the defendant he will be sporting an opera cape, stove pipe hat and the works including a walking cane. See you there.

It's No 'News' to Us!

A national worker of the American Red Cross Monday confirmed what Tecumsehland residents have long known. Lenawee County has just a little better community spirit than can be found anywhere else.

liams of Wichita, Kans., meeting Monday night with Lenawee County Chapter Red Cross officials, marveled at the way residents rallied round after the Palm Sunday tornado.

He expressed amazement that requests for disaster funds would likely be less than $50,000. Using the usual yardstick for predicting the amount of need in a disaster Mr. Williams had expected the Red Cross would be asked to contribute $135,000.

★

HE CREDITED high insurance coverage — 85 per cent — with cutting the loss to property owners.

Requests for aid were further cut down by gifts to special funds set up in the storm struck areas. Two industries contributed $23,000, Mr. Williams pointed out.

Generosity of persons who contributed some $3,000 to $4,000 worth of food to be served in the Tipton Coffee Shop at Tipton was a further indication of the communuity spirit in the county, he said.

Ten of 248 storm casualties registered by the Red Cross are still hospitalized, Mr. Williams said.

★

MRS. CLIFFORD Hood said 201 volunteer workers contributed 2,674 hours in addition to the first aid and nursing volunteers. That group of 32 women donated 40 days of work for storm victims.

Thirteen Red Cross workers were in Lenawee County on special assignment in addition to the two paid staff members of the local chapter.

Deadline for registering for Red Cross aid was Tuesday. At that time 52 families had registered for assistance.

SURPRISE, SURPRISE!

When you read this, if all has gone according to plan, we three Duncans should be well along on the first leg of this year's vacation.

In fact, right about now we should be searching our vocabulary for all adjectives and words of exclamation in anticipation of a visit to the Grand Canyon.

It is our first jaunt into Arizona — great excitement!

Also on the agenda are drives through, picture taking in, and just plain marveling over Oak Creek Canyon, Utah's Bryce and Zion National Parks, and, if time holds out, Monument Valley on the Navajo Indian Reservation.

It should be a great trip and a busy one. I will see you in a few weeks — hopefully with a few tales about the "wild and wooly west".

Filing Deadline May 15 for Board Candidates

Property owners interested in seeking positions on the School Board have just nine days left to file petitions.

★

The second vacancy was created Monday night when the Board accepted the resignation of Dr. Richard Dustin, member for the past five years.

The Tecumseh physician made his intentions known last fall when he first submitted his resignation. Persuasions to continue on the board were successful until this week.

The two board positions are divided into one four-year term and one two-year term.

Whether there is an issue on the ballot, such as millage for classroom construction, has not been decided. The School Board discussed needs for additional classrooms Monday night, and possibility of one mill for five years was included.

No Decision on Classrooms

Several hours of discussion failed in reaching a decision by the Tecumseh School Board Monday night for needed classrooms next fall.

It was much the same old story — no money and fear that the people would turn down millage for construction.

Four methods to finance or obtain classrooms were:

Refunding or refinancing the present 1957 bonds.

Placing one mill on the June ballot for five years.

Lease portable classrooms out of general operating monies.

Raise the present 6.32 mills, now collected for the 1957 bonds, to 8.5 mills.

The last method would let the schools pay off a considerable amount of the present building debt, and then let them assess the district without a vote of the people.

Officials also discussed placing elementary children in basements of churches, library and the present school offices on W. Chicago Blvd.

Speaker To Tell About Jerusalem

Ernest Stewart, an evangelist in Jerusalem since 1961, will speak at the Tecumseh Church of Christ Monday evening at 7:30.

The public is invited to hear the story of "the strife torn situation in the country where Our Lord, the Prince of Peace, lived," states Ed Pistole, Church of Christ minister.

Visits Mother

The Rev. Charles Bancroft of Barberton, O., spent Thursday and Friday visiting his mother, Mrs. Vira Bancroft, and his sister Helen Walker. The Rev. Bancroft spoke at the Friends Quarterly meeting at the Raisin Valley Friends Church.

Hearing and Vision Test Date Is Set

Dates for the testing of hearing and vision of pre-school children have been announced by the Lenawee County Health Department which is conducting the program.

The tests will be made May 17, 20, 21 and 24 in the Methodist Church. Hours are from 9-11:30 a.m. and 1-3:30 p.m. Appointment blanks have been sent to children already enrolled in kindergarten. Parents of youngsters, 3½ years to kindergarten age, may obtain applications from the department office at Adrian.

Mrs. Helen Vanderveer of Hudson will check the vision and Mrs. Vivian Turnwald of Adrian, the hearing tests.

Mrs. Richard Dustin is chairman of the local clinic and has arranged with volunteers of the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary to assist.

Purpose of the program is to find children with hearing and vision defects so they may be corrected prior to the beginning of school.

Business Drops

The number of births in hospitals declined from 3,857,626 in 1962 to 3,784,666 in 1963, reflecting a nationwide lowering in the birth rate.

It's time to take a ride to the lake and buy your cottage or building lot.

ON THE NORTH SHORE OF SAND LAKE — Year-around 3-bedroom, will sell or trade, will take land, cows, horses, cars, boats, airplane, swimming pool — most anything in trade on this.

ALSO NICE SMALL COTTAGE ON S. MEADOW — Only $8,000 and with air conditioning. Built-in refrigerator, big front porch — by golly, this is worth the money.

ON DEVILS LAKE — They missed this one with the storm. 2-bedroom, lake front at $11,000 and large lot. No cars will bother you here, you can hardly drive down to it.

WAMPLERS IS A GOOD LAKE — and we have a 2-bedroom for sale. This has been on the market quite a while. So far, no one has made an offer — if someone doesn't buy this soon, I think I'll try trading some odds and ends for it.

IN TECUMSEH AT 1112 MURRAY DR. — there's a 4-bedroom that's empty. You can move right in and the price is right.

ON TERNES ROAD — there is a good-sized 3-bedroom, full basement, large garage with fenced-in back yard. Empty, waiting for a new owner — present owner would trade for some land near Tecumseh — 5- or 6-mile area, that is. What say, anybody?

8931 MATTHEWS HWY — This guy has a goofy idea and wants to rough it on an old dirt lane, so will sell. He will take a trade in town; this home is in a wood lot with live stream, 3 to 4 acres of land. Make a pass and you might own it. Oh, yes, possession now.

WE HAVE A LARGE better-than-new 5-bedroom here in town. The garage is as big as most houses, 2 full baths, steam heat, fireplace, 2 living areas — and the nice part — their family has grown up so will trade for a smaller home — or will sell outright.

JUST OUT OF TOWN — 525.3 feet out — we have a new 3-bedroom, 2 baths, 2 fireplaces, good size dining area, 2 balconies, and many more nice things. Yep — 30-day possession and it's brand new.

Bases - Full Homer Aids THS 9 Win

Gordon Gibson blasted a 320' home run with the bases loaded to pace Tecumseh's baseball team in stopping Dundee, 12-9, on the Indian diamond Monday.

Stan Lewis cracked out 3-for-4 and Sheldon Pease exploded a long triple, which would have been a homer had Sheldon not had to double back to touch second base after almost reaching third.

Allen Vallad's catch in left of a long foul fly helped stifle a possible Viking rally in the final frame.

Dean Hebb was the winning hurler, taking over from Gordon Gibson in the first. Dean struck out six, but needed help from Scott Edwards, who handled the final three innings.

Next action for Coach Carl Hale's diamond squad will be a twin bill with Grosse Ile Saturday in Tecumseh. First game will begin at 10 a.m., followed by a lunch break and then the nightcap at 1 p.m.

The average hospital patient's hospital stay is half as long today as it was 25 years ago. The average stay in 1935 was 14 days and today it is 7.7. The decline is attributed to better medicines, new equipment, and improved treatment.

THE LANSING REPORT FROM senator GIL BURSLEY

Many Tecumseh residents clipped and mailed me the questionnaire which appeared in this column some time ago. The 10 questiones I posed appeared in five newspapers as well as being included in a direct mailing of several thousand.

On the question of lowering the voting age to 18, the overall return from more than 2000 respondents in Lenawee and Washtenaw Counties was 77% against. In the Tecumseh area alone returns ran 84% against lowering the voting age.

A proposed constitutional amendment to lower the voting age to 18 has just been reported out of committee in the Senate. The opinion of such a large sample of the voting public will thus be of especial value to me in discussions with fellow Senators.

★

THE MOST one-sided vote among the 10 questions was on subjecting 16 and 17 year old drivers to the point system for traffic violations the same as for adults.

Here 98% of voters favored such a measure with Tecumseh residents expressing the same percentage response.

I am happy to report that Senate Bill 134 which places 16 and 17 year olds under the point system passed the Senate overwhelmingly and is now in the House for consideration.

★

ON THE question of Sunday liquor where local communities vote to allow sales, Tecumseh opinion was almost unanimous against and in the area as a whole, the vote was 2 to 1 against Sunday liquor.

Senate Bill No. 20 which would have permitted Sunday sales has been referred back to the Liquor Committee and has little chance of passage. Similar legislation is still under consideration in the House of Representatives.

★

AMONG OTHER questions in the informal poll:

► Allowing pari-mutual betting on greyhound racing — lost 1,462 to 914.

► Requiring liability insurance on Michigan drivers — favored 2,289 to 140, by people responding to the questionnaire.

► To the question, "Should Michigan have total fiscal report now advocated by Gov. Romney," the people said "yes" by an 1,813 to 353 margin.

★

One of the greatest satisfactions a legislator receives is to share in developing constructive legislation, to nurse it through the parliamentary stages and then to see that it is actually implemented and does the good originally intended.

For two years I have been closely associated with legislation that would [illegible] water and river resources to be more effectively utilized.

Last year I sponsored Public Act 253, known also as the Local River Management Act. Many persons devoted considerable thought and time to this bill before it was finally enacted.

This week it is my understanding that a Huron River Watershed Council will be established under the new legislation by approval of the Michigan Water Resources Commission.

This Council will supplant the former voluntary association known as the Huron River Intergovernmental Watershed Committee.

Participating governments include Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Belleville, Chelsea, Dexter, Washtenaw County, Livingston County, Berlin Township of Monroe County, West Bloomfield Township of Oakland County, Van Buren Township of Wayne County and from Washtenaw County the following townships, Lima, Scio, Superior and Webster.

Under Public Act 253 a watershed council may do many things including studies of the water resources of the watershed, requesting the State Water Resources Commission to conduct surveys of stream flow, make periodic recommendations and reports, advise agencies of federal, state and local governments. It also will cooperate with federal and state agencies in providing steam gauges, water quality sampling stations and perhaps most important recommend the creation of a river management district which could impound waters, contract with the federal government and in substance would be authorized to act as a body corporate with the powers to sue and be sued, exercise the right of eminent domain and apportion administrative costs among the participating governments.

10 Young Persons Become Members of First Methodist

Ten members of the Youth Confirmation Class of the First Methodist Church will be received into membership of the church by the Rev. Donald C. Porteous during the Sunday morning worship service.

These youths have completed 20 hours of instruction in the history, creeds, and doctrines of the Methodist Church. The course began last November and finished up in the late April.

Those being confirmed are Roberta Brown, William Davis Jr., Barry Finnegan, Christopher Finnegan, Melanie Hensen, Jane McConnell, Karen Schultz, Michael Simpson, Jon Smith and Jacqueline Work.

The Rev. Donald Porteous will deliver the meditation on the subject of "Choices."

Delayed by Board

Requests to adjust salaries in the Tecumseh Schools was tabled until the next meeting by the School Board Monday night.

Officials have received inquiries in raising salaries, particularly for secretaries and custodians.

Indians Take 2nd in Relays

Highly favored Willow Run ran to expectations here Saturday and walked off with the Class B honors, whipping second place Tecumseh, 70-47.

Morenci repeated its victory in the Class C division. Clinton placed far down the list, finishing in a tie with Pittsford at 12 points for 9th place.

The Indians nearly matched WR in the first place winners, 3 to 5, but failed to catch up in other events. Tecumseh failed to score a point in four of 12 events.

BILL THOMAS set a meet record in the shot put with a 49'4" mark. This, however, is about two feet short of his school record here.

Steve Derby tied his school mark here with 15.0 in the 120-yard high hurdles.

Tecumseh's other first place was achieved by the shuttle-hurdle relay team of Tim Collins, Bill Bactenslager, Lee Hannibal and Derby.

Kirk Lucas copped a third place medal in the pole vault, and Derby also a third in the broad jump.

THE 880 RELAY and mile relay teams finished second in both events. The medley relay team finished third, but less than a half second behind Willow Run's record making time of 1:38.4.

Roger Haft of Clinton accounted for eight of this team's total 12 points. Haft high jumped 6' for a first place and finished third in the broad jump.

Teammate Hierholzer ran the mile in 5:04.0 for a fourth place finish. The Redskins shuttle-hurdle relay team took fifth spot in that event.

WINNING POLE VAULTER — Sturdy Mike Donough of Lutheran West High in Detroit, top vaulter in Michigan prep circles, went 12'2" to snatch the Class B vault event in the Jaycee Relays. He makes excellent use of the fibreglas pole and has gone 13'6" this spring. In a try to snap Dan Greene's meet mark of 12'11", Mike's pole snapped instead and he landed in a heap. He tried again with a teammate's, but failed.

Raisin Cane 4-H Club Clears Farm of Storm Debris

Forty members of the Raisin Cane 4-H Club took their lunches out to the Mac Powell property north of Tecumseh April 23 and picked up debris created by the Palm Sunday tornado.

They also combed a large field littered with shingles and other wreckage for Mr. and Mrs. Merle Mellott.

A hand embroidered table cloth edged with crocheting was found by one of the 4-H'ers.

Mrs. William Osburn, leader, is making an effort to restore it and will give it to the owner if he can be identified. If not the finder will be allowed to keep it for her own.

A white blouse and a prescription for eye glasses for Felipe Valdez were also found.

The group piled up lumber from a barn for Mr. Powell.

Mr. and Mrs. Raynor Van Valkenburg and six sons assisted with the work. Drivers were Mrs. Osburn, Mrs. Arthur Jenkins, Mrs. Clifford Brown and Mrs. Hubert Lavender.

Training of County Youth in Crisis Situation

By MAXINE CALHOUN

What is Lenawee County going to do to conserve its most valuable asset — human resources?

More than 200 presidents or representatives of county organizations attending a meeting April 29 in Walsh Hall at Siena Heights College learned of the crisis situation in the matter of youth training and employment in this area.

The program was arranged by the staff of the Lenawee County Extension Department which has been working for six months with a Guidance Committee composed of 22 county leaders of industry, education, agriculture and business to assemble the necessary information.

Sister Ann Joachim extended the welcome from Siena Heights College and introduced John Comstock, County Extension Director, who presented the speakers.

"We have not kept pace in developing human resources in this county," Mr. Comstock said as he introduced members of the Extension staff and others who, with the aid of projected charts, presented a concise compilation of the facts as they apply to Michigan and more immediately to Lenawee County.

Norman Bless described the changing pattern of occupational needs in the state. The United States is the first and only nation in the world where there are more service occupations to be filled than production occupations. This has been true since 1950. He spotlighted the projected needs by occupational groups for the 1960-70 period:

60 per cent more professional and technical workers

30 per cent more service workers

30 per cent more clerical and sales workers

15 per cent more proprietors and managers

12 per cent more skilled workers

5 per cent LESS semi-skilled workers

20 per cent LESS farmers and farm workers

30 per cent LESS unskilled workers

"To share in the phenomenal growth of Gross National Product which the nation is achieving, workers must be trained for these jobs," he said.

Fred Dickinson, employment manager of the Tecumseh Products Co., described the difficulty he had in obtaining adequate workers.

"Lenawee County has exhausted its manpower supply," Mr. Dickinson said. "Although 18-year-old workers are now being hired with the minimum qualifications, they frequently don't want to work steadily."

"Absenteeism is the biggest problem facing industry," he said. "This is further aggravated by the fact that many workers have been hired from such long distances as Monroe, Toledo, Jackson, Reading and Litchfield, thus creating transportation problems."

"Many young people whose parents have a notion that they should be college material, would be more employable if they were given a basic vocational training with more emphasis on the use of tools," Mr. Dickinson concluded.

Ray Gillespie of the Extension Department, explained the population figures for the county. He said almost half the county population is under 18 years old. Three out of 10 Michigan children who enter first grade do not complete high school, he said.

Philip Bailey, the new county Vocational Consultant, suggested the four most important areas to consider in county education are:

► The inflexibility or lack of imagination in our educational systems. For a generation that will be changing occupations three or four times in a lifetime, 30 year old textbooks, equipment and materials are still being used.

► Most high schools in the county are too small to offer a well-rounded curriculum. The minimum high school should be 500 or more. Much more vocational training is needed.

► Financing the schools has now become a local issue. Five years ago 60 per cent of the school financing came from the state — now less than 40 per cent. "We get what we pay for," Mr. Bailey said, "we spend 3½ times the amount for tobacco and liquor in the United States than we spend for education."

► There are too many dropouts. He said 1385 county seniors will graduate in June. Another 215 students began the first grade with those seniors but have since dropped out of school. This is a 15 per cent dropout rate, compared to a 33 per cent national rate. Thirty-two per cent or 444 graduates will go to college but only 22 per cent of these will graduate.

Sixty-eight per cent or 941 who do not go to college, in addition to the original 215 dropouts, make a total of 1,156 eighteen year in the county labor force this June, he pointed out.

Technical and vocational education must become available in the county to provide them with salable skills, Mr. Bailey said.

Willard McCloud, district marketing agent, described the situation pertaining to farm youth.

In Michigan this year 4,800 farm boys will be competing for 400 jobs on farms. Two out of three rural youth will move to the urban areas in the next 10 years for employment.

Robert Hawkins, a county dairy and hog farmer, described the farm labor problem. He told how farm management is taking more time at present than the actual farm work. Farmers are today hiring more skilled labor than ever, he said. A particularly sensitive worker is needed to handle a large dairy herd or complicated farm machinery.

Fruit and vegetable producers have been able to hire 160,000 imported laborers in Michigan. However new laws prohibit the use of imported labor and local workers must be found to harvest these crops.

"Agriculture can no longer use the unskilled laborer," Mr. Hawkins said. "Instead, more mechanical harvesters and larger farm machinery will be utilized to take the place of such labor."

John Comstock concluded the meeting with the statement, "Tomorrow's problems are here today. They are people's problems and must be solved by the people."

Everyone who attended was given a folder of concise discussion material for presentation to each organization in the county.

The next move is up to the folks in Lenawee County.

Several Clinton citizens attended the meeting. They were Roy Jedele, Chief of the Clinton Fire Department; Mrs. Ben Mahrle II, president of the Clara Camp Royal Neighbors; Robert Mohr, president of the PTA; Paul McKenna, pastor of the United Church of Christ; Richard Steudle, principal of Clinton High School; Mrs. Arthur Hill, president of the Macon Woman's Club; Harold Calhoun, president of the Northline Farm Bureau and Mrs. Calhoun, representing The Tecumseh Herald.

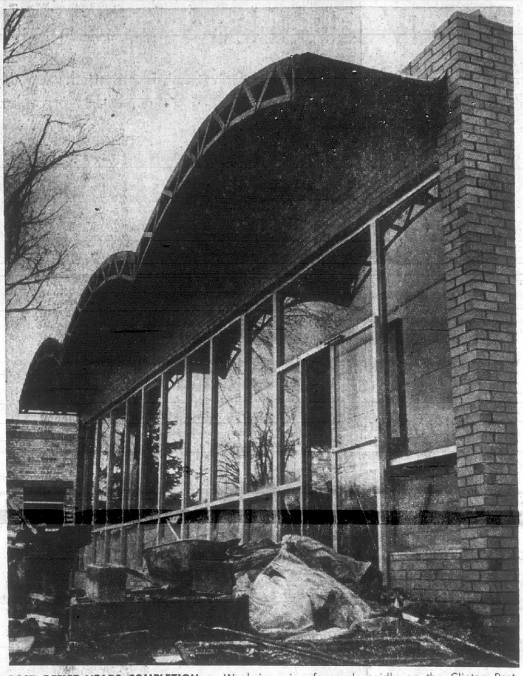
Miss Strahle told officers she was unable to stop because she was being followed closely by another vehicle.



POST OFFICE NEARS COMPLETION — Work is going forward rapidly on the Clinton Post office. Spiritual Foundation Day, Sunday, May 16, will begin the week, with observance in the churches.

Monday will be Government Day and Mayor's Exchange Day, with the Mayor of Melvindale coming here and John Truesdale, Clinton's President, going to Melvindale.

Tuesday will be Hospitality Day; Wednesday, Livelihood Day; Friday, Heritage Day and Saturday, Youth Day.

At 12:15 a.m. Monday, Leonard Penrod, 22, of Saline, lost control of his convertible while driving on US-12 just west of Neblo Rd. The car rolled over beside the highway. He told Clinton State Police that he was forced off the road by another vehicle. He was uninjured.

Crew Taking Up Railroad Tracks into Manchester

CLINTON — Manchester will soon be isolated from all rail service.

The New York Central Railroad lines are being torn up between Clinton and Manchester.

E. Fick is foreman of the crew taking up the rails. The same crew recently took up the rails between Hudson, Jackson and Osseo. About a mile of track a day is being removed by the crew.

The road was chartered in 1836 as part of the Palmyra and Jackson Railroad.

Passenger trains ran north and south through Clinton several times a day in 1900. Lately the freight trains come through Clinton only two or three times a week.

For the present, at least, the tracks will be torn up to Church St. and will be kept intact south of that point, because of the expected increase in revenue from additional industrial activity in the village.

'Doll Lady' Delights Mothers, Daughters

CLINTON — "The Doll Lady," Mrs. Ada Rippey of Sturgis, Saturday displayed a portion of her huge collection of antique dolls at the annual Mother and Daughter banquet in the United Church of Christ.

Many of Mrs. Rippey's dolls have been fashioned from heads, hands or bits of fabric which have come to her from her audiences over the years. Even the small wigs are styled from wisps of hair sent to her by friends.

Her program called "Image of a Child," dealt with the make-believe world where her "doll family" was shown to have many of the little girl mannerisms familiar to all.

★

THE PROGRAM, attended by 125, was arranged by the Mary-Martha Class. Mrs. Ben Mahrle II, decorated the tables with dolls and simulated bouquets of flowers.

Mrs. James Heimerdinger gave the toast to the daughters. Linda Corwin, the toast to mothers.

Mrs. John Gilman sang "The Wedding of the Painted Doll," with her small daughter, Stephanie, costumed as the bride doll. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. John Cox.

The ham loaf dinner was prepared by the women of the church and served by the men and boys.

And—when Mrs. Rippey went home and her husband asked, "Did the little girls sigh with delight when you showed them the prettiest dolls?" she could truthfully answer, "Oh, yes indeed!"

Mobile Carillon Concert Friday

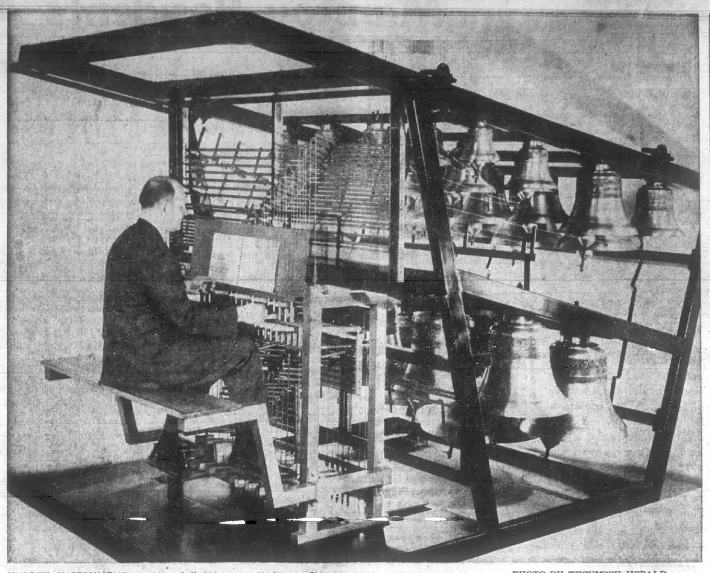
Advertised as the "world's only mobile carillon", a 35-bell instrument will come to the front doors of St. Peter's Episcopal Church at 7 p.m., Friday for a public concert by famed Michigan State University carilloneur Wendell Westcott.

The carillon of bronze bells, weighing from 20 pounds to 583 pounds, is installed on a truck frame. Since all of the 106 carillons in this country are installed in bell towers, few people have the opportunity to see the carilloneur at the playing board or clavier.

This installation makes possible the demonstration of the playing of one of the most fascinating of musical instruments.

The mobile carillon was designed and built by the I. T. Verdin Company of Cincinnati, O., whose workmen polished and reinstalled in the new St. Peter's Church the 1880 bronze bell from the old Church tower.

The carillon has appeared on the national network "Today" Show, and at the Rockefeller Plaza on Fifth Avenue for the Easter Parade. Before that it was in Michigan for the Holland Tulip Festival, May 12-15.



UNIQUE INSTRUMENT — Wendell Wescott, Michigan State University carilloneur, will perform Friday on a mobile carillon parked on the lawn of St. Peter's Episcopal Church. In case of inclement weather persons attending the concert will be seated within the church while Mr. Wescott plays.

What's Going on at BOYSVILLE

By MARTIN WHITAKER

At the outset of the Lenten season, Boysville's Mission Club, moderated by Brother James Gretsman, CSC, announced its drive to fulfill a $200 quota to be used toward the building of a library in Dacca, East Pakistan. It fell a scant six dollars short of the goal.

As an attraction the Mission Club offered an ice cream party at the end of each week to the dorm that gave the highest average per capita. At the close of the Lenten season the dormitory maintaining the highest average per capita throughout the season won a movie in town.

This prize was taken by the juniors in the northeastern wing of Cardinal Mooney Hall, prefected by Brother Francis O'Donnell, CSC.

Preceding the beginning of the Easter vacation was the Annual Talent Show, sponsored by the sophomore class. This gala two-hour affair, held in the gym, featured comedy acts, pantomimes, and instrumental and vocal groups. Students competed for cash prizes and weekends home.

The winners were: first prize, The Kobras, an instrumental group consisting of Armand Boisvenue, Bill Herald, Armando Lopez, and Dave Roberts; second, Steve Carroll, singing an assortment of ballads; third, Ed Johnson, posing as a star of stage and screen; fourth, The Cadets, consisting of buglers Ray Lemanski, Mike Gaudreau and Max Phelps, and drummers Tom Klavon and Jim Hough; fifth, The Cairos, a vocal group consisting of Greg Gard and Max Phelps.

After the talent show a movie was shown.

"Three Coins in a Fountain" provided a theme for this year's Junior-Senior Dance held at the Father Patrick O'Kelley Knights of Columbus Hall in Dearborn April 23. This semi-formal affair was sponsored by the Junior class with an invitation extended to the seniors. Music was provided by the George Buddy Schrein band.

Boysville's 16th Annual Awards Night for athletic achievement was held Sunday evening in the Boysville Dining Hall.

Arthur Gaul, head chef at Boysville, prepared a gourmet's delight in the form of a buffet supper which drew comments of praise and admiration not only from the guests assembled but from the boys as well.

Among the dignitaries attending were Kenneth Chapin, state secretary of the Knights of Columbus, and Vincent O'Meara, executive secretary of the Michigan Knights of Columbus. Also in attendance were officials of the River Raisin League. Bob Whitlow of the Detroit Lions was the main speaker.

Junior class members dominated the football awards. Moe Jacobs won the most valuable football player award; Joe Pawlus received the most outstanding back award; John Klos won the outstanding lineman award; and Ed Johnson took the sportsmanship trophy.

The most outstanding basketball player award went to Ron Klos. The most improved junior varsity football player was Allen Rockwell, and the most improved junior varsity basketball player was Ron Cook.

Boysville's routine 5:15 p.m. study hall has been dropped for the final quarter of study to make room for a full program of intramural sports.

The intramural program began in full swing Monday. Students had their choice of joining handball, volleyball, or softball teams.

During the week preceding the Easter vacation, the Boysville campus was honored by the presence of Brother Majella Hegarty, CSC, Province Supervisor of Schools for the Brothers of Holy Cross. Brother's main concern was that of analyzing the teaching-learning situation at Boysville ,a process he follows in every school of the Midwest Province.

DOLLAR and SENSE FARMING.

CORN YIELDS drop about a bushel per acre for each day planting is delayed after the first week in May. Plant as soon as possible. Figure a similar drop in soybean yields planted later than the third week in May. Stalks from early planted corn are shorter, making harvesting easier. Improved grain to stalk ratio contributes to a higher quality feed when harvested for silage, too. Weed problems from planting early are likely to be greater. Use a pre-emergence herbicide.

A SOW'S LITTER SIZE CAN BE INCREASED several ways. One way is to flush and breed on the second or third heat period following weaning. Breed each sow twice during the heat period, 12 to 24 hours apart. It can increase conception rate 10%, and litter size by one pig per litter. Finally, don't overfeed. It will impair reproductive performance.

HAYLAGE-FED CATTLE gained significantly faster and produced cheaper gains than cattle fed corn silage, in Illinois feeding trials. Their body reserves of vitamin A were also higher than the silage-fed steers at the end of the trial. However, silage-fed steers produced carcasses higher in overall carcass grade. Seventy Hereford steer calves were randomly selected and fed for 210 days out of oxygen-free silos.

OVERLOADING TRACTORS: When you o[illegible] over of your tractor there is a tendency to overload the transmission, final drive, gears, shafts and axles by pulling bigger loads. Instead, pull the same load at a higher speed to increase efficiency.

PEO Members at Convention

Several members of Tecumseh Chapter AJ, PEO were in Jackson last week where they attended the 46th annual convention of the Michigan State Chapter PEO Sisterhood.

Mrs. B. O. Bashore was chapter delegate and Wednesday afternoon conducted devotions for the Memorial Hour.

Mrs. Edward Mossing of Tipton, a member of the Chapter, and a graduate of Cottey College at Nevada, Mo., a junior college operated by the sisterhood, was soloist for the Hour. Mrs. M. R. Blanden was second delegate.

Other members at the full sessions, which opened with a pre-convention dinner Tuesday night, are Mrs. Gayl Fisher, Mrs. Robert Bonner, Mrs. M. R. Blanden, Mrs. Earl Pennington and Mrs. Archie Dunsmore.

★

ATTENDING various sessions were Mary McWilliams, Mrs. John Lott, Mrs. Earl Lindsley, Mrs. C. O. Bailey, Mrs. John Thompson, Mrs. John Keeney, Mrs. Clarence Hall, Mrs. Edward Boss and Mrs. James R. Elliott.

Going to Jackson Thursday night for the annual dinner honoring husbands were Mr. Fisher, Dr. Blanden, Mr. Dunsmore and the Rev. Bashore, who gave the invocation.

The PEO Sisterhood was founded in 1869 by seven students of Iowa Wesleyan College. In later years when College sororities took on Greek Letters, the organization retained its English letters and became a sisterhood not confined to college students.

★

THERE ARE NOW 152,000 women in the sisterhood which has about 4,000 chapters in the United States and Canada. Michigan Chapter has about 3,100 members and the 108th chapter was organized April 20 in St. Joseph.

The Tecumseh chapter was organized April 13, 1936, under the supervision of the late Mrs. Perry Satterthwaite.

Mrs. Fisher is president and a past president of the State Chapter PEO.

The PEO Sisterhood is a charitable and educational organization interested principally in bringing to women greatly increased opportunities for higher education.

This is accomplished through philanthropies with which the entire membership is concerned. Each local chapter has committees concerned primarily with one of each of three phases of the work.

★

Chairmen of AJ chapter committees are Mrs. Bailey, International Peace Scholarship Fund; and Mrs. Boss, PEO Educational Fund and Cottey Junior College Committee.

The educational fund established in 1907 is a revolving loan fund which has loaned some $1 million to help 14,000 women complete their education.

Cottey Junior College for Women has been owned and supported by the PEO since 1927. The liberal arts college is designed to prepare students to transfer to four-year colleges and is accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and by the National Association of Schools of Music and Junior Colleges.

Believing that education is fundamental to world peace and understanding the International Peace Scholarship Program was established in 1949, from voluntary contributions of the membership scholarships are given to selected women from foreign countries to permit them to take graduate study in the United States and Canada.

Michigan Chapter has a PEO Home Foundation to which members contribute toward establishing a home for PEO 'senior citizens'. Mrs. E. L. Russell is Foundation chairman for Chapter AJ.

Postal Booboo To Be Displayed at World's Fair

The nation's most famous postal mistake goes on exhibit at the World's Fair Post Office and will stay on view for three months.

A copy of the 24-cent air mail stamp issued in 1918 with a picture of the airplane printed upside-down will be displayed along with the the original die proof of the stamp, proof sheets of the red border, blue plane, and die proofs of the 6-cent and 16-cent stamps that were also issued as part of the series.

Visitors to the World's Fair Post Office will be furnished with free cachets being issued specially for this year's exhibition.

The Post Office will feature a philatelic sales window. All commemorative stamps available through the Post Office Department's philatelic sales agency will be sold in a special packet.

A feature of the post office is a narrated "Trip With Mr. Zip" which takes visitors around the highly-mechanized operation and explains how a modern post office works.

The blue and red air mail stamp on display is one of 100 stamps with an inverted airplane purchased by a Washington, D. C., stamp collecter, May 13, 1918, at a post office stamp window. This was the first day of sale for the country's first air mail stamp.

Manitou Residents Aided

By MRS. CARROLL SPRAGUE

After finishing their aid at the Tipton Red Cross Center in Mrs. Fay Luce's Coffee Shop, members of the local Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service, aided by churches of Ridgeway and Britton, prepared a quantity of food for Manitou Beach tornado victims and workers.

This was transported to the Red Cross Center in Tibbs Store basement at Manitou Beach the evening of April 20 and again April 21.

The ladies helped to circulate the food from cars to the various check points around the area including the National Guard stations, and between Round and Devils Lakes as well as west of the area on Rollin Center Hwy., west of Manitou.

★

ANYONE WORKING in their yards or on their cottages was asked if they had eaten and many were supplied with food from a large supply of hot baked dishes and roasters and desserts with delicious baked goods plus coffee.

Those furnishing food besides the Tecumseh Methodist women were ladies of the Ridgeway Methodist and Church of the Nazarene churches as well as those of the Bethel Baptist and Congregational Churches at Britton, and the manager of the Kroger Store. The managers of the A & P Store and Vescio's Market have been most generous throughout the emergency.

Among those transporting food were the Rev. and Mrs. Robert A. Mitchinson of the Ridgeway and Britton Methodist Churches and the Rev. Wade Roberts of the Church of the Nazarene of Ridgeway. Mrs. Paul Hadsell, Mrs. Carroll Sprague and Mrs. Duane Steele of Tecumseh helped distribute it.

★

THE AREA around Manitou is one of the worst devastated places yet seen by this group. And to one of these persons it was especially heart-rending. She used to go to the old Lakeview grove as a small child over 40 years ago on the old Cincinnati Northern Railway, with her family. Illinois. They attended the Farmers' picnic and the Labor Day picnic which were, many years ago, two of the outstanding events of the year.

People would go in crowds by train in the morning and return home at night to towns farther south on the five o'clock train.

The lovely old trees, some of them from native stand, are all gone, broken and torn out by the roots. The south shore of the lake will never be the same again. Not in our lifetime will there ever be trees like that.

What seems like a horrible fact is that though the trees have been cut up and removed from the roads and drives and the power lines are being repaired, each family's own torn and ruined homes and yards are still a mass of rubble.

Evidently it is being left to the individuals to clean up their property themselves, as most of the work crews, the National guard and State police were leaving that day.

★

THE RED CROSS and residents of Manitou were most grateful for our bountiful assortment of food and said that at no time before had they had such a supply. They had been serving only sandwiches, doughnuts, cookies and coffee.

The Wednesday after the tornado's, they told us their distributing cars would only get part way around their routes when they would run out of food. They said that each time the cars stopped, as many as 25 people would come rushing up for something to eat and drink. We only wished we could have been there with a similar supply.

★

WHEN WE returned home, we left a good supply of food which we were told later by Clara Hood of the Red Cross offices in Adrian, was distributed by the minister at Manitou to needy families who had been badly hit by the tornado but who were shy about asking for aid. These people enjoyed the remainder of our food for their supper that night which pleased our group immensely.

Churches in the surrounding area of Addison, Rome Center and Rollin Center had been gathering clothing and furnishing cookies, etc., too, however, inasmuch as they were allowed in the area.

A family dinner was held Sunday in the Kenneth Poley home at 2003 E. Monroe Rd. in honor of Deborah Sue Poley who was baptized during the morning service at the First Methodist Church. Sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. James Goralske of Oregon, Ohio.

THANKS

WHILE IT WOULD BE ALMOST IMPOSSIBLE TO THANK EVERYONE PERSONALLY, THE PEOPLE IN THE FRANKLIN TOWNSHIP TORNADO AREA WISH TO USE THIS WAY TO ATTEMPT IT.

ONE CAN NEVER FULLY EXPRESS ON PAPER THE HEARTFELT THANKS WE GIVE TO ALL THE PEOPLE WHO HAVE DONE SO MUCH TO HELP US.

CHURCHES ROSE TO THE OCCASION WITH FOOD AND HELP. COMPANIES FURNISHED EQUIPMENT, MEN AND MONEY. RADIO AND NEWSPAPERS GAVE GOOD COVERAGE. FIRE DEPARTMENTS STOOD BY. COUNTY AND CITY DEPARTMENTS GAVE ANYTHING REQUESTED TO HELP. SCHOOL CHILDREN AND BOY SCOUTS PITCHED IN.

THE ONE THING THAT SHALL ALWAYS STAND OUT AT A TIME LIKE THIS IS THE HUMAN HEART. THE DESIRE FOR ONE HUMAN BEING TO HELP ANOTHER IN TROUBLE AND THE APPRECIATION OF THE RECEIVER OF THAT HELP CAN NEVER FULLY BE EXPRESSED IN WORDS.

by order of the

Franklin Township Board

'Fallen Man'

The question of whether man kind can actually exist without God will be explored in depth at all Christian Science churches this Sunday. The subject is "Adam and Fallen Man."

TEEN TALK

By RICK SKINNER & DEBBIE EARLING

Tecumseh High is taking on a political air this week.

It was all started by the annual school elections last Friday. These elections were to decide: first, nominees for student council president from the classes of 1966 and 1967; second, student council representatives for the '65-'66 school year, and finally, class officers.

The highest student office, as council president, requires that member-nominees must have at least one previous year of experience in the council. Although the junior's candidate, Tim Dickinson, this year's SC President, had no rivals from his class, the opposing sophomore class had to start from scratch.

Sophomore sub-nominees were Kathy Hall, Carl Collingsworth and Rick Skinner. Out of these, Carl was chosen to represent the class of '67 as executive nominee.

Last Tuesday formal nominating speeches were made and a week of rivalry set off. A regular campaign and rally will be staged. Campaigning will reach a climax during Friday's elections which will be staged by secret ballot in study halls.

Monday, the seniors being back, formal acceptance speeches will be given and Don Baird, this year's vice president, will present the State of the Year's Activities Message.

The results of other elections were: Class of '68, president, John Hamilton; vice president, Phil Van Valkenburg; secretary, Debbi Vollmer, and treasurer, Barry Lambkin.

Student Council representatives for next year's sophomores are Buddy Work, Jane McConnell, Jim Mobley and George Surratt.

Next year's Junior president will be Rodger Young, assisted by Scott Edwards, vice president; Shirley Rupp, secretary and David Kennel, treasurer.

Council representatives include Henry Mensing, Kathy Hall, Steve Van Valkenburg and Rick Skinner.

President of the Senior class is Mary Ann Allen; vice president, Jeff Long, secretary, Kathy Carter and treasurer, Jeff Robinson. Representatives are Bill Osburn, Jim Greene, Stan Lewis and Kingsley Dunn.

There were tears as the results of the cheerleading try-outs were tallied.

Mrs. Richard Wells of the Tecumseh High Phys.-Ed department announced the following as next year's Varsity cheerleaders: Karen Gottschalk, Debbie Goldsberry, Diane Lake, Janis Linger, Karen Miller, Linda Oberlin and as substitute, Lee Ann Ward.

Junior Varsity includes Cathy Beavers, Debbie Blanchard, Karen Brown, Gail Hohenstein, Betty Laeighton, Jan Snyder and substitute, Barb Linger.

These girls were chosen by try-outs in the various fields of cheerleading. All have worked long hours and deserve congratulations.

As a result of try-outs Saturday the Senior Band majorettes for next year are: drum majorette, Linda Bush; head twirler, Beth Frownfelder; twirlers, Debbie Black, Mary Blumerick, Beth O'Neil, Janis Reed.

The corps will attend Smith-Walbridge Camp in Syracuse, Ind., this summer for a week's formal training. The band is financing half of each girl's expenses. Congratulations to the girls for their fulfilled endeavors.

The THS Chorus presents Gilbert and Sullivan's "Trial by Jury" at 8 p.m., May 13 and 14, in the Patterson School gymnasium. Admission is 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students. Tickets are available from Chorus members or at the door. Some of the principal characters are Linda Sinkey, David Jadwin and Dan Vollmar.

GAA girls who participated in bowling last winter are invited to a Bowling Banquet at 6:30 p.m., June 2, to receive their awards.

Teen Club will sponsor a dance from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. Friday. The featured entertainment will be the Necessities from Clinton. Election of new officers to the Legislature will be held this month.

The Junior class has invited the Senior class and their guests to attend "Le Jardin de Paradis" ("The Garden of Paradise"), their annual formal dance will take place from 9 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. May 15, at the Tecumseh Country Club.

A buffet supper will be served during the evening. The featured entertainment will be Johnny Harbard and his Orchestra.

Engraved invitations may be purchased in the study hall for $3.00 per couple.

Charms are also available for $1.25 Favors will be given at the door.

Held Over From Last Week

National Honors school assembly was held April 13—speeches were given by society members and high school teachers who told of the causes, history and ideals of the National Honors

The new junior and senior members, and those who were probationary members last year, took their oaths as members while the sophomores took the oath as probationary members. They will be eligible for full membership next year.

Later parents were invited to the formal initiation in the high school cafeteria. Refreshments were served after the induction ceremony.

—RICK SKINNER

Science Club had its April 14 meeting in the school biology lab.

Discussions were held about the various aspects of the science fair and it was announced that members of the judges and awards committee will get medals and ribbons to award winners.

Discussion was held on a money-making project and it was decided that a car wash would be held April 24 at Easton's Gas Station.

Tecumseh High is taking on a political tone as students in this years sophomore and junior classes campaign for student council president. The class meetings decide candidates for this "highest student office" and from this will come campaigning and the final election of the president.

The French Club Nominating committee members met during the week as elections will be held soon. The French Club will meet early next month.

The Varsity Club has volunteered their services in the surrounding area as cleaning up. Leaving every morning they spend most of the day in Tipton helping the families in their clean[illegible] tasks.

If you had happened to pass the THS building late April 10 you might have been surprised at the strange creativity of the school's female population. The boys were arrayed with the corsages made by their dates for the annual sponge dance affair.

Decorations for the dance were made by the Future Nurses.

Music was provided by Art Batner's Band. Candidates for Sponge King were Chuck Gillis, Rodger Young, Gordon Gibson and Steve Derby. The elected king was Gordon Gibson.

The Band held its annual spring concert April 9 in the gym. The setting was a small night club, as chairs and tables were used in the seating arrangement and cake, pie, coffee and pop were served by the cadet band.

It had been set up with the idea that people could come and go as they please but all stayed and listened to the band as it was directed by Mr. Johnson and Mr. Cowdry.

Several skits were played with interludes in music. The gym was decorated in light and dark greens and accented with revolving colored lights.

—RICK SKINNER

A timely spring vacation, fair weather, and a desire to serve are the instrumental factors of organized teenage working parties who are proudly offering their aid to tornado disaster victims, in the form of cleaning up rubble and clearing away debris.

Friday, there was a rehearsal in the high school cafeteria for the entire chorus of "Trial by Jury."

Latin Club met Tuesday. There was a guest speaker and reports on the banquet were given.

The Teen Club sponsored a dance Friday. The necessities from Clinton were featured.

Good Government Group Sets Tentative Program

"The Essence of Americanism" is the topic of the meeting of the Citizens for Good Government to be led by Mrs. Harold Wilson May 19.

The meeting date was changed when 11 members of the group met April 28 at the Eagles Hall, Adrian.

Sister Ann Joachim will be the speaker at the June 2 meeting when members will invite guests. The meeting place will be announced at a later date.

Members voted to have printed a list of the aims and purposes of the club as well as membership cards for distribution.

The former Senator and Mrs. Elmer Porter of Blissfield were guests recently at a social evening when Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brown entertained.

A round of applause was given the Browns for their efforts in bringing Mrs. Phyllis Schafly to Adrian.

Approval of the members was given to Mrs. Robert Murray when she presented a tentative program for the 1965-66 year.

Grip Wheel Firmly, Ease Up on Gas

What should you do when your car runs off the pavement?

There are four basic rules which you should follow:

- ► Grip the wheel firmly
- ► Ease up on the gas pedal
- ► Check to the rear
- ► When slowed sufficiently, turn back sharply onto the highway.

In instances where the shoulder of the road is not significantly lower than the road itself there is no problem. However, if a drop-off does exist it can flip the car or cause a head-on collision with an on-coming vehicle.

Dow Anhydrous Ammonia: Lowest cost form of nitrogen in the field.

The reason is, anhydrous ammonia gives you far more nitrogen per pound than any other nitrogen fertilizer. Which means it takes far less DOW ANHYDROUS AMMONIA to do the job than it does with any other form of nitrogen fertilizer.

If you're planting corn on corn, it will take 150 to 200 pounds of nitrogen per acre to decay the old stalks and still have the nitrogen you need for high yields. Supply this nitrogen with DOW ANHYDROUS AMMONIA and you may save $6 to $8 an acre. And boost crop yield quality and feed grain protein content while you do it.

It's so long-lasting one application is all you need.

See us today for details. And save some money for a change.
